The student attendance at the Jean Jacques Servan Schreimembers of our own student body, the student attendance was even worse. Sure, there were a lot of full chairs-but it was parents who filled them.

Two hours of classes were dismissed and there is no valid excuse for the poor showing. The facts seem to indicate that the school is making a big mistake when it dismisses students from ordinary school work on the pretense that these students will attend all-University convocations.

As I said at the beginning, the horse has already been stolen and I will not even begin to accomplish anything by writing about convocation attendance after the convocation. But, I was so thoroughly discouraged by the number of students who managed to drop into the Coliseum uation to a head.
