

Junior-Senior Class Officers Meet To Plan For Board Constitution

Four students made the first move towards organizing a Junior-Senior Class Board Tuesday evening.

The four—Ted James, senior class president, James Hofstetter, junior class treasurer, Eldon Park, chairman of the Student Council, and Tom Woodward, junior class treasurer—began work on a constitution.

OTHER CLASS OFFICERS: Jim Hollins, Bill Devries, Marvin Stromer, Muri Maupin and Bill Harris were unable to attend.

Park, speaking from his experiences as a Board member last year and as Judiciary Committee chairman, said the Board must submit something definite in its constitution. He noted the Board must have plans that can be clearly and accurately expressed in writing.

"First," Park said, "There must be a definite plan for the selection of class officers or Board members. I would favor a plan whereby there would be no class officers as such, but a chairman of the Class Board. He would be the driving force behind the Board," Park added.

PARK NOTED he thought the Class Board should be elected, not in an all-University election, but by junior and senior students in all eight colleges. "This, Park said, "would insure more valid representation."

Ted James asked Park what he thought the Board should have as purposes and goals that would be included in a constitution presented to the Council. Park said the aims and goals of the Board should be definite and of the type that could be worked out practically by a group such as the Class Board. James asked what he (Park) would suggest for plans and aims for the year.

PARK SAID he thought the Board should plan to do more than sell announcements as it did last year. "It should also do more than plan for a Junior-Senior prom and picnic," he added.

"I think the Board should consider the possibility of having a Seniors Day. The day would have activities and functions for the students who are ready to leave the alma mater," he added.

Park also said he thought the Board might be the organization to revive College Days because "this might be the nucleus necessary for cooperation. This would be something that would really be worth while," Park noted.

At the close of the meeting, Senior Class President James said he would make definite assignments for work on a new constitution to be submitted "just as soon as we think we've got something worth being submitted."

Masquers To Give Open House Friday

Program Planned For Freshman; Includes Scenes From Past Plays

Nebraska Masquers will sponsor an open house Friday at 8 p.m. in Room 201 Temple Building.

"This open house is an opportunity for new students to become acquainted with members of Nebraska Masquers, dramatic honoree, and University Theater and to see theater facilities," Dallas Williams, director of the University Theater, noted.

FRESHMEN WISHING to participate in the freshman actor's

'Y' Conference Is Scheduled For Weekend

YWCA and YMCA members will attend a state conference at Wayne State Teachers College Friday through Sunday.

Cars will leave from the campus YW office Friday between 4 and 6 p.m. For further information, students may contact Pat Lindgren or the YW office.

Conference theme is "The Eyes of the World Are Upon You." William H. Alloway, field director of the Institution of International Education, will be main speaker. An international student panel will discuss the conditions, problems and views of the United States.

Chickles

By CHICK TAYLOR
THE FROSH SNOB
Red beanie perched upon his head,
A scornful sneer hides fear and dread.
He marches by 'neath towering books,
This fledgling snob of snooty looks.

THE SENIOR SNOB
The senior snob—so old and wise,
Views a campus life through cynic's eyes
At snubbing she has grown quite smart,
With four years' practice it's an art.

THE ATHLETIC SNOB
His muscles bulge, his chest is hairy,
Of books and classes he's most wary.
His glance is often quite disdainful,
For anyone who's not in training.

A girl who swears she's never been kissed has a right to swear.
Wife: How do you like this new dress? I got it for a ridiculous price.
Hubby: You mean you got it for an absurd figure.

If all the students who slept in my classes were placed end to end they would be much more comfortable.

Pessimist: This glass is half empty.
Optimist: This glass is half full.

Coed: (in auto) For goodness sake, use both hands.
Her hero: I can't, I have to steer with one!

Gin: What has ten legs, purple hair, a long tail and six green eyes?
Girl: I give up. What is it?
Gin: I don't know, but it's been following us since we left the DB&G.

NU Host To Danish Pharmacologist

Dr. Knud Moller, director of the Pharmacology Institute of the University of Copenhagen, will visit city campus Wednesday and the College of Medicine in Omaha Thursday.

A luncheon will be held in the scientist's honor at the Union Wednesday. Reservations may be made through Dr. H. G. O. Holck, chairman of the department of pharmacology, extension 3208. Dr. Holck will also schedule consultations with Dr. Moller for staff members and graduate students.

Dr. Moller will lecture on "General Problems of Connective Tissue" at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Benson Hall auditorium.

Six Apply For Positions On Publications Board

One senior, three juniors and two sophomores have applied for positions on the Committee on Student Publications.

The senior applicant, Marshall Kushner, was a member of the Committee as a junior, and was sports editor of the Daily Nebraskan as a sophomore.

The junior applicants, Marilyn Tyson, Walter Wright and Carl Mammel, have all been associated with student publications during their college years. Miss Tyson was a copy editor on The Daily Nebraskan; Wright served as the sophomore member of the Committee on Student Publications last year and Mammel was connected with student publications while a student at Iowa State University.

The sophomore applicants are Andrew Hove and David Erickson. Hove, a business administration student, served as freshman writer for the NR-OTC newspaper and Erickson is now assistant business manager of The Nebraskan.

All applicants will be interviewed in the Student Council meeting to be held Wednesday. The three successful applicants will be announced by the Council at a later date.

Anniversary Exhibit To Display Collection

Lecturer, Hall Bequests Featured

The 25th anniversary exhibition of the Frank M. Hall art collection will open Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2-5 p.m. in Morrill Hall.

Elizabeth McCausland from New York will lecture on "The Roots of American Art" in Gallery B at 3:30 p.m. Miss McCausland is an art historian, critic and biographer of Alfred Maurier, will be presented in collaboration with the University Research Council and the University art department.

The art collection, which is now called the University collection, was bequeathed to the University by Hall on his death in 1928. In addition, Hall set aside a fund which was to be used to add to the collection.

Stammer Named Head Of New Agronomy Club

Jack Stammer, senior in the College of Agriculture, was elected president of the newly formed Agronomy Club Thursday night.

Other newly elected officers include Dick Wiess, vice president; Art Kuhl, secretary; Rolla Swanson, treasurer; Howard Hall, reporter; and Dale Nitzel, Ag Exec Board representative.

Meetings of the Agronomy Club will be held the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Agronomy Building.

The Outside World

Russia Accepts Plan For Big Four Meeting

German Problem To Be Discussed

By WILLIE DESCH
Staff Writer

The Western proposal for a Big Four meeting to discuss German problems has been unconditionally accepted by the Soviet Union, the American embassy announced. Also the Russians proposed that Communist China and the Big Four meet and consider ways of easing world tensions. A suggestion made by the United States, France and Britain said that such a conference be held in Lugano, Switzerland, on Oct. 15. In the Soviet message delivered to the three Western embassies, Russians seemed reluctant to discuss the deadlocked Austrian independence treaty at the same time they discuss Germany.

Increase In Jet Planes

Some of the money saved in recent cutbacks is going into stepped up production of the latest jet planes such as the B-52 bomber and the F-100 fighter, Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot announced.

It is hoped that the departments can concentrate on pushing manufacture of planes which show most promise for warfare. The Boeing bomber and the fast North American fighter have been proven to perform satisfactorily. No numbers have been given by Talbot but he stated that there would be a 25 to 40 per cent increase in production. Also Talbot has not revealed the speed of the two planes which are being kept secret for military reasons.

The Boeing aircraft plant at Wichita, Kan., will turn out additional bombers "to eliminate the danger of a single source," said Talbot.

Extradition Delayed

The explanation teams may be delayed with their work again because the groups cannot agree on facilities. The talks which were scheduled to start Monday have been postponed until Thursday. However, they may be postponed again unless the Reds and Allies accept the explanation centers already constructed. Both sides object to the explanation booths set up because the Allies say that the booths built by the Reds are too small. The Reds want to interview the prisoners individually and the Allies want to talk to them in

Each Year The University Purchases New Pieces of Art To Round Out The Collection

Oil, water colors, sculptures, graphic arts, ceramics and drawings are included in the group. This year Thomas Eakin's unfinished portrait of Mrs. Samuel Murray and a wood sculpture by Ernest Barlach, both historical pieces, were added to the collection.

The exhibition will be displayed in two sections. The first will contain items from the original bequest and the second will feature additions made during the last twenty-five years.

HALL, PAST president of the Nebraska Art Association, was graduated from the University Law College and practiced in Lincoln. Mrs. Hall, herself a painter, helped organize the University art department and taught the first class, "Apples," an oil painting by Mrs. Hall, is in the collection.

One of the principal pieces in the collection is "Palm in House" by Graham Sutherland. This oil painting has been exhibited in Europe for the past three years. It has been shown in Italy and France and with in the coronation exhibition in the Tate Galleries in England.

The exhibition is open to the public.

'Big Sisters' To Replace Sessions With Cokes

Instead of the usual Campus Know-How sessions, the Coed Counselors are giving individual cokes parties Wednesday. New women students who do not have a Coed Counselor should call Sue Gorton, vice-president of the group, at 2-7820.

Where Your Money Goes

Cancer, And WUS To Receive Portion Of AUF Proceeds

Nebraska Institute Of Cell Growth To Purchase Beckman Spectrophotometer With Contribution

(This is the second in a series of articles, "Where Your Money Goes," expalining the organization of the All University Fund and the charities to which it will contribute at the end of the drive.)

It is the purpose of the All University Fund this fall, according to Harriette Wenke, vice-president of publicity, as the annual drive begins, to educate the students on where their money is going and to stress the real importance of their giving.

Two of the organizations that will receive a percentage of the money received in the drive are the American Cancer Society and the World University Service.

CANCER WILL receive 20 per cent of the proceeds. Dr. Donald

World University Service Depicts 'Student-To-Student Giving' Point

because, according to Rocky Yapp, president. 1. It is an opportunity for us, as students, to help our fellow students who are not as fortunate as we;

2. WUS depends on students and only students for support. They have the support of 600 other universities and colleges in the United States and also many more in foreign countries;

3. AUF recognizes the value of education in the development of world peace and understanding;

4. This charity gives an international, as well as a local and national, touch to the drive; and 5. The program is financially sound."

'53 Calendar Girl Presentation Set

Builders To Disclose 12 Finalists, Winner October 11 On TV Show

The 1953 Calendar Girl will be presented on KOLN TV Oct. 11 at 6 p.m. University Builders announced Tuesday.

In former years the Calendar Girl has been presented at an annual dance, which was replaced this year by the Campus Rumpus.

Wednesday night in Parlor Z of the Union three judges will select 13 finalists from 49 candidates. The judges are: Mary Mielenz, professor of secondary education; Robert Michaelson, beauty specialist from Ben Simons; and Jane Korb, fashion co-ordinator from Hovland-Swanson.

These 13 women will be judged on Oct. 4 and the winner, Calendar Girl of 1953, along with the 12 other finalists, will be presented on a TV program Oct. 11.

THE COMPLETE list of candidates includes: Paddy Wright, Kathleen Carpenter, Alpha Omicron Pi; Betty Searcy, Jan Skiff, Alpha Xi Delta; Barbara Grow, Daphne Young, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Barbara Hog, Marilyn Bourck, Pi Beta Phi; Lynn Holland, Gail Drahot, Delta Gamma; Claramae Ogburn, Margaret McKeone, Carolyn Lee, Sigma Kappa; Barbara Clark, Mary Taylor, Kappa Delta.

Mary Gattis, Marilyn Anderson, Chi Omega; Sue Muehlaupt, Leigh Cartwright, Kappa Alpha Theta; Kay Pasco, Terrace Hall; Joan Jayner, Towne Club; Phyllis Potash, International House; Nancy Carman, Sigma Chi; Agnes Anderson (Gamma Phi) and Sherry Clover (Alpha Chi), Delta Tau Delta; Martha Jane Morrison (Alpha Chi), Theta Xi; Carolyn Bratt, Rhea Britschge, Gloria Kollmorgen, Girl's Dorm.

MARILYN BREWSTER, Cynthia Johnson, Alpha Phi; Marilyn Beideck, Carol Thompson, Alpha Chi Omega; Phyllis Sherman, Alpha Gamma Rho; Eileen Mulrarky, Alpha Tau Omega; Mickey Rabner, Sigma Delta Tau; Dorothy Hartwig, Farmhouse.

Nancy Holle, Karen Decker, Vivian Lemmer, Claudette Helm, Delta Delta Delta; Lou Shinn, Alice Hansen, Nancy Kiely, Doris Emry, Gamma Phi Beta; Gerdi Hord, Beta Theta Pi; Wilma Larson, Jo Ann Shimonek, Betty Vogt, Brown Palace; Nancy Mueller, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Barbara Ney, Theta Chi; and

School Of Music Plans First Student Recital

A student recital presented by the University School of Music will be held Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Social Science auditorium. This is to be a weekly recital of vocal and instrumental talent presented by the department.

Correction

A course on "The Life and Teachings of Jesus" with the Rev. Rex Knowles in charge will be held on Thursdays at the Ag Student Center at 7 a.m. instead of 7 p.m. as stated in Tuesday's Nebraskan.

Law College Offers Legal Aid Bureau For Students

Do you need legal advice? Students or Linconites seeking legal help may contact the Legal Aid Bureau which is sponsored by the University College of Law.

The bureau, which has been in operation since 1945, is conducted by senior law students under the supervision of Edward D. Morgan, head of the organization.

SENIOR LAW students volunteer to aid in the counseling. This year from a class of 36 students, 21 are working in the bureau.

An average of 125 cases are handled each year. Of these, 25 per cent are brought in by students. However, the bureau handles only the cases in which the person seeking aid cannot afford lawyer fees. Otherwise, they are referred to lawyers.

MORGAN stated that student inquires for aid fall under five categories:

1. Notice on rent
2. Liability for necessities—minors are liable for contracts they make regarding necessities such as clothing or food.
3. Foreign students' problems.
4. Liability of parents for torts—parents are liable only if the child commits a civil wrong independent of a contract.

5. Marriage—students want to know where they can get married the fastest.

Office hours of the Legal Aid Bureau are 1:30-4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and 8:30-11:30 a.m. Saturdays. Students may call the University number, 2-7631, extension 3178.

Orchesis Groups To Hold Practice

The first practice session for Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis candidates will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Grant Memorial Gym.

The session is the first of two meetings held to acquaint students with the fundamentals of modern dance. The other practice will be October 7. Although no previous experience is necessary, students must attend one of these sessions in order to be eligible to try out for membership in Orchesis.

Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis try-outs will be held Oct. 14 at 7 p.m. in Grant Memorial Gym. The try-outs are for girls only; any boys interested may come to any one of the practices or sign up any time in Grant Memorial.

THE DEADLINE for filing is Saturday. Student organizations who have filed so far include:

Kosmet Club, Nebraska Blue Print, Phi Sigma Iota, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Wesley Foundation, Pi Lambda Theta, Red Cross, French Club, Chum dan Student Fellowship and National Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Alpha Kappa Psi, Nebraska Masquers, Delta Sigma Delta, American Pharmaceutical Association, Pershing Rifles, 4-H Club, Towne Club, Barb Activities Board for Women, Xi Psi Phi and Corn Cobs.

Reed To Discuss Petroleum Future

A University faculty member and associate state geologist, Prof. Eugene Reed, will discuss central Nebraska petroleum development possibilities before more than a thousand petroleum geologists Thursday in Wichita, Kan.

The American Association of Petroleum Geologists asked Reed to report on possibilities of successful explorations in the central Nebraska basin region.

Reed has spent more than 20 years studying Nebraska's subsurface geology. He said he believes the central basin will be the site of increased drilling activities during the next few years.

During the past two years, he explained, considerable leasing has been made in the basin but little exploration drilling has been done.

Mimi Harner, Nancy Hemphill, Joan Roe, Phi Gamma Delta.

All organizations that purchased 30 calendars from the Builders were eligible to nominate a candidate.

NUCWA Holds First Big Meeting

Editor Tells Why Russia Trip 'Off'

In an opening mass meeting Tuesday, NUCWA President Jim Collins outlined the purpose of the group—to foster interest in world affairs on the University campus.

In furthering this purpose, NUCWA sponsors dinners, teas and displays of United Nations activities and a spring conference portraying an agency of the UN in action.

Ken Rystrom, editor of The Nebraskan, addressed the assembly, telling of his proposed trip to Russia. Rystrom said that, as a result of the reports of other newspapermen admitted to Russia, seven college newspaper editors wrote applications to the Russian embassy with the idea that if they were admitted, they would be able to see and report Russia from the college student's point of view.

RYSTROM ADDED that, by the time he received word from the Soviet Union that with proper passport he could enter, it was time for school to start. Faced with a $2,000 trip and classes to make up afterwards, only three of the applicants made the trip to Russia.

Rystrom stated that another drawback to be considered in making the trip was that the group was to write a report of it together. He thought that this was not desirable for three reasons:

1. When a group writes a story, each member is held responsible for it, even though he may not agree with all the details.
2. If one writes his own story, someone could misinterpret it. A reader might not consider it the "right" impression of Russia.
3. Even though seven people would write seven different articles, they would all have made the same trip and would have seen the same things. All members, by implication, would be connected with what the others said.

Forms Filed By Twenty Organizations

Twenty student University organizations have filed Organization Registration Forms with the Division of Student Affairs office, according to Frank M. Halgren, associate dean of student affairs.

The reason for these forms is to clarify the number and function of student organizations on the campus. The new forms will also help advisors of the various organizations to know exactly what their organizations plan to do during the school year.

THE DEADLINE for filing is Saturday. Student organizations who have filed so far include:

Kosmet Club, Nebraska Blue Print, Phi Sigma Iota, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Wesley Foundation, Pi Lambda Theta, Red Cross, French Club, Chum dan Student Fellowship and National Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Alpha Kappa Psi, Nebraska Masquers, Delta Sigma Delta, American Pharmaceutical Association, Pershing Rifles, 4-H Club, Towne Club, Barb Activities Board for Women, Xi Psi Phi and Corn Cobs.

Freshman Men, Women Purchase 1,124 Beans

The Innocents Society and the Co-ed Councilors report that 794 men and 330 women students have purchased freshman beanies. On sale since Sept. 6, the beanies will officially go off the market Wednesday.