RC Groups Entertain Children

Singing Santa Gives Presents

By BARBARA CLARK Staff Writer

Orphans and hospitalized children in Lincoln will have a merrier Christmas because of the Red Cross College Unit.

Phyllis Cast and her committee took gifts and provided entertainment and refreshments Thursday afternoon for the children at White Hall Orphanage.

Another party was held Thursday evening at the Cedars Orphanage. Marty Morrison and her committee plan to teach square dancing to the elder girls, read stories and lead the children in games.

Orthopedic Committee, under the chairmanship of Carol Gillette, gave a party complete with gifts, candy and Santa Claus at the Orthopedic Hospital Wednesday.

Charlie Ferguson was a "Singing Santa" and distributed gifts to all the children in each ward. Committee workers helped him distribute Christmas candy and cookies.

Following the opening of gifts, the workers entertained the children by reading stories, writing letters and playing games. More than 35 children, six-years-old and up, are entertained in a similar manner by Orthopedic Hospital workers each week.

Judy Joyce is chairman of the party committee. Her assistants are Shirley Scott, Pattie Ellis, Sara Carveth and Patty Loomis.

Santa Claus accompanied Itha Frost's committee to St. Thomas' Orphanage Tuesday. The group told Christmas stories to the children and led games and carol singing.

The Children's Activities Committee of Red Cross gave several parties for girl scouts and brownies lately. Games, carols, entertainment, and gift exchanges made up the round of events. Ginny Wilcox is chairman of this committee.

"The drive for college students to give blood began in October and has continued each month as the mobile blood unit visited Lincoln. The major University drive was during November, but the drive for February will be the biggest," Greenberg continued.

DURING NOVEMBER, 59 pints of blood were donated. This was the largest amount of blood given in recent years, according to Red Cross records. Close to 100 people registered to give blood, though, and only 10 were rejected.

The remaining students, numbering nearly 30, did not keep their appointments. The Red Cross reported that many people sign up "for a joke" in spite of the great need for all the blood that is obtainable.

"We only have room for so many people," Red Cross officials commented, "and when people don't show up for their appointment it makes it hard on those who are giving and decreases our efficiency."

OF THE ten that were rejected during the month of November, the majority had failed to have their parents authorize the donation, as must be done for all people under 21.

The Red Cross wanted to express special thanks to three University organizations for unusual participation in the blood program.

"Delta Alpha Phi, the newly reorganized veterans fraternity, NROTC, and Marine Science students gave 40 of the 59 pints in November," Greenberg said. "This is a very unusual thing. More organizations should support the program as these students have."

Rubbish-Filled Shed Burns On NU Lot

A fire broke out early Thursday evening in a shed behind an old apartment house at 514 No. 14th St.

The shed, formerly a garage, but used for many years as a dump for rubbish and garbage, was on ground that was recently purchased by the University. All occupants of the apartment house had moved out some time ago. The building is now empty.

The fire was first spotted by Clarence Sedan, caretaker of the building on the corner of 14th and "S" St.

"I just came down to fix this boiler," Sedan stated, "when I spotted that old shack on fire."

The report came into the fire department at 5:36 p.m. and by 6 p.m. the fire department said the blaze was under control. Five rigs answered the one-alarm call. By 6:15 the blaze was out.

Exact cause of the fire could not be determined, but the fire department said the shed had been filled with old rubbish.

"By the way," said the Specialist, "the fee for my advice is ten dollars."

Scotchman: "That's O.K. Doc, I'm not taking your advice."

Music Department Program To Promote String Instruction In 4 Public Schools

A new pilot plan has been begun by the University music department to revitalize interest in stringed instruments.

Once a week, Louis Trzcinski, a qualified violinist, is sent to Wilber, Nebraska City, Seward and Norfolk public schools. Trzcinski is a transplanted New Englander who organized the Southeast Kansas Symphony Orchestra and has taught in both Kansas and Colorado high schools.

THE PILOT plan is now in its sixth week. Students are in the midst of learning fundamentals—correct stance and positions.

At each of the four towns, the instrumental teacher sits in on the sessions, aiding Trzcinski and observing teaching methods. After a year of instruction, Trzcinski will turn the class over to the school instructor.

Trzcinski will then travel to another section of Nebraska to begin similar programs. This is the first part of a long-range plan, which it is hoped, will lead to the development of symphony orchestras in small Nebraska towns. At the present time only 12 schools in Nebraska have string instruction.

TWO OF the founders of the plan, Emanuel Wishnow, professor of violin and conductor of University Symphony Orchestra, and David Foltz, chairman of the music department, feel the program at least will lift string interests out of its doldrums into an active, positive program throughout the state.

University Of Chicago Law School Offers 1954 Graduate Scholarship

Applications for a full tuition scholarship to the University of Chicago Law School are available in the office of Dean Walter E. Millitzer. This scholarship is for a student graduating from the University in 1954.

The deadline for applications has not yet been established by the committee, but the selection must be made by April 15. Details of the basis for selection has been left up to a committee to be set up by Dean Millitzer.

The applicant must, however, meet the requirements for admission to the University of Chicago Law School. The scholarship provides full tuition for one year, and is renewable, upon satisfactory completion of the year's work, for the last two years of the Law School course.

Party Scheduled For Band Tonight

A Christmas party for all band members will be held Friday at 8 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Each band member may bring as many friends as he wishes, Don Lentz and Jack Schneider, band directors, announced.

A fee of 50 cents will be charged for refreshments.

Poe Conducts Survey Of Personal Values

Wesley Poe, guidance consultant for Junior Division and Counseling Service, has developed an inventory which attempts to measure the personal values of students in various colleges of the University.

"I feel personal values are important in making decisions and I am trying to find the relationship between these values and the values which tend to be represented in the various areas of study," said Poe.

FOR EXAMPLE, he said that students in the field of social work are thought of as having relatively greater philanthropic tendencies. On the other hand, students in fields such as philosophy and science tend to place a relatively greater emphasis on intellectual values. In surveying personal values of students, an attempt will be made to determine whether there are typical patterns of values for students in different areas of study. Tests have been given to several hundred students in the University.

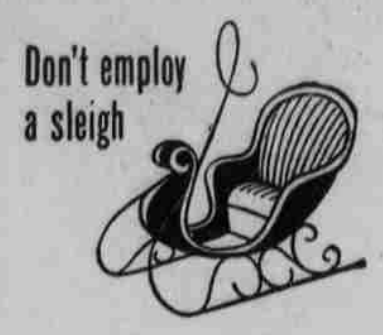

POE WILL analyze the tests by means of various statistical techniques. The results will be announced next spring.

Primary purpose of the inventory is to determine individual values. Poe hopes to apply these tests which will result in individual counseling of students. Poe said this should prove useful because it will indicate the personal values of the student and make the Junior Division better able to assist students in selecting the college he is best suited to enter.

The Record I'm most proud of —

Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette in America's colleges for the FIFTH straight Year

Again, in 1953, they've made a survey audit of actual sales in more than 800 co-ops and campus stores from coast to coast. And again, Chesterfield tops 'em all.

Only Chesterfield gives you proof of highest quality — low nicotine. Proof that comes from actual "tobacco tests" in which all six leading brands were chemically analyzed.
