Season's Early Upsets Change Bowl Pictures

By MAX KRIETMAN Sports Staff Writer

Entering its third week of competition, the 1954 football campaign has gotten off to a fast start. Already the season has found a number of unexpected upsets. Last Saturday, underdog Purdue topped the powerful Notre Dame eleven 27-14 in a big surprise.

The Big Ten conference will be wide open this year. As of now it shapes up as a battle between Iowa, Purdue, and Wisconsin. The Illini, though losing their first two games, could very well be an outside chance this year.

UCLA Again?

Out on the Pacific Coast, Stanford and U.C.L.A. could be the two elevens battling for the Rose Bowl entry. Stanford downed Oregon in the opener, and followed with the victory over Illinois.

Big Seven's Representative

Going on to the Big Seven, Oklahoma will, definitely be the team to beat for the title. However, the Sooners will be ineligible for the Orange Bowl, which will make second place the important spot this year.

N.D. Conquered Texas

In the Southwest conference, Texas is the team to beat. The Longhorns bowed to Notre Dame, 21-0, and beat Louisiana State and Washington State.

In the Southeastern Conference, West Virginia and Furman will be the two contenders. In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Maryland and Duke will be the two top teams.

Down in the Deep South, Georgia Tech and Georgia will be the two kingspins. The Engineers, though losing All-American Leon Hardeman, have a good line led by All-American center Larry Morris.

Intramural Football Rules Explained For Competitors

The 1954 intramural football season has officially opened at the University of Nebraska, and with it will come a few changes in the rules.

A must for each competing team, is the filling out of the score sheet. Team captains or managers must fill out the score sheets used in touch football, writing or printing each player's first and last names.

All games will be played at one of two places. They will either be played on the new intramural fields located at 14th and Vine, or on the Ag College Campus.

Each team will be allowed two timeouts per half, and they will last for one minute. Every timeout over the limit will cause the team requesting it a five yard penalty.

The ball may be advanced by running, passing or kicking. Each team will be given four downs to advance the ball from a zone to the next forward zone (15 yards).

Any number of forward and lateral passes may be made behind the line of scrimmage. Only lateral passes may be made beyond the line of scrimmage.

and after a touchdown, the ball will be put in play by the team scored upon by a snap on their own 15-yard line.

The ball is declared dead when a defensive player touches the runner between his shoulders and knees with both hands simultaneously in a flattened position.

If a team should find it necessary to punt, no defensive player may touch the kicker. The punt may be blocked, but if it is and the blocker is rough in doing so there will be a 15-yard penalty.

The receiver of the punt may pass the ball forward, provided he catches the kick and does not take more than two steps after the catch.

When blocking a player of the opposing team, all blocking must be done without the use of hands or extended arms. Only the player's feet will be touching the ground at the time of the block, and rough tactics, such as attempting to run over or batter down an opponent, must be penalized as unnecessary roughness.

In intramural football a touchdown will be counted as six points, a safety two points, and the try after a touchdown one point.

It shall be a foul for a defensive player to hold, tackle, trip, use hands on opponent's head, push or rough up any offensive player. The penalty will be a loss of 15-yards from the spot of the foul.

IM Bowling

Entries for the intramural bowling league have been heavy to date. There may be an opening for several more teams.

Elusive Runner

Dennis Korinek, senior from Ulysses and last year's leading ground gainer, regained his old form and literally ran circles around the Iowa State Cyclones last Saturday.

The slim quarterback directing the Huskers' attack this year is Dan Brown, 6' 1", 173 pounds from Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Brown is a senior in the College of Business Administration. He plans to go into some field of business when he graduates.

This is Brown's third year on the Nebraska varsity. He first lettered in 1952, when, as a sophomore, he was first string defensive left halfback.

Defensive Terror

One of the outstanding points for the second unit's performance last week was the powerful defensive end play of Leroy Butherus. The Lincoln sophomore sifted through the Cyclone defenses time after time to break up offensive drives. Leroy has shown promise of becoming one of the Husker's top defensive men this season and in future years.

Huskers Smash IS

Second Unit Praised; NU Aims For K-State

A so-called "second unit" led their first win of the 1954 football season. The Huskers rolled by the Cyclones from Iowa State to the tune of 39-14.

Long runs seemed to be the order of the day as only one of the Huskers six touchdowns came from inside the 10-yard line.

After the Cyclones had taken a 7-0 lead, Nebraska came back and scored on a nifty 45-yard pass, Don Erway to Willie Greenlaw. At the half the score stood tied, 7-7.

Iowa State once again scored first in the third quarter, but from then on in, it was all Nebraska. Ten plays and 62 yards later, Nebraska had its second TD with Erway going the last three yards to paydirt.

A Cyclone fumble set up the third touchdown with Dennis Korinek running 15 yards with a beautiful pichout from Dan Brown to put the Cornhuskers ahead for the first time in the game.

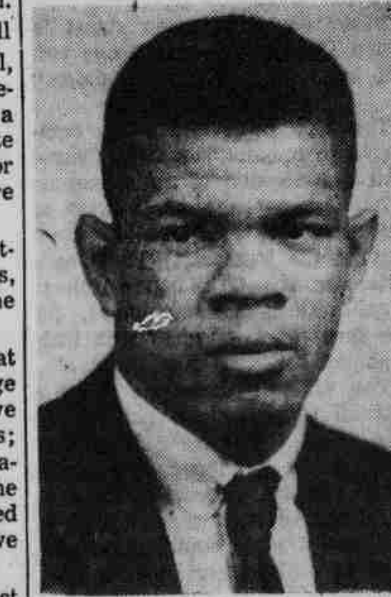

The fourth NU 6-pointer came after Tackle Don Glantz had recovered the second of his two consecutive recovered fumbles.

On the first play from the Husker 30 Erway fed a delayed lateral to Korinek and Korinek again went all the way with his chief assistance coming from John Edwards whose beautiful block eliminated two men and cleared the way for Korinek.

Laverne Torczon, Husker center, scored the fifth Nebraska touchdown as he recovered a fumble in the air and raced 19 yards to score.

Sylvester Harris, junior fullback from Kansas City, scored the last six points. He took a pichout from Gordon Englert and sped 61 yards to complete the rout.

IM Season Opens

Phi Psi's Romp In First IM Game; Sig Alphas, Sig Eps, Phi Deltas Win

By SHERM NEFSKY Intramural Sports Writer

In one of last week's top football games, the Phi Psi's won their first outing over Phi Gamma Delta, 26-0. The Phi Psi's are the defending champions from last year's intramural football play.

The Phi Gams just couldn't get in gear as they were smothered by Phi Psi passes of which four led to touchdowns. Playing a major part in the Phi Psi victory were Gene Welch, team captain Duane Rankin, and Phil Hockenberger.

One of the closer games of the day was between the ATO's and the Deltas. The final score on this one was Delta Tau Delta 14, ATO 7.

Deltas Win

The first Delt T.D. came when Dick Grant passed to Ray Mladovich, who went 60 yards for six points. Grant was also doing the flipping when he connected with Dick Tooley for the extra point.

A short four yard pass from Grant to Len Lindgren accounted for the second touchdown for the Deltas. On the try for the extra point it was again Grant taking over the passing chores, and hitting Mladovich in the end zone.

On the Tau side it was Bill Weber flipping a 50 yard pass to Bob Brown for their first six points. The point after the touchdown was made when team captain Rod Schroeder passed to Norm Ford, to give them their only score in the game.

The Betas showed little defensive strength as the Sig Alphas overpowered them 40-8. Pulling off the best play of the game was Joe Gifford who intercepted a Beta pass and ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

At the half it was 27-0 in favor of the Sig Alphas. The only Beta score came in the fourth quarter when Ken Morehead connected with a pass to John Fagin.

Charley Bryant, Dennis Korinek, and Don Erway.

Coach Glassford intends to keep the second unit intact. Bob Oberlin, senior center, returns to the first unit this week.

Rex Fisher won't see any action in the Kansas State game.

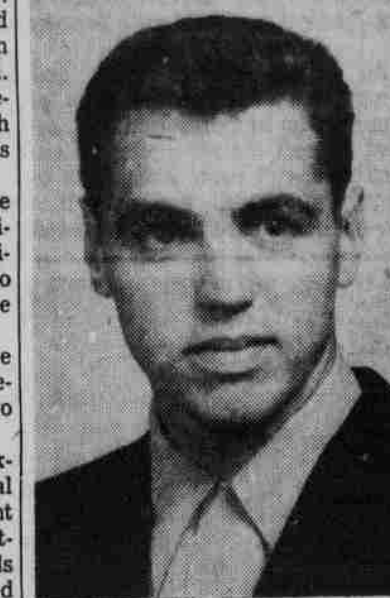

Game captain for the Kansas State game will be Bob Wagner.

During last Saturday's encounter there was definitely an improvement by both club's offensives. Until the last ten minutes the game could have gone either way.

Alexander and Max Burkett were outstanding for the Cyclones while the defensive play of the Husker centers and line backers was much improved.

The two long runs by Willie Greenlaw and Korinek were the highspots of the game along with the spectacular block of John Edwards which put Korinek in the open on his seventy yard jaunt.

Notre Dame Loss To Purdue Tops Week's Upset Parade

Saturday was another upset day around the nation. Many favored teams bit the dust in surprise defeats, the greatest of which was Notre Dame's loss to Purdue, 27-14.

In other upsets, Minnesota romped to a 46-7 victory over Pittsburgh, a team that is much better than the score indicates; Army continued its string over Michigan with a 26-0 triumph; and Stanford rose up to deal Illinois its second upset defeat of the season, 12-2.

In the Big Seven, Nebraska erupted in the fourth quarter to rout Iowa State, 39-14; Colorado blanked Kansas, 27-0; and Missouri dumped Kansas State, 35-7.

There was widespread action in the Big Ten. In addition to the upsets mentioned earlier, Indiana routed College of the Pacific, 34-6; Iowa rumbled over Montana, 48-6; Ohio State slid past California, 21-13; Southern California defeated Northwestern, 12-7; and Wisconsin edged Michigan State, 6-0.

Other scores around the nation include Colgate 18, Holy Cross 0; Duke 7, Tennessee 6; Florida 19, Auburn 13; Georgia Tech 10, SMU 7; Kentucky 7, LSU 6; Navy 42, Dartmouth 7; Princeton 54, Columbia 20; and Texas 40, Washington State 14.

Next Saturday promises to be another entertaining day of football.

In the Big Seven, Kansas State travels to Nebraska, Kansas meets Iowa State, Missouri is host to SMU, Texas plays Oklahoma, and Colorado travels to Arizona.

Big Red Donations Begin To 'Pick Up'

A little over one-fourth of the $40,000 goal of the Big Red Grant-In-Aid scholarship fund drive has been reached, according to James Pittinger, University Alumni Association secretary.

The drive, sponsored by the Alumni Association, is to provide scholarships for athletes. The $11,378 collected represents an average donation of $18.08 from 629 donors.
