Ag To Sponsor Hospitality Day

Wednesday Activities To Include Tours, Coed Style Show, Luncheon

Home Economics Hospitality Day activities Wednesday will include tours, a style show, a variety of entertainment, a luncheon and a panel discussion.

The all-day occasion will acquaint more than 800 high school girls from all over the state with the University home economics department. Morning activities will begin with a style show in which scholarship activities and other aspects of campus life will be interpreted through costumes made by coeds in home economics courses.

At a luncheon the visiting high school girls will be entertained by a series of skits and acts. Rocky Yapp will emcee the program.

Wilson, Castner Named Soloist, Chain Director

Ivy Day Processional Planned

Kathleen Wilson and Rosemary Castner have been selected as soloist and chain director for 1954 Ivy Day festivities.

During the processional of the Ivy and Daisy Chains, Miss Wilson, a senior music major, will sing "Ivy Song."

Miss Castner, a senior in the school of music, has been directing the chain bearers in their singing.

Miss Castner and Miss Wilson were chosen by Mootar Boards as two of the outstanding senior women in the field of music.

MISS WILSON is president of Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority, and a member of Madrigals and University Singers. She is also directing the Kappa Delta Ivy Day sing.

Miss Castner is a member of Delta Omicron, music sorority, a choir director and a member of Madrigals. She is affiliated with Chi Omega.

THE AFTERNOON program will include tours of the campus buildings. Students will witness food and nutrition and clothing classes in session. The preppers will visit the food-nutrition lab, child development lab and applied arts department.

The students will be divided into groups and participate in a panel discussion. A puppet show will be presented to each discussion group by Jeanette Selk.

Home Economic Hospitality Day is sponsored by the Home Economics Department. Dr. Josephine Brooks, associate professor of home economics, is faculty chairman. Barbara Raun is student chairman. Seven other chairmen are assisting Miss Raun.

Miss Castner and Miss Wilson will direct practices with the chains Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Union and Tuesday at 5 p.m. in Temple Building.

The 40 members of the Ivy Chain and 75 members of the Daisy Chain will be announced Friday.

Darlene Goodding and Connie Clark Karges are in charge of the chain members.

CAST MEMBERS are: Luanne Raun, Rose; Clare Hinman, neighbor; Rod Holmes, Pa; Ted Nittler, Al; Ann Corcoran, Floss, and Charles Klasek, Henry Selz. "Trifles," directed by Morrel Clute and produced by Charles Klasek, concerns the fact that a man is found murdered in his bed. As his wife is the major suspect, the play is concerned with the question, "Did she murder her husband?"

INCLUDED in the cast are: Jenn Weddle, Mrs. Hale; Valerie Rompes, Mrs. Peters; Jack Paris, Mr. Hale; Don Bartlett, Sheriff, and Bill Doleman, county attorney.

The lab productions are open to the public. No admission will be charged.

Awards To Go To Sororities, Fraternities

Recognition will again be given to men and women's organized houses for scholarship and activities on Ivy Day, May 5.

Awards are based on scholarship house activities and representation in extra-curricular activities.

Blanks have been sent to all organized houses for information concerning the participation of members in campus activities and scholastic records. Each activity position, as well as scholarship, is pointed according to a specific scale. On the basis of the compiled results of points, the awards are made.

Last year's winners of the Mortar Board award were Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Gamma and Kappa Kappa Gamma, respectively; winners of the Innocents award were Farmhouse, Zeta Beta Tau and Beta Theta Pi, respectively.

Barbara Raun and Neola O'Dell are in charge of the Mortar Board award. Bob Peterson is chairman of the Innocents award committee.

cause spectator's hair to literally stand on end and door knobs to glow. The electrical engineers are planning to put approximately 200 people in their electric chairs and apply a half-million volts. Liquid air, which freezes a rubber ball so hard that it shatters when bounced, will also be shown to approximately 10,000 visitors.

Engineers Week Activities To Begin With Open House

Plans For Display Include Initial Showing Of Color TV

Engineer's open house Thursday from 2 to 10 p.m. will commence Engineer's Week activities.

Some of the items which will be on display during open house are: musical grinding wheels, rubber roads, ramjet and turbojet engines and the initial showing of color television in Nebraska.

A Van DeGraff generator will demonstrations are based on a principle which is widely used in present-day industry. Emphasis is made on the educational aspects of the displays in an attempt to give high school students a preview of what they will be studying if they major in engineering.

An engineering convocation will be held on Friday at 11 a.m. in Love Library. The speaker will be Harry Wesly Brown, a University alumnus now production design engineer for a California aircraft company.

Brown will speak on "Engineers in Industry," part of which will be concerned with the ramjet engine (to be shown at open house). He plans to show a film revealing the first actual flight in which an aircraft was sustained in flight by the use of a ramjet engine alone.

BROWN ATTENDED the University from 1935 to 1938 after transferring from Wayne State Teachers College. While at the University, Brown was a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Sigma Xi science honorary, vice president of Sigma Tau and a member of the Engineering Executive Board.

As a senior in 1938, Brown was given the O. J. Fee award for outstanding achievement in the College of Engineering and Architecture. He received his B.S. in mechanical engineering in 1938 and was graduated with distinction.

IN 1941 he was an instructor in the Aeronautical Course of Engineering Defense at the University of Texas. He received his Master's degree in Aeronautical Engineering from the same institution in 1944.

The engineer's annual picnic and field day events will be held Friday afternoon at Pioneer park. The finals of the softball tournament between the various engineering departments will be held at the picnic. Other events such as egg throwing and a tug-of-war are also planned,

One of the displays to be featured in the E-Week Open House Thursday will be this cross section of a spillway in the Hydraulics Laboratory. Verl Clausen (left) operates the pump as John W. Tombarge and Robert Peterson, co-chairmen of Open House, look on. The displays will be open to the public from 2 to 10 p.m.

KK's 'Finian's Rainbow' To Open Thursday Eve

Tickets, In All Price Ranges, Available

The opening performance of Kosmet Klub's Spring Musical, "Finian's Rainbow," will be presented Thursday in the Nebraska Theater at 8 p.m.

and addresses for those wanting tickets.

Tickets priced at $1.80 for reserved seats, $1.50 for general admission and $1.10 for upper balcony seats can be purchased from Kosmet Klub workers, booth workers in the Union, Walts Music Store, or the University telephone number, 2-7631, may be called night or day to take names

More than 60 people including leads, dancing and singing choruses will be featured in the Broadway musical.

Starring in the production are Nick Amos as Woody and Jan Harrison as Sharon. Hank Gibson will portray Og, the leprechaun; Elaine Hess, Susan Mahoney, the dancing leads and Mary Stroman the title role lead, Finian.

Lab Plays To Begin Thursday

Program Includes Murder Mystery

Three one-act laboratory theater plays will be presented Thursday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 201 Temple Building.

"The Wonder Hat" is a farce which centers around love and confusion caused by a wonder hat and a magic dinner. Written solely for entertainment, the play will be directed by Barbara Leigh and produced by Morse Weisgurt.

Supporting cast includes Dick Marrs, Ben Zinnecker, Janet Boyd, Fred Coats, Charlie Waymire and Sue Ramey.

The plot of the musical concerns Finian McLonergan of Glacca Morra, Ireland, who knows why all Americans are millionaires. (Everyone in the world thinks so; everyone except Americans, that is).

By a process of mathematics, logic and moonbeams, he devises the McLonergan theory which reveals the answer: The magical soil of Fort Knox that gives gold phenomenal qualities hitherto unsuspected by even the gold itself.

In order to come to America, Finian "borrows" a pot of gold that provides the power to make wishes for the mortals of Ireland from gnomes, elves and leprechauns.

Finian arrives in Rainbow Valley with his daughter, Sharon, and plants a pot of gold. The leprechaun comes in pursuit, uttering dire warnings of misery and destruction. Wishes are made on the pot of gold, and history veers crazily from its path.

The news gets out that gold has been discovered on McLonergan's property and credit, calico gowns and tractors pour into the valley.

Sharon is about to get the rainbow her father has always promised her—a boy for her heart and pennies for her purse—when the leprechaun's predictions materialize.

THE CAST will include Jim Boling as Harlequin; Amer Lincoln, Pierrot; Jim Copp, Punchmello; Jean Carol DeLong, Columbine, and Marilyn Breiffelder as Margot.

"The Eldest," directed by Neala O'Dell, raises the problem of sacrifice required by one member of the family when the mother of the family becomes an invalid.

The play, based on a book by E. Y. Harburg and Fred Saily, opened on Broadway in 1947 and went on a national tour in 1948. Songs include: "How Are Things in Glacca Morra," "Old Devil Moon," "If This Isn't Love" and "Look to the Rainbow."

John Tolch, technical director of the University Theater, is the director of the show. Frank Bock, instructor in speech and dramatic art, is technical director.

"Finian's Rainbow" will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. "Most Eligible Bachelors" will be presented at intermission Thursday night.

In a scene from "Finian's Rainbow," Kosmet Klub Spring Show opening Thursday, Mary Stroman (right), had made over a pot of gold as Finian, comforts his daughter, Sharon, played by Jan Harrison. Sharon has just been accused of witchcraft because a wish she had made over a pot of gold came true.

Dulles Wins Victory

GENEVA—A diplomatic victory came for United States Secretary of State Dulles when the 16 nations which fought on the United Nation's side in Korea decided on a compromise formula to rotate chairmanship of the sessions at the Geneva conference. Thailand, Russia and Britain will have charge of the session. Dulles had warned that he would walk out of the parley immediately if the Chinese Communists were permitted to preside.

The reason for the compromise by the Soviet delegation they said was in order that the serious business at hand—peace in Indo-China and a settlement in Korea could be discussed.

Mrs. Bowring Sworn In WASHINGTON—Mrs. Eve Bowring, newly appointed Senator from Nebraska to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dwight Griswold, was sworn in as the second woman in the Senate. Vice President Richard M. Nixon administered the oath. Mrs. Bowring was introduced to the Senate by Sen. Hugh Butler, senior senator from Nebraska. Mrs. Bowring refused to say what stands she will take on legislation but she added that she is not unaware of the current activities in Congress.

Army-McCarthy Hearings Continue

WASHINGTON—The cross-examination of Secretary of the Army Stevens continued into the fourth day. The charges are that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his aides sought special military favors for a former aide, Pvt. G. David Schine, and counter charges are that Army officials sought to halt or divert McCarthy's search for subversives in the Army.

It was announced by Chairman Mundt (R-SD) that any surprise "mystery" witnesses would be barred from testifying in the senatorial inquiry.

BOB PETERSEN will present a plaque to the engineering department winning the field day events. John Tombarge, E-Week co-chairman and president of Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary, will present the plaque to the winners of the overall E-Week competition.

Following the banquet and awards, engineers and their dates will dance to the music of Jimmy Phillips and his orchestra in the ballroom.
