

Chancellor Search Leads Top Stories

Student Council Stand On Discrimination In Constitutions Rated Second By Staff

The Board of Regents' search for a new University Chancellor was selected the top Nebraskan news story of the semester.

The Nebraskan staff chose the top story on the basis of significance to the University and general news value. Reports of the progress of the search included accounts of interviews with candidates, the failure of Lincoln newspapers to comply with the regents' request for secrecy and the final choice of Dr. Clifford Hardin as new Chancellor.

THE REMAINING top ten stories of the semester, in order of their importance, are:

2. The Student Council stand against discrimination.
3. The appointment of A. J. Lewandowski as temporary athletic director and the later appointment of Bill Orwig as permanent director.
4. The spring riot.
5. The Kosmet Klub split with University Theater.
6. Basil Rathbone narration of "King David."
7. The abolishment of class officers.
8. Lancaster chosen Outstanding Teacher.
9. NUCWA reorganized and spring conference cancelled.
10. Gier's no-hit, no-run baseball game.

THE STUDENT Council's stand against discrimination was considered the second top story because of its possible effect on campus organizations. The Council will not approve the constitution of any campus organization under its jurisdiction if that constitution contains a discriminatory clause.

The temporary appointment of Lewandowski as athletic director and the permanent choice of Orwig filled the post vacated by "Potsy" Clark last semester.

Orwig's first job as new director was to appoint a basketball coach, Jerry Bush, to replace Harry Good.

The story of the spring riot was rated in fourth place not because of its significance to the University but because of the timeliness, the thorough job of reporting done by the staff and student interest in the account. The riot happened Monday night, when The Nebraskan was already in the process of being put to press. Through the cooperation of reporters and staff members, the front page was rewritten and details of the riot included in the Tuesday morning edition.

FROM THE beginning of the riot about 7 p.m. until the crowd dispersed at 11 p.m., reporters Lowell Vestal, Lucigrace Switzer and John Terrill and staff members Tom Woodward and Kay Nosky phoned a running account of events as they developed. Sam Jensen and Dick Fellman wrote the story from reports phoned in, and editor Sally Hall and managing editor Jan Harrison helped night news editor Marianne Hansen rearrange the makeup of the front page to include the last-minute story.

A news story so recent that its significance to the University is still indefinite was given fifth place because it affects two large campus groups and a large number of University students. The decision of Kosmet Klub and University Theater not to collaborate on next year's production of the Kosmet Klub Spring Show was reported in Tuesday's Nebraskan.

The account of Basil Rathbone's visit to the University was rated sixth. Rathbone came to the campus three days before he was scheduled to narrate the symphonic psalm "King David" and visited informally with students, in addition to addressing several groups. After the performance, Rathbone's personal marked script was misplaced, but after notices of the loss in The Nebraskan and Lincoln papers, the script was returned and mailed back to him.

BECAUSE of the failure of Student Council to approve the class officer constitution, there will be no class officers next year. Discontinuance of the group was favored because of lack of purpose.

The creation of a new award by the Board of Regents was eighth of the top ten stories. The Award for Distinguished Teaching was presented to Lane Lancaster, professor of political science. He was selected by a committee from nominations submitted from each college.

The ninth story was the reorganization of NUCWA and the decision to discontinue the annual spring conference due to lack of interest.

The last of the top ten stories was taken from the sports page. For the first time at the University, a no-hit, no-run baseball game was pitched. Dick Gier, sophomore southpaw, pitched the record game against the Kansas Jay Hawks.

Pollard To Address Graduates June 7

NU Speaker Has Varied Career As Priest, Executive, Instructor

Dr. William G. Pollard, an Episcopal priest and executive director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, will deliver the commencement address

Courtesy Lincoln Star

Dr. Pollard received his Ph.D. from Rice Institute in 1935 and holds several honorary degrees. For nearly ten years he taught physics at the University of Tennessee.

He has served as a consultant for several manufacturing firms. HE WAS formerly a member of the board of directors and acting executive director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. In 1947 he became executive director.

Since 1942 he has been a fellow of the American Physical Society, serving as vice chairman and then as chairman of the southeastern section. In 1950 Dr. Pollard was awarded the Distinguished Service Award of the Southern Association of Science and Industry. BEGINNING in 1948 as a Ves-

Volume 74, No. 88

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Friday, May 21, 1954

Eldon Park, Olson Named Outstanding Nebraskans

Men Chosen On Basis Of University Service

Donald O. Olson, assistant professor of speech and coach of the University debate squad, and Eldon Park, president of Innocents and Builders, have been selected as the Outstanding Nebraskans for the second semester of 1953-54.

"Olson has but one ambition while in his office (always filled with debaters profoundly arguing recent debates)—to produce debaters who have in the past and will in the future continue to bring honor to the University," said his letter of nomination. "The result has been that the University has become respected in debate and scholastic circles.

"HE HAS spent more time than could be expected of him with debate members in discussions of current debate questions, giving them the advice and practice they need, helping them construct cases and find evidence.

"He has spent many of his weekends transporting members of the debate squad to tournaments; he has sponsored practice sessions with less important colleges for inexperienced debaters; he sponsors high school and intercollegiate debate tournaments," the letter concluded.

IN LISTING the outstanding qualities of Park, the letter of nomination cited his work as Innocents' president, Builders' president, Student Council vice president, and membership in Beta Gamma Sigma and Delta Tau Delta.

"He was a freshman gold key winner in the College of Business Administration, awarded a gold watch for graduating at the head of his class in ROTC, and was awarded a gold key for being the most outstanding graduating senior in the College of Business Administration.

"ON CRUISE this past summer he ranked fourth in aptitude out of some 3200 NROTC and Annapolis midshipmen. This is the highest that anyone from Nebraska has ever ranked," the letter said.

Other faculty members who were nominated are Orin Stepanek, associate professor of English; Dr. Leroy Lease, chairman of the department of speech; Miss Helen Snyder, assistant dean of women; Mrs. Dorothea Holstein, assistant state 4-H Club leader; and Chancellor John K. Selleck.

Courtesy Lincoln Journal

STUDENTS NOMINATED include Barbara Adams, Cornhusker editor and member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board and Pi Beta Phi; Ken Rystrom, editor of The Nebraskan last semester, member of Innocents and president of Kappa Sigma;

James Pettenger, secretary of the Alumni Association, was sent to the University of California at Los Angeles to study their Senior Day program. The University hopes to continue Senior Day and hopes to enlarge and improve the program, Jim Collins, senior class vice president, said.

NU Students To Attend ROTC Summer Camps

Seven Army Sessions Scheduled

One hundred fourteen University Army ROTC cadets will attend six weeks of summer camp at seven Regular Army posts beginning June 19.

Most of the cadets will be seniors next fall, but a few are graduates who will receive their commissions after completing the camp training.

Cadets and assigned camps are:

- MILITARY POLICE Corps, Camp Gordon, Florida: Charles Anderson, Ronald Brandt, Daniel Brown, William Cambridge, Jack Davis, Gordon Fitzekam, Robert Grant, Francis Harman, Richard Hill, William Miller, Clark Nichols, Richard Pickett, Kenneth Reiners, John Rice, Dirkes Rolston, Sidney Sweet, Paul Scheele, John Schizas, Delbert Snodgrass, Les Stalaker, Donald Noble and Marvin Friedman.

- Infantry, Fort Lewis, Washington: Valjean Anderson, Don Biehm, Charles Bryant, Bernard Burns, Marshall Christensen, Albert Curtis, Brian Hendrickson, Richard Hildek, Doran Jacobs, David Johnson, Gerald Krantz, Frederick Longacre, George Medley, Herbert Meissner, James Norworthy, Jean Smith, Charles Trombla, Howard Vann and Richard Welsh.

- Engineers Corps, Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri: Robert Becker, Paul Cook, John Denny, James Egenberger, Virgil Holtgrewe, William Hurst, Donald Keerans, James Kessner, Vernon Magill, Norman Mann, Gary Martin, Mark McCoy, Robert Oberlin, Don Peters, Rodney Rippe, Franklin Sazama, Robert Schwantje, Robert Taylor, Daniel Werkmeister and Aloisius Zelewski.

- Artillery, Fort Sill, Oklahoma: Robert Atchison, Norman Anders, Leonard Barker, Demas Griess, Gary Hild, James Hofstetter, Edward Ibsen, Jerry Jensen, Dwight Jundt, Ralph Knobel, Calvin Lemmon, Alan Loftis, Patrick Madden, Valdean Markussen, Delbert Merritt, Phillip Miller, Lee Nielsen, Maurice Norton, Neal Pohlman, Robert Sorenson, Rollo Stukenhoyt, Folia Swanson and Wayne Wolf.

- ORDNANCE CORPS, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland: Frederick Arndt, Loren Betz, Robert Boesiger, Edgar Garrison, Lawrence Goll, Carl Graber, Delbert Grim, Paul Jordan, Billy Larson, Roger Lervig, Don Mead, William Moates, Robert Ostdiek, Charles Raitt, Jerry Roe, Peter Schmitt, Milton Schreiner, Robert Short, James Sire, Leon Wanek and Orval Weyers.

- Intelligence, Fort Riley, Kansas: Duane Aekle, James Garber, Ronald Hunter, William Neef, Louis Schoen and Marvin Stromer.

- Medical Service Corps, Brooks Army Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Texas: Richard Charleston, Donald Sorby and Paul Wray.

- Lab Theater To Give Last Plays Tonight

The last Laboratory Theater plays will be presented Friday night at 8 p.m.

Room 201 Temple Building will be the scene of "Matinata," a fantasy, "Interim," a psychological thriller and "A Dollar," a comedy with a moral. All performances are free and open to the public.

The cast of "Matinata" includes: Bill Wagner, Pierrot; Marilyn Breitfelder, Columbine, and Ron Green, Harlequin. Anita Daniels is director and Dois Billerbeck is production manager.

CHARLES KLAISEK will direct the psychological thriller, "Interim." Morrel Clute is production manager.

Bill Walton, Ted Nittle, Harry Parratt, George Hunker, Charles Peterson and Ron Green are cast in double roles.

Others in the cast are Peg Larson and Jane Laase, girls; Rod Helms, priest, and Tom Brozek, warden.

"A DOLLAR," will be directed by Joyce Fangman; production manager is Dick Marrs. The cast includes: Jack Parris, villain; Bill Walton, comedian; Bill Israel, old man; Len Schroffer, tragedian; Joey Dingman, ingenue; Beverle Englebrecht, heroine; Joyce Stratton, old lady, and Morrel Clute, stranger.

Fair, Coll-Agri-Fun Boards Elected

Ag students elected Wednesday to serve as junior members on the Coll-Agri-Fun Board are Al Schmid, Ruth Ernst and Shirley Slagle.

New Senior Farmers Fair Board members are Nancy Hemphill, Madeline Watson, Rogene Rippe, Charles Watson, Kenneth Pinkerton and Don Novotny.

Ardath Young was elected Ag Extension Board representative from Phi Epsilon Omicron, home economics honorary.

Commencement

Seniors who have extra tickets to the Commencement exercises are asked to turn them in at the Student Council office, June 2 and 3 from 2 to 4 p.m., so that students who need more tickets can obtain them.

Memorial Plaque Honors Former Latvian President

Latvian Free Press To Present Tribute To Ulmanis

A plaque will be dedicated at the College of Agriculture Saturday in memory of Karlis August Ulmanis, former president of the Republic of Latvia and a graduate of the University.

The fate of Ulmanis has been a mystery since 1940. Friends fear the man who served as premier and first president of Latvia is dead or in a Russian forced-labor camp.

The memorial plaque is a tribute to the Latvian Free Press of America, with donations from Ulmanis' friends over the nation. The dedication ceremony will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday on campus in the Dairy Plant Industry Building.

ULMANIS ESCAPED from Czarist rule and enrolled in the University School of Agriculture in 1908. As a graduate of the University of Leipzig in Germany, he was able to graduate with a B.S. in agriculture from

NU Graduate Receives Army Scholastic Honor

Second Lieut. Tad Tucker, a 1953 graduate of the University, ranked in the upper four per cent of those taking the Basic Officers Course at Army Engineer School, Ft. Belvoir, Va.

A graduate of the University's Army ROTC program, Tucker will be an instructor at the Engineer ROTC Summer Camp, which opens June 19 at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Summer Nebraskan

Any student who is attending school during the summer sessions, and are interested in working on the Summer Nebraskan, is asked to contact Kay Nosky, either at The Nebraskan office or at 2-3587.

Initial NU Senior Day To Include Rides, Dance

Similar California Event Studied

Tickets for Senior Day will be passed out to seniors at graduation rehearsal Saturday, June 5.

Plans for the event include a price reduction to all seniors on rides at Capitol Beach, free swimming and a dance at Kings.

From 6 to 8 p.m. there will be a free period for picnics. Marv Stromer, speaking for the planning committee, said they had urged the houses to get together and provide box lunches for this period.

He also said seniors have permission to take dates who are not seniors to the informal Chancellor's dance. It will be held at Kings from 8 to 12 p.m. Four University faculty couples will serve as chaperones. The University is paying for a dance band and the rental of Kings for the event.

The committee is composed of class officers; Mortar Board representative Nancy Odum; Marv Stromer, Innocents president; Jo Knapp and Sally Hall. The program is entirely student-governed.

The idea for Senior Day began when Ted James, senior class president, took the suggestion to Chancellor John K. Selleck, who had previously expressed interest in it.

James Pettenger, secretary of the Alumni Association, was sent to the University of California at Los Angeles to study their Senior Day program. The University hopes to continue Senior Day and hopes to enlarge and improve the program, Jim Collins, senior class vice president, said.

Other winners and their entries were: Robert Pinkerton, "Steps and Stones," "Look This Way, Please," and "Summer Session," Duane McCutchan, "Shampoo," and Jim Thornton, "Campus Lonesome."

Pinkerton is a professional while the others are amateurs. Each will receive three dollars and a recognition key.

Leonard Barker was chairman of the contest. Judges were Claude S. Brommage, manager of the interior decorating department at Miller and Paine, and Ralph W. Howland of the audio-visual center in the Lincoln Public Schools.

The winning photo is on display in a glass case near the Union Activities Office. All entrants may pick up their photos in the activities office.

THE INVOCATION will be given in Latvian by the Rev. K. Bumanis of the Latvian Lutheran St. John Parish, Lincoln.

O. Liepins, president of the Latvian Press group, and Professor P. Lezins, president of the Latvian Society in America, will be among the guests. Lieut. Governor Warner will unveil the plaque. Chancellor John K. Selleck will receive the plaque on behalf of the University.

The Rev. H. Jesefers of the Latvian Evangelical Lutheran Church of Lincoln will give the benediction in English. The cere-

Courtesy Lincoln Star

Standing before a memorial plaque honoring Karlis Ulmanis, via, and Dr. Phillip L. Kelley, University graduate and first chairman of the University premier of Latvia, are John dairy department.

Courtesy Lincoln Journal

Other faculty members who were nominated are Orin Stepanek, associate professor of English; Dr. Leroy Lease, chairman of the department of speech; Miss Helen Snyder, assistant dean of women; Mrs. Dorothea Holstein, assistant state 4-H Club leader; and Chancellor John K. Selleck.

STUDENTS NOMINATED include Barbara Adams, Cornhusker editor and member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board and Pi Beta Phi; Ken Rystrom, editor of The Nebraskan last semester, member of Innocents and president of Kappa Sigma;

James Pettenger, secretary of the Alumni Association, was sent to the University of California at Los Angeles to study their Senior Day program. The University hopes to continue Senior Day and hopes to enlarge and improve the program, Jim Collins, senior class vice president, said.

Other winners and their entries were: Robert Pinkerton, "Steps and Stones," "Look This Way, Please," and "Summer Session," Duane McCutchan, "Shampoo," and Jim Thornton, "Campus Lonesome."

Pinkerton is a professional while the others are amateurs. Each will receive three dollars and a recognition key.

Leonard Barker was chairman of the contest. Judges were Claude S. Brommage, manager of the interior decorating department at Miller and Paine, and Ralph W. Howland of the audio-visual center in the Lincoln Public Schools.

The winning photo is on display in a glass case near the Union Activities Office. All entrants may pick up their photos in the activities office.

THE INVOCATION will be given in Latvian by the Rev. K. Bumanis of the Latvian Lutheran St. John Parish, Lincoln.

O. Liepins, president of the Latvian Press group, and Professor P. Lezins, president of the Latvian Society in America, will be among the guests. Lieut. Governor Warner will unveil the plaque. Chancellor John K. Selleck will receive the plaque on behalf of the University.

The Rev. H. Jesefers of the Latvian Evangelical Lutheran Church of Lincoln will give the benediction in English. The ceregan when Ted James, senior class president, took the suggestion to Chancellor John K. Selleck, who had previously expressed interest in it.

James Pettenger, secretary of the Alumni Association, was sent to the University of California at Los Angeles to study their Senior Day program. The University hopes to continue Senior Day and hopes to enlarge and improve the program, Jim Collins, senior class vice president, said.

Other winners and their entries were: Robert Pinkerton, "Steps and Stones," "Look This Way, Please," and "Summer Session," Duane McCutchan, "Shampoo," and Jim Thornton, "Campus Lonesome."

Pinkerton is a professional while the others are amateurs. Each will receive three dollars and a recognition key.

Leonard Barker was chairman of the contest. Judges were Claude S. Brommage, manager of the interior decorating department at Miller and Paine, and Ralph W. Howland of the audio-visual center in the Lincoln Public Schools.

The winning photo is on display in a glass case near the Union Activities Office. All entrants may pick up their photos in the activities office.

THE INVOCATION will be given in Latvian by the Rev. K. Bumanis of the Latvian Lutheran St. John Parish, Lincoln.

O. Liepins, president of the Latvian Press group, and Professor P. Lezins, president of the Latvian Society in America, will be among the guests. Lieut. Governor Warner will unveil the plaque. Chancellor John K. Selleck will receive the plaque on behalf of the University.

The Rev. H. Jesefers of the Latvian Evangelical Lutheran Church of Lincoln will give the benediction in English. The ceregan when Ted James, senior class president, took the suggestion to Chancellor John K. Selleck, who had previously expressed interest in it.

James Pettenger, secretary of the Alumni Association, was sent to the University of California at Los Angeles to study their Senior Day program. The University hopes to continue Senior Day and hopes to enlarge and improve the program, Jim Collins, senior class vice president, said.

Other winners and their entries were: Robert Pinkerton, "Steps and Stones," "Look This Way, Please," and "Summer Session," Duane McCutchan, "Shampoo," and Jim Thornton, "Campus Lonesome."

Pinkerton is a professional while the others are amateurs. Each will receive three dollars and a recognition key.

Leonard Barker was chairman of the contest. Judges were Claude S. Brommage, manager of the interior decorating department at Miller and Paine, and Ralph W. Howland of the audio-visual center in the Lincoln Public Schools.

The winning photo is on display in a glass case near the Union Activities Office. All entrants may pick up their photos in the activities office.

Committee To Consider Snarf Case

SC Discusses Irregularities

Reported irregularities in the election of Professor Snarf sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, Boy Scout fraternity, were discussed by the Student Council at a meeting Wednesday.

According to a report by Jack Rogers, Council president, the election was improperly administered. Wade Dorland, representative of Alpha Phi Omega, explained the purpose of the election to the Council.

A motion was made to invalidate the election but a second motion referred the case to the judiciary committee for official invalidation.

THE REVISED AWS constitution was accepted with recommendations. The Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps Battalion Recreation Council constitution was rejected for revision.

Other action consisted of a welcome of the new Council by Robert Knoll, advisor and installation of Joan Knudson as Coed Council representative. Valerie Hompes was announced as the Cosmopolitan Club representative.

Nine Present Original Music Compositions

Original compositions by nine University music students were presented at a concert Thursday evening in the Union Ballroom.

Composers are Kent Phillips, senior in Teachers College; Jeanine Schliefer, sophomore in Arts and Sciences; Charles Palmer, Teachers College junior; Louis Pisciotta, University graduate; Jack Lund, sophomore in Teachers College; Martin Crandell, graduate; William Krause, graduate; Elizabeth Templeton, sophomore in Teachers College, and Janice Fullerton, graduate.

CHOSEN FOR musicality, originality, form and structure, the works are the result of class guidance and were selected from sophomore, junior, senior and graduate levels.

The musicians are students from the classes of Elizabeth Tierney, professor of theory; Donald Lentz, professor of woodwinds; Arthur Murphy, instructor in theory and instruments, and Jack Snider, instructor in brass instruments and theory.

Pisciotta, Crandell, Miss Fullerton, and Lund will receive engraved plaques from Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, music fraternity, and Pi Kappa Lambda, music honorary, for their compositions.

Win-Loss Record Set By University Debaters

Kiffen Wins Nineteen Contests

University debaters this year have compiled the highest percentage record of the last ten years, winning 186 of 257 debates.

Twenty-six students participated in debate throughout the year, losing 52 matches and totaling 78 percentage of wins. Nineteen contests were no decision and auditions. Charles Kiffen compiled the highest record, winning nineteen debates and losing two.

Of the twenty-four students participating during the second semester twenty-two were classed in the upper 15 per cent of their respective classes. The five seniors, Dale and Wayne Johnson, Charles Kiffen, Charles Klasek and Paul Laase, collectively acquired two Phi Beta Kappa keys, two Fulbright scholarships, a Woodrow Wilson scholarship, and a nomination for a Rhodes scholarship.

The debate group is well represented in campus activities, including two Innocents, Student Council president and NUCWA president.

THE SQUAD earned seventeen supervisors in discussion, eight superiors in extemporaneous speaking, two in oratory, thirty in debate, one in poetry reading and one in folk tale narration this year.

Students participating in debate this year were:

Norman Alexander, Dick Fellman, Dave Gradwohl, Russell Gutting, Jerry Igou, Dale Johnson, Wayne Johnson, Homer Kenison, Charles Kiffen, Charles Klasek, Paul Laase, Marilyn Mangold, Jere McGaffey, Allen Overcash, Ken Philbrick, Jim Placke, Sandra Reimers, Jack Rogers, Paul Schele, Shirley McKelleps, and Marv Friedman.

Harte To Attend Aquatic Conclave

Arliia Harte, sophomore in physical education, has been selected to attend the National Aquatic Convention in Wisconsin this summer.

Miss Harte was chosen to attend the two-week session on the basis of her outstanding work as a water safety and swimming instructor. Miss Harte is chairman of the Red Cross water safety committee.