

First 'Star Of Week' Award Presented To Erway, Taylor

By JACK CARLIN
Staff Sports Writer

Don Erway, Nebraska's quarterback and the Big Seven's leading scorer and Bill Taylor, hustling Husker guard have been named recipients of The Nebraskan's "Star of the Week" award. This honor was awarded to Erway and Taylor on the basis of their outstanding play in the previous Cornhusker tilts.

This award is the first of this semester and will be awarded each pected, he also handles the conversions.

Being responsible, either directly or indirectly, for all but one of Nebraska's touchdowns describes Erway once again. In Manhattan last Saturday he plunged to paydirt twice and added a fieldgoal and an extra point. To date, this ranks as the Big Seven's top individual performance.

Against mighty Ohio State he scampered to one touchdown and passed to Jon McWilliams for another. John Edwards keeps him from a clean sweep with his unbelievable scoring dash resulting from an intercepted pitch-out against Cassidy and company.

Erway spent three years at Lincoln High School, where he was a three sport letterman. For two years he excelled in football, receiving all-state recognition in his senior year and to cap his high school football days he played in the High School All American Classic in Memphis. In basketball he was a unanimous selection for all-state honors in his senior year. Three years of varsity baseball rounded out his high school sports career.

"A real holler guy and one of the top hustlers on the squad," amiably describes Bill Taylor, according to several of his teammates. He is the best pound for pound value on the team. At 170 pounds he asks and gives no odds on the gridiron. Named to captain the Huskers against the Buckeyes of Ohio State Taylor truly emphasized his spirit and desire to play the game.

In the first quarter he was cleated in the face and left the field to have the ugly gash stitched. In the third quarter he led the spirited Huskers onto the field, despite his injury and remained in the game until a stray elbow removed a tooth and him from the game in the fourth quarter. He was cited by many for outstanding line play at Manhattan last Saturday.

lor's weight is always less than that of his opposing lineman, however, the opposition readily learns to respect him.

With the lineman titled the unsung hero, it takes words from coaches, newspapermen, sportscasters, football scouts, etc. to evaluate his prowess not the long touchdown run. Coach Bill Glassford does this directly and to the point in saying, "Taylor is a great competitor and spark in the Nebraska line."

Taylor was an all-state football player for North Platte in 1949, his senior year. He played with the North Platte varsity for two years.

week following. The award recognizes the outstanding athletic performance by a varsity athlete during the previous week.

Erway Versatile

Erway, a junior, is a rugged 190 pounder and clips the tape at an even six feet. Not only has he established himself as a fine signal caller and passer, he has received due credit for his kicking abilities. As a punter, Erway ranks high among Big Seven competitors with an average of 34.9 yards for 11 boots. In the Kansas State game Erway gained even more respect as a kicking specialist with a 30 yard field goal. As could be ex-

The "Star of the Week" award is the second in a series which will be continued throughout the semester. Voting is done by the male side of the Nebraskan staff. A certificate is given each week's star.

The purpose of the award is to recognize outstanding athletic achievements by members of the University varsity — not only in the major sports—but also in the many areas of our fine minor

In IM Play: Phi Psi's Clobber Farmhouse 27-0

By ED KEMBLE
Intramural Editor

Phi Kappa Psi sunk Farmhouse, 27-0, in intramural touch football play Wednesday. The Phi Psi's tallied twice in the first quarter on a pass from Duane Rankin to Don Frei, and on a 40 yard sprint by Frei. Gene Welch hit Rankin with a TD pass in the third period, and Welch ran 10 for another in the 4th.

A pair of close ones saw Seaton II stop Burnett House, 6-0, and Gustavson I slip by Benton House by the same 6-0 count.

Closer still was Phi Gamma Delta's 12-6 overtime win over Phi Delta Theta.

Delta Upsilon spotted Alpha Tau Omega a first quarter touchdown, then racked up a second period TD and a safety to go ahead themselves. A final quarter marker put the game on ice for the D.U.'s, 15-6.

Selleck House took to the air for three touchdowns and a 19-0 whitewash of Hitchcock.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, scoring in every quarter, rolled over Alpha Gamma Rho, 34-6.

Seaton I won from Boucher House on a forfeit.

Freshmen Skirmish Friday

University freshman squad has been split into two squads, the Reds and Whites, for a full-scale game scrimmage to be held Friday starting at 4:15, Coach Ed Nyden announced.

The yearlings will play a game a week until their first test against Iowa State here Oct. 28.

Coach Nyden said the freshman squad is deepest at the fullback position. He has moved three to other positions which need bolstering. Don Hinkle and Malvin Dohrman have been switched to guard. Keith Gibson is at end.

Richard McCashland, Howard McVay and Larry Naviaux are battling for the top fullback spot at the moment.

Glenn Hoy, brother of Rex Hoy who lettered at guard four years from 1946 to 1951 with time out for war service, has been showing fine potential. Glenn played with College View High School before entering the University.

Jim Duff, 210-pounder, has been running at the number one center position. Dick Washut has been moving steadily forward at a guard position.

Bennie Dillard, 158-pound halfback, has been slightly terrific, according to Nyden. Bennie has run the 100-yards in :09.8 and this speed, plus being an excellent pass defender and sure tackler tab him for greater things in store.

Sally is Planting the Ivy...

Bernie Randolph is proudly displaying the Ivy leaf that Sally Berg has planted... and why not, it typifies the new, natural look with the "touch of Ivy." His suit ($60) by Campus Togs is three button, natural shoulder, and features the plain front pant. This look is a specialty at ben Simon's new Ivy Shop.

Sally Berg... like most coeds... is proud of the Ivy Leaf, too... her new suit by Fashion Towne has a "Touch of Ivy" in its box styling and corduroy lining ($49.95). She is right in style for that Sunday night dinner date.

Water BBall Slated Oct. 8

Oct. 8th's, opening day schedule of water-basketball begins at 10 a.m. with a shallow water match between Ag Men and Alpha Gamma Rho.

The remainder of the morning's shallow water games pit Presby House vs. Beta Theta Pi at 10:30, Phi Delta Theta against Hitchcock House at 11, and Phi Gamma Delta vs. Delta Upsilon at 11:30.

Deep water action will see Seaton I meet Andrews House at 10:30, Sigma Alpha Epsilon square off against Delta Tau Delta at 11, and Phi Delta Theta go in with Phi Kappa Psi at 11:30.

Team managers' note: Swimming permits must be secured at the Student Health Center before your game.

Noon Saturday, Oct. 8, is the deadline for qualifying rounds of the intramural free-throw shooting contest to be turned in.

Bill Orwig, director of athletics, has been named to represent the Big Seven directors on the Big Seven Orange Bowl committee for 1955-56.
