HST Refuses To Testify In White Case

By WILLIE DESCH Staff Writer

The subpoena issued by the House Un-American Activities Committee has been rejected by former President Truman. Any move to try to force him to testify in the Harry Dexter White case seems out of the question at the present time.

In accounts appearing in several newspapers, associates of Truman said that he retained White in his administration in cooperation with the FBI to prevent Communists from learning that White was under surveillance.

Lincoln Blaze

Estimates of the fire which burned out the Lincoln Maytag Store and interrupted business at three adjacent shops Thursday were placed at between $50,000 and $75,000. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The early-morning fire was brought under control by nine trucks and engines.

Float, House Display Winners To Receive Awards At Dance

All Saturday classes have been canceled because of Homecoming activities.

The 1953 Homecoming festivities will open with the judging of house displays Friday. Thirty-six organized houses have erected displays predicting the defeat of the Colorado Buffaloes.

HOUSE DECORATIONS must be completed by 6 p.m. At this time an Innocent's evaluation committee will check the displays to determine if they have stayed under the expense maximum of $100.

Displays which the committee values over that mark will be disqualified. However, houses whose displays have been disqualified may appeal to the committee immediately.

DISPLAY THEMES of organized houses not announced previously are: Beta Sigma Psi, Let's Run Their Hides Off; Delta Tau Delta, Husker's Butcher Shop; Sigma Phi Epsilon, It's No Gamble; Zeta Beta Tau, Behold the Buffaloes; Alpha Omicron Pi, NU Victor; and Kappa Delta, Buff's Lost Weekend.

Spectators who wish to drive around campus Friday and observe the Homecoming displays are asked to follow this route: start at 17th and R, drive west to 16th, north to Vine, west to 15th, south to U, west to 14th, south to R, east to 16th and then exit south on 16th.

There will be no parking along this route after 6 p.m. Friday. Cars parked on these streets will be towed away.

THE WINNERS of the house display competition will be announced at the Homecoming dance Saturday. A first place traveling trophy will be awarded in both men's and women's divisions.

Permanent plaques will be given to the top three displays in both divisions. There will be three honorable mentions in each division.

House displays will be judged according to originality, attractiveness, construction and general relationship to the theme. Judges will be Dale Gibbs, Norma Carpenter, Col. C. J. Frankforter, Mrs. Gladys Lux and Walton C. Ferris.

Float Requirements

Homecoming festivities will open Saturday with a parade through downtown Lincoln at 10 a.m. The parade, led by the University ROTC band, will consist of 36 floats and convertibles carrying the 1953 candidates for Homecoming Queen.

Last year's queen, Norma Lothrop, will ride on the Tassel's float.

According to the parade committee, floats which are evaluated at over $25 will be disqualified. In order to be in the parade, the floats must be completed and lined up in front of the Coliseum by 9:30 p.m.

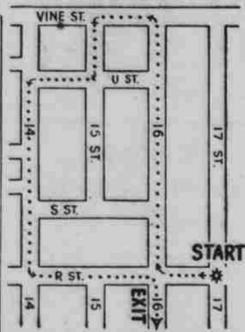

Expense accounts for floats are due Friday at 6 p.m. They must

NU Union To Sponsor Saturday Coffee Hour

A post-game coffee hour will be held in the Union Lounge from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Anyone may attend the event, sponsored by the Union hospitality committee.

Arrangements are being made by Carolyn Elliot, Peggy Mathews and Margie Swanson. Sue La Voie and Francis Gotchell will serve.

Display Route

The above map indicates the route spectators are asked to follow when they are driving through the campus to see Homecoming displays. There will be no parking along this route after 6 p.m.

Lab Tryouts Open Friday For Comedy

Tryouts for the next Laboratory Theater production, "A Phoenix Too Frequent," will be held Friday from 3 to 4 p.m., Monday from 3 to 5 p.m. and Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 206 Temple Building.

"A Phoenix Too Frequent," by Christopher Fry, is a modern comedy. It was first performed in 1946.

The story concerns a young widow and her maid who go into seclusion, mourning for the widow's husband. A young Greek guard who interrupts their vigil complicates affairs.

Three characters, two women and one man, will compose the cast of the play, to be directed by Dale Holt. Any interested students may try out.

Farm Bureau, NU Regent Criticize Mitchell For Ag Economics Article

'Story Speaks For Itself'—Instructor

Courtesy Lincoln Journal

Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, University faculty member, recently under fire for his article, "Let's Not Go Back to 1920," will speak at the Unitarian Church Sunday at 10 a.m. Mitchell has been attacked by the Hall County Farm Bureau for his stand on the price supports for agricultural products.

A University instructor is under fire of the Hall County Farm Bureau Federation for an article he recently wrote in favor of fixed farm support prices.

The Farm Bureau, at a recent meeting in Grand Island, adopted a resolution asking that a committee be named to call on the University Board of Regents and "take any further action they deem advisable."

The instructor, Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, chairman of the agricultural economics department, told The Nebraskan Thursday, "I only know what I read in the newspapers. I have had no communication on this matter, and probably won't have."

CONCERNING THE article, he said, "I prefer to let the article speak for itself, and I will be glad to furnish the article to any student wishing to read it, as long as the supply holds out."

He then said he had "no further comment."

Alumni Luncheon Set

An alumni luncheon will be held in the Union Ballroom Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Over 300 University alumni are expected to attend the affair which is sponsored by the University Alumni Association. No formal program is planned.

Alumni are urged by the Association to attend and bring their families to the get-together.

Homecoming Queen

The 1953 Homecoming Queen will be crowned at the half-time ceremonies of the Nebraska-Colorado game. Finalists for Homecoming Queen were chosen by Tassels, women's pep organization, from among junior members. In an all-University election, students voted on the five candidates.

Finalists for the title are: Mildred Snyder, Phyllis Colbert.

HC Schedule

FRIDAY

6 p.m.—House decorations completed.

6:45 p.m.—Pep rally, then house displays turned on.

SATURDAY

10 a.m.—Downtown parade.

11:30 a.m.—Alumni luncheon.

2 p.m.—Nebraska-Colorado game: Homecoming Queen crowned and buffalo head presentation at half-time.

8 p.m.—Homecoming Dance; house display and parade winners announced.

Joyce Bennington, Marian Scott and Jo Johnson.

Buffalo Trophy

At half-time the Innocents Society will present their Colorado contemporaries, the Hearts and Daggers Society, with a buffalo head.

Every year the society whose school loses the football game presents the winning society with a similar trophy. Innocents presented the buffalo head last year at Colorado. As last year's game was a tie, the Innocents elected to present the trophy to the Hearts and Daggers Society again.

Sauter-Finegan

The Homecoming Dance, which will be held at the Coliseum, will start at 8 p.m. NU couples will dance to the music of the Sauter-Finegan orchestra.

Float winners, as well as house decoration winners, will be announced at the dance.

Tickets, which are $3, will be collected the entire evening.

Post-Rally Dance Scheduled Friday

The Candlelight Room in the Union will be open Friday after the rally, to provide a place where students may dine and dance without cover charge.

The room will be decorated to resemble a candlelit nightclub. Bill Alber's combo will provide the music for dancing. The food served will be the same as offered in the Crib.

Last Saturday night the first Candlelight Room dance proved to be a success, Phil Cast, Union dance committee member, said. Every weekend during November on alternating Fridays and Saturdays the imitation nightclub will be open.

stitution who favors the destruction of the free enterprise system. No member at the University has any right or authority to advocate the destruction of this system."

The Farm Bureau, led by Earl Glenn of Alda, reported that Mitchell's view on price support are the "exact opposite of ours" (the Farm Bureau's). The Bureau has favored a program of flexible price supports.

A COMMITTEE from the Hall County group met Thursday afternoon with Dr. Earle G. Johnson of Grand Island, a member of the Board of Regents. A definite statement of the results of this meeting has not been announced.

In the article, entitled "Let's Not Go Back to 1920," published in the November issue of Cap-pur's Farmer, Dr. Mitchell said:

Sigma Nu's Prepare Decoration

Members of Sigma Nu fraternity use newspapers and paste in making their Homecoming decoration to feature a 25-foot-tall Corn Cob man and a large buffalo. Pictured above are: (left to right) Brian Sievers, Bud John, decoration co-chairman, Howard Hanson, co-chairman, and Andy McMullen (front). John and Hanson said they had considerable trouble when making the two figures because the paste took so long to dry, but added the decoration would be ready to go by Friday evening.

One-Day Study Period Granted By Senate

Stromer, Beck Named To Council

Approval of a one-day study period before and one-day vacation after semester exams has been granted by the Faculty Senate.

This announcement was made to the Student Council at a meeting Wednesday by the Calendar Committee.

FOLLOWING THIS announcement, two new members were introduced to the Council. Jean Beck of France, was elected last week to represent Cosmopolitan Club and after interviewing five applicants, the Council elected Marvin Stromer to represent the College of Arts and Science. These new members will be installed Wednesday.

Other applicants for the Arts and Science position were Don Wanek, Tom Woodward, Al Anderson and Paul Scheele.

THE COMMITTEE in charge of Homecoming route warned that there is to be no parking on the streets of the route after 6 p.m. Friday. Signs to this effect will be put up as reminders and the city police and city tow truck will provide additional help.

After talking with Acting Chancellor Selbeck, the Campus Improvements committee reported that the University is in favor of an outdoor bulletin board and will back it financially. They felt, however, that it should be constructed of stone, be lighted and have permanent glass.

The committee also reported

Knowles To Speak At 'Living' Series

Rev. Rex Knowles, pastor of the campus Presbyterian Congregational House, will be the featured speaker of the Better Living Series program to be held in the Ag Union Sunday at 4 p.m.

Rev. Knowles will speak on "College Courtship." His talk will be followed by a question and comment period and an informal coffee hour.

The Better Living Series is an annual program of the Ag Union presenting pertinent features to students. This is the third event of the series, of which Jan Selk is chairman. Shirley Slagle and Ron Krejci will act as host and hostess.

Two Free Trade Dangers Enumerated In Seminar

Free trade, although essentially good, must be approached with full realization of possible dangers. This was the opinion expressed by Richard Bourne, associate professor of economy and labor relations and Wallace

Special Movie Showing Saturday At Ag Union

"Upturned Glass" a special release starring James Mason and Pamela Kellin, will be shown in the Ag Union Lounge Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

No admission will be charged.

IVCF To Sponsor HC Entertainment Saturday

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will sponsor Homecoming entertainment at a party to be held at the Warren Methodist Church Recreation Hall, 54th and Orchard Sts., 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Anyone may attend and should dress for group games. There will also be refreshments.

Peterson, economics instructor, in a Union seminar Wednesday.

Peterson said that the slogan "Trade not Aid" developed by the British and carried on by the remaining European countries was a vote getting device and actually not practicable in the immediate future.

BOURNE POINTED out two problems that might be encountered through free trade with full employment. He said that some industries vital to our security might be destroyed by competition and a foreign monopoly on certain items of strategic value is possible.

It was decided during the seminar that the best way to solve the free trade problem would be to remove restrictions on outdated items and eliminate the red tape which accompanies trade conference with other countries.

The next seminar will be held Dec. 2.

Exhibition To Feature NU Professors' Books

Two books written by University professors and published by the University Press will be included in the Chicago Book Clinic's exhibition of 40 best books to begin Sunday at Morrill Hall.

"Professor Ruth Leverton's 'Food Becomes You' and Professor Monford L. Keller's 'Art in the Classroom' have been selected for exhibition. The showing is sponsored by the University Art Galleries and the University Press.

The Chicago Book Clinic's selection of the outstanding books was based upon excellence in design, printing, binding, publishing standards and reader appeal. The top 10 books selected at the Midwest Book Exhibit for the past four years are included.
