

In The Stands Nebraska's Cornhuskers In Rut Like 1951 Squad

By GEORGE PAVNICH
Sports Editor

Shades of 1951, after three games, no wins, two losses and a tie!

Last week we stated that the Kansas State game would make or break the Huskers. No need to repeat the terrible score, but the Wildcat team did surprise most people. The boys from Manhattan were simply too much for the Huskers to handle.

The Wildcats have a fine ball team, and I'm sure everyone will agree that they will win more Big Seven ball games in addition to their Saturday shellacking of Nebraska.

AS USUAL the coach draws heavy fire when the Huskers lose, but the signs splattered on the Social Science Building give grim warnings of things to come—Nebraska meets Pitt Saturday!

They even say that custodians are removing the temporary wooden TV structure set up in the stadium for the Oregon opener; they're taking no chances!

What in the heck has happened to the Huskers?

NU gridgers are playing as if in a trance or like they were sick. How can a club make such a fine showing one week and silt so much the next? They had better get that new University psychiatrist to work. Even that 1951 club played them with more consistency, they lost them all convincingly.

IT IS difficult not to feel sorry for the NU gridgers. We realize the work that goes into the sport and that no one likes to be a loser, especially the men connected with the game.

"Why don't you tell the fans to lay off the booing of the players during the game," stated one NU coed. "The boys would like a little encouragement for a change."

We agree, but it is also difficult not to complain with such a Saturday performance. The Huskers weren't in the ball game Saturday.

Freshmen Vie Intrasquad Game Test For Frosh

Teams Divided; Meet Wednesday

Nebraska's freshman footballers, eager for action after a four-week diet of daily drills, will have their first intra-squad game Wednesday afternoon.

Memorial Stadium will be the site, provided the field is dry. In case of wet weather the contest will be moved to a practice field north of the Coliseum.

Head Frosh Mentor Bob Faris says it's too early to compare this year's crop with his 1952 squad.

"BUT WE should know by Nov. 1. After all we've got to get these kids prepared to move into next year's vacant or weak varsity spots."

"Right now we're best fortified at ends and positions the backs. Our weaker positions are at guard and tackle where we have a number of converted backs," Faris points out.

Among the converts are Joe Kobza, Ulysses, and Norbert Knock. Leigh, both six-man backs moved to tackle; John Wilkinson, Lincoln, end switched to tackle; Pat Hoyt, Cozad, moved from fullback to guard; Doug Marcy, Lakeside, switched from center to guard; Bob MacDonald, Pavard, from back to guard; Bob Berguin, Sioux Falls, S. D., from guard to center, and LaVerne Torczon, Platte Center, switched from a back to center.

CHARLES SMITH of Franklin, N. H., who is now a halfback, played quarterback in high school; and Drwln Blair, Cozad, who was an end, is running at fullback.

WHITE
Ends—Phil Montagano, Johnston, R. I.; Ted Westervelt, Scottsbluff; Howard Smith, Lewistown, Ill.; tackles—William Krommenhock, Sioux City, Ia.; Jerry Warren, Spray, N. C.; Richard Yoet, Clay Center; Norbert Knock, Leigh; guards—Joe Bayer, Minden; Larry Jones, Sidney; Doug Marcy, Lakeside; Bill Shaver, Grand Island; centers—Ken Moorhead, Omaha; LaVerne Torczon, Platte Center; quarterbacks—Gordon Englert, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Ron Noel, Grand Island; halfbacks—Harry Johnson, Valley; Don Erway, Lincoln; James Carr, Springfield; William Greenlaw, Portland, Me.; Jan Strickland, Villisca, Ia.; Tom Kaufman, Bladen; fullbacks—Phil Neff, Huntingdon, Pa.; Don Schmid, Columbus; Drwln Blair, Cozad.

WHAT COACH Glassford will do to improve is a question mark. One thing is for certain, and that is that he will try everything to bring the Cornhuskers back.

It seems to us that he has two big jobs right away. The guard situation and line-backing must be improved. Also a new fighting spirit has to be found if NU hopes to prevent a collapse similar to 1951.

THE SQUAD-A-QUARTER plan has proved to be no sensation. Untimely miscues by second-stringers have proved costly in the last two games. It seems that a regular substitution of key players wouldn't hurt NU play any.

That seems to be enough second-guessing for this week. See what we mean when we say it gets difficult not to complain and become a grandstand coach? We should have had a guest writer!

HUSKER NOTES—Don Glantz is now at the NU Student Health Center. The junior guard from Central City was reported to have been resting easily Monday. He suffered a jammed neck in Saturday's tilt. If John Bordogna isn't in shape to play against Pitt Saturday we look for the Huskers to run from the single-wing almost exclusively. NU simply isn't stocked with T-formation quarterbacks this season.

Golf Play Continues

Al Blessing, Roger Gohde Intramural Golf Leaders At End Of First Round Flight

By FRANK SORENSON

Al Blessing and Roger Gohde continued their winning ways in the first round of the championship flight of the I-M fall golf tournament.

Blessing and Gohde, both representing Alpha Tau Omega, stamped the ATO's as the favorites for the team title after the first round.

Blessing, who turned in a one under par 71 in the qualifying round, eased by Chuck Burnmeister, DU, one-up to advance to the second round.

GOHDE EDGED by Warrnie Christenson, Sigma Chi, two-up to give him the right to meet

Pitt Panther Picture

Pittsburgh Rated One Of Top Independent Powers In East

Pitt's 1953 football team, despite the fact that Coach Red Dawson in his second year has 23 lettermen back, in addition to reinforcements from his undefeated frosh squad, is expected to have a tough time equalling last season's record.

Already this year the Panthers have lost to West Virginia and tied Oklahoma.

This season opened with the Panthers expecting trouble in early tilts because of inexperience in the middle of the line, plus uncertainty in the backfield.

The Panthers have a tough schedule remaining, facing Nebraska, Notre Dame, Northwestern, Minnesota, Virginia, North Carolina State, and Penn State. Penn State handed the Panthers their third loss last year.

THE PANTHERS are well-stocked at end, Captain Dick Detrick is back from the offensive platoon of last season and is doing fine going both ways so far this year.

The tackle spot appears solid with Eldred Kraemen, an All-American selection who played both ways is here and Lou Palatella, a two-year defensive regular will handle the other tackle.

Bill Schmitt, a sophomore letterman, Bill Cessar, defensive

He's Still Fightin'

Jim Oliver, senior center from Shelton, was one of the bright spots in the poor NU defensive show against Kansas State Saturday. Oliver is one of the most likeable Huskers and also one of the hardest workers. Jim will probably see more action than usual this coming weekend as the Huskers meet the Pitt Panthers at Pittsburgh.

Phi Kappa Psi, the only one of the S-Street boys to advance as he outplayed Kappa Sig, Tom Kissler six and four.

Fran Cruise, Independent, downed another Phi Psi, Bob Britten, two and one. Nels Jensen, playing for Phi Delta Theta, shot his way by Phi Gam Dick Mayberry two and one to round out the playing in the championship flight.

In the second round Mulligan meets Blessing, Moore confronts Butterfield, C. Jensen goes up against Cruise and Nels Jensen tees off with Roger Gohde. Play in the second must be completed and the result turned by noon Monday, October 12.

Football activity swings back into full force after a week end of rest.

Sigma Phi Epsilon appears as one of the best bets in the Class A competition. The Sig Eps blasted a good ATO club last week to rate as possible champions again. The Sig Eps are paced by Speedy Wayne Whitaker.

IN THE second seeded position, Pat Mulligan, Sigma Chi, edged by favorite J. Benedict, last year's medalist, playing for Sig Ep, two up, Jack Moore,

Kidd, Fallstead Leaders

Twenty-Four Begin Early Gym Training

The Husker Gymnastic team has started conditioning work for the 1953-4 season.

Tom Kidd, Lincoln, and Ray Fallstead, Beatrice were named leaders of the conditioning program. Apparatus work will begin in about two weeks.

HEAD MANAGER for this year's gymnasts will be Robert Bevington, Beatrice and John Kysar, Lincoln.

THE REMAINDER of the Pitt backfield has not been too steady. Billy Hooftman and Jon Jacobs will battle for the left half slot with Ray Di Pasquale, Gene Saterator, and Richie McCabe due to see plenty of action also.

Rudy Mattioli has been handling the Panther quarterback duties very well after a slow start. In the Oklahoma game the Pitt air attack worked much better than in the ill-fated opener against the West Virginia club.

Huskers Lose Weddle Sophomore End Had Been Recognized As Top Pass Receiver On Nebraska Squad

Nebraska football fortunes were dealt another severe blow Monday when Coach Bill Glassford announced that Sophomore end Ralph Weddle had decided to turn in his uniform.

Weddle disclosed that he had too many family obligations to continue in the game.

Weddle's loss hits the Huskers at a very weak spot. The end position has been one of the Husker Boss's main troubles for more than two years.

Andy Loehr's return to duty over two weeks ago alleviated the situation temporarily, but Weddle's loss puts NU back in the weakened position.

"THE WILDCAT club simply out-charged and out-fought us through the entire game," said

Ralph Weddle

Glassford. "They without a doubt have the finest squad at Manhattan since I have been at Nebraska."

The Husker mentor hinted at wholesale position changes, but said he would announce these at a later date. With Don Glantz on the shelf with a badly wrenched neck and Bordogna possibly missing Saturday's action against Pitt, Glassford must make changes in his starting eleven.

KANSAS STATE'S performance against NU was a real bombshell. This was the worst licking a Wildcat team has ever administered to a Cornhusker squad.

The Nebraska team hit the bottom in the conference standings so far as total won and lost games are concerned.

Nebraska has won none, lost two and tied one. The mighty Oklahoma Sooners are above the Huskers. Their record reads a slim won none, lost one and tied one.

THE SOONERS however are expected to walk away with the Big Seven conference.

Saturday's whitewashing of Nebraska marked the first time a Bill Glassford squad had been mesmerized by a loop foe since Oklahoma's 27-0 victory on Saturday, Nov. 24, 1951, in Lincoln.

Bill Meek's squad played inspired ball to turn the trick against a sluggish bunch of Cornhuskers last Saturday.

Pitt, Nebraska foe this Saturday, came back after bowing to West Virginia to the Oklahoma's Sooners, 7-7, in the lone non-conference skirmish of the day.

MISSOURI LIVED up to advance expectations by tripping the Colorado Buffs, 27-6 and Kansas won its first ball game of the season by knocking down Iowa State, 23-0.

This week the Jayhawks travel to Boulder and the Buffs will have to win this one to stay in the race. Kansas State will get the nod over the Cyclones of Iowa State.

Oklahoma faces another tough foe this week in the Texas club. The Longhorns were upset by LSU 20-7, in their opener, but since then the Texans have won two straight.

OKLAHOMA GETS the nod even with its two defeats. The Sooners simply have played stiffer competition in Pittsburgh and Notre Dame.

Missouri hopes to atone for last year's loss as the Tigers meet SMU in Dallas Friday night.

Corky Taylor's touchdown against the Huskers and his scanner for an extra point shot him into the individual scoring lead in the Big Seven last week with a total of 25 points.

Another Wildcat, Veryl Switzer, is in the runnerup position with 18 points.

Bob Smith, right half, leads the Husker scoring with two TD's good for 12 points.

Students Celebrate 'Cat Win Over Cornhuskers

The Kansas State student body took advantage of Saturday's Wildcat football win over Nebraska, their first since 1949, by going on a fun-raising spree.

A day without classes as the result of a win is a rarity at Kansas State, but classes were dismissed Monday because of the upset win over the Huskers.

The spree proclaimed that the football fame at Kansas State had ended. The next football foe for the Wildcats is Iowa State.

Yankees Win Series In Ninth

The world classic of baseball was ended in classic form Monday afternoon as the New York Yankees won the sixth and crucial game, 4-3.

The victory in this series gave Casey Stengel and his ball playing charges a record shattering fifth straight world championship. No other major league club has ever come close to the record.

THE SIXTH and deciding game of the series started as a replica of the first game with Carl Erskine, workhorse of the Dodger mound crew, doing the pitching, and the bases loaded with Yankees, and series hero, Billy Martin at the plate.

As in the first game, Martin delivered by driving in a run to put the Yanks ahead by 2-0. Woodling scored the first run on Berra's ground rule double into the stands.

THE NOW World Champs exploded for another marker in their half of the second inning with Rizzuto doing the scoring after Woodlings fly to left.

After the first two innings, Erskine settled down to hold the New Yorkers scoreless. Whitey Ford, on the hill for the Bronx Bombers, held the Bums at bay until the sixth inning.

Robinson set up the scoring by doubling off the barrier in the left field corner stole third without drawing a throw as Yankee Third sacker Gil McDougald was caught napping. Campanella hit a slow roller to Rizzuto and Robinson scored.

THE GAME proceeded toward an anti-climactic finish as both hurlers, Allie Reynolds for the Yanks and Clem Labine for the Dodgers, mowed down the opposing batsmen in the methodical fashion. Then the hectic ninth inning rolled around.

With one out in the Brooklyn half of the ninth, Duke Snider drew a base on balls. Furillo then worked Reynolds to a 2-2 count before clouting his game busting homer into the lower deck of the stands to knot the score for the first time in the game.

Joy reigned in Flatbush momentarily for their beloved Bums had come through in the clutch. Reynolds retired the side in easy order.

Ex-Huskers Doing Well
