On The Social Side:

Parties Celebrate Win

By GRACE HARVEY Social Editor

Two house parties led the social festivities at NU last week end. Miscellaneous activities included a small migration to Manhattan for the football game plus Saturday afternoon clubs encamped at various places with their ears tuned to the World Series on one hand and the Husker-Wildcat battle on the other.

The Alpha Xi Delta French Cafe Party featured decorations consisting of French awnings, candlelight and posters depicting French scenes and art. Guys and dolls danced to the music of Jimmy Phillips' orchestra. Co-planners of the party were Lorajane Baskin and Kay Kenney.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its traditional fall Western Party Saturday night. Lawn decorations included a corral gate and buggy and hay was strewn around inside and used for seats. Costumed couples sashayed to the strains of Western music by a four-piece "genuine" Western band. The party was under the direction of social chairman John Wisenstein.
