Hardy Leads CU

Connor Should Start Saturday

By GARY FRANSDEN
Sports Staff Writer

Ted Connor, the Huskers' standout tackle, will probably be ready for the Homecoming tilt with Colorado Saturday. The husky Hastings senior suffered head injuries in last week's game with Iowa State.

Coach Bill Glassford stated Tuesday that Connor will lay off of any rough stuff this week, but a preliminary report by team physicians indicated he should be ready to go by Saturday.

THE OTHER major Husker casualty, Guard Max Kitzelman, is still on the doubtful list for skirmish with the invading Buffs. Kitzelman reinjured an ankle during practice the week before the Cyclone game and just recently had his cast removed.

Glassford sent the Huskers through a very limited amount of rough work Tuesday and the same is in store for the squad on Wednesday. Most of the contact was group work. The Husker head coach also stated that there will be no heavy scrimmages for the team during the remainder of the week.

THERE WERE also indications that the same lineup that opened up against the Cyclones will start against Colorado. That means it will be Andy Loeher and Bill Schabacker, ends; Ted Connor and Jerry Minnick, tackles; Bob Wagner and Jerry Paulson, guards; Bob Oberlin, center; John Bordogna, quarterback; Bob Smith and Jon McWilliams, halfbacks and Ray Novak, fullback.

Colorado, with victories over Iowa State and Utah in its last two starts, will be at full strength for almost the first time this season. It will be Nebraska's initial look at a single wing offense this year.

Carroll Hardy is the big man in the Colorado offense. The hard-running tailback is described by Bob Faris, who scouted the Buffs for Nebraska, as "the quickest starter I've ever seen—he gets through an opening faster than any other back in the business."

HARDY HAS been bothered by injuries much of the season, but the reports from Boulder say that he is running as hard as ever. During Hardy's hard-felt absence, Wingback Frank Bernardi has been the Buffs' chief offensive threat.

Bernardi, a southpaw passer, is Colorado's leading ground-gainer and has also connected seven times via the air in 18 attempts. The Buffs also possess the top pass-catching end in the Big Seven in Gary Knafelic. The 6'4" wingman has snared 15 heaves for 330 yards and has also crossed the double-stripe six times.

Coach Dallas Ward's tentative lineup for the skirmish against the Huskers will probably be Knafelic and Alabama Glass, ends; Lee Marshall and Bob Morton, tackles; Jim Stander and Dick Knowlton, guards; Dave Hill, center; Roger Hunt, Hocking back; Hardy, tailback; Bernardi, wingback; and Emerson Wilson, fullback.

One Of The Best

This is the Carroll Hardy the Huskers will have to halt in the Homecoming tilt with Colorado Saturday. Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma calls the Buffs' ace tailback the "best running back in the Big Seven."

Although previously bothered by injuries he is reported now to be running as hard as ever. Bob Faris, NU scout, calls him the "quickest starter I've ever seen."

Good's Experienced But Young Cagers To Play 'Toughest Schedule In Years'

By BOB SERR
Sports Staff Writer

"We are going to have our toughest schedule in years." That is Coach Harry Good's statement as the opening of the basketball season rolls around to another year. "We will be playing Minnesota and Iowa, both of whom finished in the top division of the Big Ten last year."

Coach Good believes that all the teams in the country will be well fortified with available veterans this season. This is due to the experience that the juniors will have who were able to play varsity ball during their freshman year.

THE CORNHUSKERS will also have Oregon State and Oregon on their schedule this year. They are rated first and second in their conference. Oregon State has a 7' 3" center, and Oregon will have their entire team back from last season.

Good thinks that Kansas will be the team to beat in the Big Seven Conference race. Other strong teams, he believes, will be Kansas State, Missouri and Oklahoma. Oklahoma will have all five starters back and Missouri will only lose three men out of a squad of twenty.

The Nebraska nucleus will be built around lettermen Willard Fagler, Bill Johnson, Stan Matzke, Fred Seger, Gary Renszelman and Don Weber. All have lettered twice except Renszelman, Johnson, Seger and Weber are the only seniors on the squad. Fagler, Matzke, Renszelman and Bill Seelburg form the junior portion of the team.

SOPHOMORES SHOWING promise are Don Sirls, Chuck Smith and Jerry Hare. Other sophomores on the 18 man squad are Duane Buel, Norm Coufal, Ward David, Charlie Ott, Joe Poynter, Bob Prokop, Bill Roy and Wayne Westphal.

Not back from last year's team are Guard Joe Good, Guard Gerald Sandbulte, and Forward Paul Fredstrom. Good graduated, and Sandbulte and Fredstrom switched schools.

Expected to hold starting berths this year are Fagler and Weber at forwards. Seger will hold down one guard slot, and Johnson will be at center. The other guard spot is open to Matzke or one of the promising sophomores.

COACH GOOD'S main worry will be in team strength. He stated, "We will be thin in reserve strength. The other teams will have an advantage over us if it comes to the two platoon system."

With the opening game coming up with Minnesota on December 5, Coach Good looks with optimism toward the tough schedule. As a final statement, he says, "We hope to end in the upper division this season."

Bachman, Anderson Lead Hot Champions Past Cold ATO's

By FRANK SORENSON
Sports Staff Writer

Phi Kappa Psi shook off their ever-present tournament jinx that has denied them a major sport championship for a good many years and downed the raging and surprising Alpha Tau Omega team 21-2 for the fraternity A-LM touch football championship for 1953.

The ATO's won the toss and took the pigskin. On the first play Mac Bailey passed to Bob Brown for a 35-yard gain and a first down on the Phi Psi eight. Then the stout Phi Psi line held and took over on downs.

In the first series of plays from scrimmage, Bob Bachman set his sights around end and behind superb blocking, rambled goalward 45 yards away with an ease reminiscent of his high school days at Grand Island. Rod Schroeder knocked down the conversion attempt.

THE ATO'S took over then and advanced up the field where the winners held and obtained possession. Bachman then completed three straight passes to Jerry Anderson for 30 some yards. His next attempt was caught by Rankin in a miraculous dive for a TD. Bachman passed to Welch for the point to bring the score to 13-0.

The Taus then took over and advanced for two plays with Bailey and Weber passing, but on the third play, Anderson, playing the best game at end that this writer has seen in four years here, stole a Bailey aerial and ran back for eight yards before being tagged by Bailey.

Bob Brown then sneaked through the Phi Psi blocking and batted down a Bachman aerial. Two plays later, Bachman again uncorked his passing arm and tossed to Anderson for 32 yards and another tally. The conversion attempt went into the ground. With the score reading 19-0 at the halfway mark, the ATO's started from their 15 yard line and Fred Amhurst proceeded to knock down a pass by Bailey.

THE CHAMPIONS then ran the ball to their own 18-yard line after taking over on downs where Dick Thompson was penalized for leaving his feet on a block. This put the ball on the Phi Psi 3-yard line where Davey Jones knocked down the next attempted aerial.

Bachman then let loose and hit Gene Welch with a 40 yard play. He then passed to Rankin for 28 yards and a first down on the Tau 8-yard line. The ace passer then flipped to Thompson on the five yard line. On the next play, Bailey intercepted and ran the ball from his end zone to their 35 yard line to stop the drive.

Bailey then passed to flanker Weber who flipped a high pass that was picked off by the menacing Anderson in the end zone. With the ball on their own eight yard line, Welch centered the ball over Bachman's head and into the end zone for a safety and the only Tau points all evening.

THE TAUS then took over on their own 15 as a result of the safety and with one play left in the game Bailey was caught in his end zone for a Phi Psi safety to bring the final count to 21-2. Bachman, Anderson, Thompson, and Rankin for the Phi Psi's and Bailey, Schroeder, a n d Brown for the tau's starred in the tussle.

There is no doubt in the writer's mind that the losers were off, but the winners were so hot that only a miracle could have brought victory. If the losers had played as they did against the DU's the score would have been a lot different, but the Phi Psi's were simply unbeatable last night.
