

Special Courses To Open Monday

Junior Division Sponsors Sessions To Increase Study, Reading Skill

Two new reading and study courses sponsored by Junior Division will open Monday. Both the reading improvement and low-to-study courses are free tuition, non-credit sessions. One-hour class sessions in each course will be held twice weekly for three weeks. Students may register for either of both courses in the Junior Division office.

A second session will open Oct. 26 and continue for three weeks. Students are asked by the Junior Division service to register for the first session before classes start.

RCCU Calls For Blood Volunteers

'Mobile To Visit Lincoln Monday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Lincoln at the Scottish Rite Temple, 15th and L Streets, between 12 and 6 p.m. Monday. A person may give live blood if he is in good health, between the ages of 18 and 60, weighs at least 110 pounds and hasn't given blood in the past three months.

POST CARDS are available in the Union and Military and Naval Science Building. These cards may be mailed to the Red Cross office for individual appointments.

Mike Greenberg, Red Cross College Unit blood chairman, said, "People don't realize that blood is still important even if the war is over. Blood is needed for the large standing army and also is used in army, navy and veterans' hospitals. Important too is the Gamma Globulin found in blood which is used to fight polio."

The bloodmobile will visit Lincoln one day each month. Last year University students gave 187 pints of blood.

Five Faculty Members On Health Board

Five members of the University faculty have been named to the State Board of Health.

Dr. J. E. M. Thomson, lecturer in plastic surgery for the University and also former president of the State Medical Association, and Dr. Maurice Frazer, member of the University College of Medicine staff, have been named as medical representatives.

Morris I. Evinger, professor of Civil Engineering, has been named as engineering representative. Dentistry representative is Dr. Donald T. Waggener, assistant professor of oral pathology. Dr. Joseph T. Burt, dean of the University College of Pharmacy, is a public health representative.

ACCORDING to word received from Dr. Burt, the present board's first meeting will be held on Oct. 5 for reviewing existing policies and becoming acquainted with the board's functions.

The activities of the board are financed by both state and federal funds and the full responsibility of the state health, such as control of the licensing board for some 16 professions, falls upon the seven board members.

Six Young Democrats Return From Rally

Nebraskans Meet Party Leaders

Six Lincoln Young Democrats returned home early Thursday morning, after two days of political festivity at the Democratic Rally for Adlai Stevenson in Chicago.

The Demos, who had the largest representation of young people from any state, were part of the Nebraska delegation and took part in buffet luncheons, panel discussions, speeches, and handshaking sessions. Ron Rader, Russell Lallman, Don Rakin, Don Knutzen, Dick Hansen, all University students, and Dorothy Knutzen were the Lincoln representatives.

Ag Supper Plans Begin Tuesday

Plans for Ag "Sunday Night Suppers" will be formulated at a joint student-faculty committee meeting Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in Room 3 of the Ag Union.

Ken Pinkerton, chairman of Ag Union Student Faculty Committee, announced the meeting. Mrs. Ephraim Hixson is faculty chairman. The suppers, formerly called "Potluck With the Profs," were presented last year through the courtesy of the Ag faculty and their wives.

Applications Now Open For Corn Cob Workers

Corn Cobs are now taking applications from University men interested in becoming Corn Cob workers.

To meet Corn Cob requirements, students must be sophomores, carrying at least 12 hours and having passed at least 24 hours with a 4.5 average. Corn Cob activities include ushering at oaksball games, attending all rallies and the Big Seven Pep Conference in Missouri, helping to sponsor migration, selling Cornhuskers, assisting in Homecoming activities and helping Tassels set up the card section.

Interested men may contact Phil Shade, Corn Cob member, at the Cornhusker office or call him at 2-7385.

Progress Marked In Ticket Sales

The halfway mark in ticket sales for the University Theater's 1953-54 productions has been reached, Max Whittaker, director of the University Theater, said Monday.

Tickets are still being sold by Kosmet Klub workers and Nebraska Masquers or they may be purchased at the first floor box office, Temple, for $4. After the tickets have been secured, students may reserve them in the Temple box office prior to each performance.

Ticket holders have their choice of eight performances of each of the four plays which Whittaker terms "as good a selection as we've had for many years."

Coliseum Pool Opens For Recreational Swim

The University swimming pool in the Coliseum will be open for women's recreational swimming from 4-5 p.m. every Thursday until Nov. 1.

Those desiring to swim must bring their own cap and bathing shoes. Ten cents a swim is charged.

It is required that all coeds except freshmen have a swim permit from Student Health Center.

Library To Issue Cards Upon I.D. Presentation

Library cards will be issued to students upon presentation of a student identification card at Love Memorial Library.

This card is usable as long as a student attends the University. Each year upperclassmen must have their cards validated due to possible changes of address. A lost card will be replaced for one dollar.

Committee To Investigate Partisan Legislature Plan

By WILLIE DESCH
Staff Writer

A proposal to return to the old two-house partisan Legislature has been presented and a committee of four Republicans and four Democrats will study the question of the change.

The group plans to circulate petitions and put the proposal on the 1954 ballot. If Nebraska voters agree to this proposal, the present 16-year-old unicameral system, the only legislative body of its kind in the United States, will come to an end.

Details concerning the number and pay of the 48 Legislators in the country have been studied by the committee. The committee expects much controversy and discussion from state officials.

Crosby: No Comment

Gov. Robert Crosby has refused to comment on the proposal to ask the voters to bring back the two-house legislative system to Nebraska. The governor has never directly commented on the plan of bicameral government but it has been believed that his thinking has never gone beyond the possibility of changing the method of electing legislators to the present one-house body to a partisan body.

Income Tax To Be Cut

The 10 per cent income tax cut will take place at the end of the year according to schedule, stated Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. Also there will be no request for renewing the excess profits tax. This tax will expire Dec. 31 with no renewal.

Due to the threat of war and expensive defense materials there was much speculation as to whether the tax cut would actually take place. Humphrey said in his position that a military and economic security balance must be achieved.

KK Changes Revue Policy

All Organized Groups Eligible For Show; Maupin Director

The Kosmet Klub Fall Revue is no longer an all-fraternity affair.

The members of the Klub took action to open the show to all organized groups this year. This makes all cooperatives and organized independent groups on campus eligible to participate in the annual Revue.

Murl Maupin was appointed director of the Fall Revue by the Klub's executive council. Maupin is a senior in Engineering College and a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

The Fall Revue will be presented Oct. 30. Six organized groups' skits will be judged for the show on Oct. 13-14. Last year's fraternity finalists were: Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Zeta Beta Tau, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta.

Candidates for Prince Kosmet and Nebbraska Sweetheart will be interviewed by the Mortar Boards and Innocents respectively. Last year's winners were Joe Good and Barbara Adams. Interviews will be held Oct. 19.

Two new members were elected to membership in the Klub. They are Marvin Steinberg and Bill Campbell. Steinberg is a junior and a member of Zeta Beta Tau. Campbell is a junior and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The committee chairmen appointed by the executive council for the Revue are: stage production, Cary Jones; publicity, Marshall Kustner; presentation, Larry Ozenberger; master of ceremonies and orchestra, Bob Hasbrook; production, Robert Young; ushers, Rockford G. Yapp; programs, J. Benedict and Mike Lawlor; off-campus publicity, Jack Fitzgerald; tickets and program advertising, William McFarland Bailey; finances, Tom Miller.

The Klub is placing special emphasis on talent this year.

'Permanent' NU Buildings To Disappear

Nine temporary buildings will no longer be "permanent," Charles Fowler, director of buildings and grounds, reported to a Lincoln newspaper recently.

Plans call for an addition to the Teachers College building to house the activities and classes now being held in the buildings which were built after World War II to handle the influx of veterans. Since then the temporary buildings have acquired a reputation for being "permanent."

THE NEW addition is part of the regular campus building program previously reported by The Nebraskan. Activities and classrooms that will not fit into the new addition will be shifted to other buildings if possible.

Fowler said he hoped that "in two years only two temporary buildings will still be used and in the near future none of the structures will remain."

'College Daze' Session To Explain 'Dos, Don'ts'

"College Daze" will be the theme of the second of the Know-How sessions sponsored by the Coed Counselors.

The program giving the do's and don'ts of the University campus, will be held Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Love Library auditorium. Mary Furber and Jane Brode are in charge.

Assisting are: Katy Kelly; Barb Medlin, Pat Buck, Shar Kiffin, Jo Hanlon, Shirley Jesse, Kay Yeiter, Sue Kirkman, Betty Kruger and Mary Domingo.

Repatriation Refused

Twenty-three American war prisoners have refused to return to the United States, Communist authorities stated Tuesday. Those who resist or refuse repatriation will be held in Italian custody for three months. During this time "explainers" will attempt to persuade them to return home.

Journalism School Plans Annual Tea

The School of Journalism will hold a reception Wednesday, Sept. 30, at 8 p.m. in the faculty lounge, for students, faculty members and their wives, and for others interested in journalism.

The reception is the first of the monthly functions of the School of Journalism. It is sponsored by the Journalism Council, made up of officers of the four Journalism honoraries. The council members include Marjorie Moran, president of Theta Sigma Phi; Lyle Denniston, president of Sigma Delta Chi; Connie Gordon, Gamma Alpha Chi; and Bob Pinkerton, Kappa Alpha Mu. Cider and doughnuts will be served at the reception.

Starting in Oct. will be a series of the convocations, which will feature guest speakers. In May, members of the journalism honoraries will sponsor Journalism Day.

Men's Dorm Residents Elect Council

Election of a new men's dormitory council was held Monday night.

Newly elected officers are: John Veylupek, president; Dick Whitman, vice president; Don Tackin, secretary; Gerald Adcock, treasurer; Dick Jirovec, social chairman; and Loren Betz, athletic manager. Other council members are: Charles Dillman, Verone Gibb, Jim L. Jones, Phil Bridenbaugh, Dean Eckberg, Cy Korian, John Cenovich, Dale Papke, Ken Wulschleger, Gary Uehling and Dennis Arney.

Dormitory director Don Carlson presided at the meeting and explained dorm policies. William C. Harper, director of commercial enterprises, discussed the progress of the new dormitories and impressed upon the students their responsibilities in group living.

Ag College Dean Does Summer Work In Iraq

Dr. W. V. Lambert, Dean of the College of Agriculture, returned to Iraq this summer to complete his work with the Food and Agricultural Organization.

His assignment with the FAO, a branch of the United Nations, was a continuation of the work he was engaged in previously in Iraq. This included advisory work pertaining to research, administrative personnel needed, and financial requirements for their technical agricultural program.

Dr. Lambert returned to the United States July 9.
