

Public Convocation Today

Columnist Fleson Noted For Scoops

Doris Fleson, who will address a public convocation at 4 p.m. Wednesday, writes her nationally syndicated political column for more than seventy newspapers.

The convocation is scheduled for the auditorium of the State Historical Society building at 15th and R. Dr. Swindler, Dean of the School of Journalism, said Miss Fleson would speak on some aspect of politics—either national or international.

Columnist Fleson got her first taste of politics early in Sterling, Kansas, where her father had a clothing store and, according to a statement of Miss Fleson's in Time magazine, "ran the town from the back room."

After graduation from the University of Kansas, where she received her A. B. degree, Columnist Fleson went East and got a job on a small Long Island newspaper. In 1927, she graduated to the New York Daily News.

"There," she is quoted as saying, "we learned to hit 'em in the eye. We belonged to the who-the-hell - reads - the - second - paragraph school."

She served as war correspondent for the Women's Home Companion, then embarked on Washington political waters with her interpretive column. Political observers say Columnist Fleson's reputation depends a great deal on backstairs reporting of political plots and counterplots.

Scoop On Ike
Several years ago in an eight-page column banner splashed across the front page of the Washington Star were the words GENERAL EISENHOWER SUBMITS RESIGNATION. Underneath Miss Fleson's byline was the report that Ike's resignation was on the White House desk. In journalistic circles the story was a clean scoop. She also was one of the first columnists to suggest that then Vice-President Barkley was getting a little too old to run for President.

Winner of the Raymond Clapper award for meritorious work during 1953, the Headliner Award and twice awarded the New York Newspaper Woman's Club prize for distinguished reporting, Miss Fleson is quoted by Time magazine as saying, "I hit people hard sometimes, but they seem to like it because they know I do that to everyone."

Following the convocation, Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, will honor Miss Fleson at a reception for journalism majors. It will be held between 5 and 6 p.m. at the Union Parlors, by invitation only.

NU-Med Society To Meet Thursday
Nu-Med Society will hold its first meeting this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Bessey Hall Auditorium. James P. Tollman, Dean of the College of Medicine, will be the guest speaker. He will discuss "Preparation for a Profession."

Dr. J. W. Benjamin, newly-appointed assistant dean of the College of Medicine, will be presented. Nu-Med Society is an organization for students whose interests are in medicine, nursing and medical technology.

Know-How Session
The final Campus Know-How Session will be held Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium. Representatives of AWS will discuss campus activities. Kathy O'Donnell is chairman of the panel discussion.

All Forms For Rhodes Grants Due

Thursday is the deadline for Rhodes Scholarship Applications for study at the University of Oxford in England.

Application blanks may be obtained from Walter Wright, assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, in Room 204, Burnett Hall.

The scholarship winners will enroll at Oxford in October, 1955, for two years on $2418 a year basis. Applicants must be single, male, United States citizens with residence for five years and have at least a junior standing and the endorsement of the University.

They must have outstanding scholarship and ability, distinctive character and physical vigor.

Applications for Fulbright Scholarships for study abroad in 1955-56 are due Oct. 31. These blanks may be secured in the Graduate Office, Social Sciences, Room 111.

These scholarships pay a student's full tuition, cost of books, room and board, travel to and from the country in which the student is to study and an allowance for travel during school vacations. A student, if married, (he) must be able to support his wife. In addition a knowledge of the language of the country in which he is to study is required, and the student must graduate before September 1955.

Ag YMCA Gets Help At Recent State Fair

Faculty members, graduate students, underclassmen and University employees joined forces with Ag YMCA members at the State Fair Grounds this year.

Approximately 71 men representing 12 Ag College departments pitched in to help Ag YM members for the 13 performances at the State Fair.

Money obtained from this project will be used in the Ag YM program this year.

Trieste Question Settled

After nine years of dispute, Italy and Yugoslavia signed an Anglo-American sponsored agreement dividing Trieste between the two countries.

The agreement will close a gap in Western defense and will permit the withdrawal of 4000 American and 3000 British troops from the strip of Adriatic coast after a nine-year occupation. The United States and Britain guarantee the accord and promised they will not be involved in any further alterations of the settlement.

The port of Trieste will be free, serving Italy and Yugoslavia as well as Austria and other countries.

D.C. Students Riot

More rioting broke out in the nation's capital Tuesday as more than 1500 Junior and senior high school students demonstrated against racial integration.

Most of the demonstrations died out quickly, but at one high school, where adults seemed to be encouraging the rioters, police arrested two teen-age boys and two young men.

Similar trouble in Baltimore seemed to be over, for attendance at schools was much higher than during Monday's upheavals. Baltimore police warned that picketers will be arrested.

Yugoslavia Calls For End Of Cold War

The Soviet bloc and the West were called upon by Yugoslav foreign minister Koca Popovic to halt their cold war policies and try a new approach toward international cooperation.

Popovic told the U.N. General Assembly that lessening of world tensions had created the proper atmosphere for such a move. At the same time, handling of the disarmament question pointed toward an East-West clash as Russia prepared to press demands that her new plan receive sole billing.

U.S. Hopeful On New German Army

American officials are in a better mood since the agreements on the rearming of West Germany. Close to despair a few weeks ago, top government men in Washington feel the American policy position in Europe has risen since the London Conference.

One factor still clouds the atmosphere. The question of whether or not French Premier Mendes-France will fully support the London Agreement and put it over in the French Parliament still worries the administration.

A New Advisor

The new Innocents advisor, Dr. H. L. Weaver, goes over some of the year's forthcoming activities with Innocents president Marv Stromer and Alumni Association secretary James Pittenger. Dr. Weaver's job will be a continuous one, correlating Innocent activities through the years.

Dr. Weaver Chosen Innocents' Advisor

Dr. Harry L. Weaver, associate professor of botany, has been selected the new Innocents faculty advisor.

Weaver, who has served on various committees dealing with students for eight years, replaces Col. C. J. Frankforter, Innocents advisor for 20 years. Frankforter retired last year.

Weaver has taught botany at the University since 1946. He has served as faculty advisor for Interfraternity Council since 1948, is advisor to Kosmet Klub and a member of the faculty committee on student affairs.

Continuous Position

The position of Innocent faculty advisor is a continuous one, for the advisor correlates the activities of the society every year, as well as serving in an advisory capacity. The advisor also acts as coordinator between the Innocents and the alumni, working with Innocent president Marv Stromer and Alumni Association secretary James Pittenger.

Weaver received his A.B. degree in 1938 at the University. He received his M.S. at Columbia in 1940 and his Ph.D. at Yale in 1942. Until he came to Nebraska in 1946, he served in the army in both the Pacific and Europe.

Weaver is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi and Kappa Sigma fraternity. He was chosen as advisor after careful screening of faculty members. He was nominated by both Frankforter and Pittenger, with the other's knowledge, as the best candidate. "His close contact with students has qualified him in the best way for the advisorship," Stromer said.

Dr. Weaver said he was looking forward to his new job and predicted, "I'm sure I'm going to enjoy working with the Innocents." Unfamiliar as yet with his new duties, he chuckled, "I'm so new at the job that I've really nothing to say."

Orchestrating Practice

The first practice session preparing for Orchestrating tryouts Oct. 20 will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Grant Memorial.

Coeds who wish to try out for Orchestrating should attend at least one practice. The second practice session will be Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Class Officer Review

SC To Select Committee, Candidates For Law Vacancy

Student Council members will interview students applying for a committee to discuss the question of class officers Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 12:30 to 12:50 a.m. in Union Room 305.

Not more than nine members will be chosen for the committee with the numbers equally proportioned between the three upper classes.

Any student may serve on the committee although not more than one-third of the committee members may be on the Student Council, Jack Rogers, president, said.

Board Dissolved

Last year the Student Council failed to approve the Constitution of the Class Officer Board and thus the board was dissolved. In a way toward positive action, the Student Council this year has established the committee for advisory action to reconsider the class officer program.

The nine members selecting the committee: the five hold-over senior members, Marv Stromer, Muriel Pickett, Art Raun, Jack Rogers, Dan Rasdal; two juniors, Sharon Mangold and Norman Creutz; and two sophomores, Ellamae Matzke and Bill Hatcher.

Union Schedules Sunday Movies

The schedule of free Sunday night movies in the Union includes four films for October and November.

Sunday the movie will be "Flesh and Fury," starring Tony Curtis and Jan Sterling. Oct. 17, the movie will be "Man in the White Suit," starring Alex Guinness.

"My Pal Gus" is the featured film Oct. 24, starring Richard Widmark and Joanne Dru.

The only movie scheduled during November is "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands," Nov. 14. No movies have been planned the other Sundays because of other programs in the Union.

Knowles Addresses 300

AUF Begins Annual Drive For Charities

Tonight, you are the most important people in the world, Rev. Rex Knowles told All University Fund workers Tuesday evening.

He made this statement to 300 University students gathered in the Love Library auditorium in preparation for the beginning of AUF's annual fall drive for funds. AUF workers spread throughout the city Tuesday evening in an attempt to contact independent students living in Lincoln.

Knowles told the group that "what you are doing tonight is the most important task now being done at the University. Some of the persons you are helping tonight," Knowles said, "don't gripe about long lines or the food in the dorm, they have no dorm."

'Lose Reality'
"We must read between the lines," he said, "and find out what it is that makes people lose track of reality, that makes them lose sight of God's world. These lines represent the lines of people with mental illness," he said.

"There are lines of students," Knowles said, "who have no place to sleep, and nothing to eat, but they want to learn. There is a need, we must serve," he concluded.

WUS Representative Speaks

King Bradow, World University Service traveling secretary, told AUF members at the "Kick Off" banquet that the campaign of the "Campus Community Chest" was a "bright spot on the horizon."

The AUF drive, Bradow said, is an indication that students are beneficial to society and they are participating in the "onward search for truth." There is a significant "oneness" in University students and faculty facing universal problems in a united effort, he said.

"We greatly appreciate what you have done for us at the Institute for Cellular Research," Dr. Donald Pace, director of the institute, told AUF members at the pre-drive session. Pace was given a spectrophotometer and a contrast microscope for cancer research by AUF.

'Weeks of Planning'

Chancellor and Mrs. Hardin and Dean of Student Affairs Colbert and Mrs. Colbert were introduced at the banquet by Phyllis Colbert, AUF president. Miss Colbert said, "I am glad that tonight is here. Now we can see the results of our long weeks of planning realized." Cathy Olds is chairman of the independent solicitation now going on. Team captains are John Noble, Beth Keenan, Pat Uehling, Rosemary Fehr, Gene Christensen, Marcia Reifschneider, Jo Kroeger, Ruth Lucke, Pat Purcell, Nancy Hemphill, Sam Ellis, Lil Kitzelman, Zeldia Kominsky and Marilyn Bryant.

'Fiesta' Convocation Slated For Tuesday

Fergusson Scheduled To Deliver 3 Lectures On Spanish Customs

Miss Erna Fergusson, writer and lecturer on the history and customs of the American Southwest and Latin America, will address a public convocation Tuesday, Oct. 12.

Miss Fergusson's subject will be "Fiesta in Mexico and New Mexico." The convocation will be held in Love Library auditorium at 11 a.m.

Author of several books on Mexico, New Mexico, Cuba, Guatemala and Venezuela, Miss Fergusson's most recent book was "Pageant of Three Peoples." It concerned New Mexico. She will have a new book appearing next spring.

Lectures Open

Monday, Oct. 11, Miss Fergusson will lecture on "New Mexico: Los Conquistadores to Los Alamos," at 2 p.m. in 108 Burnett. Wednesday, Oct. 13, she will speak on "Transition in Mexico" in 206 Burnett at 10 a.m. Both lectures are open to all interested students and faculty.

Albuquerque, New Mexico, is Miss Fergusson's home town. She was graduated from the University of New Mexico and Columbia University, returning afterwards to newspaper work in Albuquerque.

Once A Dude Wrangler
At one time, Miss Fergusson was a dude wrangler. More recently she has conducted seminars at the University of Texas and the University of Mexico.

Miss Fergusson's visit to the campus is at the invitation of the departments of anthropology and history, under the sponsorship of the University Convocations Committee and University Research Council.

A faculty tea honoring Miss Fergusson is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 13, from 3 to 5 p.m., in Gallery A, Morrill Hall.

Ag Editor

We still don't have one! After two weeks of search, The Nebraskan is still looking for a new Ag Editor to be appointed for the first semester of 1954-55.

Those interested in earning $20 a month during Monday Tuesday and Thursday afternoons should get applications in the Ag Union this week. Applications must be filled out and sent to the University Public Relations Office in the Administration Annex before Friday at 5 p.m.

Applications may be addressed to Kenneth R. Keller, assistant director of public relations, University Annex 1, and placed in the campus mail for delivery.

Nebraskan editor, Tom Woodward, said past experience in journalism is not necessary for the position, though desirable, and urged all Ag students interested in working on the campus newspaper to apply.

Marvin Memorial Fund Established

Mrs. Henry H. Marvin has established a $1000 scholarship fund in the University of Nebraska Foundation as a memorial to her husband, the late Dr. H. H. Marvin, University physics department staff member for 35 years.

Income from the principal is to be used for undergraduate scholarships awarded by the University's scholarship committee. Preference will be given to students in physics. Dr. Marvin, who served as chairman of the physics department for 28 years, died July 24, 1954.

Medical Applications Due For Submittance

Premedical students should obtain applications for the National Medical College Admission Test for admission to any medical college in September, 1955, from Dr. Eugene Powell, Bessey Hall Room 306.

Applications must be submitted to the Educational Testing Service office, Princeton, New Jersey, by Oct. 18. The last opportunity to take the test will be Nov. 1, 1954.

Cosmopolitan Club

Dr. I. J. Domas will be the first guest speaker at a Cosmopolitan Club regular meeting Wednesday in Union Room 316 at 7:30 p.m.

His topic will be "James Healy, D.D., Negro, First Catholic Bishop to Whites." Cosmopolitan Club meetings are open to all interested foreign and American students.

Chancellor Contributes

Chancellor Hardin hands the initial contribution of the fall All University Fund drive to Phyllis Colbert, AUF president. The campaign which started Tuesday will continue through Oct. 21.
