

Faction Seeks SC Approval

By JUDY BOST
Staff Writer

The All University Party, the Faction, passed a resolution Wednesday to submit its constitution to the Student Council for approval.

Vann Named Participant In Ad Week

Howard Vann, senior in Business Administration, has been selected to participate in the Fifth Annual Inside Advertising Week to be held in New York City April 17-22.

Vann was selected by Forrest C. Blood, professor of advertising and sales management.

He is past sports editor of The Nebraskan, a member of Kosmet Klub and vice-president of Zeta Beta Tau.

He will attend a series of lectures, tours, conferences, luncheons and dinners planned by the Association of Advertising Men and Women. Inside Advertising Week is planned each year to give the country's potential leaders in the field a look inside advertising in New York.

Leading companies, media, service organizations and advertising clubs cooperate in instructing and entertaining the students.

Vann termed the trip "a wonderful opportunity for anyone interested in advertising."

University Red Cross Named Nation's Best

The University Red Cross Unit has been named the "Most Outstanding Unit in the Country" by the National Red Cross Association and the Library of Congress for its service to the community last year.

This presentation was announced in connection with the Red Cross Unit Week to be held Sunday through March 19.

This fall the Library of Congress wrote the Nebraska organization for reports of the function of the unit before giving it the honor.

The primary purpose for holding Red Cross Week is to orient students and city residents on the work of the college unit.

Concert Will Be Given On Sunday

The University Symphony Orchestra will present a concert Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Union Ballroom under the direction of Emanuel Wisniewski, professor of violin.

The program includes: The Quiet City, by Copeland; Symphony in D minor, by Franck; The Faithful Shepherd, by Handel-Beecham, and Two Aquarilles, by Delius, Orland Thomas, French Horn, and Roger Brendle, trumpet, will appear as soloists.

The concert is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

WUS Speaker

McArthur Stresses Students 'Oneness'

World University Service is trying to develop an awareness of the "oneness" of the student body throughout the world, Gilbert McArthur, WUS field representative, said Thursday in a speech to the All University Fund Board.

McArthur is spending three days on the campus and will have addressed twelve organizations by the time he leaves Friday afternoon. His trip to the University is sponsored by the AUF Board. WUS is one of the charities which has received AUF support in past years.

Seventy per cent of the funds that WUS collects come from students in the United States, McArthur said. He also stated that the University

The constitution is being drawn up and will be submitted within the next two weeks, according to Robert Anderson, AUP secretary.

Anderson said this is the Faction's first attempt as far as he knows to become legal. He said the matter had been discussed before but this is the first concrete attempt.

Faction members voted 100 per cent in favor of submitting a constitution, Anderson said.

The move resulted from statements made concerning the legality of the Faction at a meeting of the faculty-student subcommittee of student organizations Friday, according to Anderson.

H. P. Davis, chairman of the subcommittee, quoted a Board of Regents' rule at the Friday meeting as stating that students who are members of organizations not recognized by University authorities are subject to disciplinary action.

Organizations which have not submitted constitutions to the Student Council and the subcommittee for approval are considered illegal in the eyes of University authorities.

No Enforcement Made
There has never been any attempt to enforce the Regents' ruling with regard to the AUP, Anderson said.

"AUP members felt they must attempt to become a legal organization or dissolve," Anderson said.

Davis declined comment when queried about the submission of the group's constitution to the Student Council.

Anderson said he and other AUP representatives at Friday's meeting told the subcommittee that their group was organized with officers, a constitution and dues.

Davis then told AUP representatives since AUP was organized like any legal student organization, it should make an attempt to become a legal organization, Anderson said.

No Threats To AUP
No threats were made to the AUP or its members in any manner at the Friday meeting, Anderson added.

Subcommittee members merely indicated that the AUP should discuss the possibility of submitting their constitution, he said.

"We will give this organization the same investigation of its constitution that we give any other student group seeking approval of a constitution," Art Raun, chairman of the Student Council judiciary committee, said.

The purpose of the AUP is to exercise the right of political assembly on a legal status, Anderson said. The organization is made up of representatives of 20 Greek social fraternities on the campus.

Once the constitution has been presented to the Student Council, it will be referred to the judiciary committee for approval. If rejected by the committee, the constitution may still be approved by the Student Council.

Sent To Faculty Committee
If approved by the Student Council, it will be submitted to the faculty-student subcommittee for approval and finally to the office of student affairs.

If rejected at any of these levels, the constitution may be appealed to the subcommittee, and if rejected there, further appeal can be made to the full committee on student organizations.

The last two resorts for approval would be the Faculty Senate and the Board of Regents.

The AUP has maintained throughout the petition controversy that they are an extra-legal political party and have never been illegal, Anderson said.

"It is just a routine matter," Frank M. Hallgren, associate dean of student affairs, said concerning the constitution of the group.

Friday's meeting of the subcommittee was the first open contact of the AUP and University officials.

Other Faction officers are Charles Haupt, president; Phil Visek, vice-president, and Dick Duling, treasurer.

Mass Meeting

Activities Debated By YW Joint Panel

Extra-curricular activities are important in their proper place, but they must remain secondary to scholarship was the conclusion reached by a student-faculty panel at a YWCA mass meeting Thursday.

Commenting on the feeling of an over-emphasis of extra-curricular activities, Frank Hallgren, associate dean of men, said he had discussed this problem with administrators from other universities. These administrators suggested not de-emphasis of activities through university control, but rather an increase in academic requirements.

Dr. Nathan Blumberg, assistant professor of journalism, said that many high school graduates have been given, instead of a sound educational background, only "wooden nickels." Dr. Blumberg added this was not necessarily the fault of parents, students or high school teachers, but rather that of a "philosophy of education which I consider erroneous."

A liberal education was defined in various ways. Joyce Laase, senior in Teachers college, explained liberal education as a process of development in itself as well as the preparation for later life.

Dean Hallgren measured liberal education in terms of discipline of the mind for further comprehension, communication and application of knowledge.

A well educated person, according to Dick Fellman, junior in Arts and Sciences, realizes "the awareness of having no knowledge."

Members of the panel included: Laase, Fellman, Hallgren, Dr. Blumberg, and Wesley Poe, moderator of the panel.

Applications For Tri-Delt Awards Due

Applications for the Delta Delta Delta scholarship for University women are due Tuesday in the office of the Dean of Women, Ellen Smith Hall.

Two scholarships are being offered by Kappa chapter of Delta Delta Delta. The awards will be based on scholarship and financial need. Applicants need not be sorority members.

The recipients will be announced at a special dinner in the spring. A faculty member, Dean of Women Marjorie Johnson and a Tri Delt alum committee will select the winners.

Hunter Selected Top Law Student

Ronald Hunter has been named by the Nebraska chapter of Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity, to represent the University in the fraternity's national competition for the outstanding law student.

Algire, Warren, Polya

Educators To Give Science Talk Series

Three nationally known educators will be on campus next week to present a series of lectures.

Dr. Glenn H. Algire, senior surgeon of the National Cancer Institute, will speak Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the Cellular Growth Lecture series.

Dr. Shields Warren, professor of pathology at Harvard Medical School and a member of the Advisory Committee on Biology and Medicine for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, will speak Thursday and Friday for the Seventh Annual Health Day Convocation.

George Polya, Stanford University mathematics professor, will lecture each day this week on various phases of mathematics.

Dr. Algire will lecture on phases of his studies of tissues taken from one animal and cultivated in another. His lectures, all in Room 4, Plant Industry Building, at 11 a.m. are: Monday, "Advances in Transparent Chamber Techniques for Microscopic Study of Tissues

It Happened At NU

Spring invaded the campus this week with mild sunny weather. The result was a flood of convertibles, vacant classrooms, afternoon parties and lazy sunbathers.

For some fraternity and sorority pledges, tied indoors by phone duty, the spirit of the day was not so sunny. Rebellion was evidenced in the change of the house's traditional "Good afternoon" greeting.

The greeting was instead, "This is the summer house." "Some're in 'n some're out." "Trite perhaps, but good for a laugh."

Juniors, Seniors

Filings For Union Board Of Managers Now Open

Filings for the 1955-56 Union Board of Managers are now open.

Students who file must be juniors or seniors, have a 5.5 average, and have worked in the Union one year. Students will be chosen on the basis of participation in Union and other campus activities.

Deadline for filing applications is March 26. Interviews will be held March 26, starting at 12:30 p.m. A slate of candidates will be made and presented to the Student Union Board of Managers March 30. The Board is made up of faculty, alumni and student members.

Students who serve on the Board of Managers have several functions. They are responsible for the programs and activities, and

AFROTC Honors 21 Students

Twenty-one University AFROTC senior students have been named distinguished military students according to Col. Joseph Stenglein, professor of Air Science and Tactics.

The students were selected on a written recommendation from their advisor or other member of the staff. The students must have completed Air Science 111 and ranked in the upper one third of the class, have an accumulative academic average standing in the upper one third of all students, must possess high moral character and a definite aptitude in the Air Force, and must demonstrate outstanding leadership abilities.

Selected for this honor were James Bailey, Brock Dutton, Raymond Hruby, Raymond Kelley, Homer Kennison, Gary Koberstein, Gerald Kranau, Coe Kroese, James Lowell, Hans Mathiesen, Dale Nitzel, Richard Olson, Kenneth Philbrick, William Rasdal, Arthur Raun, Jack Stiehl, Donald Summers, Donovan Tedken, Richard Wells, Daryl Wood and Martin Nielsen.

Brestal Introduced

SC Given Proposal For Pub Board

A recommendation for the selection of student members of the Publications by the Student Faculty Sub-Committee on Student Council was presented to the Council Thursday by Dan Rasdal, chairman of the Council elections committee.

The recommendation called for a committee to be set up inside the Council to study qualifications for student applicants for the board and to review all students filing for the Pub Board positions.

The committee would nominate two persons each from the applicants from the sophomore, junior and senior classes to be brought before the Council for final interviews and voting. Any candidates other than those selected by the committee would be nominated by any three members of the Council, the recommendation stated.

Rasdal said the purpose of the committee would be to clear away excess work for the Council and to act as a nominating body.

Marvin Breslow, sophomore Pub Board member, presented a report covering the last four meetings held by the Board.

The report covered four Board meetings. The meetings included the selecting of the business and editorial staffs for The Nebraskan, approval of $3000 payment to the Journal-Star Publishing Company for the Cornhusker and the drawing up and presentation of a list of directives to the Nebraskan staff.

In other business, the Council heard and approved the constitutions of the Women's Athletic Association, Orchestra and Aquettes.

Walt Brestal, new Council member representing the Inter-Cooperative Council, was introduced and sworn in by Jack Rogers, Council president.

The Outside World Forces Stay In Europe

By DICK RALSTON
Staff Writer

The United States is willing to maintain armed forces in Europe, including Germany, if the Paris agreements establishing the Western European Union are ratified fully, said President Eisenhower.

The President made the statement of U.S. policy on German rearmament and other aspects of the Paris agreements in a special message to the prime ministers of Belgium, France, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom. Presumably, the statement was designed to throw all possible weight behind ratification of the agreements. The French upper house is now considering ratification.

Build-Up In China

The Chinese Communists are building up their forces on the mainland opposite Formosa, according to unconfirmed Chinese Nationalist reports. The China News credited Nationalist intelligence sources with claiming that the Reds have moved a new jet air division from Manchuria to "beef up its invasion threat" against Formosa. The Nationalist Defense Ministry, however, said it had heard nothing of this.

Official Nationalist circles are said to have welcomed Secretary of State Dulles' speech on his Asian tour. They said Dulles had made it clear that the United States would maintain a firm position against further Communist aggression in Asia.

Disagreement On Stocks

Sharp disagreement with a recommendation to put stock buying on an all-cash basis came Wednesday from the world's biggest broker. Winthrop H. Smith told the Senate Banking Committee such a step would "dry up the market" and block the issuance of new securities.

New Demo Tax Program

Senate Democratic leaders have unveiled their own plan for tax relief as a substitute for the $20-per-person cut passed by the House. The substitute would give a $20 reduction for each taxpayer and an additional $10 deduction for each dependent except his wife. In addition, the loss in revenue to the government would be covered by repealing certain benefits for corporations and the recent tax cut on corporation dividends.

Most observers believe the substitute will be better received in the Senate than was the House proposal, but that it will fail to pass.

Ag Fraternity

FH Open House Scheduled At New Residence Sunday

Farm House Fraternity will hold an open house for the University students and faculty at their new chapter house at 3601 Apple Street from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

John Olson, new chapter president, said that all city campus students and faculty are invited to attend from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and all Ag College residents from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Approximately 180 people attended the open house for alumni last Sunday.

The buff brick structure, which cost $110,000, is located on a five-lot area at the end of Idylwild Drive, four blocks south of Ag Campus. Forty-nine men are now living in the house which was occupied January 2.

According to Olson the house has study rooms and sleeping capacity for 56 men. He added that special points of interest in the house are new lined oak study desk, a dish-washing and garbage disposal unit, a buzzer system for all rooms and a 45-car parking lot which lies east of the house.

Olson emphasized that one of the main projects as yet undeveloped is an extensive landscaping plan, including shrubbery, trees and lawn areas.

Schedule Completed

Around the table planning the itinerary for WUS field representative Gilbert McArthur are AUF leaders Cathy Olds, solicitations vice president; Rev. Rex Knowles, advisor; Gail Katske, the hpe of Asia and through them, Asia will take its proper place along side democratic nations.

Pointing out the need for college trained youth in foreign lands, McArthur gave the example of the hpe of the national railroad system in India who has been out of college just two years. In the United States, with its many college graduates, he said, it would take much longer to attain such a position.

World University Service's building a dormitory in India for students. At the present time, 3,000 students live in tents throughout the city of New Delhi. Facing a similar problem, in Pakistan, WUS is building publicity vice president; Mrs. Virginia Trotter, advisor, and McArthur. AUF annually contributes to the WUS through the collection made at the University.

a hostel in Karachi.

The flight of students from be pointed out through the example of a young medical student in Czechoslovakia. Deported in a displaced persons camp, the student said, "I will die if I can not be of service to someone." McArthur said that many students leave Communist lands with nothing but a faith in democracy.

McArthur has spoken to such groups as Alpha Phi Omega, Newman Club, Hilliel Foundation, YWCA and Cosmopolitan Club. He went to pre school in Scotland and was graduated from Friends College in Wichita, Kan.
