

Fair To Feature Husker Caravan

University students and eastern Nebraskans will get their first glimpse of the Cornhusker Caravan at the Farmer's Fair Friday and Saturday.

The Caravan, with four units and 140 feet of exhibits, gives latest information on crops, grasses, livestock, home economics and 4-H club and Rural Youth work.

The exhibits include a modern "L" shaped kitchen with all of the necessary equipment. The kitchen is designed so that the homemaker can get a maximum amount of work accomplished, with a minimum amount of effort exerted. All of the material shown in the kitchen can very economically be incorporated into most homes.

The kitchen exhibit also will include information regarding storage space in bedrooms.

In the livestock unit, exhibits show latest information on beef cattle feeding, the use of antibiotics and new protein supplements, the use of trees for protection of beef cattle, effective ways of controlling disease and parasites and the objectives of the Fort Robinson Beef Cattle Research Center.

The crops and grasses section shows crop drying equipment, how to obtain maximum yields through irrigation, ways to grow 50 bushels of wheat per acre, effective ways to keep grain clean, adapted grasses and legumes for meadows and pastures, the fertilization of wet meadows in the Sandhills and sprinkler irrigation for Sandhills meadows and pastures. The section of the Caravan will display many pictures, models and samples to illustrate the crop management.

The Rural Youth and 4-H section of the Caravan will explain the scope of the 4-H club and rural youth work in Nebraska, explains some of the more popular projects and emphasizes the part parents and leaders play in the program.

Colored pictures, disappearing mirrors and moving models are used in the youth section of the display.

The Caravan will be set up at Ag Engineering Building.

The displays will remain open for the two days of the fair.

CORNHUSKER CARAVAN . . . Displayed in the exhibit for the 1953 Farmer's Fair is the model kitchen exhibiting the most economical methods of conserving space and effort.

Board OK's Coliseum Front As Parade Starting Point

The parade route for the Farmer's Fair Parade, which will be held Saturday morning, has been approved by the Fair Board.

The entries in the parade will form in front of the Coliseum at 9 a.m.

The parade contestants will leave the Coliseum and proceed south on 14th St. to R, west on R 11th St., south on 11th St. to G, east on O to 16th St., north on 16th St. to Vine St., east on Vine St. to 33rd St. and north on 33rd St. to the Ag campus.

Denim Dance To Climax Fete

Tickets for the Cotton and Denim Dance slated for Friday evening are on sale in the Ag and city Union and from the house representatives.

Tickets are $1.50 per couple. The dance will be held in the College Activities Building from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

The overall theme for the 1953 Farmer's Fair is "Rural Rendezvous." All floats will follow this theme in their construction.

Chairman in charge of the parade is Joyce Kuehl a junior Farmer's Fair board member.

Pie-Eat' Set For Saturday

The annual pie-eating contest held each year in connection with Farmer's Fair will be held at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in the College Activities Building on Ag Campus.

Letters have been sent out to each organized house asking for one representative to participate in the contest, according to Dale Nitzel, chairman of the contest.

It will be divided into two divisions, one for the men and one for the women. The two division winners will then compete for the championship.

SENIORS Invitations Sale To End On April 30

Graduating seniors may purchase their commencement announcements at a booth in the Union until Thursday, April 30.

The announcements are being sold by the Junior-Senior Class Council for the first time in University history. The leather and cardboard covered memory books, including a complete list of the class and several pictures of the campus, and french-fold announcements are handled exclusively by the classes.

Members of the Innocents Society will be the judges. Prizes will be awarded to the winner and the runner-up.

The Ag Union sponsors this contest.

Omicron Nu Elects 8 New Home Ec Scholars

Omicron Nu, national home economics honorary, has announced eight new members, who have been recognized for superior scholarship in home economics.

The new members are Stephanie Allen, Cozad; Conrile Clark, St. Edward; Geneva Berna, Bladen; Ruth Greer, Alvo; Lura Ann Barden, Lincoln; Mary Ellen Slagle, Lincoln; Mrs. Betty Spenser, Lincoln and Phyllis Zeilinger, David City.

He is a former Fellow of the Nieman Foundation for Journalism at Harvard University. The Foundation's purpose is to provide post-graduate training for professional journalists.

He is also an author and article writer for magazines. In 1946, he wrote "Breaking The Building Blockade," and in 1947 he won a $1,000 award for an article, "For a Free Press," which appeared in the Atlantic Monthly.

Journalism Day Scheduled May 2; Robert Lasch Slated To Speak

University high school and professional journalists of Nebraska will be recognized for outstanding achievements on Journalism Day, Saturday, May 2.

The awards will be presented at the awards luncheon in the Terrace Room of the Lincoln Hotel.

Robert Lasch, 1928 graduate of the School of Journalism, will be the main speaker. Lasch, formerly an editorial writer for the Chicago Sun-Times, is now an editorial writer on the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

He is a former Fellow of the Nieman Foundation for Journalism at Harvard University. The Foundation's purpose is to provide post-graduate training for professional journalists.

He is also an author and article writer for magazines. In 1946, he wrote "Breaking The Building Blockade," and in 1947 he won a $1,000 award for an article, "For a Free Press," which appeared in the Atlantic Monthly.

He is a member of the National Conference of Editorial Writers.

Journalism Day is administered by the Journalism Council, which consists of the faculty of the School of Journalism and the officers of the four student chapters of national professional fraternities.

The council coordinates the extracurricular activities in the School of Journalism and eliminates duplication of effort on the part of the four journalism fraternities. It was set up provisionally last spring and officially last fall.

The council sponsors the journalism reception immediately following New Student Week and the High School Press Convention later in the fall.

At the luncheon, the School of Journalism classes of '28, '33, '38, '43, '48, and '53 will be honored.

The School was established formally by action of the Board of Regents on May 22, 1923, although a program leading toward a certificate in journalism had been offered since 1917 and courses in journalism had been offered since 1894.

Before the luncheon, high school seniors will meet with individual members of the journalism faculty informally to discuss their future in journalism.

Exhibits will be displayed in each of the journalism laboratories.

Others on the trip were: Marjory Danly, Jack Wells, Robert Brown, Jerry Lawson, David Major, Milford Myhre, John Poutre, John Moran, Dan Rasdal, J. Benedict, Tim Nelson, and Wesley Reist.

Mr. Foltz, Mary Augustine, asstant dean of women, and Earl F. Jenkins, instructor in voice, were also with the group.

The Madrigals, who had previously been invited to sing at the conference, shared the program with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra woodwind quintet.

Seated around a candle-lit table, in formal attire, the musical group presented six numbers, including "She Walks In Beauty," which was composed by David Foltz, conductor of the Madrigals.

A number of music educators who formerly taught in Nebraska left other engagements to be present for the Madrigal performance, Buttelman said.

The Madrigals left Omaha by plane and landed in Chicago. A chartered bus took them to Milwaukee, where their time was spent rehearsing for the concert and visiting the exhibits displayed at the conference. On the return trip, the group remained a short time in Chicago for sightseeing.

Students making the trip were: Margaret McCoy, Muriel Pickett, Kathleen Wilson, Janice Wagner, Nancy Norman, Gwen Grosshans, Judy Sehnert, Gladys Novotny, Charlotte Hervert, and Rosemary Castner.

Capacity Audience Listens To Madrigal Singers Program

The University Madrigal Singers, on a recent trip to Milwaukee, sang before a capacity audience at a breakfast meeting of the North Central Music Educators' Conference.

The Madrigals, who had previously been invited to sing at the conference, shared the program with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra woodwind quintet.

Seated around a candle-lit table, in formal attire, the musical group presented six numbers, including "She Walks In Beauty," which was composed by David Foltz, conductor of the Madrigals.

C. V. Buttelman, Chicago, executive secretary of the Music Educators' organization, reported enthusiastic response by the audience.

A number of music educators who formerly taught in Nebraska left other engagements to be present for the Madrigal performance, Buttelman said.

The Madrigals left Omaha by plane and landed in Chicago. A chartered bus took them to Milwaukee, where their time was spent rehearsing for the concert and visiting the exhibits displayed at the conference. On the return trip, the group remained a short time in Chicago for sightseeing.

It Pays To Be Safe

White could stand it no longer. "What ails her, Doc, for gosh sakes?" "Don't know yet," came the Doc. "Can't seem to get my instrument bag open!"

WORDS OF WISDOM . . .

Easy Street is the route of all evil.

Example of a real optimist: The man who jumped off the top of a skyscraper, and as he whizzed past the 28th floor said, "Well, so far so good."

Rushie: "Yes, I studied the cello for seven years."

Impressed fraternity man: "Seven years! Isn't that a rather long time?"

Rushie: "Not when you consider that for the first six, I thought you had to blow into it."

Dorm girl: "How about a date, big boy?"

Dorm boy: "Can't. Gotta go to bed and get some sleep."

Dorm girl: "Why?"

Dorm boy: "Tomorrow's my tough day. Gotta shave."

Looks as though there might be a few scattered showers tomorrow, but it should clear by late afternoon.
