4-H Club Wins Honors At Coll-Agri Fun Night

Alpha Gamma Rho, Love Hall Awarded Honorable Mention

University 4-H Club took all the top honors at the annual Coll-Agri-Fun night Friday as they took first place in the skit division and curtain acts.

"Alice in Aggie Land" was the prize winning skit and "Twirls and Whirls" was awarded $10 for the top curtain act. Nearly 300 persons attended the annual fun night.

HONORABLE MENTION for skits was awarded to Alpha Gamma Rho's presentation of "Agnet" and Love Hall's "Coffee Tales For Two."

In the curtain act competition a guitar duet by Marjorie and George Rolofson received honorable mention.

Don Lees was emcee. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Otson, Mr. and Mrs. Avis Kristenson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dowe and Mr. and Mrs. John Sulek. Miss Kate Field and Walt Spiker were judges.

Members of the Coll-Agri-Fun Board are: Del Merritt, Evelyn Lauritzen, Al Bell, Ginny Barnes, Dale Olson and Lois Kieckhafer.

"COFFEE TALES For Two" skit presented by Love Hall featured an alumni mother and co-ed daughter comparing their college days.

Following this, Jim Dunn played several tunes on the ukulele.

The winning skit, "Alice in Aggie Land," was then presented by the University 4-H Club. It illustrated the way a deck of cards had to take the back seat to other campus activities, especially studying.

Home Ec Club followed with "Hetty's Kitchen Clatter" portraying a picturesque view of the kitchen.

THE SKIT presented by Farm House, "Ag to Eternity," was a satire of college life in 2053 A.D. The next curtain act was a guitar duet by Marjorie and George Rolofson.

Nu-Meds To Meet

A lecture "The Practice of Urology" will be the high point of a Nu-Med meeting to be held Wednesday in Love Library Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Horace Munger will make the lecture.

NU Panhell Receives Recognition National Award Initially Given

A National Panhellenic award has been presented to the University Panhellenic for outstanding constructive leadership in campus affairs, Miss Helen Snyder, assistant dean of women, announced Monday.

The Leland Award, presented this year for the first time, was awarded on the basis of the part Panhellenic has played on campus in scholarship, leadership, citizenship, cooperation, philanthropy and good living standards.

THE CUP, a traveling award which Panhellenic will keep for two years, was awarded to the University by the National Panhellenic Conference, which met in Pasadena, Calif.

Examples of Panhellenic activities were submitted to the National Committee on Awards to be judged with entries from colleges and universities all over the United States. Following are a few of the University Panhellenic activities:

THE ALL-sorority average is the highest group average of campus scholarship.

Panhellenic participated in a student health program for the inspection of campus kitchens and training of food handlers.

It sponsors a two-year scholarship for foreign students. The Panhellenic workshop promotes extensive intersorority cooperation.

Panhellenic took an official stand against block voting on campus, and sponsored a stand against ticket voting.

'Mutiny' Show Sales Reopened

Special Stage To Be Provided

Student ticket sales for "The Caine Mutiny Courtmartial" to be presented Thursday, Nov. 19, reopened Monday.

Tickets are being sold in the Union ticket booth and in organized houses by Union workers. The price for the special student section is $1.25.

The student section will be located on the main floor of the Coliseum, between sections selling at three and four dollars to the public. The seats will be raised for a better view of the stage.

CONSTRUCTION OF a special extended stage for the production will be aided by the Nebraska Masquers working in co-ordination with the Union.

This extended stage has been planned to increase visibility and improve acoustics. It should help to bring the audience closer to the actors and increase the feeling of being an active part of the play. This is especially desirable in "The Caine Mutiny Courtmartial," as all through the first act the audience sees the action as if they were in the courtroom during an actual trial.

"THE CAINE Mutiny" is an adaptation by Herman Wouk from the courtroom scene of his recent novel of the same title, now in its 123rd week as a best seller. Slated for Broadway in January, the production is considered by many critics to be an outstanding hit. The presentation is directed by Dick Powell.

Vocal Team Wins Talent Show Prize

Marilyn Kennedy and Nick Amos won the $10 first place prize in the Union Talent Show Sunday evening for their vocal duet of selections from the Broadway musical, "Kiss Me Kate."

"The Dreamers," a vocal trio of Jan Boettcher, Phyllis Maloney and Dot Osborne, took second place with their version of "I Believe" and "I Got Rhythm."

A three piece combo, Chuck Baker, Dick Glassford and Billie Kroft, won third place with their interpretation of "Chuck's Dream" and "Blue Moon."

"EVENING AT Blue Note," the annual Talent Show, attracted a crowd of 600 students, the activities office estimated. Hank Cech was the master of ceremonies for the show held in the Union Ballroom.

The general entertainment committee of the Union sponsored the show which was under the direction of Billie Croft, the committee chairman.

Serving as judges for the talent show were Wes Jenaby, graduate student in dramatics; Miss Marilyn Schultz, instructor in the School of Music, and Miss Dorothy Spear, director of food service.

Honorary Commandant Finalists Announced

Coeds To Appear On TV Show

Barbara Adams, Barbara Bell, Sue Brownlee, Donna Folmer, Cynthia Holyoke and Mary Jane Wier are the finalists for Honorary Commandant of the Candidate Officers Association.

One of the six will reign at the Military Ball Dec. 4. Paul Neighbors orchestra will be featured.

Latin-American Prints On Display

A display of 75 Latin-American prints and a coffee hour will be held in the main lounge of the Union Tuesday from 4 to 5 p.m.

The exhibit comprises prints from 18 South and Central American countries. They are primarily woodcuts, which are a common art medium in Latin America.

Elaine Hess, chairman of the Union house and office committee, said that the Union is sponsoring the coffee at this time so that all foreign students attending the International Friendship Banquet may see the display.

Filings Open For YWCA Top Positions

Filings for YWCA president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and district representative opened Monday.

Sophomore or junior Y members with 5.5 averages may make application for the positions in the YWCA office in Ellen Smith Hall.

THE NOMINATING committee will draw a slate of two nominees for each office except vice president. The two nominees for president will be president and vice president according to the number of votes they receive in the spring elections.

Shirley Hamilton, Norma Lofthrop, Phyllis Knerl, Elaine Smithberger, Lois Anderson, and Jessie Knowles, president of the advisory board, will be voting members of the nominating committee. Non-voting members will be Neala O'Dell, Barbara Raun and Janice Osborn.

'N' Club Dinner Set For Football Team

The "N" Club will sponsor a dinner Thursday, Nov. 12, in the Union as a sendoff for the football team before their homecoming trial.

Ellsworth DuTeau, president of the Alumni Association, and Adna Dobson, alumni "N" Club president, will speak on "The Cornhusker Tradition." Plans are being made for Bobby Shantz, Philadelphia A pitcher, to attend the dinner.

Rounding out the program will be a vocal trio composed of Jan Boettcher, Dot Osborne, and Phyllis Maloney. Former N-Men Bill Day and Clair Swanson will also give entertainment.

Several comic sport movies will be shown preceding the dinner, from 6 to 7 p.m.

Cornhusker Pictures

Individual picture deadline for the Cornhusker has been extended until Dec. 1.

Pictures are being taken at the Edholm-Blomgren studio. Any student who has not made an appointment, or was unable to have it taken with an organized house may make an appointment at the Cornhusker office.

Religious Retreat Features Student Discussions, Skit

The University Religious Welfare Council met Friday and Saturday at Camp Minis-Kuya for a religious retreat.

The program is designed, as Janice Osborn said, to "get the students not to listen to a group of speakers but to get together themselves, perhaps in discussion groups, and discuss their campus religious problems."

Friday evening a skit based on the book "Campus Gods on Trial" by Chad Walsh was put on by six University students, Rocky Yapp, Neala O'Dell, Shirley Langhus, Chuck Swan, Marv Green and Marv Friedman. The half-hour courtroom scene featured a college student on trial for forshipping several different gods.

Calls For Grand Jury Investigation Of Charges

The Eisenhower administration attempted "classic political maneuver," is switching over to "McCarthyism,"

Republicans Watch The election in the 24th district of California is being watched by both Republicans and Democrats.

The Republicans look upon the 24th district election as a potential vote of confidence in the Eisenhower administration.

The Republican candidates are Glenard P. Lipscomb and John L. E. Eollier. The two running in the Democratic ticket are

Thimayya And Reds

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya of India, chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, will meet with the Communist leaders in an effort to resume the stalled prisoner of war explanation program. Thimayya said that the explanations are paralyzed because of stubbornness of both the Communists and the prisoners.

Ibn Saud Dies

King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, the world's richest and most powerful monarch, died Monday, leaving the throne to the eldest of his 40 sons, Crown Prince Emir Saud.

The crippled, one-eyed king was stricken with angina pectoris on Oct. 9. He was a six foot, four inch giant of a man in his prime but had been crippled by arthritis in recent years.

Mossadegh Trial

Ex-Dictator Mohammed Mossadegh stormed and made fiery speeches on the second day of the trial for his life. The 75-year-old former premier of Iran told the court he would not appeal any sentence the court would render.

Mossadegh is being tried on the charges that he tried to overthrow the monarchy, defied the Shah and illegally dissolved the Majlis (the lower house of Parliament). He claims that the military court is not competent to try him on these charges. He blames the British for the woes of the Iranians.

'Good Will' Event Tonight At 6 P.M.

Hands Around The World Theme For Annual RWC, NUCWA Banquet

The annual International Friendship Dinner will be held Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Any student wishing to take a foreign student may contact Nita Helmstadter at 2-8096 by 1 p.m. Tuesday. Tickets are 90 cents.

"THIS IS one of the best ways for Americans to show their good will to the foreign students. No one should miss the opportunity to learn about other people," stated Dean George Rosenlof, the unofficial foreign student advisor.

Dean Rosenlof will bring three guests from the National Committee for Foreign Students to the dinner.

Tim Nelson will act as master of ceremonies for the after-dinner program and will extend

Invitations Available Foreign students who have not yet received their invitations to the Friendship Dinner should see Dr. G. W. Rosenlof or Miss Cypreansen or report to the Union at 5:45 p.m. to obtain their invitations.

Dr. Rosenlof may be contacted in the Administration Building Room 103 and Miss Cypreansen in Room 102 Temple Building.

Dr. Rosenlof said many foreign students had not been sent invitations for the dinner, but they were all invited and urged to attend.

"In these cases, the reason they have not received official notice of the dinner is we don't have their addresses and telephone numbers," he said.

greetings to all the guests for the official sponsoring groups. Over 250 students, faculty members, and guests are expected, but more may come, if they contact Miss Helmstadter in sufficient time.

Janet Steffen, chairman of the new Student Council committee for foreign students, will explain what the committee was set up to do and what it has accomplished thus far.

THE DINNER is sponsored jointly by the Religious Welfare Council and NUCWA. Jim Collins, president of NUCWA, will give an outline of the organization's activities for the coming year.

Featured on the program will be Hans Steffen and Rosmarie Hill, both foreign students from Germany, who will sing native German songs.

Following the German songs, Inge Feldhahn will give a talk on the opportunities for foreign students on the University campus with relation to getting jobs and working in this country after graduation.

MISS FELDHAHN was born in the United States, but was caught in Germany when the war broke out and went to grade school and high school there. She then returned to the United States and entered the University.

Since her graduation, she has worked as a clinical pathologist at Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln.

The theme for this year's dinner will be "Hands Around the World."

Innocents Interpret HC Policy

Displays To Be On 'Equal Basis'

Innocents Society in a letter to organized houses clarified the policy which will be used concerning expenses for Homecoming displays.

The letter reads: "As was stated in previous letter, all materials and equipment used will be evaluated and counted in on the $100 limit. This includes equipment purchased by the house, owned by the house, or loaned to the house. Materials will include lumber, paint, paper, and rental value, of motors, lighting, and all other equipment used."

"AN ITEMIZED account of all materials must be submitted to the Innocents Society mailbox, Union, by 5 p.m., Wednesday.

"An evaluation committee will check all material and equipment Friday. All material must be outside by 3 p.m. in order to be evaluated. The committee will use the expense account submitted by the house, and will include any additions on it.

"ANY ORGANIZATION'S evaluation surpassing the $100 limit will be disqualified.

"This plan is being used in order to make Homecoming displays on a more equal basis, and therefore fairer to all organizations concerned."

This year 30 houses have received approval in themes submitted to the Innocents Society.

The traffic route past houses with displays will be released by the route committee later this week.
