Acting Chancellor John Selleck (l) congratulates eight University employees who were honored Wednesday for having completed 25 years with the school. They are (from l. to r.) Harry Wolfe, night patrolman;

Ruby Watters, cashier; Venon Nootz, fireman at Ag campus; Carl Krejci, yardman at Ag campus; Jake Hemple Jr., custodian, Selleck presented certificates of appreciation to the non-instructional staff members parator at the University State Museum. Not pictured is George Schmeigelberger, custodian. Selleck presented certificates of appreciation to the non-instructional staff members parator at a dinner at the Union.

Store Displays To Open Engineers Week Saturday

Window displays in downtown store windows will open Engineers Week Saturday. An Open House will be held starting at 2 p.m. Thursday. Bob Peterson and John Tombarge are overall co-chairmen for the annual event put on by students of the College of Engineering and Architecture.

Block And Bridle Show Set For Saturday Night

More Than 60 Ag Students Enter. Seven horse events and three showmanship classes will be featured in the 20th annual Block and Bridle Livestock and Horse Show Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERS, under the direction of Lloyd Keller and John Frost, will have their display in the window of Miller and Paine. The display will illustrate the E-Week theme, "Engineering—It's All Around You."

SINCE EVERY model of gasoline burning tractor which is sold in Nebraska must, by state law, be tested and approved by the University Tractor Testing Lab, the Ag Engineers plan to use model tractors to illustrate the various types of tests a tractor must pass before it can be sold in Nebraska.

WITH ALL the emphasis today on the atom and hydrogen bombs, the Civil Engineers, under the direction of Lyle Tanderup and Daryl Wood, will show just how the city of Lincoln would be affected by such an attack. Using for their example an 8X bomb (eight times as powerful as the one dropped on Hiroshima) the CE's plan to show, by means of a huge map, just how every home and office building in Lincoln would be affected. The "ground zero" of the bomb blast will be 27th and O Streets. They plan to show scale models of types of structures any home craftsman can construct which will protect its occupants within 300 yards of the bomb's exploding point. This display will be in the window of the J. C. Penny Company.

YDs To Hold Installation, Dinner Friday

Young Democrats Installation Banquet will be held Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Parlors XYZ of the Union. Speaker for the dinner will be Frank Morrison, candidate for the first district congressional post. State Democratic leaders have invited to attend the banquet.

THE FOLLOWING new officers will be installed for the coming year: John Olson, sophomore in the College of Agriculture, president; Bea Beutel, Arts and Science junior, vice president; Janet Gordon, Arts and Science sophomore, secretary; Marianne Hansen, sophomore in Arts and Science, treasurer and Charles Beal, sophomore in Arts and Science, historian.

THE MECHANICAL Engineers, although they stoutly maintain perpetual motion is impossible, will have a flywheel turning in the Gas Company window, with no apparent means of propulsion. ME's chairman are Dick Burt and Carl Kittle.

Architects and architectural engineers will show contemporary building design and construction. Chairmen are Tom Hunter and Harold Brockman.

The Outside World

McCarthy Methods 'Unusual'

WASHINGTON—"Unusual" methods were used by McCarthy in an attempt to get a commission for G. David Schine, aide to the senator, testified Major General Miles Reber today. Reber was called to testify in the McCarthy-Army row. The General said that in 10 years as Army liaison officer with Congress he recalled no case where he was "put under greater pressure" than he was in demands for the commission for Schine. However Reber added that he was never "intimidated" by the senator.

Airlift Detour Demanded WIESBADEN, Germany—Prime Minister Nehru announced that the American airlift of French troops enroute to Indo-China would not be permitted to pass over his country. The airlift must detour around India.

Murder Plans Upset BONN, Germany—A Russian attempt to have a man murdered has backfired. Three Soviet agents who were sent to West Germany on a murder mission gave themselves up to U. S. authorities and disclosed the plot to American counter-espionage agents. Besides giving details of the plot, the three men also revealed details of operations of the Soviet secret service. The intended victim, a man named Okelovich, was a member of the NTS executive committee. NTS is an anti-Communist Russian group in Frankfurt.

Draft Revision Pending WASHINGTON—A drastic revision of the present draft and reserve training laws may be brought to the attention of Congress in the near future. The new program will include: 1) A requirement that youths in the 18-26 age bracket take only six months of active duty and then be required to attend drills and training in reserve units. 2) A requirement that men completing two years or more active service continue to attend regular National Guard training. 3) A new set of limits on the size of both regular and reserve forces of all services, to be determined by the joint chiefs of staff.

Sally Hall, journalism senior, editor of the Nebraskan and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, received the Outstanding Woman Graduate award Friday from the Nebraska Press Women.

Although the $25 award was established last year, this is the first year it has been given.

KK Tickets On Sale For NU Spring Show

'Finian's Rainbow' To Open On Thursday

Tickets are now on sale for "Finian's Rainbow," the Kosmet Klub spring show, which will open Thursday and continue through May 1. Reserve seats are $1.80; regular seats are $1.50, and seats for the upper balcony are $1.10. They may be purchased from any Kosmet Klub member, booth workers in the Union, Walts Music Store, or the University telephone number, 2-7631 may be called night or day to take names and addresses for those wanting tickets.

COMPLETE WITH leprechauns, a magical pot of gold and a geological theory on the occurrence of gold in the soil in Rainbow Valley, Missitucky, (yet unapproved by University professors of geology) the musical "will be a great show," said Nick Amos, the male lead.

The show concerns Finian McLonergan of Glacqua Morra, Ireland, who knows why all Americans are millionaires. (Everyone in the world thinks so; everyone except Americans, that is). By a process of mathematics, logic and moonbeams he devises the McLonergan theory which reveals the answer:

It is the magical soil of Fort Knox that gives to gold phenomenal qualities hitherto unsuspected even by the gold itself. IN ORDER to come to America, Finian "borrows" a pot of gold that provides the power to make wishes for the mortals of Ireland from gnomes and elves and leprechauns. This is the start of the fun. Finian arrives in Rainbow Valley with his daughter, Sharon, and plants a pot of gold. The leprechaun comes in pursuit, uttering dire warnings of misery and destruction. Wishes are made on the pot of gold, and history veers crazily from its path.

The news gets out that gold has been discovered on McLonergan's property and credit, calico gowns and tractors pour into the valley. Sharon is about to get the rainbow her father has always promised her—a boy for her heart and pennies for her purse—when the leprechaun's doleful predictions materialize.

THE CAST for the musical comedy includes Nick Amos as Woody and Jan Harrison as Sharon. Hank Gibson will portray Og, the leprechaun, and Elaine Hess, Susan Mahoney, the dancing lead.

Other members of the cast are Dick Marrs, Jim Boling, Fred Coats, Charlie Waymire and Sue Ramey.

John Tolch, technical director of the University Theater, is the director of the show. Frank Bock, instructor in speech and dramatic art, is technical director.

TEN COMMITTEES oversee the details of the production. Marv Stromer heads the production committee and Tom Miller, the business. Bill Devries is in charge of publicity and Marv Steinberg, presentation. Bill Campbell is program chairman and Ben Zinnecker, orchestration.

Mac Bailey is in charge of workers and Bill Cannon is in charge of rooms. Walt Wright is chairman of the technical assistant's committee and Dick Charleston has delegated Kosmet Klub actives to usher.

MANY OF the songs from "Finian's Rainbow" have gone on to become national hit tunes. Just a few of the top songs include "How are Things in Glacqua Morra?," "Look to the Rainbow," "Old Devil Moon," "If This Isn't Love" and "Something Sort of Grandish."

"Finian's Rainbow" is a two-act musical play which had a long and successful run on the Broadway stage. Music for the show was written by Burton Lane, while the book was written by E. Y. Harburg and Fred Saidu.

Morgan Receives KAM Post National Group Elects Officers

Ray F. Morgan, assistant professor of journalism, was elected to the National Advisory Board of Kappa Alpha Mu, honorary photo-journalism fraternity, during their national convention Saturday.

OFFICERS ELECTED at the convention will serve for three years. West Stadium photo-lab, the film library, and the student photo-lab in the School of Journalism were established by Morgan. He retired from active competition in photo salons in 1940.

The convention also revised the national constitution so that Kappa Alpha Mu could become a student affiliate of the National Press Photographers Association.

Bob Pinkerton, president of the local chapter, Del Harding, Ray Magorinan, Peterson and John Terrill attended the convention.

Ag Cotton, Denim Week To Begin Monday At NU

Farmers Fair To Conclude Event. Cotton and Denim Week which will begin Monday is a preview to the two-day Farmer's Fair which will be held April 30 and May 1 at the Ag College. Ag Students and faculty will wear cotton and denim the entire week. The theme for this year's fair is "Husker Heydays."

Events to be presented during the festivities include a parade, midway, barbecue, pie-eating contest, Cotton and Denim Dance and a rodeo. A typical cowboy and cowgirl will be selected from representatives from organized houses. Barbecue tickets are 85 cents and will be on sale in the Ag Union until Monday. The barbecue will be held April 30 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Ag Union. Reigning over the Cotton and Denim dance will be the Goddess of Agriculture and the Whisker King. The goddess is chosen by an all Ag College election. The Whisker King is selected by four Mortar Boards and two local barbers. Beards will be judged in the Ag Union Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on the basis of texture, length and uniqueness. Last years reigning couple were Peter Aliaabads and Jo Meyer.
