Fouls, KU Bench Antics Occur In Monday's Game

By GARY FRANDSEN Sports Editor

There were two things we especially noticed during Monday night's action-packed basketball game between the Kansas Jayhawks and the Nebraska Cornhuskers in the Coliseum.

The first was the large number of fouls called during the rugged contest. Forty-seven personals, 30 of them against the Huskers, were toted off by officials Sam Pecoraro and Art Rust.

By the time everything was over and the boys from Mt. Oread had tucked in their ninth Big Seven victory to take undisputed possession of the conference lead, four Huskers and a lone Kansan had been ushered to the sidelines because of the picking up of the dreaded "five."

Games like that always bring up the old, kicked-around question, "Should the rules be drastically changed and how?" From our humble viewpoint it looks like something must be done and quickly, or basketball will be turned into a game that will be decided by just who is the best expert at the charity stripe.

A NUMBER of coaches of some of the leading collegiate teams have come with suggestions, but most of it has been all talk thus far. The rules committee of the NCAA, who usually get together shortly after the season is completed, should have plenty of pressure awaiting them as many of coaches and fans alike are getting tired of watching the outcome of an important game hinging on the success at the free throw line.

The Husker-Jay game wasn't the only skirmish suffering from an excessive number of fouls. In the Iowa State-Oklahoma game a staggering total of 51 fouls were called. Forty-nine fouls were called in both the Iowa-Indiana and Michigan-Minnesota games, so the situation is not localized.

THE SECOND aspect of Monday's game that attracted our attention was the colorful, boisterous antics of the crafty old doctor and coach of the clan of Kaw, Phog Allen, and his capable assistant, Dick Harp.

It was a treat in itself to watch Dr. Allen and Harp get carried away by the play of the Jays and the Huskers. It's too bad they couldn't have gotten into the action with all the determination and spirit exhibited.

When a timeout occurred, the fun really started. Never before have we heard so many words in so few minutes. Some were harsh and extremely criticizing, but it seemed to fire the Kansan lads up with the determination to do a lot better. Maybe that's what's behind all the success of Allen's basketball team.

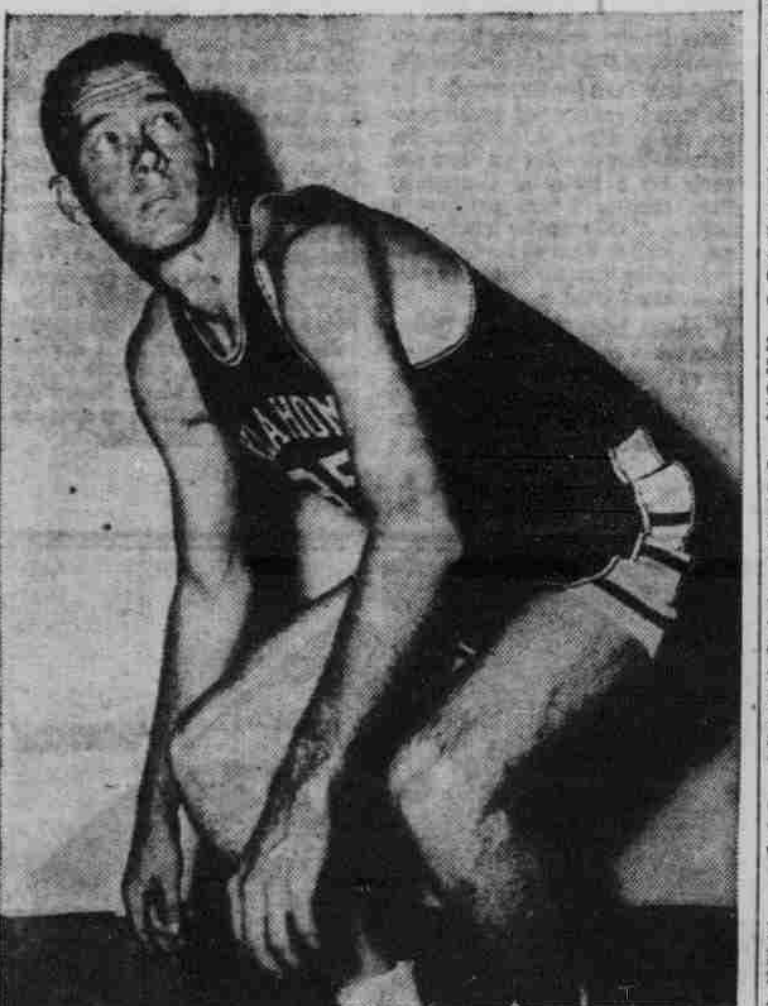

Speaking of Kansas basketball, Allen and Harp really have a find in sophomore Dallas Dobbs. Harp hit the nail on the head when he told us Dobbs was a "natural." His one-handed jump shot is one that rarely misses and his general floor play is outstanding. By the time the cool Bartlesville, Oklahoma, lad winds up his Jay career, he should rank as one of the best guards in conference history.

COACH OZZIE Cowles of Minnesota probably has basketball's golden boy for the current campaign in rugged Dick Garmaker, a junior forward who is a strong candidate for a spot on any All-American squad.

Before the season had started Guard Chuck Mencil and Center Ed Kalafat were slated to be the big guns on the Gopher club, but once the campaign rolled into high gear it was Garmaker, a former Hibbing Junior College performer, who was carrying the brunt of the load.

Monday night Garmaker became the first Gopher player in history to score 400 points in a season by dumping home 26 points in leading Minnesota to a 79-70 win over Michigan. The aggressive, 6-3, 200 lb. performer scored 14 out of 16 tries from the gift lane.

Although his scoring has been sensational, Garmaker's work underneath the boards has been brilliant. Against Harry Good's Nebraskans in December, Garmaker was controlling the rebounds at both ends. That's one good reason why he scores from the free throw line like he does.

Sooner Pivot

If things go true to form, the center and second high scorer, this Saturday night in Norman. A win over the Big Red is almost a "must" for the surprising Buffs.

20 Spring Drills

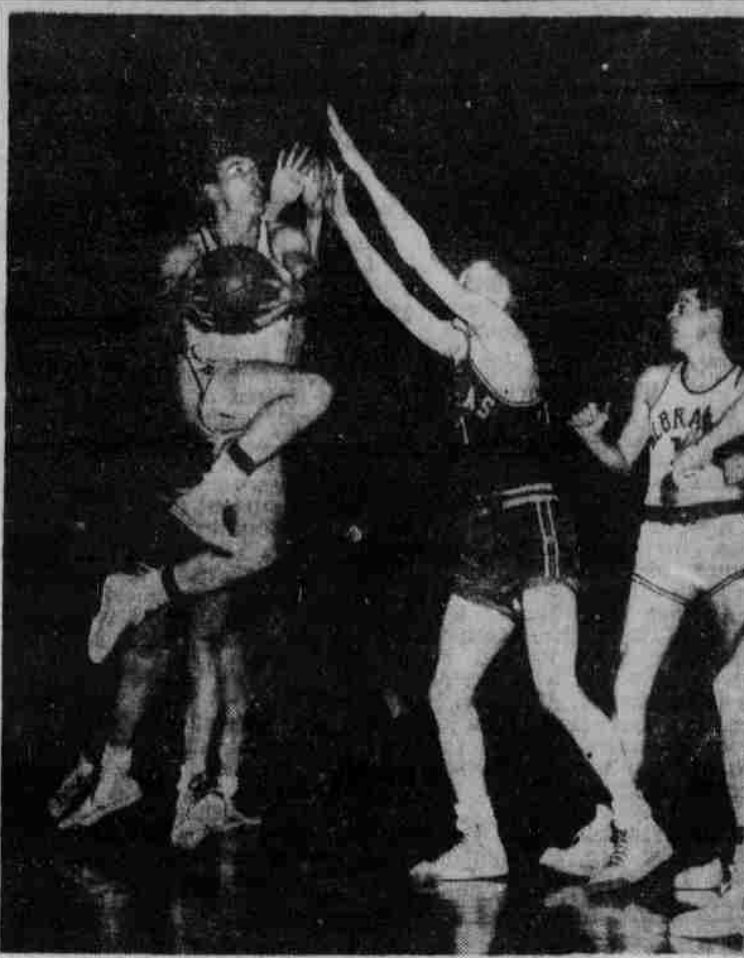

NU's Spring Football Session Will Commence In Early March

Spring football practice at the University of Nebraska will begin March 1, head football Coach Bill Glassford announced today.

Spring drills are being advanced from April to March "so as not to interfere with other spring sports at the university," Glassford declared.

The 20 practice sessions will run through March 27, winding up with an intra-squad game in Memorial Stadium on that date. The contest will replace the Alumni-Varsity football contest held in connection with All-Sports Day the past several years.

All drills will be open to the public, Glassford said. Because they will be in progress during the state high school basketball tournament March 10-13, high school visitors and out-of-town

Dubbers vaulted into a second-place tie behind the All-University leaders, the Phi Deltas, by taking a pair of impressive wins. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Tau Omega slipped to fourth and fifth slots respectively although they did win their games. Pioneer Co-op and the Hayseeds shot into a sixth place tie ahead of Presby House and Sigma Chi B. The AGR Grads and the Dental Freshmen hold down the remaining positions with last week wins.

Most of the other teams in the other divisions remained in about the same place with several exceptions. Beta Sigma Psi moved into fifth place in the Fraternity A class while the Sigma Chi dropped to tenth because of a loss to the Phi Gams.

Beta Theta Pi took over undisputed possession of second place in the B division after the defending champion, the AGRs, fell before Theta Xi. The latter was then removed from the league for using an ineligible player. The Hayseeds and Presby House moved into third and fourth place respectively in the Independent League followed by the AGR Grads and the Dental Frosh in fifth and L.S.A. in sixth.

Santee Nears Several Great Mile Records

Wes Santee is pulling close to another one of Glenn Cunningham's feats as he sears the indoor clay and cinders of midland tracks in edging toward the magic four-minute mile.

It isn't a specific Cunningham record Santee has in his sights. It's a performance of glittering consistency which helped embed the old Elkhart Express' name in gold letters on the world mile scene. Between 1932 and 1940, Cunningham, now a gentleman farmer at Elmdale, Kan., ran 16 open miles in 4:10.0 or faster. Santee now has 13 to his credit.

In fact, counting relay carriers, the Ashland Antelope has bettered 4:10, the dividing level which separates the good ones from the great ones, no less than 17 times. Necessarily four of these performances must remain unofficial since they were relay clackings. Santee can equal Glenn's old mark before the indoor season has elapsed.

He'll get his chance in the Big Seven championships Friday and Saturday in Kansas City and the Chicago Daily News Games March 27.

The fabulous Cowpoke's latest effort went for a new World Indoor mark on a dirt track when he blazed 4:04.9 against Michigan State and Illinois in a tight triangular at East Lansing recently.

Aside from the 4-minute Mile, the mincing Kansan has only these goals left: 1) Gil Dodds indoor board-track world record of 4:05.3; 2) Cunningham's 4:04.4, swiftest time ever recorded on an indoor layout of any type; and 3) Gundar Hagg's 4:01.4 world outdoor mark.

SAEs, Phi Deltas Win I-M Tournay

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta each tied for first place in the I-M handball tournament by collecting 15 points. A playoff between the two teams will be held at a later date, tournament officials stated.

Both teams also moved into the semi-finals of the top bracket of the I-M shooting meet. The winner of their match will meet the victor in Delta Upsilon and winner of the Tau Kappa Epsilon-Beta Theta Pi battle. In the lower bracket Pioneer Co-op and Ag Men go against each other in one semi-final match while Sigma Phi Epsilon will take on the victor of the Sigma Nu-Beta Sig playoff. On Friday, March 3, the two bracket winners will square off for the championship.

Contest To Open For Whisker King

The Whisker King Contest, sponsored by the Farmers Fair Board, will begin March 1.

Sharon Reed, chairman of the contest, urges that men sign up in booths to be opened in both Ag and city Unions.

The Whisker King will reign at the Cotton and Denim Dance which will climax the two day rodeo.

"Husker Haydays" has been chosen as the theme by the Farmers Fair Board for the rodeo to be held April 30 and May 1. The theme was suggested by the Ag Union and judged best of fifty themes submitted.

Coed Follies Practices Disrupt Coffee Dates, Study Halls

"Those Fabulous Coeds" shall receive the same top billing as "The Fabulous Redhead" at the Nebraska Theater next week with their glittering musical review saturated with short skirts and weaving chorus lines.

Although skit chairmen are guaranteeing top entertainment for the nights of March 1 and 2, late rehearsals are disrupting coffee dates and study halls at the eight follies-conscious houses who are all working to win.

WITH FOUR weeks tests challenging down slips this week, show girls are trying to sandwich a few pages of Ed 30 between dances, and even pinmates are playing the roles of the sympathetic audience and chief stage hand. Tired Home Ec majors are threatening to join the costume-makers union, while art students have had to substitute backdrops and scenery for Pacasso and Dali.

Although Marge and Gower Champion will not be here to "Give a Girl a Break" on opening night, the 1954 Coed Follies production promises to be more than a Follies Bergere.

Philosophy Club To Hear Patterson Wednesday

Charles Patterson, chairman of the philosophy department, will speak on "The Christian Concept of History" to the Philosophy Club.

Geo. 'Potsy' Clark To Hawaii School?

George (Potsy) Clark, who resigned as athletic director at the University of Nebraska recently, stated Monday night that he is interested in a job at the University of Hawaii.

"I'm interested and would like very much to go there," he said. "If there is a position open I will apply for it."

Clark said he was in Hawaii as a Navy athletic director during the war and has friends there who would like to have him at the University.
