Sharpshooter's Meeting Scheduled For Thursday

Phyl Cast

Colorado migrations are not the most conducive to column writing so please bear with me.

Crisis in W.A.A.—Lost one small intramural co-ordinator's notebook. If anyone should run across said notebook, it would be much appreciated if it was turned in as W.A.A. cannot function too well without it.

Sharpshooters Galore

This campus is swarming with sharpshooters! So many signed up for Rifle Club that things could not get under way this week.

If you were an unfortunate one and unable to attend the freshman workers mass meeting Tuesday night, be sure to stop in at the W.A.A. office or call Janet McClung at the Delta Gamma house.

There will be a very important representative meeting at 5:00 Thursday—Probably the most important meeting ever because all you lovelies will have your pictures taken for the Cornhusker. Also, Thursday at 12:00, the Council picture will be taken.

Anyone who doesn't belong to an organized group and is interested in participating in an intramural team can contact Miss Mulvaney.

The new Soccer Baseball champions are the Kappa Deltas who defeated the Pi Phis last week. Congratulations! "It was a hard fight, Mom!"

Cornhuskers Work Hard For Important Missouri Contest

By MAX KRIETMAN Sports Staff Writer

Taking no rest after a thrilling 20-6 win over Colorado last Saturday, the Nebraska Cornhuskers got down to serious work for their Saturday engagement with the Missouri Tigers. For the Huskers, this game, as well as last week's is a must.

Missouri started their season in bad fashion, bowing to powerful Purdue, 31-0. They evened their record with a Big Seven win over Kansas State 35-7. They lost their second game of the year to S.M.U. before downing Indiana, 19-14, and Iowa State, 32-14.

Nine veterans and two sophomores will be in the starting line-up for Don Faurot's split-T grid-ers. At ends will be Jim Jennings and Jack Hurley. Jennings and Hurley are both two year veterans.

Win A Pipe

Loehr Wins First Medico Pipe Contest

Andy Loehr, varsity football player, won the first Medico Pipe Forecast Contest. As a result of winning the forecast, Andy will receive an engraved pipe with the graduation inscribed.

Even with the campus being fairly empty with the migration to Colorado, over 150 entries were received. Girls may enter the contest and win a pipe for their boy friends or fathers.

Vic Eaton at quarterback, Ray Detring and Jack Fox at halfbacks, and Bob Bauman at fullback. Eaton was the starting quarterback last year, and Bauman an all-Big Seven selection.

For the Huskers, the only casualty of the week was guard Bob Wagner. Though he may be ready to go by Saturday, Jim Murphy moved up to the first for scrimmage this week.

Comstock Moves Up

Don Comstock, who played an outstanding game Saturday, moved up to the number four spot in rushing. He has gone 104 yards in 11 carries for a 9.5 average.

Willis Greenlaw leads the team in total net yards rushing with 188 yards in 26 attempts for an even 7.0. He also remained tied for the scoring leadership with Dennis Korinek with three touchdowns apiece.

On The Sports Scene

Tiger Contest Important; Team Victory At Colorado

Today as I write this column, my mind is still on a great week-end at Boulder; Tulalis and all. But even more impressive than the parties was the fine display of Nebraska football talent as the Cornhuskers ripped the undefeated Colorado Buffs, 20-6.

It would be hard to single out any one player in the win. Don Erway and Dan Brown ran the team with perfection. They mixed their plays up and kept the ball. One lad that really came into his own was Don Comstock. The speedy sophomore looked better than he has all year.

The answer to the Cornhusker win could be attributed to the fact that CU was looking for the big Oklahoma contest next week. Nevertheless, this loss hurt them as much as an Oklahoma loss would Saturday.

This year the Big Ten race is closer than ever. Ohio State, by virtue of a win over Wisconsin, moved into first place in the race. But Iowa, Purdue, and even the Badgers still remain in the thick of the race.

Wisconsin Loses

Husker Win Over Buffs Heads Week Of Upsets

Football teams around the nation again threw a curve at the forecasters as several more upsets were registered Saturday.

The greatest upset of the day was Nebraska's sparkling 20-6 triumph over Colorado. The Husker victory was totally unforeseen by the soothsayers, but the Nebraskaans completely outplayed the tenth-rated Buffs to throw a monkey wrench into the Colorado Bowl plans.

that wound up on top, as both were predicted to be toss-ups, but by the thorough trouncings administered by the victors. Ohio State boosted its Rose Bowl stock by defeating Wisconsin, 31-14, while unsung Michigan romped over previously undefeated Minnesota, 34-0.

In other Big Seven contests, Missouri rolled over Iowa State, 32-14, Oklahoma blanked Kansas State, 21-0, and SMU blasted Kansas, 36-18.

In the Big Ten, Pittsburgh edged Northwestern, 14-7, in a non-conference tilt; Purdue defeated Michigan State, 27-13; Iowa clubbed Indiana, 27-14, and Illinois trounced Syracuse, 34-6.

Other scores around the nation: Navy 52, Pennsylvania 6; Cornell 27, Princeton 0; Army 67, Columbia 12; Rice 13, Texas 7; TCU 20, Penn State 11; Stanford 13, Washington 7; UCLA 61, Oregon State 0; Southern Cal 29, California 27; and Duke 21, North Carolina State 7.

Next Saturday the Nebraska Cornhuskers meet Missouri in the crucial game of the season. If the Huskers defeat Missouri, they will stand a good chance of winding up the season in at least a tie for second place. If they lose, Nebraska is definitely out of the Orange Bowl picture.

In other Big Seven games, Oklahoma invades Colorado for an important contest, Kansas State plays host to Kansas and Iowa State meets Drake in a non-conference battle.

N Club Banquet

The N Club will hold its formal initiation tonight at the Lincoln Hotel. Publicity directors Dick Hildek and Jim Hofstetter announced that the initiation will start promptly at six. A dinner will be served afterwards and a business meeting will follow the dinner.
