The Outside World Cease-Fire Hopes Dim

By DICK RALSTON Staff Writer International

The United Nations Security Council has at least temporarily abandoned its efforts to negotiate a cease-fire in the Formosa area. The move was proposed by Britain and supported by other western countries, including the United States, as a result of the refusal of Red China to attend the Security Council discussions.

The last evacuees from the Tachen Islands have arrived in Formosa, and are apparently unhappy about having to yield the Islands without a fight, according to observers. The Nationalist soldiers removed from the Tachens are said to consider the evacuation a retreat, an attitude which is also reflected by Communist radio broadcasts claiming the Reds have "liberated" the Islands and the Nationalists have "fled."

Pierre Filimin has abandoned his attempts to build a new government for France, and President Rene Coty has turned to Christian Pineau, a right-wing socialist to try. Pineau said he would make up his mind after conferring with associates. Should he decline, former Premier Rene Mayer is said to be Coty's next choice.

National

A program designed to alleviate the shortage of expert management in government jobs has been recommended to Congress by the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, headed by Herbert Hoover. The commission proposed creation of a "senior Civil Service group" of non-partisan, well-paid administrators of proven skill and experience. It also urged higher pay for top managers, better training programs and greater use of merit pay increase to attract men and women into government service and stop costly employee turnover.

Local

Col. Benjamin B. Albert stepped into the job of Nebraska's first full-time penal director Monday. Albert declined to mention any specific changes he had in mind, but noted his impressions that prison guards are underpaid and should have a merit system and that the "hole" should be rebuilt.

IT'S EASY TO SEE that the Droodle above is titled: Tired anthropologist relaxing with better-tasting Lucky behind freshly dug-up fossil. No bones about it, Luckies taste better to all sorts of people. College smokers, for instance, prefer Luckies to all other brands, according to the latest, greatest coast-to-coastest college survey. Again, the No. 1 reason for Luckies' wide lead: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better... cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Oppenheimer TV Interview To Be Shown

A special lengthened version of Edward R. Murrow's interview with Dr. Robert J. Oppenheimer will be presented on KUON-TV Saturday.

Ken Keller, assistant director of public relations, will make introductory remarks before the hour-long film is shown. The program is scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

Most of the material used in the film was originally seen in Murrow's "See It Now" program of Jan. 4. In addition it will include supplementary information from a two and a half hour version filmed by Murrow.

In the interview Oppenheimer discusses the basic philosophy and work of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton University, of which he is director.

He also cites barriers to free exchange of information facing scientists seeking to expand frontiers of knowledge.

KUON-TV is one of eleven educational television stations in the country to receive the film.
