NU Graduate Returns To Speech Faculty Post

Flick Describes Army Career

Clarence Flick, assistant professor in the speech department returned to the University faculty Feb. 1.

Flick attended the University as an undergraduate from 1938 to 1942. During this period he was co-author of a Kosmet-Klub show.

In 1942 he joined the Army and was sent to the Pacific as an operations officer for a regiment of the 31st "Dixie" division. In 1945 Flick was discharged.

HE JOINED the speech department faculty in 1946 as an instructor. From 1948 to 1950 Flick went to Northwestern University as a teaching fellow of speech. He returned to the University Sept. 1, 1950, and stayed until June, 1951, when he was recalled to the Army.

Miramare Castle, built over 100 years ago, became Major Flick's temporary home while he was stationed at Trieste. He was joined by his wife, Margaret Ann and two sons, Stephen and Randall.

After 18 months in Trieste, Flick returned to New York. His three-act drama, "Return to Surigao," was premiered at the University in 1948. Since 1946 he has produced two 16 mm. sound films about speech.

Slides and recordings will be shown to illustrate the lecture.

War Movie Produced By Sanders

Film Society To Show Story

Dennis Sanders, photographer for the University Photographic Production Laboratory, is the photographer of the film "Time Out Of War," one of the Film Society series.

The plot is an adaptation of "Pickets" (an old war term for reconnaissance scouts) by Robert Chambers. The setting is Virginia during the Civil War.

THE STORY concerns fraternization between enemies during the war. It tells the story of two scouts from the North and one from the South, who meet at a river where one of them is fishing. A temporary truce is called as the movie continues.

"I have long wanted to do a film on the Civil War," said Sanders. "I went through about 600 short stories, but I liked this the best."

SANDERS FILMED the picture last summer in the mountains just north of Santa Barbara, California.

He adapted the story to play form and made arrangements for the cast.

"I would like to make three more pictures similar to this and combine them into a feature film," said Sanders, "but that is a long way off."

A representative of North American Aviation, Inc., the company that designed and produces this country's top jet fighters, the new F-100 Super Sabre Jet and F-86 Sabre Jets, will be on the campus Tuesday, February 16, 1954, to interview June through September graduates for positions at the company's Los Angeles, California, and Columbus, Ohio plants.

Junior engineering positions are available at North American. For details contact the Dean of Student Affairs & Chairman of Committee on Occupational Placement as soon as possible.

North American has built more airplanes than any other company in the world. Currently it is manufacturing the F-100 Super Sabre Jet, this country's first supersonic fighter; the F-86 Sabre Jet which rung up a 13.79 to 1 kill ratio over the Russian-built MIG in Korea; the F-86D all-weather interceptor and T-28 trainer for the Air Force. For the Navy it is producing the FJ-2 and FJ-3 Fury jet sweptwing carrier fighters; the AJ-2 carrier-based attack bomber and T-28B trainer.

He loves, honors and BETRAYS them both and gets away with it!
