Alpha Xi's Awarded YW Trophy

Gamma Phi's, Howard Place

Alpha Xi Delta was awarded the brown jug trophy for first place winners in the decorations contest at the Sadie Hawkins' Party Hop Saturday.

Second place went to Gamma Phi Beta and third to Howard Hall.

The trophy will be retained by Alpha Xi Delta until next year when it will go to the new winner.

THE THEME of the first place winner was old clothes, including a large pair of red flannels over the door.

Gamma Phi Beta decorations featured spider webs and a long black tunnel leading into the house. Decorations at Howard Hall depicted all dogpatch characters.

Judges were Mrs. Jessie Knowles, president of the YWCA Advisory Board; Jack Coyle, Lincoln Community Chest, and Jan Osborn, YWCA director.

Helene Sherman and Peggy Larson were co-chairmen of the party.

Yugoslavia Calls Conference To Decide Trieste's Future

By WILLIE DESCH, Staff Writer

In an attempt to discuss the future of Trieste and the decision made by the United States and Britain last week, Yugoslavia has demanded a conference with the two major parties who decided the future of the land.

Also a protest was sent to the United Nations secretary-general by Yugoslavia on the decision to withdraw British and American occupation troops from Zone A of the Trieste territory.

Greek Naval, Air Bases

Permission has been granted to the United States to use an undisclosed number of Greek air and naval bases to help with North Atlantic Pact defenses.

The formal agreement was signed in Athens by American Ambassador Cannon and Greek officials. The location and number of bases was not known in the agreement. However the right to use them will last until 1969, the length of the 14-nations Atlantic Pact.

Prisoner Interviews

Interviews for North Korean and Chinese war prisoners who refused to return home are ready to begin, stated the Communists. They hope to begin the interviews Wednesday.

Dairymen Protest

Because of "maladministration" of the federal milk program, city consumers are forced to pay too much for milk, a group of Midwest dairymen told Congress.

The spokesman for the group was J. M. Punderson, general manager of a Rochester, Minn. co-operative. He said that high prices of milk fixed by the government in federally-regulated markets hurts the dairy men as well as the city consumer. Many markets have been lost for the surplus production of butter and cheese and this affects the production and markets of milk.

The instructor was enumerating the levels of the social scale of the Han dynasty of ancient China.

After stating that the scholar ranked at the top, he placed the farmer next.

Hoping to elicit class participation, he asked, "What group would come next? What is another class of producers?"

An eager hand showed up. "Women," the student said. (The answer was artisans.)

Coed Mart To Offer Activities

Booths Represent 14 Organizations

Approximately 14 organizations will be represented by booths at the annual activities

Organizations participating will be:

Cornhusker, WAA, Tassels, AUF, Red Cross, Home Ec Club, NUCWA, Coed Counselors, Newman Club, Builders, BABW, YWCA, Student Union and The Nebraskan.

ATTENDANCE AT the annual Activities Mart will be restricted this year to freshmen women only, Diana Hinman, Associated Women Students Board Member, announced.

Members of the AWS Council of Representatives will act as guides and help the freshmen sign for activities, so outside assistance would only add to the confusion, she said.

"Join the Campus Carnival of Activities" is the theme of the Mart, to be held Wednesday from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Union ballroom. Each organization will have a booth where freshmen women may register to work in the activities in which they are interested.

MISS DEAN will sing four selections: "The Little Shepherd's Song," by Watts; "When I Bring To You Colour'd Toys," by Carpenter; "Lullaby from 'The Consul,'" by Minotti, and "Four Sketches from the Far East," by Alberti.

Strasburg will play, "La Terrasse Des Audiences Du Clair De Lune," by Debussy, and "L'Isle Joyeuse," by Debussy.

Marilyn Schultz will be accompanist. The recital is sponsored by the Union Music Committee.

New French Art Film To Be Shown Tuesday

The new French art film, "Images Medievales," will be shown for the last time Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in Gallery B, Morrill Hall.

The film is in color with English narration and special musical score by Guy Bernard Delapierre. Illuminated manuscript paintings in the Bibliotheque Nationale, Paris, will be shown in the film.

Miss Helm, a member of Delta Delta Delta, was presented as the Calendar Girl of 1953 on the Calendar Coeds television program Sunday evening. Miss

Two Nebraskan Positions Open

The Nebraskan has two staff openings due to the resignation of Cynthia Henderson, copy editor, and Dave Erickson, assistant business manager.

The Committee on Student Publications will act on these resignations in a meeting Friday and decide if they will accept applications for these positions.

German Club Announces New Executive Board

Three new officers were elected at a meeting of the German Club Thursday.

They are: Everett V. Cunningham, president; Charles R. B. Wright, vice-president and Brigita Matison, secretary-treasurer.

The organization will hold its next meeting Nov. 12.

NU Tassels To Present HC Finalists

Voting After Rally Scheduled

Elections for Homecoming Queen will be held Friday following the pep rally from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Union lobby.

The five candidates for Homecoming Queen, who were chosen by Tassels from among their members, will be presented at the rally. Requirements for candidacy are that the coed be a junior meeting the eligibility requirements of Tassels.

Formerly the queen was presented at the Homecoming Dance. This year the ceremony will be held at half-time of the Homecoming game.

TASSELS PROPOSED this change because it will reduce the confusion resulting from the presentation of last year's Homecoming Queen at the game and the new queen at the dance.

Five booths will be set up in the lobby this year rather than two as were used last year. Thus the Tassels committee anticipates that voting for the candidates will take less time than in the past.

Identification cards are the only voting requirement.

First Faculty Music Recital Set Thursday

The University School of Fine Arts will present the first program in a series of faculty music recitals Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Soloists will be Jack Snider, instructor of brass instruments and theory, french horn; Kathryn Dean, instructor in music, contralto vocalist, and Richard Strasburg, instructor of piano, pianist.

SNIDER WILL play "Concerto for Horn and Piano, Allegro Moderato," by Jacob, and "Adagio and Allegro," Opus 70, by Schumann.

MISS DEAN will sing four selections: "The Little Shepherd's Song," by Watts; "When I Bring To You Colour'd Toys," by Carpenter; "Lullaby from 'The Consul,'" by Minotti, and "Four Sketches from the Far East," by Alberti.

Strasburg will play, "La Terrasse Des Audiences Du Clair De Lune," by Debussy, and "L'Isle Joyeuse," by Debussy.

Marilyn Schultz will be accompanist. The recital is sponsored by the Union Music Committee.

Trip Status Clarified

There has been a great deal of controversy and some misunderstanding in the past about official and unofficial migrations. This year's migration to Missouri was decided upon last year by a committee composed of Patsy Clark of the athletic department, Band Director Don Lentz, Dean of Student Affairs J. P. Colbert, Dean of Women Marjorie Johnson, editor of The Daily Nebraskan, and representatives from Corn Cobs, Tassels, Innocents, and the Student Council. It is wholeheartedly supported by the Student Council.

It is not called an official migration only because the University's lawyer advises us that we can do so only if it is actually sponsored by the Student Council. Such sponsorship would mean that all students who went would be compelled to ride on a common carrier, such as a train or bus. Since this is not practical, and since the Student Council cannot be legally responsible for everyone who makes the trip by their own means of transportation, the migration cannot be termed an official one.

The Student Council urges students who would like to see an away-from-home game to go on the migration. It is our hope that a great many Nebraskans will be cheering for the team at Missouri.

Jack Rogers, Chairman Student Council Migration Committee

200 Tickets Now On Sale To Students

The Missouri-Nebraska football game Oct. 24 at Columbia, Mo. will be University migration.

The Burlington railroad has offered a special train if 200 tickets can be sold. The University band will buy 110 tickets and students may buy the remaining tickets.

Train tickets are available at the Burlington ticket office at 11th and D Sts. Tickets are $17.35 plus 15 per cent tax ($19.95). This does not include the game ticket.

THE TRAIN will leave about 11 p.m. Friday and arrive in Columbia about 10 a.m. Saturday. It will leave Columbia at 7:30 p.m. and return to Lincoln about 6 a.m. Sunday.

The Innocents will traditionally exchange the Victory Bell with the MU senior men's honorary, QEBH. Missouri will keep the bell as winners of last year's game.

Miss Marjorie W. Johnson, dean of women, has granted women an overnight for the weekend. This is an extra overnight and will not count in the regular semester quota of overnights.

About 200 game tickets are still available in the office of A. J. Lewandowski, business manager of athletics.
