

Coeds To Elect '54 May Queen

Polling Rescheduled For Today

Election of May Queen has been re-scheduled for Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Ellen Smith Hall and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Ag Union.

Omission of Judy Wiebe's name from the ballot invalidated the Thursday election and forced the re-scheduling of a new one, according to Mortar Board Neola O'Dell.

EVEN THOUGH the election was invalid, Miss O'Dell said that the number of coeds voting was the largest on record. Records were traced back several years. The 1,007 counted ballots in the invalid election far surpassed the previous record of 891 votes, she said.

Miss O'Dell announced that if the new time for voting conflicts with schedules of Ag students, a special ballot will be provided for them. To obtain the special ballot, voters should contact Miss O'Dell.

CANDIDATES FOR the May Queen title are:

Virginia Barnes, Alpha Chi Omega; Nora Devore, Pi Beta Phi; Connie Gordon, Sigma Delta Tau; Diane Hinman, Delta Delta Delta; Georgia Hulac, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Pat Lindgren, Gamma Phi Beta.

Dobrey, Nollendorfs Win Poetry Contest Awards

'Wandering,' 'The Reeds' Honored

Ronald Dobrey and Valters Nollendorfs have been announced as the winners of the lone Gardner Noyes Memorial Poetry Contest.

First prize winner, Dobrey, a senior majoring in English and German, said he wrote his entry, "Wandering," about two and a half years ago.

AT THAT TIME, Dobrey said, he was writing quite a lot of poetry, using a variety of subjects and styles. This particular poem, which is written in free verse, is commentary on the growth of ideas and the individual's responsibility toward society.

In addition to poetry, he has also written short stories, essays and "almost every other kind of writing," he said.

The second place winner, Valters Nollendorfs, is a Latvian student and a senior in Teachers College. His poem was entitled "The Reeds."

FORTY-TWO poems were entered by 21 students. Each poem was judged individually. The names of the poets were unknown to the judges.

Judges for the contest were Walter Wright and L. C. Wimberly, professors of English, and Bernice Slot, assistant professor of English.

Presentation of awards of $50 and $25 will be awarded to the winners. There is also the possibility that the poems will be published in the Prairie Schooner.

Two University teams won seven out of eight debates at the University of Wisconsin Debate and Discussion Conference held in Madison, Friday and Saturday.

Sandra Reimers and Sharon Mangold were undefeated and Dick Fellman and Jerro McGaffney lost one round. However, Donald O. Olson, debate coach, pointed out that they were "defeated only by a strong University of Wisconsin team who were in the semi-finals."

Olson also said that although both teams were composed of first year University debaters, they were entered in the senior rather than the junior division of the tournament.

In addition to the four rounds of debate, the teams also participated in discussion. The squad returned on Saturday before the complete results of the tourney were known, so their ratings were not available.

NU Debaters Win 7 Rounds At Conference

Ike Thinks Tax Cuts Dangerous

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower feels that personal income tax cuts urged by Democrats would endanger America's economic stability, congressional leaders reported. Talking with reporters after a discussion with President Eisenhower, House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said that tax cuts already made by the administration this year and those contemplated during the rest of the year total about $7 billion, Martin added that Eisenhower believes that adding another $2½ billion cut would be too much of a financial strain.

Dakota Dam Dedicated

PICKSTOWN, So. Dak.—President Eisenhower pushed the button which started the mighty waters of the Missouri River pouring over the Ft. Randall dam which has just been completed. The project was begun 10 years ago when the Pick-Sloan Plan was put into operation.

Water rushed into the turbine below at a rate of two million gallons per second. The generator of the powerhouse is only slightly smaller than the world's largest. The power will be put on Bureau of Reclamation lines and transmitted into Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. The power will be put on three lines which will be energized on successive days into the three states.

Eventually a series of multi-purpose dams now being built on the main stem of the Missouri River will supply more than a million and a half kilowatts of power to the basin.

South Dakota Gov. Sigurd Anderson, who was present for the occasion, referred to the event as Dividend Day. He said that dividends from the program will be felt in the 10-state basin region and throughout the nation through flood-control, power production, irrigation, navigation, recreation and other benefits.

Court Rules No

WASHINGTON—Alabama and Rhode Island were denied permission by the Supreme Court to file suits alleging Congress violated the Constitution by conceding title of oil-rich lands to coastal states. The two states contended that a 1953 act deprived citizens of equitable interests in oil resources estimated to be worth $50 billion, plus $62 million in royalties and revenues imposed by the United States.

The Supreme Court's majority opinion declared that the power of Congress to do as it wishes with public lands "is without limitation."

Chancellor

Regents Hope For Filled Post In Near Future

The Board of Regents may have something to report within a few weeks on the choice of a new chancellor, stated C. Y. Thompson, Regent from West Point.

Dr. Earle Johnson, Grand Island Regent, said that the board "ought to get it done by the first of May."

THE REGENTS have been interviewing candidates for the post, temporarily filled by John K. Selleck, since late in January. The Board hopes to have the post filled as soon as possible so that the transition will have taken place in time for the new chancellor to have acquainted himself with the job sufficiently to be ready for the fall term.

Recent interviews have been held secretly due to unfavorable press coverage resulting from undesired publicity released earlier this year. Several applicants have refused to be interviewed if their names were to be released publicly.

Nu-Med Correction

An Nu-Med meeting will not be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. as reported in the Nebraskan Wednesday.

The meeting was held March 10.

Stars, NU Queens Meet At Rehearsal

12 Cornhusker Beauties Judged By Actors Crawford, Gaynor, Ritter

Movie stars and campus queens appraised each other in a meeting last week that brought Hollywood and the University together.

Twelve candidates for Cornhusker Beauty Queen traveled to Omaha last Thursday to be judged by and meet Broderick Crawford, Mitzie Gaynor and Thelma Ritter, who were appearing at an Omaha theater during a personal appearance tour.

Gretchen Winkler's opinion of Miss Gaynor was that she is "sweet and natural acting" although she didn't "look quite so sweet."

SUE MUELHAUPT found Crawford to be a "personable man who didn't act like a movie star." She said he "dressed like anyone else." She commented, "I didn't feel that I was being judged and I wasn't on my guard."

Rita-Al Goding had a "wonderful time" and especially enjoyed watching the rehearsals and movement in the theater.

Sandy Speicher particularly noticed Crawford's large cuff links and his pheasant hat-band. She also was interested in the movements of the chorus girls during the rehearsal.

Barbara Hof thoroughly enjoyed herself and particularly remembers her visit with Thelma Ritter.

BEV JACOBS thought the judges were almost as "nervous" as the persons who were being judged, although she said she didn't know when they were being judged.

Leigh Cartwright, Gayle Drahotka, Diann Benedict, Daphne Young, Marv Maude Bedford and Allison Faulkner also made the trip, accompanied by Barbara Adams, Cornhusker editor.

Miss Adams said the judges, Crawford and Alfred J. Stern, director of the 1954 Omaha Centennial, were in complete agreement on the ballets which they submitted to her. The six Cornhusker Beauty Queens will be revealed in the 1954 edition of the Cornhusker which comes out this May.

Union Dance Class

The jitterbug will be the next dance taken up at Union dance classes, Wednesday from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Beginning and advanced instruction will be provided by Miss Donna McCandless, a former Arthur Murray instructor.

The classes, which are free, are sponsored by the Union dance committee.

A University student, flustered by dialing a wrong number, called information after receiving a tongue-lashing from an awakened telephone subscriber.

The following conversation took place:

Operator: "Information."

Student: "Would you give me the wrong number, please?"

Operator (after slight pause): "Which wrong number did you want sir?"

Don Searcy To Head Ag Demos

Group To Study Farm Problems

Don Searcy has been chosen to head the Farm Council Democratic Youth Organization. Roger Kircher has been chosen secretary-treasurer. Also included on the committee which will head this council are two members from each congressional district.

The purpose of this organization is to better acquaint the public with the issues involved in proposed legislation. The formation of the Farm Council was announced by Don J. Knutzen, president of the state Young Democratic Clubs.

AN INVITATION has been issued by Searcy to the Young Republican Clubs of Nebraska to select a representative to present the Republican viewpoint for "collapsible" price supports in a panel discussion which will be held in the near future.

Persons interested in the problems of Nebraska's farm economy are invited to be members in the council, Knutzen said.

AWS Election

Three newly elected members of the Associated Women Students Board were omitted in the election story in The Nebraskan Friday.

The new members are: Martha Morrison and Doris Frank, junior board members, and Linda Butthman, sophomore board member.

Faculty Senate Has Formed No Specific Press Policy—Dein

The faculty Senate has not formulated specific policy concerning the press.

Raymond Dein, secretary of the Faculty Senate, made this statement Monday to clarify the position of the Faculty Senate in regard to this problem.

During ex-Chancellor Gustavson's term of office, the press was not allowed in the meetings at all. Those who came were requested to leave.

"IT IS the only meeting the faculty has," Dein said, "and we should be able to speak without being quoted or misquoted. In many cases, such as the discussion of those who will receive honorary degrees or budget reports, it would be a breach of good taste to publicize the reports."

At the last Senate meeting, Acting Chancellor John K. Selleck said "I will rule that any member of the press may stay unless a faculty member shall propose otherwise."

NUCWA Cancels Spring Conference

Proposed For Midwestern Schools First Intercollegiate UN Meet

The University Council on World Affairs has canceled the Spring Conference originally scheduled for Feb. 15 and later postponed.

"Interest in a spring conference has steadily declined," Marvin Friedman, NUCWA vice president, said. "This can be seen by the fact participation has fallen from over 500 delegates at the first conference in 1945 to less than 50 steady participants in the last model United Nations Assembly last year," she added.

IN AN attempt to develop new interest and increase knowledge of international affairs, Friedman said, NUCWA had planned to hold a model North Atlantic Treaty Organization Conference and to secure an outstanding speaker. We conducted an extensive campaign which included invitations from the Chancellor the Governor, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and an invitation to speak to an all-university convocation, Friedman said, but we were successively turned down because of prior commitments.

Suggested speakers were Madame Pandit, Eleanor Roosevelt, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Henry

Devoe Appointed To Special Post

Robert W. Devoe, University Regent from Lincoln, has been appointed chairman of a special committee to work for the extension of Social Security to public supported educational institutions.

Devoe, who was appointed by the American Council of Education, has been advised that an Administration bill will probably be the basis for any new legislation affecting Social Security coverage. The House Ways and Means Committee may hold hearings on the bill this month.

It would be necessary to amend the present federal law before the University could participate in the program.

Deadline Set For Entrance In Dairy Royal

Saturday is the deadline for filing entries for showing in the Dairy Royal. Entries may be made in Room 208, Dairy Industry Building.

The 3rd annual Dairy Royal sponsored by the Varsity Dairy Club will be held April 30. The contest is open to any person enrolled in the university, regardless of class, who is carrying 12 hours in good standing.

JUNIOR DIVISION contestants will be those who have had no previous judging experience. A contestant who has shown a dairy animal in a previous intramural contest or who has shown at the state fair shall automatically be required to participate in the senior division. Grand Champion showmen at previous Dairy Royals will not be eligible to compete.

Breeds which are available for showing are Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Jersey and Holstein. Dairy animals furnished by the University will have had no training for showing.

A coed cow milking contest is being planned as an added attraction.

Pi Lambda Theta Plans Meeting On Wednesday

Pi Lambda Theta, women's educational honorary sorority, will meet Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Union Room 316.

Mrs. Roscoe Hill, wife of Roscoe E. Hill, associate professor of entomology, will be guest speaker. She will discuss "Administration and How It Effects the Classroom."

Judging Contest Set March 27

The annual Block and Bridle judging contest for University students will be held March 27.

Cattle, hogs and sheep will be judged. Judging will be in the morning and results will be given in the afternoon.

Students with judging experience plus Animal Husbandry will be in the senior division and those with no experience other than Animal Husbandry I will be in the junior division. Individual awards and team awards will be given. Teams will consist of five students or top individuals from organized groups.

Presentation of the national Iranian flag to the University will highlight the celebration. Dr. George W. Rosenthal, dean of admissions, will accept the flag on behalf of the University.

According to Taghi Keemani, celebration of New Year in Iran starts on the first day of Spring and lasts 13 days.

NU E-Week Chairmen Announced

Show To Begin With Open House

Robert E. Peterson and John E. Tombarge, seniors in the College of Engineering, will be co-chairmen of Engineers Week, April 29 and 30.

This annual activity of the College of Engineering and Architecture will open with an Open House, April 29, from 2 to 5:30 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m., for all high school students, alumni and friends of the University, the chairmen announced.

THE OBJECT of the Open House is to acquaint visitors with the curricula of the college through displays of student work, demonstrations, movies and tours of all the departments. Last year approximately 10,000 persons attended the Open House.

Other chairmen planning the Open House are: Daryl Wood, John Frost, Gordon Kruse, Wayne Wolf, David Tunncliffe, Kenneth Philbrick, Paula Broady, Lyle Tanderup.

Donald Manke Found Guilty Of Assault

Donald A. Manke, former University freshman pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) in Lancaster District Court Monday.

Manke was found guilty by Judge Harry Spencer to a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury on a Lincoln girl. Sentence has been deferred until March 31, pending investigation by the adult probation officer and completion of the March 15 jury term.

Manke's trial had previously been set for the March term after pleading not guilty in arraignment in County Court Jan. 12, after which he was bound over to the District Court.

Manke was charged with striking Ruth Ann Scott, University freshman, on the head with a hammer while she was a passenger in his car en route to classes.
