Greeks May Sponsor Contest

Anderson Explains KK Ivy Sing Ruling To IFC

Kosmet Klub president Al Anderson presented his organization's view on the current KK fraternity song leaders' dispute over regulations governing the 1955 Ivy Day Interfraternity contest in an Interfraternity Council meeting Thursday afternoon.

Anderson said he thought the recently distributed petition, signed by some 20 fraternity song leaders, indicated "an unwillingness of song leaders to lead singing under the new rules rather than an unwillingness of Greek organizations to take part in the competition." A show of hands revealed that no fraternity had discussed the petition in meetings.

No Desire To Dictate

Anderson noted that KK members had done their best to get opinions from members of Greek letter organizations before making the new rules. However, Bruce Martin, Sigma Chi's said no member of KK had contacted his fraternity before the new rules went into effect.

Anderson replied that this was an error on his organization's part but added he was at a loss to see why originators of the petition and individuals who backed it did not come directly to the KK to inquire about the possibility of having the rule changed rather than threatening to boycott Ivy Day Sing.

He emphasized the fact that KK had no desire to dictate to fraternities on what they could or could not sing. Anderson pointed out that KK had based their decision to make a change in the rules with this idea in mind: "All competitors in the men's division of the Ivy Day Sing are fraternities; why shouldn't fraternity songs be sung?" He pointed out "any organization or group can sing a popular song, like fraternities have been doing, but only fraternnity groups would logically be interested in singing their own songs."

IFC Sponsorship
Sigma Nu representative Tom Woodward moved that the IFC sponsor the Interfraternity Sing for 1955. After being seconded, the motion was tabled until the next regular IFC meeting so that fraternity representatives could discuss it in their respective organizations' meetings next week. Woodward said his motion was made in an attempt to "bring the Sing competition under IFC regulation so that all fraternities would have a voice in making up the rules."

"This would avert another petition outbreak," he added.

Prior to discussion, IFC president Bill Devries congratulated members on their showing at the children's party held in the Union before Christmas vacation. (Some 80 children received gifts and entertainment at the party). Devries gave Walt Wright, IFC treasurer, and Dick Reisch, Beta Theta Pi, special recognition for their work on the project.

Student Council

Committee Established To Investigate Ivy Day

Due to confusion concerning Ivy Day, the Student Council set up a special committee in a meeting Wednesday to investigate Ivy Day.

Dan Rasdal, in presenting the motion before the Council, said no one seemed to know where the final authority of Ivy Day was and how it is financed. He suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate these two questions and also to look into the Ivy Day Sing.

Rasdal said that it is "of vital concern to the Council and is of all University interest" to find out more about Ivy Day and see if it is being run efficiently. The special committee, which has not been announced by the Student Council, will be composed of Council members and will report to the Council.

The committee will ask organizations and people on campus for information about Ivy Day, but it is planning no immediate action. On the question of finances, Rasdal said he understands that money for the preparation of grounds comes from the University Assessment Fund, but that it is not clear who assumes the other expenses. He thought that Mortar Boards may pay a large part of them.

Rasdal said he wants to find out where the final authority for Ivy Day and the Ivy Day Sing lies. The committee will try to find out whether any final responsibility has been designated, or whether Ivy Day and its phases is governed by tradition.

In the past, the Kosmet Klub has had control over the fraternity Ivy Day Sing.

Next week the Council will vote on a motion presented Wednesday by the Elections Committee to ask the University to provide more election punch sections the first of next year.

The Elections Committee also recommended that the Council change election rules, eliminating that section which requires a faculty member at the polling place of each special election. This rule was recently enforced when a Council committee used it as a partial basis for invalidating the Election.

A further amendment to the Elections Rules presented by the Elections Committee would provide for the automatic validation of any special election if that election is not invalidated within 60 hours after the votes are counted.

Ivy Singing Began 29 Years Ago

In light of the recent controversy over the type of music to be sung in the fraternity singing competition on Ivy Day, the Nebraskan has compiled a brief history of the Interfraternity Sing at the University.

The annual Interfraternity Sing held each spring on Ivy Day originated nearly 30 years ago. A fraternity song contest on Ivy Day was first held in 1926.

Ivy Day itself originated in 1898 when the senior class gave a boulder to the University as a memorial gift. In 1908, Ivy Day became more than a strictly senior affair because of the tapping of the Innocents. All classes were dismissed and it was made a University holiday.

Another sponsor of an interfraternity sing was the IFC who sponsored a fraternity song contest before the Interfraternity Ball in 1930. Similar contests were held in the early twenties.

The Interfraternity Sing as it is known now is promoted, managed and sponsored by Kosmet Klub. Now, with the co-sponsorship of Mortar Boards, both interfraternity and sorority song competition is held each spring.

The Innocents Society, the cause of the current prominence of Ivy Day, was founded in 1902. Kosmet Klub was born in 1911.

Symphony Program

Wishnow, List To Play Violin, Piano Concerto

The University Symphony Orchestra will present its 36th annual concert with Eugene List as guest pianist in the Union Ballroom Jan. 9 at 8 p.m.

According to Union officials, 900 tickets to this concert have been given out with no admission charge. At 5 p.m. Friday any tickets which have been returned will be redistributed.

Varied Career

List has had a varied career since his musical debut at the age of 10. After his debut with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra he received, at the age of 13, a scholarship to study under Olga Samaroff Stokowski in Philadelphia. Later he won wide acclaim after two tours in Europe and several full-scale recital tours in the United States.

List is probably best remembered as the "Fotsdam Pianist." He was summoned to play privately for the Big Three—Churchill, Stalin and Truman—in Potsdam.

Concert With Wife

He opened his 1954-55 fall season with the Philadelphia Orchestra in a joint concert with his wife, Carroll Glenn, at the Worcester Music Festival. Highlights of his present tour include appearances with the New Philharmonic in two separate Gershwin nights, with the Denver Symphony, the Oklahoma Symphony, the Providence Philharmonic, the Springfield Symphony and the Blooming Symphony.

Emanuel Wishnow, professor of the violin and conductor of the university's 70-piece Orchestra, is a personal friend of List. At List's request, Wishnow will play the solo violin part in "Concerto in F Minor for Violin and Piano."

Guest Conductor

Other numbers on the program will be "Overture to Russian and Ludmilla," "Concerto in F Major for Violin and Piano," "A Night on Bald Mountain," "Prelude, Choral, and Fugue" and "Piano Concerto in C Minor, No. 2."

Besides conducting the University Symphony for 11 years, Wishnow has been the guest conductor of the Omaha Symphony Orchestra for three years and the guest conductor of the Lincoln Symphony. From 1936 through 1950, Mr. Wishnow was concert master of the Lincoln Symphony, and this winter is the sixth season he will be appearing in a series of chamber music recitals in both Omaha and Lincoln.

Ag College Days To Be Jan. 14-15

For Ag College alumni, home economics graduates, parents of students, and friends, Ag Days will be Jan. 14 and 15.

Dr. Franklin Eldridge, associate director of resident instruction, is in charge of the program. The program will begin at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 14 with registration. At 1 p.m. a film, "Football Highlights of 1954," will be shown.

In the afternoon, Dean W. V. Lambert will speak on "Recent Development in Teaching, Extension and Research at the College of Agriculture." In the evening, Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin will speak on the "Future of the University of Nebraska."

The main speaker of the two-day program will be Kirk Fox, editor of Successful Farming Magazine. His subject will be "The Role of Education and Research in Agricultural Progress." He will speak at 2 p.m. Jan. 14.

The program for Jan. 15 will feature a ham dinner at 6 p.m. The Farmers' Fair Board is in charge of the dinner. Also featured on Saturday will be open house by a member of campus departments and a number of programs and exhibits. Members of Ag Builders have volunteered to act as guides for the various exhibits.

According to Dr. Eldridge, Ag Days are being held because "we felt there was a need for us to be in closer contact with Ag College alumni and the parents of Ag College students. In the past there has been an organized agriculture program to which people from all over the state were invited to participate."

"Farm and Home Week was held in years previous to the organized agriculture general program. A number of colleges still have Farm and Home Week which emphasizes all the different phases of home economics and agriculture. When these programs were discontinued at the University, it left a need for some type of program."

Coffee Named '55 President Of Ag YMCA

Marvin Coffey, junior, was elected president of Ag YMCA in an Ag campus election Thursday.

Coffey defeated Russell Lang, a sophomore, who will be first vice-president of the organization.

Others elected in the Thursday race include Bill Reed, second vice-president; John Burbank, secretary; Lonnie Wrasse, treasurer, and Bob Lubruska, district representative.

Coffey, who will serve for the next two semesters, is a member of Agronomy Club, Alpha Zeta, Ag Interdenominational Youth Fellowship and Farm House.

College Advisory Group

Ike Appoints Stromer

Marv Stromer, senior in Arts and Sciences and Innocents Society president, will fly to Washington, D. C., Jan. 28 to represent the University on President Eisenhower's special committee on Intercollegiate Problems. Both Domestic and International.

Stromer received a personal letter from the President or Dec. 7 appointing him to the committee. He is one of five students selected from universities representing geographical parts of the nation.

The other four delegates were chosen from Princeton University, University of California at Berkeley, Northwestern University and Southern Methodist University. International representatives on the committee were chosen from universities in France, Germany, the Philippines and England.

The purpose of the special meeting is to obtain student opinion on the today's college graduates to face world problems and to compare educational advantages, both domestic and foreign.

The students will follow a skeleton outline of discussion set up previously by the President.

Stromer said the President was probably attempting to get directly at the student opinion by questioning actual students rather than relying purely on administrative and faculty opinions.

Upon arrival in Washington, D. C., Stromer and the other four U. S. students and four foreign students will attend a special reception at the White House where they will meet the President and his Cabinet. The committee will confer with Sam Brownell, U.S. Commissioner of Education, and meet representatives of both the Senate and House of Representatives.

Following the formalities, the committee will meet with the President to discuss current educational problems. Stromer will return on Jan. 31.

Stromer's other activities include: vice president of Masquers, Kosmet Klub, Corn Cobs, past Student Council member, president of the Red Cross College Unit, National Collegiate Players, recipient of Purple Masque and member of Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary. Stromer is majoring in speech and political science.

Commenting on his appointment to the special committee, Stromer said, "I feel it is a great privilege to be asked to serve on this committee and hope that this committee, if nothing else, can help create a feeling of co-operation between students here and abroad."

Ike Appeals For Cooperation

President Eisenhower appealed to the new Democratic Congress to cooperate with him lest the "paralyzing indecision" of divided government interrupt America's "heartening progress" toward peace and prosperity as the keynote of his generally optimistic State of the Union message Thursday.

Eisenhower told a joint session of the House and Senate that the condition of the U.S. is good and getting better. He was "hopeful of continuing progress" toward durable peace but admitted that the current international situation is "merely world stalemate."

The President gave his only major surprise in the 6400-word message in a request to Congress for prompt federal action to relieve an "unprecedented classroom shortage" in the nation's schools. On the negative side he warned Congress against any attempt to scrap the flexible farm price support law enacted last year.

Stock Market Continues Decline

The rousing bull market in stocks suffered its worst setback in four and one-half years Wednesday as the Federal Reserve Board increased the amount of cash necessary to buy stocks on margin. Wall Street analysts called the action the immediate psychological factor in the stock market break.

Share prices fell at the start, improved a bit around midday and then slumped sharply in the late afternoon. By the end of the session, losses ran to around $5 in some areas.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped to $152.40, down $3.40, the worst decline since June 26, 1950, when the Korean War started. Volume piled up fast as the ticker fell as much as 15 minutes behind in reporting transactions. For the day turnover totaled 4,640,000 shares, largest since June 27, 1950.

Anderson Inaugurated

In his inaugural message to the State Legislature, Victor E. Anderson, 27th governor of Nebraska, outlined a program of "sound self-government" for the next two years. The new governor stressed efficiency and economy in state administration.

The message appeared to bear out Gov. Anderson's earlier observations that he does not expect to be a "crusading" governor. It backed up his repeated promise to take a businessman's view of governmental administration.

Anderson told the lawmakers he intended to work with them as a team member. He did not recommend any specific legislation.

Panama Police Hold Suspect

Panama police held a 34-year-old U.S. citizen incommunicado Thursday in connection with Sunday's slaying of President Jose Antonio Remon. They were questioning at least 70 suspects in the gang-style murder.

Police said they picked up Martin Irving Lipstein—tentatively described as a schoolteacher from New York—at the airport 24 hours after Remon and two other men were shot to death at Juan Franco race track.
