'Lite-A-Bumper' Safety Campaign Scheduled For Friday Afternoon

Lincoln Jaycees, Daily Nebraskan To Begin 'Safety Day' Activity

Friday, a special "lite-a-bumper" safety campaign will be launched from 1-5 p. m. for University students.

Sponsored by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce and The Daily Nebraskan, it will be coordinated with the safety campaign to be launched Saturday in downtown Lincoln. The Saturday campaign has been proclaimed by Lincoln's Mayor Victor Arzerson as "Safety Day."

Roger Larson, assistant Union director and Lincoln Jaycee, said it would be an all-out campaign to apply reflective tape to as many student cars as possible.

The Jaycees will man a taping station between Social Science building and Burnett Hall, just off 12th street. A fee of $1 per car will be charged.

"It's a good thing to do," Charles Fowler, University director of buildings and grounds, said. "If a car's lights fail, it could prevent an accident."

He asserted the cars in the University pool would probably be stripped.

Sgt. John Furrow, of the University police, said, "I think it should be required, for it shows up well in rain and snow, especially for bicycles and sleds."

Applied in one-inch strips across the rear bumpers of automobiles, the tape, which will last for three years, is made of plastic and imbedded with thousands of tiny glass lenses which serve as tiny reflectors. The reflective material is visible for about 1/2 mile and catches an approaching driver's eyes about 70 per cent quicker than tail lights, according to tests made at Iowa State College.

As it is felt the reflective tape will reduce the number of accidents on streets and highways, safety officials throughout the country have endorsed the "lite-a-bumper" campaign.

Gordon Gay was named chairman to head the campaign.

Kosmet Klub Spring Musical Production Hits Stage Tonight

One Hundred Twenty In Cast, Stage Crew

In 1912, a small group of University upperclassmen undertook the presentation of a musical comedy, "The Diplomat."

This group originated the Kosmet Klub and the Spring musical became an annual tradition. The cast was restricted to males only until 1941.

This week Kosmet Klub will present "Anything Goes," a two-act musical comedy by Cole Porter, with a cast of nearly 70 members.

In addition to the cast however, are the 50 men and women behind the scenes. These include the directors, Kosmet Klub workers and members, and members of the production staff.

While choruses and characters have been practicing lines and songs, the production crew has made scenery, found properties, arranged for lighting and sound, made costumes, and supervised make-up.

The Broadway musical by Cole Porter has a cast of nearly 60 members including leads, dancing and singing choruses.

The supporting cast includes Marian McCulloch as Bonnie LaTour, Dick Garretson as Sir Evelyn, Harcourt, Barb Tooley as Mrs. Wentworth, and Herb Jackman as Mr. Whitney.

Rev. Dr. Moon, disguised Public Enemy No. 13, and his gun moll, Bonnie LaTour, add to the confusion by bringing the police on board. Rev. Dr. Moon gives the ticket of his accomplice who missed the boat to Billy.

Confusion grows when Billy, who is chasing Hope, is chased by the police and ends up in the brig.

The play, based on a book by Harold Lindsay and Russel Crouse, opened in New York in 1934 and ran for 264 performances. Broadway critics praised it as "Cole Porter at his greatest."

JAYWALKING Safety Statistics Rate 'Short Cuts' Dangerous

Jaywalking—or the shortest distance across the street—can also be the shortest way to the grave.

Safety statistics show that 3,000 persons were killed and 63,000 injured last year while attempting to "short cut" across the street.

The usual approach to the jaywalking death trap is coming from behind a parked car. Eight-hundred-ten persons died and 63,000 injured in 1952 was the result because they failed to cross the street at the corner instead of between intersections.

Jaywalking is only one way pedestrians—not car drivers—cause traffic accidents. Of the many persons who "daringly" crossed against the signal last year, 740 will not be around to "chance" it again. Crossing with the signal is dangerous in itself as shown by 23,000 injuries.

Although walking on a rural highway is legal, it is still another way pedestrians have discovered of killing or injuring themselves. The left side of the highway is the correct place to walk even if it is "unhandy" for hitch-hikers. Many hikers walking on the wrong side of the highway often end up taking a ride in the "death wagon."

Riding or "hitching" vehicles adds spice and variety to life, but while the variety remains for others to try the life often disappears. Over 2,000 persons were hurt or killed last year while enjoying themselves in the fresh air found by riding on running boards and bumpers.

Watching for children playing on the streets; many drivers believe is the parent's responsibility. Such an attitude killed 620 children last year. Occasionally, children themselves are not on the street, but a ball or toy is evidence enough that some are headed for the street.

Jaywalking, running from behind cars, highway travelling—these practices show that pedestrians are responsible for safety as well as drivers. Nine thousand pedestrians forgot this last year, but for them there won't be a next time to remember.

Draft Exam Applications Due May 11

Applications for draft deferments must be submitted to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., by midnight May 11 by individuals seeking deferment.

The test to give May 21 is primarily for students prevented from taking the April 23 test by illness or other emergencies.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, said this did not restrict any qualified student from taking the test if he mailed his application before the deadline.

He also stressed that students having certificates of admission for the April 23 test that they did not use and must have a new application if they wish to take the May 21 test, which is the last test this school year.

Applications for the test may be obtained from any selective service board.

Billoni

Oh brother! You know, occasionally someone will come up to me and say they read a funny joke in my column, or that they got a few giggles out of the whole column in general. But oh brother—if you want some real laughs—go and see the Kosmet Klub Spring Show at the Nebraska Theater. I was fortunate enough to be in on the dress rehearsal last night, and I sure wish that I could use some of those crazy jokes.

As you probably know, Kosmet Klub is producing Cole Porter's Broadway Musical "ANYTHING GOES," and believe me it is certainly well named. It is jam-packed with Cole Porter's favorite tunes, filled-to-the-brim with action and dancing, and those jokes; some of them are about as subtle as a train wreck.

I didn't claim to be a critic on this sort of thing, but I know that the small audience that watched the show last night at dress rehearsal was in stitches most of the time.

If you want a good time and a good laugh, then I say "don't miss 'Anything Goes.'" Nuf sed.

Once this cat went to church and was snowed by the sermon. Upon making his exit from the church he grabbed the preacher's hand and shook it sayin', "Dad, I read you. That sermon was the MOST. It was gone. You were on the right channel and played in my key."

"Most? Dad? Read? Key? asked the preacher. "I'm afraid I don't understand."

"Yes, you do, Dad," said the cat. "In fact, I liked it so gone I put twenty samoolas in the collection plate."

"Oh! Crazy, Crazy," said the preacher.

"Spit is such a horrid word," said the pig as he was about to be barbecued. . . .
