

Earl Cline Elected President Of NU Foundation

Selleck Praises Aid, Fine Work

Earl Cline, Lincoln attorney, was elected president of the University Foundation by the Board of Trustees Thursday. Cline succeeds Joe W. Seacrest, Lincoln newspaper publisher.

It was learned that 1953 proved the best year in the Foundation's 18-year history. Perry Branch, director-secretary, reported that: New funds accruing to the Foundation were $344,316.10 compared with $292,656.85 in 1952. The former-student contributions increased from 2,837 donors in 1952 to 4,619 donors in 1953. This was an increase of 73.8 per cent. Foundation contributions for the benefit of the University totaled $185,181.80 compared with $173,504 in 1952.

At the meeting Thursday, W. W. Putney of Lincoln was elected vice-president, succeeding Mr. Cline. John K. Selleck, acting chancellor and comptroller, and Mr. Branch were re-elected treasurer and director-secretary, respectively.

Re-elected to the executive committee for six-year terms were J. Stewart Elliott of Beatrice and Clarence E. Swanson of Lincoln.

Other executive committee members are Ford Bates of Omaha, George W. Holmes of Lincoln, Fred W. Thomas of Omaha and T. B. Strain of Lincoln.

Mr. Branch, in his financial report, broke down the $185,181.80 contributed last year by the University as follows: $49,220 expended for scholarships, fellowships and assistantships; $121,095.12 for research projects, including specialized equipment; $14,866.68 for varied items such as lecture-ships, art objects and faculty support.

Mr. Branch paid tribute to the "efforts of various class representatives," for the continued increase in the number of former students participating in the Foundation program. He listed the Foundations present assets at $1,193,983.10, a $125,172.21 increase over last year.

Mr. Cline, in accepting the presidency, praised "the continued growth of the Foundation," calling the movement forward, "firm evidence that our University is making a real contribution to the lives of our people. I'm extremely pleased to hear of the increase in contributions from former students. In my mind, this shows their confidence in the education job being done by the University."

Acting Chancellor John K. Selleck said, "As in the past year, the Foundation has contributed greatly to the strengthening of the University in its research and teaching phases. It goes without saying that the University is deeply grateful to the Foundation for its fine, progressive work."

Almost half of the Foundation's trustees, who live at widely scattered points throughout the U.S., attended the meeting. New trustees elected Thursday were: Donald F. Sampson, J. Kenneth Cozier, M. S. Hevelone, John P. McKnight, T. A. Sick, Henry Klosterman, Miss Mable Hartzell, Thomas C. Woods and Earl G. Hawkins.

Foundation Establishes New Award Faculty Member To Hold Honor

In recognition of superior teaching, a newly-established $1,000 award will be presented by the Board of Trustees of the University Foundation.

The award will be presented each year to a full-time University faculty member "who exhibits superior teaching quality."

This year the award will be conferred April 22 at Honors Day Convocation by the Foundation president, Earl Cline.

FOUR STEPS for selection have been established by the board. Nominations may be made by any faculty member or administrative member of the University. Nominations in each college will be considered by the dean and any committee he cares to consult. Each college will nominate one candidate. The chancellor shall select one recipient from the nominees.

"In establishing the award," J. W. Seacrest, retiring Foundation president, said, "the foundation hopes to reward and encourage good teaching, the basic function of a university."

New Instructor Reviews Career

Schlater, Past Nebraskan Editor, Returns To Teach Journalism

By MARCIA MICKELSEN
Staff Writer

Robert Schlater, 1942-1943 editor of The Daily Nebraskan, former Time magazine staff member who also worked on the Providence Journal in Rhode Island, has returned for his third stay on the University campus.

Schlater was graduated from the University in 1943 with a double major in history and English. While in school, he was active in Kosmet Klub, Innocents Society and Alpha Tau Omega in addition to newspaper activities in which he "ran the gamut" beginning as a reporter.

AFTER GRADUATION, he served in Europe with the Army until 1946 when he returned to the University for a year as an instructor of English.

Schlater then attended Columbia University in New York City where he obtained his M. S. degree in journalism. At Columbia, his assignments included frequent press conferences. He once attended a press interview which was held with Joe Louis.

Recently returned from Korean duty, Schlater is now an instructor in the School of Journalism. He has traveled widely in the United States and Europe, and also has been in Tokyo, Seoul and Honolulu.

Schlater commented on newspaper production and circulation in Korea. He said that newspapers there are published and then pasted on fences for readers to scan, rather than having regular newspaper circulation as we know it in this country.

He said that "being back on campus is very interesting." He was somewhat surprised at the increased number of cars on campus and also by the physical changes that have taken place since he left.

Coffee Hour
Coffee hour for faculty members and graduate assistants will be held Friday from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Union Faculty Lounge. There will be a fifty cent charge for refreshments.

HOW MORAL CAN A VICTORY GET?

or... don't put all your goose eggs in one basket

Once there was a Basketball Team that had Plenty of Nothing. It was so poor that even the Coach hadn't gone to a game all season. Couldn't stand to watch his Scoreless Wonders. So the Futile Five careened through the schedule and hit the road for the Big Game. Due to loss by 45 points, the Experts said.

But somebody back on campus had a Brainstorm. He whipped out his Trusty Telegrammer (the Telegrammer being a pocket-sized guide to telegraph use. If you'd like one, incidentally, for gratis, just write to Room 1727, Western Union at 60 Hudson Street, New York City.)

Spotting a likely idea he started the wheels moving! So, just before game time, the team got more Telegrams than you could shake a Referee at. Group telegrams from fraternities and sororities, personal telegrams from Prexy and the Dean of Women, hundreds of telegrams from students... all saying "We're behind you, team!" The reaction? Tremendous. The boys pulled themselves together, went out and lost by only 28 points instead of 45.

The moral is Obvious. The more you encourage a guy, the better he'll do... and Giving a Hand by telegram works wonders. In fact, whether it's Money from Home you want, or a Date, or just to send a Soulful Message to Someone Special, just call Western Union or whip down to your local Western Union office.
