

Leach Talk Tonight To Cover Democracy

Editor Honored For Contributions To New International Understanding

Dr. Henry Goddard Leach will speak at a convocation Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium. Dr. Leach's subject will be "American Versus Scandinavian Democracy."

"Scandinavian Civilization and Culture" will be the topic for Dr. Leach's informal talk Friday at 2 p.m. in the Union faculty lounge. Dr. Leach's visit to campus is at the invitation of the Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures, under the joint sponsorship of the University Convocations Committee and the University Research Council.

Governments of Denmark, Norway and Sweden have honored Dr. Leach in recognition of his contributions to international understanding. His most recent honor was the Order of the White Rose, given to Dr. Leach in 1954.

Received Degree

Dr. Leach was awarded the only honorary degree given by Upsalla University in 1945. In celebration of its 350th anniversary, Upsalla agreed that the degree should go to an American.

From 1922 to 1940, Dr. Leach was editor of the magazine of controversial opinion, "Forum." After the Scandinavian countries were invaded in 1940, Dr. Leach devoted all his efforts to the American-Scandinavian Foundation, of which he was president.

Dr. Leach was graduated from Princeton and Harvard Universities. He has lectured at nearly all larger American colleges as well as many in Europe.

Leach Writes, Edits

Books written by Dr. Leach include "Agevin Britain and Scandinavia" and "The Fire's Center." He is an editor of "Scandinavian Classics" and "The American Scandinavian Review."

Dr. Leach is now editor-in-chief of the publications of the American-Scandinavian Foundation, which he served as secretary 1912 to 1921 and as president from 1926 to 1947.

A car can be reserved only if Goulay a 2-7757, 3-5340, or the Cornhusker Office.

Swomley Scheduled To Speak

John M. Swomley, Jr., national secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, will speak on campus next week.

Monday he will speak at public convocation at 4 p.m. in Union Room 315. His topic is "Peace Through Reconciliation." This convocation is being sponsored by the University YWCA cabinet.

Monday afternoon before the convocation, Swomley will be available for personal appointments with students. Those wanting appointments should call Jan Osburn at the YWCA, extension 4114.

Swomley is well-known as a leading opponent of Universal Military Training and for the past six years he has been Director of the National Council Against Conscription and editor of the Conscription News.

He has done almost the only post-war research and writing on the growing military control of this country, including five major studies: "The Militarization of America," "New Evidence of the Militarization of America," "Militarism in Education," "Press Agents of the Pentagon," and "Our Military Government."

Swomley was graduated from Dickinson College, Pa., in 1936 and attended Law School there. He has a Master of Arts degree from Boston University, as well as an S.T.B. degree from Boston University School of Theology. He has also studied at Columbia University in the field of international relations. In addition to his political activities he is a minister of the Methodist Church.

While on campus, Swomley will make several other special appearances. Sunday he will speak at the Presbyterian Student house from 5:30 to 6:30 and afterwards will speak at the Unitarian Church of Lincoln.

Assembly Votes Confidence

The French National Assembly Tuesday gave Premier Mendes-France a resounding vote of confidence as they endorsed the London agreement for West German rearmament. Unofficial reports gave the Premier 165 votes.

The vote was the Assembly's endorsement of the nine-nation London plan to bring West Germany into an expanded Brussels Treaty and also into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Italy is also to be added to the Brussels Treaty.

The major backing of Mendes-France in the Assembly was made up of his own Radical-Socialist Party, various center and right of center groups, followers of Charles De Gaulle and most of the French Socialists.

Reuther Blasts Wilson

Walter Reuther, CIO president, has demanded that Secretary of Defense Wilson "retire from public life" or apologize for referring to the nation's unemployed as "dogs."

Reuther wrote in a telegram to President Eisenhower that he was "shocked" at Wilson's remarks made at a news conference Monday. He also blamed Wilson and General Motors for increases in unemployment in the automotive industry. Wilson headed the company before becoming defense secretary.

In the press conference, Wilson answered newsmen's questions about unemployment by saying that he has sympathy for the jobless and labor surplus areas, but "I also like bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs. You know, one who will get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

Homecoming Band Announced

Commanders To Play For Annual Event

The Commanders will play for the 1954 Homecoming dance, Cobs and Tassels announced Tuesday.

This year's Homecoming band are Decca recording artists and have been in existence for almost two years. The new group has recorded such current hits as "Make Love To Me" and "Honey in the Horn."

The Commanders began their existence as accompanists for Decca vocalists and vocal groups, but popular demand brought them into existence as one of the foremost newly organized bands in the United States today.

EDDIE GRADY . . . featured drummer.

The band features the talents of Eddie Grady, noted percussionist, and Camerata, Decca arranger. The group tries to operate as a single unit, however. This is the reason no separate personality fronts the orchestra.

Lucia Roberts will accompany the band as a vocalist. Her songs will be backed by an orchestra that includes four trombones, three trumpets, two saxophones and four rhythm instruments. This combination with the band's other instruments produces a new sound that many of musicland's authorities are very excited about.

'Extremely Danceable'

Junior Knobel, Corn Cob president, said that although The Commanders are a "comparatively new dance band," they are "extremely danceable." In past years, he said, it has been extremely hard to get a name band that is danceable.

He said that he was very happy over the selection of The Commanders as they are now in the process of making a name for themselves.

The Sauter-Finnegan orchestra played for last year's Homecoming dance. Tickets were sold for $3.75. More than 1300 couples attended last year's dance which was held in the Coliseum.

Ticket Sales Begin Tuesday

Tickets will go on sale Tuesday for $3. They will be sold by Corn Cob workers and Tassels.

Homecoming decoration awards to organized men's and women's houses will be awarded at the dance. Float prizes will also be given at the dance. Last year's winners of the House decorations were the Men's Dorm and Kappa Alpha Theta. Phi Kappa Psi, International House and Builders won float awards.

Queen Election To Take Place Following Rally

Homecoming Queen candidates will be presented at the pep rally Friday evening.

Five Tassels, chosen from the women's pep club membership, will be voted upon at a general election immediately following the rally. The choice of the final five women is made by Tassels after consideration of pep and contribution to the University.

The identity of the five finalists is kept secret until the rally and the new Queen will be presented at the Nebraska-Pittsburgh game, Homecoming Day.

Students must present their identification cards in the Union lobby before they are eligible to vote. The election is open to all students.

The Homecoming Queen will reign over Homecoming Day festivities and the evening's dance. She will be crowned by Phyllis Colbert, 1953 Homecoming Queen and this year's Pep Queen.

Friday's rally march will start in front of the Sellschick Quadrangle at 6:45 p.m. and will end on the steps of the Union where the candidates will be presented.

Baylor, Kroger Express Views

Communism, Political Parties Topics Of NU Panel Discussion

By MARY SHELLEDY
Staff Writer

It seems that the Democrats are more worried by the charge of Communism than they are about kicking them out of the party and the government, Attorney John Kroger stated in a panel discussion with Donald Baylor, another Lincoln lawyer.

The meeting was held in Love Library auditorium Tuesday evening on "Is It Treason?" The public discussion examined the charge of treason leveled against the Democratic party.

Meeting Features Film
A short film featuring Marquis Childs, commentator and columnist, began the meeting. Discussing the use of Communism as a campaign issue were Congressmen Kit Clardy (R-Mich.) and Richard Bolling (D-Mo.).

Rep. Clardy stated in the film that the charge of treason should and would be an issue in the November campaign. Bolling replied that no one can indict a whole party.

Communism as a campaign issue was then discussed by Baylor and Kroger.

Frankforter Honored By IFC At Banquet

Col. C. J. Frankforter received a special Inter-Fraternity Council award for his "Outstanding contributions and service," from IFC president Bill Devries Tuesday evening at the first annual Council Banquet held at the University Club.

The award, in the form of a special certificate, made particular reference to Frankforter's long-time devotion to efforts for the IFC which have spanned a period of over 15 years. Col. Frankforter has served as adviser to the University Band, Innocents Society and Corn Cobs for an even longer time.

Fifty Attend Dinner

The dinner, first of what is planned to be a regular IFC function, and attended by more than 50 members of the Inter-Fraternity Council Board of Control, fraternity advisors and fraternity presidents was highlighted by an address by Col. Frankforter.

Formations To Highlight Band Day

Band Day at the University Saturday will bring 68 high school bands from throughout the state to perform during the half-time of the Nebraska-Oregon football game and for a parade Saturday morning.

The day's schedule for the 3,571 high school musicians will include a parade through downtown Lincoln at 9:30 a.m., followed by rehearsals for the half-time show. At noon the band members will be treated to a snack lunch furnished by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, and served by the University Builders student service group, headed by Shirley Dewey.

With the Nebraska band as a nucleus, the high school bands will cover the field at half-time of the football game, where they will all play the "Star Spangled Banner." The bands will then form a "100" and play "United Nations" to commemorate the Nebraska territory centennial. In a massed formation they will play "Chief of Staff," and conclude the program by forming an "N" and playing "Hail Varsity."

Block, Bridle Club Sets Smoker For Thursday

Charles Adams, faculty adviser for the Block and Bridle Club, will be the principal speaker at a club smoker, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ag Union.

The smoker is held for students interested in joining the Block and Bridle Club. Information concerning the club and its activities will be given out at the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Good Fraternity Man.

In his speech, Col. Frankforter said the good fraternity man is the individual who realizes that his position is one of privilege and responsibility and takes definite, positive action to live up to his position. He went on to add that individuals who fail to realize their position and fail in their responsibilities are not worthy of keeping the favored status.

Action Needed

Col. Frankforter noted the fraternity responsibility in training its members to become responsible citizens of this state and nation—men who feel a definite obligation to obey the rules that have been established as the guides for behavior.

He explained that fraternities, like other organizations must change and adapt themselves to the times if they are to serve their function, and can do much to combat the spirit of much talk, but little action.

He cited the responsibility of the fraternity to help the individual who because of great athletic ability, loses sight of self improvement which is the basic reason for attending a college or university as an example of fraternity responsibility.

'Friendly, Fair, Firm'

Col. Frankforter noted three letters, FFF, which apply to Chancellor Hardin, explaining they meant "Friendly, fair and firm." He urged fraternities to take the lead of helping Dr. Hardin in carrying out the program on student drinking, urging that fraternities realize, "It is not our place to question the legitimacy of laws, but to accept and obey them."

Before introducing Col. Frankforter, IFC president Devries outlined plans for the coming year. He said "There are three things the IFC plans to stress during the year: 1. Service to fraternity members of the organization 2. Service to the University 3. Service to the community."

Chancellor To Attend Meeting, Address Alumni

Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, chancellor of the University will attend the annual meeting of the American Council on Education Thursday and Friday in Chicago.

Wednesday Dr. Hardin will address the Chicago Alumni Club in the Chicago Bar Association building. James Pittenger of Lincoln, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni Association, will attend the dinner meeting.
