

To Help With Survey Of Union Needs:

Union-House Representatives To Serve In Liaison Capacity

The Union Board of managers has instituted a plan of house representatives to foster good relations between organized houses and Union projects, Shirley Jesse, Union president, announced Monday.

Representatives will also help in a survey asking students what particular features should be included in the million-dollar addition to the Union, she said. Construction on the addition will begin in the early spring, she said.

The Union addition will extend north from the present building, eliminating the parking lot now there, Miss Jesse said.

House representatives are: Jan Tooley, Alpha Chi Omega; Sara Kirkman, Alpha Omicron Pi; June Stefanisin, Alpha Phi; Dian Hahn, Alpha Xi Delta; Jan Aunspaugh, Chi Omega.

Sara Alexander, Pi Beta Phi; Rosalie Goldstein, Sigma Delta Tau; Marlene Santin, Sigma Kappa; Gayle Harms, International House; Jan Swanson, Love Memorial Hall; Mitzi Brooks, Terrace

Debate Teams To Address H.S. Students

Between 200 and 250 Nebraska high school students are expected to attend the annual High School Institute for students of social studies and debate, Saturday at Temple building.

The topic for discussion will be: "Expanding Educational Opportunities."

Donald Olson, assistant professor of speech and director of debate, said the program will open with a talk by Dr. Wesley Poe, director of Junior Division and Counseling Services.

A panel discussion on the educational policy will be held by University debaters Jerry McGaffey, Allan Overcash, Richard Andrews and Jerry Igou.

A University team, consisting of Andrews and Igou, will debate a University of Kansas team on the proposition: Resolved: That governmental subsidies should be granted according to need to high school graduates who qualify for additional training.

Olson said the high school students will be given an opportunity to participate in two sessions of informal discussion on the following questions: "What should be the goals of an educational policy designed to increase educational opportunity beyond high school?" "What problems do we face in attempting to increase educational opportunities beyond high school?" and "What types of educational policy might best increase educational opportunities beyond high school?"

The Institute is being sponsored by the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art in cooperation with the Nebraska High School Activities Association and the State Department of Education.

Judy Douthit:

Queen Contestant Amazed At Accents

Judy Douthit, entrant in the contest for queen of the American Royal Horse Show, returned from Kansas City Sunday night amazed at "all the Southern accents down there."

Miss Douthit was winner in the preliminary contest at McCook. Around 40 girls, winners in local contests, took part in the queen competition in Kansas City. States represented were Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, and Nebraska.

"It was the first time that I had seen big horse show," Miss Douthit said. The American Royal Livestock and Horse Show is the largest show of its kind in the world. Persons from all over the United States go there to show their horses, she added.

Miss Douthit is a freshman in Teachers College and a member of Delta Delta Delta.

Leaving on Wednesday for Kansas City, Miss Douthit spent five days in Kansas City on her all-expense-paid trip. Wednesday evening the formal judging took place. The girls wore formal and walked in front of a backdrop decoration of a gilded horse's head, symbolic of the American Royal Show. Numbered arm bands were the only identification of the candidates in the contest, Miss Douthit said.

"I liked the parade on Saturday the best," she commented. Decorated floats, 26 bands and over 1,000 riders took part in the parade. The 26-man Treasure Island Navy drill team was an interesting part of the parade, she added. There was also a United Nations anniversary float with 60 children dressed in costumes of member nations.

"The horse show was spectacular. The jumpers and hunters division impressed me the most; I had never seen anything of the type," Miss Douthit said. "I can ride but I don't consider myself an accomplished horse woman," she added.

Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher were guests at the Cornation Ball which was held on Friday. The queen and the two princesses reigned at the dance.

No Hours:

Colorado Approves Proposal

INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS BULLETIN—Boulder, Colo.—Senior women at the University of Colorado will be free to stay out as late as they wish this year, according to an announcement by Dean of Women Mary-Ethel Ball. The proposal has been approved by the Board of Regents, the University Executive Committee and President Ward Darley.

Under the plan, door keys will be given to each senior, the cost being absorbed by a key deposit. Seniors would be required to sign out of their residence when they intend to be out beyond the regular closing hours, or overnight.

Falsification of information on signout slips or abuse of the key privilege would be subject to severe penalty. Persons supervising the program would reserve the right to check signout information at any time.

The dean's office believes senior girls are mature enough to be trusted with the new privilege. It was pointed out that the plan will be evaluated each year and that the Associated Women Students organization is free to revoke it each year.

"By the time a woman is within 30 hours of graduation she is capable of accepting the responsibility of no hours, and such responsibility is good preparation for the independent life after graduation," commented an AWS official.

Three Educators To Attend AEA

Three University educators will participate in the annual national conference of the Adult Education Association, to be held Nov. 11-13 at St. Louis, Mo.

They are: Dr. Otto Holberg, coordinator of community service, a member of the Association's executive committee and chairman of the committee on legislative policy.

Dr. Walter Beggs, chairman of the department of history and principles of education, who will serve as chairman of a discussion group. Dr. Knute Broady, director of University Extension Division.

Navy Science Interviewers To Visit NU

Representatives from the Naval Ordnance Test Stations at China Lake and Pasadena, Calif., will interview seniors and graduate students Friday.

The laboratories scientific programs offer areas of work such as guided missile science, rocketry, electronic technology, equipment development and structures research, according to the U. S. Naval Laboratories.

Graduate courses are given by the University of California so employees may complete requirements for advanced degrees, in connection with the Navy program.

Information about the Navy Department's policies on deferments, promotions, retirement and leave benefits will be given to interested students by the laboratories' scientists and engineers on campus.

Appointments may be made by contacting the Navy ROTC department.

Sigma Delta Chi To Hold Meeting

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity for men, will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the typography laboratory of Burnett Hall, Charlie Beal, president, announced.

Plans will be made for national convention to be held in Chicago in November, and for the Nebraska High School Press Convention to be held Nov. 4 and 5, in Lincoln.

NU Rifle Club To Hold First Meeting Of Year

University Rifle Club is holding its first meeting Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Military and Naval Science Building Room 19.

All those interested in rifle shooting are invited to attend, according to Capt. Arthur Belknap.

'Billboard' Magazine:

Flanagan Band Named Year's Best In 1950

Ralph Flanagan, who will play for the Homecoming Dance Nov. 12, was classed as the top band of the year in 1950, according to a poll in the "Billboard" magazine.

This was just a few months after the Flanagan band made its public debut.

Flanagan didn't become interested in music until he was 17, a year after he graduated from high school. Within a short time he was working with small combos and bands around his home town of Lorain, O.

On his twenty-first birthday, Flanagan got a job as pianist-arranger for Sammy Kaye and his band. In 1942, he enlisted in the United States Maritime Service. While serving his four years, he arranged for the service band.

On March 15, 1950, Flanagan and his own band made its debut. Three days later, on Saturday night, the state police were enlisted to help close the doors of the capacity filled ballroom. Soon after, Flanagan was signed for the "ABC's of Music" radio series.

By 1951, Flanagan was doing a weekly ABC network show for U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting. He had worked a total of $74 out of a possible $94 days.

In his first year, he grossed a half-million dollars, played "in person" to an estimated three million persons, had 44 weeks of sponsored commercial radio shows on the CBS and ABC networks.

Flanagan first made the recording of George Gershwin's "An American in Paris" in dance tempo after receiving special permission from Ira Gershwin.

Some of his other outstanding arrangements are "Joshua," "Gianina Mia," "Stars and Stripes Forever," "Nevertheless," "Singing Winds," "Slow Drive" and "The Winky Dink."

Tickets for the dance will be $3 a couple. They will go on sale the last week of October.

NU Coed Wears Grid Paraphernalia

Football pants, shoulder pads, headgear, sweatshirt and spiked shoes may seem normal enough for grid stars, but it presents a rather unique outfit for one University coed.

Stephanie Sherdeman, Arts and Science sophomore, will be appearing in just such garb for her title role in the Lincoln Community Playhouse production of "Time Out For Ginger."

Miss Sherdeman's role, that of a girl who reports out for the football squad, calls for a good deal of hip-swivelling action — football style of course.

Miss Sherdeman, whose home is California, is the daughter of Ted Sherdeman, Hollywood screen writer whose "The McConnell Story" recently played in Lincoln. She chose the University because her father also attended the University.

Another leading role in the Playhouse opener will be played by Mrs. Jeanne Quate, wife of Entomology Professor Larry Quate.
