any questions? . . .

Oh yes, why this column? While scrounging around in the files of The Nebraskan, the latest in a long line of sports editors saw a sports column with a somewhat familiar and repugnant face on it. Thinking fast and truly, he thought this person could be persuaded to fill up space on the third page with very little amount of persuasion. It's true, my services sell very cheaply.

The latest incident in the battle of the Lincoln metropolitan press versus loyal elements of the University concerns a pictorial representation of two football uniforms which seem to have been intended to be worn by two sports editors (who shall forever remain anonymous).

Realizing their lack of leadership, it seems that the team wanted mature leaders and after a deliberative huddle they elected these two anonymous persons "honorary co-captains." Anyway, they wanted these two persons to play on their side.

The Huskers' Don Erway fell back to second place in Big Seven scoring as Oklahoma's Sooners, third-ranking team in the nation and undefeated in three games to date, took a firmer grip on the Big Seven Conference football statistics in last weekend's action.

Oklahoma's total offense has moved to 1,162 yards, based on 973 yards rushing and 189 yards passing. In addition, two Oklahomans continued to hold the top spots in rushing, Tommy McDonald, Sooner halfback, who ran for 42 yards against Texas, kept the number one running honors with a total of 244 yards on 35 carries. Jimmy Harris, OU quarterback, has carried 42 times for 196 yards. Homer Jenkins of Colorado advanced from third with 36 for 180 yards. John Bayuk of Colorado, last year's rushing leader, currently ranks twelfth with 119 yards on 32 attempts.

McDonald's two touchdowns against Texas established him solidly as the leading individual scorer with 30 points. Erway has scored 24 points.

Erway stayed among the conference's top three passers with the total of ten completed passes out of 31 heaves for a total yardage of 126 yards. Dave Doane of Missouri, who completed 14 of 22 for 170 yards against SMU, still is on top. His season total is 24 of 51 for 454 yards. Wally Strauch of Kansas has 14 of 37 for 197.

Bob Whitehead of Kansas State didn't add to his total Saturday but remained the number one punt returner with two runbacks averaging 27.5 yards. He is followed by John Traylor, Kansas, and Rex Fischer, Nebraska, with 13 yard averages, and Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma, who has returned five for a 12.4 average. Fischer has brought the ball back three times for a total of 39 yards.

philosophy on pigskin drouth . . .

A football game can come to one of three conclusions. Usually there is a winning team and a losing team and in some instances neither team wins.

In only one of these instances is a football team really happy—that is if they are desirous of success, fame and fortune.

In other words, more times than not, an unhappy team walks off the football field. And there are usually happy and unhappy fans just as there are loyal and not so loyal fans.

And after a football game is over, all of the fans leave the stadium in much the same manner that they came in.

Imagine the little youth of some future date as he questions his old grandfather, class of '55, about that ill fated October Saturday.

"But what good came of it at last?"
Quoth little Peterkin.
"Why that I cannot tell," said he
But 'twas a famous victory."

WAA FAIRER SIDE Soccer Baseball Play Featured WAA Activity

By SAROL WILTSE

When attractive dressed-to-the-minute coeds go out for a delightful and charming game of bridge, that's routine. But when these same ladies change suddenly from sophisticated dress to carefree unpolished tom-boys, that's intramurals.

Yes, many a petite young coed has let her hair down, buried her family pride and gone out for soccer baseball, tennis, and archery tournaments which started last week.

The soccer baseball teams scheduled for this week are the following: Tuesday, Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi vs. Pi Beta Phi, Delta Gamma vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Pi Beta Phi vs. Gamma Phi Beta; Wednesday, Kappa Delta vs. Wilson Hall and the winners of Monday night's games; Thursday, the winners of Tuesday night's games.

Anyone interested in officiating should contact Joan Carroll at the Gamma Phi Beta house. Officiating is a very easy way to acquire the eight points needed for voting credit.

A new club has been formed for all those interested in playing hockey. Anyone interested in participating should come to the Grant Memorial gym this Tuesday.

This year, to help balance the teams, a new rule concerning phys-

IM Managers

All Intramural Managers! Football score sheets must be filled out completely and accurately in order for your team to get credit for each game. This is official.

The NEBRASKAN is limited, for the most part, in its intramural coverage to a report of the score cards. Those teams putting additional information on their score sheets for each game, as had previously been advised, will be given additional space here.

Bulletins on intramural basketball, swimming, indoor track, table tennis, and handball are available to mngers in Room 102 P.A.E.

Pi Kappa Phi eked out a 7-6 win over Tau Kappa Epsilon. Sigma Alpha Mu stopped Theta Xi, 13-7. Sigma Nu took an 8-6 decision from Kappa Sigma.

Powerful Pitt Eleven Looms On NU Horizon

The pigskin spotlight falls on Pitt Stadium this Saturday afternoon as the Nebraska Cornhuskers and the Pittsburgh Panthers tangle in another grid tussle which should thrill the many grid fans.

The Huskers, smarting from a 27-0 setback at the hands of Texas A & M, will be in prime condition for this game. On the other hand, Pitt, who was victorious over Syracuse and California in their opener, has gone down to two powerful teams, Navy and Oklahoma. In the Sooner game, the Panthers picked up a pair of tallies in the second half and played a comparable brand of football.

Nebraska will have their job cut out for them in Saturday's clash as the Panthers possess a fierce "get-up-and-go" attack. Coach Bill Glassford will be looking for a rugged ground on the part of the Pennsylvania boys as they amassed 659 yards on the ground against a total of 204 yards in the air.

The Huskers will have to play good football right from the opening gun as the Panthers have been proved to be a great second half team. They won against Syracuse and California in the second half and scared Oklahoma in the same two periods.

Physically, the Panthers have enjoyed good fortune thus far in the season. Aside from an injury to fullback Tom Jenkins earlier in the season, the team is in excellent shape. Pittsburgh has two outstanding runners in Jenkins and Corky Cost who picked up 51 yards in the Sooner game.

Cost will share passing duties with Cory Salvaterra who completed 8 of 18 passes and also rolled 78 yards on the ground in the Oklahoma tussle. Another backfieldman to watch Saturday will be halfback Dick Bowen.

Bowen, who moved up to the second team after his performance against California, was the leading Panther ball carrier against Syracuse with 46 net yards in 10 attempts.

In attempting to stem the Panther tide, Glassford will have to rely on all tricks he's got up that sleeve. So far, the Husker passing attack has not proved a worthy instrument enough to cut the fighting heart of the opponents.

The Aggie offensive made the Nebraska aerial attack look rather drab. However, the Ohio State performance gives us one consolation that there is still spark left.

Needless to say, the Pitt eleven has the odds in this Saturday's contest. If the Ohio game is any indication of the Husker's reaction to a really rugged team, the Cornhuskers might likely show the many arising dissenters that they do deserve just credit.

Glassford's boys will work at home through Thursdays then will fly to Pittsburgh on Friday. Coach Glassford will be in his home territory so he will probably will be better able to outguess his old acquaintances and new opponents. Let's hope so!
