Peterson 'Any Enemy Attack Successful Enough'

"Some Nebraskans are under the illusion they're safe" from any future enemy air attack, Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val were moved to the city's edge" Peterson told an audience of 200 without a fender being scratched." at a University convocation Monday afternoon.

Traditional Midwestern complacency is outmoded, he said. pointing out that bombs dropped on Offut Air Force Base at Omaha and Ellsworth Air Base at Rapid City, S. D., would expose one-third of Nebraska's population to radio-active fallout, many fatally. The Lincoln Air Force Base is assumed to be a primary target, Peterson added.

American air defense, Peterson asserted, cannot "keep any enemy air attack from being successful" enough for an enemy's purposes. That possibility, he said, when coupled with the fact of history that diplomats have not been able to keep the peace for long periods of time, provides the necessity for civil defense.

The former Nebraska governor defined civil defense as "an attempt to minimize the effects of atomic attack." Although it may be "another nuisance of society," Peterson called it "another dimen-sion of citizenship, another require ment."

He said he had gathered from ton, D.C. maknewspaper accounts that "utter ing final arindifference" to the need for civil rangements for defense prevails in Lincoln.
