Forty-One Schools Enter NU Tournery

Forty-one schools from eight states will be represented at the University of Nebraska Invitational Debate and Discussion Conference Friday and Saturday. Schools from Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Missouri and Oklahoma will participate in the conference which will consist of five rounds of debate and individual events.

Donald Olson, debate coach, and Bruce Kendall, assistant professor of speech, are directors of the tournament which is one "of the larger conferences in the country," according to Olson.

A total of 79 teams will participate in debate; 129 students will compete for ratings in discussions, and there will be 29 contestants in extemporaneous speaking and 22 in oratory.

Although other schools may enter only two debate teams each, the University will be represented by nine teams. University debaters who will enter in the conference are Norman Alexander, Dick Andrews, Roger Berger, Bruce Bruggman, Ernest Enke, Dick Fellman, Russell Gutting, Connie Hurst, Jerry Igou, Homer Kenison, Sharon Mangold, Jere McGaffey, Allen Overcash, Ken Philbrick, Sandra Reimers, Jack Rogers, Barbara Sharp and Ken Siekmann.

All University debaters will participate in discussion. In addition, Miss Mangold and Miss Reimers will be entered in oratory and McGaffey and Andrews will participate in extemp.

M. G. Clute, Ralph Retzlaff, Jean Carol Murphy, Marvin Stromer, Norman Francis, Delores Gerdes, Roy Taylor and Sylvan

Zwick will be entered in discussion. A banquet will be held for all conference participants in the Union at 6:45 p.m. Friday. Entertainment will be provided by the Delta Upsilon Quartet, Sandra Lowenstein and Carle Unterseher and Lynn Holland. Toastmaster at the banquet will be Jack Rogers and Ken Philbrick will act as master of ceremonies.

All events at the conference will be open to the public. The results will be announced at 12:30 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium, and certificates of award will be given to all students who receive superior ratings.

AUF Plans Annual Poll Of Charities

The All-University Fund will conduct its annual charity poll starting March 2 and continuing through March 9, Andy Smith, AUF president, announced Tuesday.

The poll will include the names and descriptions of all charities desiring AUF support and will be printed on sheets so that students may mark their preference of charities which they would like AUF to support in the coming year.

The sheet will be distributed to organized houses and a special booth will be operated in the Union lobby for students who are not contacted. Plans are being made to have a booth located on Ag campus.

The AUF Board will tabulate the results and consider them carefully when the decision is made as to what charities will be supported, although we will try to achieve a balance between local, national, international and health organizations," Smith said.

Charities which have contacted AUF and whose names will be on the final ballot include Cancer Society, American Hearing Society, World University Service, Lincoln Community Chest, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, American Heart Association, American Friends Service Association, National Association for Mental Health, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Near East Foundation, Japanese International Christian University Foundation and the University Foundation.

Groups which haven't been heard from as of yet, but who will probably be listed on the poll include the National Urban League, Cerebral Palsy and the Lancaster Association for the Mentally Retarded.

The National Association for Mental Health, Cancer, WUS and the Lincoln Community Chest received support from this year's AUF drive. The American Heart Association was aided two years ago.

Applications may be obtained in the office of the Dean of Women, Ellen Smith Hall, and must be returned to that office by March 15. The recipients will be announced at a special dinner in the spring.

The awards are based on scholarship and financial need. Applicants need not be sorority members. A faculty member, Dean Marjorie Johnston and a Tri Delta alum committee will select the winners.

The Outside World Policies To Be Aired

By DICK RALSTON Staff Writer

The main difference between British and American foreign policy is expected to be brought into the open at the Southeast Asia Defense Treaty conference opening Wednesday in Bangkok, Thailand.

The two countries have sent to the conference their top foreign representatives, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. The primary difference of opinion expected is over the best methods of settling the Formosa crisis, the British wanting to pressure the Nationalists into giving up more offshore islands in the hopes of satisfying the Chinese Reds. Australia and the Philippines are expected to give strong support to the U.S. position of "no more retreat in Asia."

Radiation May Shorten Lives

A possible "statistical shortening of life expectancy" was reported to a Senate subcommittee studying the effects of atomic and hydrogen bombs. Dr. John C. Bugher, head of the Atomic Energy Commission's biological and medical section, told the Armed Services Subcommittee "a general acceleration of the aging process" is a "possible effect of radiation exposure."

Ike May Fight Tax Cut

Republican leaders in both houses of Congress hinted President Eisenhower may throw his influence against a tax-reduction bill sent to the floor in the House of Representatives. The suggestion brought up the possibility that Eisenhower might make a national radio-television speech against a tax cut.

Matusow Admits False Testimony

Harvey Matusow, who has acknowledged he gave false testimony about Communist activities to Congressional investigators, also implicated the testimony of Elizabeth Bentley. Miss Bentley has been a key government witness in investigations and trials involving charges of Communist espionage in the United States. Despite his admitted lying under oath, Matusow claims that his lawyers have advised him the government would find it difficult to convict him of perjury.

Nationalists Attack Taihans

Nationalist Chinese planes attacked a buildup of Red Chinese forces on the Taihans Islands for the fifth straight day. The buildup threatens the Nationalist northernmost stronghold on Nanchishan, 120 miles north of Formosa.

Senate Schedules Pay Vote

The Senate has scheduled a vote on the proposed $7,500 pay hike for Congressmen for Wednesday. Agreement to vote on the issue came after a two-hour speech by Sen. Wayne Morse, (D-Ore) who claimed he was trying to stall the vote until the people had time to consider the issue.

Whitmer, Doll To Be E-Week Chairmen

Roger Whitmer and Edward Doll have been named Co-Chairmen for the 43rd annual Engineers Week, April 28 and 29, Daryl Wood, chairman of the Engineers Executive Board, announced.

Whitmer, a senior in architecture, is a member of the American Institute of Architects and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Doll, chemical engineering senior, is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and Sigma Tau.

Engineers Week is an annual spring affair conducted by the College of engineering and architecture. It is open to University students and the general public to show what the field of engineering involves and the educational opportunities it offers.

Beginning with an open house the first day, E-Week offers displays and convocations until it closes with a banquet the last evening. Also included in the activities are awards to outstanding students.

Included in engineering displays in past E-Weeks have been futuristic lamps with no visible electric power, a miniature atomic pile to make spectators' dimes radioactive and a scale model of the proposed Lincoln Tenth Street viaduct.

As an added attraction, the department of electrical engineering sponsors a 500,000-volt electric chair each year. It is harmless, as the electricity passes over the skin.

E-Week co-chairmen of the various engineer in societies are Wolf and Verne Dvorak, agricultural engineers; Alan Peterson and Bill Rudd, architectural engineers and architects; Jack Stiehl and Tom Tillman, chemical engineers.

Pete Schmitt and Charles Wroblecki, civil engineers; Glenn Norris and Gene Yost, electrical engineers; Bill Harris and Dick Wake-man, mechanical engineers, and Don Smith, engineering mechanics department.

E-Week committee chairmen chosen by the overall co-chairmen are Paula L.oady, banquet; Daryl Wood, contest; Bob Dostal, convocation; Franklin Szazama, field day; Muri Maupin, inquiries; William Magorian, photographer; Roger Berger, program; Dan Rasdal, ribbon sales; Barry Larson and Kazys Alminas, publicity; Bill Neef, sledge; Ken Philbrick, traffic; John Fagan, window display, and Wade Dorland, guides.

Other participants are Stanley Leese, secretary-treasurer and Ken Philbrick, toastmaster.

Faculty advisors for Engineers Week are Prof. Bruce Meier, department of civil engineering and Prof. Donald Pierce, engineering mechanics department.

Sakai Topic To Be China Communists

Domestic political control of Communist China will be discussed by Dr. Robert Sakai, assistant professor of history specializing in Far Eastern affairs, at the NUWCA mass meeting Wednesday night at 7:15 in Parlor A.

The topic of Dr. Sakai's discussion will be "How Strong Is Communist China?" A question-and-answer period will follow the speech.

Nomination of executive officers will be held before Dr. Sakai's address. Executive offices to be filled are president, vice president in charge of programs, vice president in charge of public relations, secretary and treasurer.

Qualifications of executive officers are membership in good standing (having paid membership dues), compliance with special requirements set up by the executive council and a weighted average of 5.7. Nominees for president shall not hold any other presidency during his term of office.

A report on the mock session of the United Nations General Assembly held Thursday through Saturday will follow the nomination of executive officers.

Ellis To Address Alpha Kappa Psi

James Ellis, Lincoln businessman will be guest speaker at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union.

The discussion will serve to orient men interested in beginning their own investment program. The meeting will be open to all Business Administration students.

Rose To Speak

School Of Social Work To Hold Tenth Institute

The Graduate School of Social Work will hold its Tenth Annual Institute in Social Casework at the University March 4 and 5.

Leaders in the field of social work will conduct two sessions on supervision of social casework and treatment of disturbances in the parent-child relationship at various stages of development.

Mary Hester, associate professor of social work at the George Warren Brown School of Social Work in Washington University, will speak on supervision during the two-day meet. She has been an instructor at Columbia University.

Dr. Jerman Rose, clinical director of Children's Service, Nebraska Psychiatric Institution, will speak on parent-child relations. He is also an assistant professor of psychiatry and neurology, specializing in adolescent behavior, at the University.

He has formerly been director of the Oneida County Child Guidance Center in Utica, N. Y., and is accredited by the American Board of Psychiatry.

The Institute is open to persons with graduate credit in social work who are employed in social work, and to university graduates in their second year of graduate work in social work.

Alumnae of the School of Social Work are holding a luncheon in the AWS House.

AWS House of Representatives will meet Wednesday at 5 p.m. in the AWS room, Ellen Smith Hall.

the Union following the Saturday sessions to honor Dr. Frank Glick, retiring director of the School of Social Work.

A special workshop for faculty of the University's school of social work will be held March 3. Miss Hester will address the group on supervision and social work education.

Institute sessions will be held 9:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 2 to 4:30 p.m. March 4, and 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. March 5 in Room 318, Burnett Hall.

National Contest

Bridge Players To Bid For Tournament Spots

Sixteen undergraduates who will represent the University in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament will be selected in two preliminary bridge sessions Saturday and March 5 at 2 p.m. in Union Room 315.

The National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament is the annual competition in duplicate contract bridge for national and campus championships titles and trophies awarded by the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee.

National, regional and campus champions will be announced on or about April 15. The colleges winning the national titles will be awarded cups, one cup for the college of the pair scoring highest on the east-west hands and one for the college of the north-south hand winners.

Trophies will be in custody of the colleges for one year. Each of the four individual national winners will be awarded a smaller cup.

More than 5,000 students, representing 174 colleges and universities in 45 states and the District of Columbia, participated in the 1954 contest.

Colleges competing against the University are North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, and California.

All competing colleges play a set of 16 hands of bridge. Hands are prepared and scored by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, a nationally recognized authority on contract bridge.

Convocation

Capt. Nash To Lecture On Jets

A former holder of the world's air speed record, Capt. James Nash, will deliver three lectures Thursday on the development of jet aircraft.

Capt. Nash was graduated from West Point in 1945. In 1952 he established his record of 699.973 miles per hour. For this achievement, Prince Bernhard of Holland presented him with the Henry Devaux award of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

Nash later received the Jet Pioneer's award from General Electric Company. He is now stationed at Air Force Flight Test Center, Calif.

The lectures will be delivered at three, four and five p.m. in Love Library Auditorium. They are sponsored by the University AFROTC unit.

Fellowships Offered For Graduate Work

Fifty-seven fellowships in several departments are available to graduate students for the 1955-56 academic year.

Applications should be filed in the Graduate Office by March 1. Special applications for the Donald Walters Miller Fellowship may be obtained in the Graduate Office, in the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs or in the office of any college dean.

The Board of Regents has made available 42 graduate tuition fellowships to be awarded to full-time graduate students on the basis of scholarship, need and educational objectives. Recipients of the fellowships are required to pay only the administrative fee of $20 each semester.

Two Regents graduate fellowships are available at $1,500 each. These fellowships are open to applicants for the Ph. D. degree who have completed at least one year of graduate work.

Franklin E. and Orinda M. Johnson Fellowships are $1,000 and remission of tuition fees. There are four of these. The Donald Walters Miller undergraduate scholarship committee is offering three scholarships of $1,000 each. Each college may recommend two candidates to the committee.

The Amanda H. Heppner Fellowship of $100 is offered to a woman student registered in Graduate College, with preference being given to candidates holding the Bachelor of arts degree. A fellowship of $1,000 including remission of tuition is offered by the Nathan J. Gold Fellowship.

Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Fellowships are available to former graduates or students now in residence either at the University or in colleges in Nebraska whose graduates are qualified for admission to Graduate College. There are two scholarships at $1,000 each.

A $300 scholarship is offered by the Arthur Sampson Fellowship in Nebraska Pasture Management. The award is given for graduate research in botany or agronomy dealing with pasture management in Nebraska.

The Charles Stuart Fellowship on Agriculture of $1,000 is available to seniors planning to take graduate work in agriculture.
