

Nominations Swell To 14

Nebraskan Nominations Close

Four new nominations for this semester's Outstanding Nebraskans were submitted to The Nebraskan Tuesday. In letters to the Nebraskan editor, Jake Geier, head gymnastics coach; Duane Lake, Union Managing Director; Orin Stepanek, associate professor of English, and Nancy Odum, were recommended for their achievements at the University.

Faculty Student Committee

One faculty member and one student will be chosen by a special selection committee on Wednesday as "Outstanding Nebraskans." This committee will be composed of the editor and editorial page editor of the Nebraskan, John Gourlay, president of Innocents Society; Gail Katske, president of Mortar Boards; two previous Outstanding Nebraskans, Donald Olson, assistant professor of speech, and Emanuel Wishnow, professor of violin and conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra, and Ken Keller, assistant director of Public Relations.

The letter nominating Lake pointed out that he is at present the Managing Director of the Student Union, a position he has held since 1947. As the chief officer in charge of total activities at the Union, the letter said, he coordinates all efforts to realize the Union's objectives of social education.

Community Attractions

The authors of the letter said that Lake's work in the Union "has certainly gone above and beyond the normal call of duty." The letter also mentioned the fact that Lake is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Summer Stock University Group To Manage Hayloft

The Hayloft Summer Theater, a center of summer stock for Lincoln, has been purchased by a group of University students.

The officers of the Hayloft Summer Theater Corporation are president, Kathy O'Donnell; secretary-treasurer, Jack Parris; director, Bill Walton; promotion manager, Mary Stroman, and technical director, C. T. Weatherford.

Board members are Barbara Leigh, James Boling and Marcia Ralston. The theater was purchased with the students' private funds because it was feared that the theater would close this year. Stroman explained, "We felt that after five years of summer stock in Lincoln, it was only fair to the community that some conscious effort be brought about to keep summer stock here."

He added that the University students involved "could bring to the community an understanding of the teaching being done in the theater department" and that they could also have an opportunity to show what they had learned.

The 13 productions this summer will be completely produced by the students involved. The casts will be taken from two days of tryouts, May 29 and June 4. The casting will be done entirely on the tryouts. Stroman said that a list of 20 people will be compiled from candidates from throughout the state.

The 13-week season will open June 8. The first four plays that will be produced are "Harvey," "Ramsack Inn," "Dial M for Murder" and "Lo and Behold." Other plays to be presented include "Life With Father," "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "The Bat."

According to Stroman, tickets will be down in price this summer. All tickets will be $1 and a season ticket may be purchased for $11. A total of 13 plays will be presented. The plays will run from Wednesday through Sunday.

"Harvey" will open June 8. The main character, Elwood P. Dowd, served as provost. Professor Lees retired in 1923 and died in California in 1926. The University had been the center of his life and he wished to come here for eternity.

Dr. Lees is particularly remembered by John Selleck for the tours he guided in Europe. When Selleck was a small boy he went on a tour with his parents and sister that was guided by Dr. Lees. Dr. Lees took about 30 University students and their parents or people from around Lincoln on these summer trips.

Dr. Dann, art professor, went along on the trips and gave art lectures as did Dr. Lees. Dr. Dann brought back colored slides of the trips and showed them in a one hour credit course.

Near the Lees Memorial can be discovered a tree surrounded by a wrought iron fence. The Schiller Linden Tree was planted in 1905 by the late Professor Laurence Fossler in honor of the German poet Schiller.

The fence was placed around the tree when it was planted on the centennial of Schiller's birth. The marker was torn down by students during the first World War. In 1933 the fence was replaced at memorial services for Professor Fossler, one of the University's best loved teachers.

Ag Honorary Takes In 16 NU Seniors

Gamma Sigma Delta, national honor society of agriculture, initiated 16 College seniors at the annual initiation banquet Tuesday.

Seniors elected to membership are Fred Adams, Alois Bell, Merwyn Davidson, Brock Dutton, Willard Holz, Dwight Jundt, Ray Kelley, Ralph J. Knobel, Gerald Kransau, Dale Nitzel, Donald Novotny, Rolla Swanson, Richard Tyrell and Charles Watson.

Seven faculty members and 16 graduate students were also initiated into the society.

Faculty members are Raymond Allmans, Vincent Arthaud, Harold Ball, Michael Boosalis, Milo Munggaard, Ervin Schleicher and Howard Wiegars.

Graduate students are Grant Cornelius, Deidrich Dyck, Roger Essman, Arthur Guieand, Clinton Hoover, Loren Johnson, Henry Key Allan Moore, Millard Stank, Arthur Struennpler, Ernesto Wende, Richard Wiese, Howard Wittmuss and Arlan Woltemath.

Dean of Ag College W. V. Lamert, National President of Gamma Sigma Delta, presented the Award of Merit in recognition of outstanding service to agriculture to Chauncey Smith, professor of Agricultural Engineering.

Arthur George, master of ceremonies, presented awards to James Dunn, the sophomore with the highest scholarship rank in Ag College, and to Rolla Swanson, the holder of the highest senior scholastic average in Ag College.

Rev. Charles Kemp, pastor of the First Christian Church, spoke on the topic "Honor Society of Life."

Mrs. Louise Baker Wilson, well-known author, was initiated an honorary member into Theta Sigma Phi at formal initiation ceremonies Sunday.

The initiation was followed by a reception tea for alums, some faculty members and journalism faculty wives.

Theta Sigma Phi will hold an initiation June 5 for senior pledges Marilyn Sheldon and Kathryn Bruggmann and the pledging of Lucigrace Switzer and Elizabeth Weber who could not attend the Ivy Day breakfast.

Mrs. Wilson, who lost a leg while a child, has written such books as "Out On A Limb," "Her Twelve Men," "Snips and Snails" and "Party Line."

She has also written over 100 articles and short stories.

Two Fraternities Tell Merger Decision; Delta Sigma Phi Plans June 4 Initiation

Delta Sig will be June 4. "We think the merger will be of help to both groups," said Ron Scheerer, president of Delta Alpha Pi.

Delta Alpha Pi was organized as a local fraternity for veterans on the Nebraska campus, Scheerer said. The only restriction on membership was that each member be a veteran, he said.

The group adopted its name from an inactive national fraternity, he said, and was run on the order of a fraternity with pledgeship, ritual and meetings.

Frank Lloyd, regional field representative of Delta Sigma Phi completed arrangements for the merger. The unification of the two groups was officially announced by Delta Sigma Phi national headquarters May 16.

Chapter House Arrangements are being made for the chapter to occupy a chapter house next fall, according to Johnson. The Delta Sig house at 1701 D St. was sold recently and members have been living out in Lincoln, he said.

The Delta Sigs are looking forward to a full social calendar as well as active participation in all University events in the fall," Scheerer said.

Delta Sigma Phi was founded in 1899 at City College of New York and at the University of Nebraska in 1925. The fraternity was inactive during World War II and was reactivated in 1947.

With the addition of the veteran members, the Delta Sigs should have approximately 28 actives and 25 pledges, Johnson said.

AIA Elects Peterson New Branch President Alan Petersen, Junior in Engineering, was elected president of the University of Nebraska branch of the American Institute of Architects.

Other officers include vice president, John Rudd, junior in engineering; secretary, Norman Mann, tors, Jerry Spencer and Roger Schutte, juniors in engineering.

The Outside World British Labor Unrest

Industrial unrest has proved a shot in the arm for campaigning for Thursday's general election in Britain. Five major seaports have been paralyzed by striking dock workers. And there is a threat of a nationwide rail strike.

According to the experts, this labor unrest will probably help the cause of the conservatives, since it may cause the uncommitted middle class voters to be frightened of labor candidates.

The previous campaigning had failed to excite more than apathy from the voters. The labor party has been hammering at the high cost of living, while the conservatives have pointed to the prosperity which they claim to have brought the country.

Postal Veto Stays The Senate Tuesday upheld President Eisenhower's vote of a bill to raise salaries of 50,000 postal workers 8.8 per cent. The vote closely followed party lines.

Senator Carlson (Rep-Kan.) has announced he will introduce a new postal pay raise bill conforming to the President's proposals. Eisenhower had insisted before the last bill was passed that he would veto any bill granting a pay raise of more than 8 per cent.

Big Talk Predictions Western observers in Moscow are predicting the Soviet will soon accept the invitation of the West to top level Big Four talks this summer, in spite of sharp criticism in the Soviet press this last week.

It is being forecast in Moscow that acceptance will come before the end of June. Nothing in the Soviet press has criticized the desirability of holding a conference, and the criticism is interpreted as an attempt to insure that the conference will meet with Soviet terms.

Tito Remains Firm Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has pledged his coming meeting with Russian leaders does not mean Yugoslavia will deviate from its policy of firm independence. The meeting is scheduled for later this month.

Concert Scheduled Friday Student Recalls Three Years' Duty With Army Field Band

The U.S. Army Field Band, scheduled to present a free concert in the Coliseum Friday evening, got its start as a war band during World War II.

The band was originally formed from men of different combat units during the last of the war by Maj. Chester Whiting to sell bonds. It was called the Army Ground Forces Band.

Geography Club Holds Initiation

Two graduate students were initiated into Gamma Theta Upsilon, national honorary geography fraternity, at its regular meeting Monday.

Ashes Buried Memorial To Professor Located On NU Campus

Unknown to many students the ashes of a former University professor are buried on campus. At the foot of a tree near the Schiller Linden tree north of the Architectural Hall can be found a gray rock on which is inscribed the following: "Dr. James Thomas Lees; He Served Well; 1889-1926."

Green Elected Cosmopolitan Club Plans Coming Year

Gunnar Green recently was elected president of Cosmopolitan Club. Other officers are Valda Janson, vice president; Nancy Fritsch, treasurer, and Marina Wischnewsky, secretary.
