

AUF Ends Drive Short Of Goal

Contributions Not Yet Recorded Expected To Raise Present Total

All University Fund solicitations have ended. Carl Mammel, AUF treasurer, announced that $3,348.14 has been contributed to date although "more funds are expected as the cleanup portion of the campaign takes place. Actual solicitations have ceased but many divisions have money on hand which has not been turned in."

"Denominational houses, faculty members, fraternities, sororities, organized houses, and organizations still possess contributions which were part of the two-week drive, but have not been officially accounted for," Mammel said.

"We of the All University Fund feel confident that our goal of $8,000 will be attained. This feeling is due to the fact that there are funds that have been contributed but not yet officially turned in to the treasury."

"Students and faculty have been marvelous in their co-operation and have set a fine example for other campuses to follow. The AUF Auction is our final source of revenue for the current fund raising drive," Yapp continued.

Ag campus solicitations to date total $170 and the booth operated during the pre-drive netted $1,148.26. Denominational houses have added $162.23 to the drive with more funds expected from this source.

Moot Court Pairings Named By Law College

Annual Competition To Begin November 16 For Law Students

Moot court, annual competition for law students, will begin Nov. 16 in the court room of the Law Building.

Cases used during Moot court will be prepared by a board composed of upperclassmen who will also obtain judges and arrange times for competition. Freshmen are required to take part in the court proceedings and if not eliminated in the final trials they will participate in the final competition to be held this spring.

MOOT COURT is a memorial to the late Thomas S. Allen, first student to graduate from the College of Law. Names for each year's winners are inscribed upon a memorial plaque located in the hall of the Law Building.

Plans for the court were originated by faculty members of the Law College and the Board of Regents to provide actual training in arguing appellate cases. Court procedure is modeled after that used by the U.S. Supreme Court and the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Freshmen will cover the subjects of torts, contracts, constitutional law, property and legislative problems in their debates. Securities, family law, criminal law, agency, corporation and commercial law will be discussed by sophomores in the competition.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATING in the Moot court are:

Docket 1300, appellants are Robert Berkshire and Robert Johnson vs. Harvey Goth and John Fletcher.

Docket 1301, appellants are Al Blessing and Charles Burmeister vs. Bernard Packett and Gene Wohlner.

Docket 1302, Jerris Massie and Bill Sherwood vs. Donald Sampson and Sid Sweet.

Docket 1303, appellants are Robert Baumfalk and Alan Edee vs. James Parmalee and Richard Meyer.

Docket 1304, appellants are Simon Lantzky, Thomas P. Oser, and Eugene Doyle vs. Joseph Brown, Frank Piccolo, and Parker Geesen.

Docket 1305, appellants are Clark Nichols, Henry Holst, Ron Lahnerts and Valjean McCurdy.

Docket 1306, appellants are Lloyd Ball, Charles Hughes, Richard Huber, and James Burbridge.

Docket 1309, appellants are Richard Thompson, Jerry Sturtz, Marvin Holcher, and Don Hock-

Rocky Yapp, AUF President, In A Statement To The Nebraskan

INDEPENDENT solicitations amounted to $1,068.86 and organized houses have given $202.85 with more contributions expected to come in as the "cleanup" is completed.

Nurses in Medical School gave $50.15 of the $227.03 collected in Omaha. AUF board members donated $74.50 to their own cause.

The AUF Auction has been set for Nov. 18. During the Auction pledge classes will be sold to the highest bidders and "anything else that can be auctioned will be put up for sale," said Cynthia Henderson of the AUF publicity committee.

Voting for Ugliest Man on the Campus, sponsored by AUF, will be held Oct. 30. Houses that gave 100% to the drive are eligible to nominate a candidate for the honor.

Mid-Year Grad Check Deadline November 1

Students who expect to receive bachelor or advanced degrees or teaching certificates at the end of the first semester should apply at the Senior Checking Office, Administration Building, Room 9.

Students may file during the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. until noon Saturday. The deadline for filing is Nov. 1.

Regulations For Parking Announced

Parking violations and fines have been announced by University campus police.

After six parking violation tickets in any academic year or more than four in any semester, the holder of a parking permit must forfeit the permit to the campus police.

The traffic violations include: parking on a red line, backing into a stall, parking in a drive or having no permit also re-falling to stop at a stop sign and careless driving.

PARKING in a faculty area or having no permit also results in tickets. Fines are $1 for each violation. A $1 fine unpaid after six days will be raised to $2 and if unpaid after 10 days will be raised to $4.

Payments of fines should be made at campus police headquarters at Room 102, Temporary L. A student wishing to appeal his ticket may present his case to the Student Council Parking Board, Room 305, Union, at 4 p.m. on Thursdays.

Failure of students to pay fines will result in withholding of credits until settlement is made.

Anniversary Discussion Sponsored By NUCWA

United Nations Organization Praised By Panel Composed Of Four Prominent Nebraska Citizens

"The United Nations is the only organization that can attempt to answer problems of an international scope," said Dr. C. Vin White in a panel discussion observing the eighth birthday of the signing of the United Nations constitution Tuesday evening.

"The United Nations as a World Organization" was the topic of discussion undertaken by the four-man panel composed of Dr. White, Hugo F. Srb, Dr. E. N. Anderson and Ellsworth DuTeau. The discussion, sponsored by the Nebraska University Council on World Affairs, took place in the auditorium of Love Library.

NANCY GARDNER, chairman of the UN week committee, introduced the first speaker, Mr. Srb, who is the Clerk of the Nebraska State Legislature.

Srb began by stating that he was the son of immigrant parents who had come to the United States seeking "preservation of life" and that the United Nations was providing this "preservation" throughout the world.

John F. Dulles, Secretary of State, was quoted by Srb as saying that "The United Nations is a center of harmony for nations. Never was harmony so necessary" in his opinion, "future of the United States rests upon the United Nations."

New Areas Insure Room For NU Cars

400 Parking Stalls Completed

More than 400 additional cars can now be parked on the new University parking lots. Sgt. John Furrow of the University police said completion of the new parking lots should completely accommodate all cars eligible to park on the campus.

The capacity of the Union lot about 250 cars since the buildings about 250 cars since the building on S street have been removed.

PLANS WERE begun last spring for the new permanent lot by a committee of the administrative staff in conjunction with former Chancellor Gustafson. The total cost of clearing and filling the land, grading the surface, and installing the poles was $2500.

"This new lot is in the center of the campus where everyone wants to park," reported Eldon Park, president of Builders. "Since the new lot has been opened, parking violations have been reduced."

"I THINK they have done a lot to get cars out of the downtown area, particularly on R street," Inspector Shively of the local police stated in evaluating the new facilities.

The administrative staff stated work will be done on all the parking lots by Thursday and they will be ready for complete use.

Committee Suggests Five For NU Head

A faculty committee on selection of a new Chancellor has handed the Board of Regents five names in nomination for Chancellor from a list of 75 names previously considered.

C. Y. Thompson, chairman of the Board, said the submitted names were not final and that the Regents could deviate from the committee's suggestions and the faculty group could submit additional names.

A successor to former Chancellor R. G. Gustafson will not necessarily come from the list submitted, Thompson said.

Clifford M. Hicks, chairman of the faculty committee, will meet with the Regents at their next meeting, Oct. 31. The committee was commended by Thompson for a "remarkable" job and he expressed appreciation of the time spent on recommendations.

The Regents also added two staff members of the College of Agriculture, Dr. Alvin B. Hoerlein was added to the staff with the title of professor of animal pathology and Dr. George Kelley, Jr., will assume duties as assistant professor of animal pathology and parasitologist.

Students in a nine o'clock economics class last week were surprised to find a notice on the blackboard which stated "Class Dismissed."

The students, asking no questions, took quick advantage of it and dispersed.

The instructor on arriving for his class was dismayed to find no students.

He discovered the notice had been written for a previous class with no one taking the trouble to erase it.

The instructor had the last laugh however.

He rescheduled the lost period for 7 a.m.
