

Homecoming Parade Line-Up Announced

Color Guard, Rifle Team, Cheerleaders, Band, Tassels, N-Club Float To Lead

The line-up for this year's Homecoming Parade has been announced. A total of 34 floats will be included in the parade.

The first six units will consist of the color guard, rifle team, the band, cheerleaders, the Tassel float and the N-Club float.

Competing floats in the order of their line-up are International House, "I Dream I Tamed a Panther in My Husker Form—Rah!"; Farm House, "Paw the Panthers"; Norris House, "Depant the Panthers"; Theta Xi, "Let's Pancake the Panthers"; Adelphi, "Paralyze the Panthers"; Union, "Today's Special—Pittsburgh"; Terrace Hall, "Dig Those Crazy Cats"; Kappa Psi, "Catch Them When Their Panthers Down"; Delta Alpha Pi, "Let's Pull Together and Plank the Panthers"; Delta Upsilon, "Husker Butcher Shop";

Brown Palace, "Beat Pittsburgh Panthers"; Towne Club, "Kick the Panthers Off the Glove"; Rodeo Club, "Rope the Panthers"; Alpha Gamma Rho, "Deport the Panthers."

AUF TO Follow

Red Cross, "Huskers Catch-em, Red Cross Patch-em"; Alpha Gamma Sigma, "Help Big Red Beat the Pants Off the Panthers"; Kappa Sigma, "Let's Mow-em Down"; Sigma Nu, "We Won't Clow This Afternoon"; Beta Sigma Psi, "Get Happy, Grad Bill's 'T' Is Coming Through"; Varsity Dairy Club.

Ag Men's Social Club, "Skin the Cats"; Sigma Alpha Mu, "Our Float Isn't Finished but We'll Finish Them This Afternoon"; Tau Kappa Epsilon, "Let's All Put the Press on Pitt—Steam the Pants

Off the Panthers"; Delta Sigma Phi, "Barge Through the Line"; Builders, "Better Butter the Panthers"; Delta Tau Delta, "Fishing for Another Victory."

Sigma Chi, "Go Big Red"; Cosmopolitan Club, "Cosmopolitan Club Banquet"; Phi Gamma Delta, "Down With the Panthers"; "Selleck Quadrangle No. 1, "Atom Huskers"; Selleck Quadrangle No. 2, "Smelt the Panthers"; Selleck Quadrangle No. 3, "Toast to Orange Bowl"; Selleck Quadrangle No. 4, "Pitt and the Pendulum"; Acacia, "We Got the Panthers." The AUF car and Sigma Phi Epsilon band will conclude the parade.

Judges for the float competition will be Virginia Trotter, home economics professor; Dale Ganz, music professor and A. C. Breckenridge, chairman of the political science department.

Floats will be judged on appeal, originality, welcoming the grads, labeling, resourcefulness, effort and effect.

For the first time, a traveling trophy and a permanent plaque will be presented to the first place winners in all three divisions, men's, women's and honoraries. A traveling plaque will be given to all second place winners.

The parade will assemble at 14th and Vine Streets. From there it will proceed east on Vine to 16th, south on 16th to O, west on O to 11th, north on 11th to R and east on R to 12th.

Joe Krause, parade chairman, and other Cobs will be at the south side of the Mall to help organize the parade. Cobs will walk with the parade to regulate speed and the distance between the floats. Organizations have been urged by Krause to drive slowly because driving too fast past the judges' stand or following a float too closely will reduce the chances of a fair appraisal.

Floats should come to the west end of the street on the south side of the Mall. They must not go to the east end because the parade will line-up toward the east.

Itemized expense reports must be turned in to Phyllis Hershberger, 540 No. 16th St., before 6 p.m. Thursday. Organizations failing to turn these reports in at this time will disqualify. The maximum expense allowed is $25.

Position of floats in the parade was determined by date of entry.

The Orange Bowl theme will again be followed with another Miss Miami Beach handing the Pittsburgh balloon to the team captain to pop.

In addition, all girls who have been Miss Miami Beach will be present and will hand out oranges to the rallyers to promote the Orange Bowl.

Another rally will be held Friday evening at the practice field. There will be a bonfire and the burning of the panther effigy according to Homecoming tradition. The rally will begin at 6:45 in front of Selleck Quadrangle and parade to the practice field.

Judges of the displays are Dr. H. L. Weaver, associate professor of botany; Clarence J. Frankforter, associate professor of chemistry; N. B. Hazen, Lincoln architect; Mrs. Elaine Aftoncos, display manager of the Gas Co., and Mrs. T. H. Leonard.

The expense limit for the displays is $100, the same as last year. All materials used in displays must be in front of houses by 3 p.m. Friday. Chairman Brock Dutton announced. An evaluation team of Lincoln businessmen will check the face value of the construction materials and motors used in the displays.

Members of the evaluation team are W. F. Hoppe Jr. of Hoppe Lumber Co., C. C. Acher of United Rent-All, and Vaughan Yantz of Consumer's Public Power Co.

The display route has been changed from the one previously announced to facilitate traffic.

Kings Manager Rebuked By County Commission

Sam Stevens' Wrist 'Slapped' For Fraternity Letter

By FRED DALY Staff Writer

Sam J. Stevens, manager of Kings Ballroom, was given a "slap on the wrist" at a meeting of Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday because of statements made in a letter Stevens circulated among fraternity presidents last week.

The letter, written to squelch rumors concerning the possibility of raids at Kings, insinuated Stevens had assurance from the State Liquor Commission that there would be no raids on Kings. At the hearing Stevens said he meant only that Kings had had no trouble.

A second letter was drafted by Stevens explaining the error in the first letter. He said he had not called upon the State Liquor Commission as the first letter stated, and that his statement assuring no raids on Kings was an error in composition by another party.

Results of a special investigation of 23 Lancaster County night clubs, cafes and theaters over a period from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 was announced at the meeting. Kings Ballroom was said to be a "well-run establishment."

The investigation showed that eight of the night spots investigated were questionable and five very questionable, County Commissioner Chauncey E. Barney said.

Barney said that the first letter sent out by Stevens "insinuated an extra-legal deal" with the commissioners' office. Stevens said there was no deal. He said the letter went out without his checking it over.

Barney said the commissioners do not want University students to think they are special cases and exempt from the possibility of a raid. Drinking by minors is illegal and subject to arrest, he said. University students have "no immunity."

He added that there would be no raids on a place as long as it was considered good. Arresting of minors puts a "black mark" on a place, he said.

Fritz Wagener, county attorney, said that if a place became a trouble spot, "padlock procedure," used in the past on several West Lincoln spots would be put into effect.

Commissioner Russell Brehm, presiding over the meeting, said the insinuation in Stevens' letter came through poor wording. He said Kings was "one of the best-operated places in the county."

J. Philip Colbert, Dean of Student Affairs, and Frank M. Hallgren, Associate Dean, attended the meeting from the University. Colbert said the University was interested in the matter because the University is a sub-division of state government, hence interested in law enforcement.

Tal Conrod, state liquor commissioner, said he was concerned mainly because the letter sent by Stevens mentioned a visit with the commission.

Both the county commissioners and University officials said they wished to "co-operate in this particular area in which we share responsibility."

The first letter by Stevens was mainly an assurance that "there has not and will not be any 'raids' or 'arrests' at Kings." Stevens said he had personally visited the State Liquor Commission and "came away satisfied that there will be no raids on Kings."

In the meeting Stevens said he merely meant Kings had been given a good record by the investigating committee and that there had never been any trouble.

The second letter retraced his statement concerning a visit with the liquor commission and restated his position of always operating according to regulations.

Biz Ad College Plans Third Convocation

The third and final senior convocation in the College of Business Administration is scheduled for Thursday, at 1 p.m. in the Social Science Auditorium.

In this session Leonard Hines, manager of the J. C. Penney Company in Lincoln, will discuss employment interviews and R. M. Bourne, convocation chairman, will explain the Placement Service of the college.

The college has presented three convocations this year on the subject of placement upon graduation.

Gregson To Speak

Panhellenic Banquet Set For Wednesday

Friendship will be the topic of Mrs. Clara Ingerson Gregson, outgoing national president of Alpha Phi, who is presenting the main address at the Panhellenic Banquet Wednesday night.

A new award to the pledge class with the highest average for the first semester of last year will be presented for the first time, according to Madeline Girard, Panhellenic Director.

The award will be an annual honor, Miss Griad said. Marjorie Johnson, Dean of Women, will present the award at the Panhellenic Banquet Wednesday night.

The Panhellenic Scholarship cup will also be presented at the banquet. It is awarded to the sorority with the highest average for both

Yearbook Picture Deadline Nov. 23

The deadline for making appointments for individual pictures in the 1955 Cornhusker is Nov. 23.

Appointments can be made at the Cornhusker office, Union Room 20, or by calling 2-7631 and asking for the Cornhusker extension.

All independents and members of organized houses who did not have their picture taken with their houses should make appointments before this deadline. Pictures will be taken by Edholm-Blomgren Studios, 318 So. 12th.

AFROTC Cadets Visit Utah Base

Five Air Force ROTC cadets went to Hill Air Force Base in Ogden, Utah, Saturday to see an Air Force base in action.

Hill is an air material command base where such operations as jet engine buildups are performed. The men were sent as part of the University AFROTC field trip program.

Cadets making the trip were Gerald Gotberg, Roger Scow, Timothy Hamilton, Charles Stewart Jr. and Charles Stuart III.

Faculty Coffee Hour Scheduled For Friday

A coffee hour will be held for the faculty and graduate assistants Friday, Nov. 12 from 4:30 to 6 p.m., in the Faculty Lounge of the Union.

Honorary Initiates Thirty-Six

Thirty-six pledges will be initiated into Pi Lambda Theta, women's teachers honorary, Nov. 18 at 5 p.m. in the Union.

Mrs. Hazel Stebbins, women's program director for KFOR, will speak on "Pi Lambda Theta Serves Education Through Radio and Television," at the banquet following the initiation ceremony.

Those to be initiated include Jean Barrett, Janet Berggren, Dorothy Bredemeyer, Phyllis Cast, Marjorie Chab, Mary Domingo, Gail Drahotka, Itha Frost, Suzanne Good, Suzanne Graham, Barbara Grow, Dorothy Hanpeter, Mildred Hansen, Mary Jean Harpstreth and Marjeanne Jensen.

Barbara Jones, Mary Knorr, Gloria Kollmorgen, Reba Kuklin, Jane Laase, Barbara Leigh, Vivian Lemmer, Sharon Mangold, Roma Jean Miller, Suzanne Opitz, Janet Rash, Robyn Ryder, Barbara Schmoker, Sandra Sick, Gretchen Sorenson, Carole Timm, Marynell Wolfe and Bonnie Young.

The initiates are chosen on the basis of high professional standards and keen interest in education. They must be in the highest one-fourth of the women in Teachers College scholastically and must have at least 60 semester hours.

Officers of Pi Lambda Theta are Marlyce Johnson, president; Joyce Laase, vice president; Mary Feulberth, corresponding secretary, and Pat Tincher, coordinating secretary.

German Club

An illustrated lecture will be featured at the German Club meeting, Thursday at 7:30 in room 316 of the Union.

The lecture, "Expressionism in German Art," will be given by Professor Manfred L. Keller, Assistant Professor in the University Art Department.

Golden Jubilee Conclave

Sigma Tau Pyramid contains predictions for engineering

A newly constructed Pyramid and rail section, symbol of stability and progress to Sigma Tau Engineering fraternity, will be unveiled Thursday at 11 a.m. northeast of Ferguson Hall.

The dedication will be part of the fraternity's Golden Jubilee Conclave which opened Wednesday on the campus.

Built at a cost of $3,000, the Pyramid is 12 feet at the base and six feet tall and is constructed of limestone and granite. Encased in the Pyramid is a time capsule containing predictions by engineering students of what will occur in the engineering field in the next 50 years.

Bob Peterson, engineering senior and chairman of the Pyramid committee, will present the structure to the College of Engineering and Architecture, and O. J. Ferguson, dean of the College and professor of electrical engineering, emeritus, will accept the Pyramid.

The new Pyramid will replace the old structure built in the spring of 1924 and just recently razed. The old Pyramid contained a time capsule which held various items such as electron tubes and fuses, test tubes and safety valves. The items will be displayed during the Conclave.

Mu Phi Epsilon

A Founders Day Banquet will be given by Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority, on November 14 at 6 p.m. at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Guests at the banquet will be sorority alumnae and patrons from throughout the state.

A short program will be presented at the banquet by University students. Billie Croft is president of the music sorority.

Parade Tonight!

Burning Of Panther To Spark HC Rally

Burning the panther in effigy and parading downtown will highlight the rally tonight. As in previous years during Homecoming week, there will be two rallies, Wednesday and Friday evening.

Wednesday's torchlight rally parade, led by the University marching band will begin at 7:10 p.m. in front of Selleck Quadrangle to go downtown. It will follow the regular downtown parade route with a momentary stop at 13 & O for several yells.

The parade will arrive in front of the Union at approximately 7:45 p.m. The rally is being held later so that participants in the Panhellenic banquet will be able to attend.

One of the traditional features of the rally will be the symbolic burning of the panther in effigy. Phyllis Colbert, last year's Homecoming Queen, will light the panther.

The team will be introduced individually. Coach Bill Glassford and Ellsworth DuTeau will speak.

Tassels, Cobs To Drop Balloons With Tickets

Balloons containing Homecoming publicity leaflets and free tickets to the Homecoming dance will be released by Tassels and Corn Cobs Wednesday and Friday.

Some of the balloons will be dropped from the third floor of the Union and will contain free tickets. Others will contain leaflets. They will be released on both days at 11:55 a.m.

The Orange Bowl theme will again be followed with another Miss Miami Beach handing the Pittsburgh balloon to the team captain to pop.

In addition, all girls who have been Miss Miami Beach will be present and will hand out oranges to the rallyers to promote the Orange Bowl.

Another rally will be held Friday evening at the practice field. There will be a bonfire and the burning of the panther effigy according to Homecoming tradition. The rally will begin at 6:45 in front of Selleck Quadrangle and parade to the practice field.

Applications For YWCA Offices Due

Applications for YWCA officers are available this week and are due in the YW office before Friday, Nov. 12.

Application blanks are available in Joyce Laase's box in the YW office. Filings will be accepted for president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and district representative.

Sophomores and juniors who are paid members and have been active in Y are eligible for office. They must have at least a 5.5 average.

Auctioneer To Peddle NU Queens

By JUDY BOST Staff Writer

What would you do if you had just purchased five very beautiful young ladies at an auction?

The Cornhusker Beauty Queens will be sold at the All University Fund auction Nov. 17 in the Union Ballroom.

Sue Meulhaupt, Gail Drahotka, Gretchen Winkler, Marymaude Beaford and Allison Faulkner, the young ladies in question, have suggested a talent show, dates or serving as bus-boys.

Other campus celebrities will be auctioned Nov. 17 with the Beauty Queens. Ron Clark, 1954 Prince Kosmet, and Mary Gattis, Nebraska Sweetheart, will go under auctioneer Hank Cech's gavel, to use an old auctioneering term.

Anyone who buys the page in The Nebraskan may use it as they please, within reason.

The new Homecoming Queen will also be sold.

There's even a chance to buy three more elderly personalities as bus boys. Rev. Rex Knowles, Dean Frank M. Hallgren and Dr. Curtis M. Elliott will wash dishes for a price.

Hello Girl Janet Lindstrand will not be spared.

The newly announced Activity Queen will be auctioned as will Andy Loehr, Ugliest Man On Campus.

One of the most interesting of all the items and surely to be a high spot of the evening is the pie-throwing sale. Someone can purchase the right to throw a meringue pie in Carl Mammel's face.

The University's winning football team has offered themselves for sale. Perhaps it can just be their complimentary tickets to the game in Miami.

Pledge classes of all sororities will be sold to the highest bidder, and all but two fraternity pledge classes have agreed to have their obvious talents put up for auction.

Sinfonia

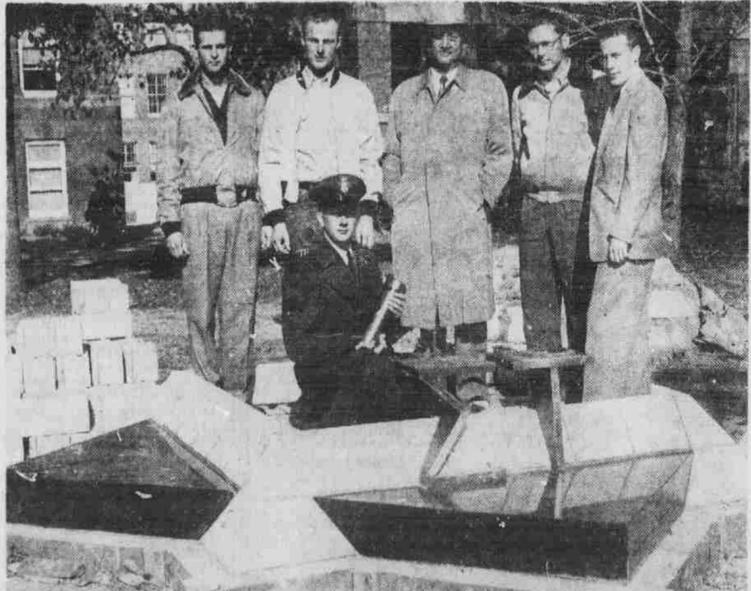

Group To Sing 16th Century Choral Works

Sixteenth century music is the theme for the concert to be presented by Sinfonia, national professional music fraternity, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

The glee club, directed by Stan Shumway, will sing "We Be Soldiers Three," by Ravenscroft; two arrangements of "Ave Maria," by Arcadelt and de Victoria; "Echo Song," by de Lasso; "Adoramus Death, I shall Not Fear Thee!" by Monteverdi, and "We Be Three Poor Mariners," by Ravenscroft.

The string trio will play "Fantasia," by Orlando Gibbons. The brass choir, directed by Roger Brendle will play "Sonata Plane e Forte," and "Canzone per sonare No. 2," both by Gabrieli, and "Riccercar del primo tuono," by Palestrina.

The officers of Sinfonia are: president, Gary Renzelman; vice-Roger Brendle; treasurer, Bob Patterson; Alumni secretary, Ron Becker; Warden, John Poutre, and Historian, Al Holbert.

The Pyramid And Sigma Tau

As part of its 50th anniversary celebration, Sigma Tau will dedicate a stone pyramid, the fraternity symbol, east of Ferguson

Hall Thursday. Dan Rasdal, center, vice-president of the University chapter, holds a time capsule which will be buried in
