Innocents: Letters To Invite Parents

Letters inviting parents to the annual Parents Day Oct. 29 are now being distributed to all organized houses. Parents Day is sponsored by the Innocents Society.

Each student will receive a letter which he is to enclose in his letter home, Dick Fellman, Parents Day chairman, said. This letter is a special invitation to parents to come for the Kansas-Nebraska game, to tour the campus and to visit with their sons and daughters.

A coupon is enclosed to send for tickets. A special block of 800 seats has been reserved for parents. The Union is holding a coffee hour with Chancellor Clifford Hardin, members of the Board of Regents and deans in attendance.

The College of Agriculture is holding its alumni reunion, Ag Days also. The card section, yell squad and band will hold a special program during intermission of the football game.

Tickets for all football games are usually hard to obtain but in the block that has been reserved there are room for many parents, Fellman said. All parents have to do is tear off the coupon at the bottom of the letter and send it with their money to the football ticket office, he added.

MB Average Raised To 6.2

The scholarship requirements for membership in Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, has been raised from weighted 6.1 to 6.2, the society announced Monday.

In an open letter to underclass women, the Mortar Boards said they seek campus leaders who have achieved a well-balanced college life and are outstanding in their participation in the campus community.

Mortar Board feels that scholarship, is of great importance, the letter said, so the weighted average for initiation was set at 6.2. The scholarship requirement is arbitrarily set for each year by the new Mortar Boards.

Library:

Whitman Centennial Celebrated

Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," published one hundred years ago, will be the subject of a centennial celebration in Love Library this month, according to Bernard Kriessman, publicity director of the library.

The centennial is being celebrated in colleges and universities all over the country, Kriessman said. Brooklyn College has presented a play entitled "I, Walt Whitman," and New York University and Stanford University have published several volumes of Whitman's works, he said.

The Library of Congress has presented three lectures on Whitman and presented several major exhibits. Celebrations are also being held in such major foreign cities as London, Paris and Mexico City.

Love Library has constructed an exhibit in the Humanities Room and the browsing room on the second floor, displaying material of all types on Whitman, Kriessman said.

The main part of the exhibit will center around copies of the first three editions of "Leaves of Grass," published in 1855, 1856 and 1860-61. Other material on display includes "As a Strong Bird on a Pinious Tree" and "Two Rivulettes."

Facsimile copies of some of Whitman's manuscripts, borrowed from the collection of Charles E. Leinberg of Detroit, are on display. Displays are arranged showing Whitman's books as they would have been when they were first published, Kriessman said.

Because of the centennial, several books have been published on Whitman this year, and are on display at Love Library, he said.

KUON-TV will use material from Walt Whitman on one of their shows presented by the English department.

Homemakers To Convene

The fourth annual Home Economics Day starts its sessions Tuesday on Ag Campus with an expected attendance of 2000 homemakers from all parts of the state. Speakers, a business meeting, noon entertainment and a panel discussion will be included in an all day program to be held in the College Activities Building.

Weather 'r Not

"Fair to partly cloudy" is the word from the weather bureau. The high Tuesday is supposed to be near 80 with a low of 56 Tuesday night.

The Outside World:

Ike Still Improving

By FRED DALY
News Editor

President Eisenhower continued to progress satisfactorily Monday, government sources said, as he resigned himself to a long period of recovery and convalescence. He may be kept out of the White House for the rest of the year.

Expert medical opinion, saying it is impossible to say now whether he will be "physically able" to run again, has heightened prospects that he will retire at the end of his present term. Medical bulletins now say he "continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

The President met Sunday with Vice President Richard Nixon to set up a schedule for Cabinet members and other top executives to visit Eisenhower.

Hitler's Death Verified

A Nazi army major, recently released from prison, who served Adolph Hitler as valet said that he himself poured gasoline on the dictator and his mistress and watched their bodies burn. The day was April 30, 1945, and the Nazi government was about collapsed in ruins between the Allied and Russian armies.

The dictator shot himself in the temple, and Eva Braun, whom he married a few minutes before, took poison. After Allied forces captured Berlin, a series of stories about the possibility of Hitler being alive grew up.

Several rumors had him alive to this day, perhaps living secretly in Argentina.

French Control Shifts

A new majority in the French Parliament, made up of Socialists supported by Communists, has sprung up recently as a leftist movement. Premier Edgar Faure is now a virtual prisoner of the majority, instead of the rightist majority that put him in power Feb. 22.

However, the new majority is said to be so fluid and incohesive that it may split within weeks despite the urgent pressure of international problems.

The first test is expected Tuesday when the National Assembly having approved the government's Moroccan policy will be asked to approve its policy for Algeria.

USSR Power Discussed

Russia's military threat has never been greater, a high British officer warned the West Monday, but it does not mean the Russians want to start a world conflict. Gen. Sir John Whiteley, a NATO representative in the Pentagon, spoke to the defense ministers of the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He said Russia has achieved a great success with jet fighters and bombers, with nuclear weapons and with submarines.

The ministers began their three-day discussion well aware that it was the strength of NATO which may have brought about the milder temperature of the cold war.

French Drop Recalls

French Defense Minister Pierre Billotte finished an inspection trip to Morocco and brought back a statement that he did not think it would be necessary to order further recalls of reservists to fight outbreak of guerrilla warfare in Morocco.

Five hundred army draftees had mutinied in Rosen when the army tried to ship them to North Africa, and resentment was fast undermining the position of Premier Faure.

Regents Shift TV License

Saturday Meeting Approves Exchange Of Lots With DU's

University television station KUON-TV has been assigned to the Board of Regents, pending the reclassification of the channel to a non-commercial basis.

The license for the station has previously been held by Byron Dunn of Lincoln as trustee for the Cornhusker Radio and TV Corporation.

Reclassification of the station's channel 12 to a non-commercial basis must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission, the Regents said.

The station will continue to be operated on an experimental basis until the reclassification is complete, the Regents explained.

Possible long-range developments, including the building of studios for the station, will remain undetermined, Chancellor Clifford Hardin said.

KUON-TV is working well within its budget, he said, and will continue to do so unless the University decides to build. For this purpose, he said, the University hopes to obtain grants.

The station currently features educational programs, documentaries, children's features and programs on various aspects of the University.

College credit courses in beginning French and German are presently being offered.

Art: Weaving Exhibit Displayed

A showing of contemporary hand weaving opened the University Art Gallery's new season. This exhibition, co-sponsored by the University Art Galleries and the Lincoln Weavers Guild, is a competitive affair made up of entries from six states: New Hampshire, Kentucky, Minnesota, New Mexico, Washington and Nebraska.

Jurors for the exhibition are Else Regensteiner, head of the department of weaving at the Art Institute of Chicago, and Karl Lauring, head of the department of weaving and textile design at the School for American Craftsmen, Rochester, New York.

Entries are made in four classifications: drapery and upholstery textiles; clothing textiles; decorative and utilitarian textiles, and experimental weaving.

Assisting the Art Galleries in the organization of the exhibition was a special committee of Lincoln Weavers Guild consisting of Mrs. B. A. Isaman, chairman; Miss Inez Cook; Mrs. J. K. Mullen, and Mrs. O. E. Wohlberg.

The exhibition opened Sunday afternoon. Tea was served from three to five o'clock to all visitors. On Oct. 30, a panel discussion is being held on the topic of hand Weaving at the Art Galleries.

Ag Students To Elect Queen

Farmers' Formal queen finalists will be selected Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in an election at the Ag Student Union.

Five finalists will be chosen, with the winner being announced at the Farmers' Formal Dance, Oct. 15.

Senior girls in Agriculture with a minimum accumulated average of 5.5 are eligible for the title.

All students enrolled in the College of Agriculture are eligible to vote.

The Faculty Women's Club will hold their first meeting of the year with a tea at Chancellor Hardin's residence Wednesday from 2-5 p.m.

WUS Project

A World University Service medical team is shown administering inoculations in an attempt to control plague in India. This is one phase of WUS projects to aid students throughout the world. WUS will receive 25 per cent of the funds collected in the AUF drive, Oct. 11 to Oct. 27.

Solicitation To Begin: Wagner Set To Address AUF Kick-Off Banquet

Frederick Wagner, 1956 state chairman of the American Cancer Society drive and former county attorney, will be the principal speaker at the annual AUF Kick-Off dinner Tuesday, Cynthia Henderson AUF Board member, announced.

One of the founding members of AUF, Robert Henderson, will also be a special guest at the banquet. Henderson, Cliff Bloom and Chuck Drake organized the first campus clarity drive in 1944.

All AUF Board members and assistants will attend the banquet. The Union will again donate food for the banquet, as a contribution to AUF.

James Norvell, an official in the Nebraska division of the American Cancer Society will also attend the banquet.

Entertainment will be provided by Nancy Boedecker, pianist, and the Phi Delta Theta band, which Jim Peterson directs.

Following the banquet, AUF board members and workers will solicit independent students living in Lincoln. Judy Joyce, AUF Board members said that all University students who are unaffiliated will be contacted by the drive.

Rev. Rex Knowles, AUF sponsor will address the group before the drive begins. Workers will meet in Love Library Auditorium at 7 p.m.

AUF funds will be apportioned among the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, Lancaster County Association for Retarded Children (LARC School), World University Service, and the Lincoln Community Chest.

AUF Board members solicited students at the medical school in Omaha Monday. Receipts were excellent, Gail Katske, AUF vice-president, said.

Music School To Present Faculty Recital

Three University faculty members will appear in recital Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union in the first of a series of faculty recitals planned this season.

They are: Dale Ganz, assistant professor of voice; and Marilyn Schultz and Mary Jane Waggoner, both instructors in piano.

Ganz, a baritone, will sing six folk songs. They are: "Ballymore Ballad," Irish; "When Dull Care," English; "Der Gang zum Liebschen," Bohemian; "Wi' a Hundred Pipers," Scotch; "The Gambler's Lament," American; and "Gambler, Don't Lose Your Place," American.

Miss Schultz will play "Ballade, Opus 52," by Chopin.

Miss Waggoner will play "Prelude and Fugue, No. 15, Book II," by Bach; "Lilacs," "Prelude Opus 23, No. 2," and "Prelude, Opus 32, No. 5," all by Rachmaninoff; and "Toccata," by Chanler.

Walter Schmidt, club president, announced that anyone interested is invited to attend.

Hello Girl Chosen

Elaine Sachschesky, sophomore in home economics, was crowned 1955 Hello Girl Saturday at the annual Hello Girl Dance sponsored by BABW in the Union Ballroom.

Chosen from five finalists, Miss Sachschesky was presented with her title at intermission. She was chosen by popular vote of those present.

Other candidates, selected from University independent women on the basis of activities, personality, poise and scholarship were Evonne Einspahr, Nadyne Snyder, Hanna Rosenberg and Marion Sokol.

Miss Sachschesky's activities include secretary of the Ag Union Student-Faculty committee, Gamma Delta, Tassels, Ag-WCA, Coed Counselors, Home Economics Club and Love Hall.

New Music Group: Selleck Quadrangle Organizes Glee Club

Selleck Quadrangle's glee club held its first meeting Thursday. The newly organized group met for the introduction of members, reading of the rules, and some preliminary vocalizing.

Dick Oehring, organizer and director of the club, told the 40 men who attended the meeting that he expected them to be ready for a public appearance by early December. The music to be used, he said, will range from "western to Stravinsky."

Election of club officers, who will constitute a governing council, will be held at the next meeting. Fred Hiu has been appointed temporary librarian.

Al Calvert, resident advisor of the Quad, is the club's sponsor. The members include: first tenors: Bill Duffey, Ernie English, Wayne Buehrer, James Feistner, Alan Heim, Walt Hutchison, Ed Kemble, Kent Noorlag, Al Steels.
