

Conference Record Intact As Huskers Drop Cyclones

Iowa State Jinx Plagues NU In 10-7 Victory

Near-jinxes are not common except when the Cornhusker football team journeys to Iowa State every odd-numbered year to engage the Cyclone grid crew as they did last Saturday, and again eke out a 10-7 victory before 12,000 fans.

After an exchange of punts to start the game, the Big Red tramped 75 yards to score with Willie Greenlaw going the last three yards to score. Field General Don Erway booted the extra point and the Huskers were in business. Twice more in the first half the Big Red drove into Iowa State territory only to have their thrusts spiked by a spirited Cyclone line.

In the second half, Rex Fischer, backfield star for the long afternoon, intercepted an Iowa State aerial and returned it to the Husker 44. The Oakland speedster led the attack that carried to their opponent's seven yard marker. With a fourth down-and-five situation, Erway booted his second field goal of the season.

In the final period the Cyclones got a break when Ron Hansen got loose on a punt return and was finally overhauled by Erway on the Nebraska 25. Then the Iowa Staters completed their second pass of the afternoon which put the pigskin on the Husker six. Hansen, a transplanted Omahan carried the ball into the end zone on the next play.

The Cyclones had two more chances, one by land and the other by air. The Husker defense held on both occasions and Nebraska won its fourth conference game of the season to remain in a first place tie with the Sooners from Oklahoma.

when Fred Rippel, the only Cyclone ground gainer of any importance, tackled Fischer after Rex had gone 39 yards on a dive buck. In the process of making the stop on Cornhusker he broke his clavicle, a part of the collar bone, and watched the rest of the game from the bench. Until then, he had been a definite thorn in the side of the Big Red.

The vaunted passing attack of the Cyclones failed to materialize against the stout pass defense the Huskers set up. Until the Iowa State contest the Cornhuskers ranked sixth in the nation in pass defense. After the contest the stock must have risen since the Cyclones threw a total of 19 passes for a net yardage of 18.

The team was definitely "flat." The Big Red was probably looking forward to the contest with Colorado this week. On the other hand, the Cyclone was operating at .90 mach. (90 per cent of maximum capacity)—the Staters were missing a few important players that could have conceivably meant a difference. This week the Buffaloes journey to Memorial Stadium in hopes of revenging the 20-6 pasting administered by the Cornhuskers. It was Homecoming on the Boulder campus and the Buffaloes were undefeated going into the game.

IM Tourney: Betas Bump Delts 13-6 For B Crown

CITY NE—Canfield vs. Selleck
SE—Avery vs. MacLean
SW—Dental College vs. Phi Epsilon Kappa

Beta Theta Pi won the intramural touch football B Team championship Monday with a 13-6 triumph over Delta Tau Delta B. Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Tau Delta set the stage for Wednesday's A finals by whipping Delta Upsilon and Phi Gamma Delta respectively.

Glen Place got the Beta Es underway in the second quarter of their game, catching a Miller Whitam pass to score. In the final period, Tom Weekes' fourth down gamble paid off as he sprinted 25 yards to a first-and-goal on the Delt 3 yard line. He then lugged the pigskin the last three to score. A Whitam to Ken Moorhead toss added the extra point.

On the last play of the game, Chuck Thomsen hit Bob Kaminski with a scoring pass to keep the Delts from being blanked.

Tailback Bob Lamphere paced the Delts with his accurate aeriels, two of which were dropped in the end zone.

Duane Rankin was the Phi Psi leader, tossing three TD passes and running for one himself in the 27-7 win. Rankin hit Jerry Andersen with two scoring pitches, and Jim Good with one. In the fourth quarter, Rankin rounded his own right end, and hot-footed it 30 yards to pay-dirt.

Magic Dick Grant led the Delts to their 18-0 victory over Phi Gamma Delta. He fired touchdown passes to Ray Mladovich twice, and to John Beidock once.

In Friday tourney play, Phi Epsilon Kappa trampled Methodist House, 38-0, on the strength of superlative performances by Don Langdon and Dave Barnes. Langdon threw five (count 'em, 5) touchdown passes, hit on two more for extra points, and in between this sort of busy-work, managed time to run for a touchdown himself. Barnes accounted for 24 points by nabbing four of Langdon's pay-off pitches.

Rog Hohensee got into the scoring act by grabbing another Langdon aerial. Don Keiser was the receiver of both the bonus point passes.

Contrary to Messrs. Barnes, Hohensee, and Keiser, Carl Schumacher busied himself with catching Methodist passes. He pirated two which set up PEK scores.

MacLean House advanced to the Selleck Quad semis by blanking Gustavson II, 8-0. Don Kuhl scored for MacLean by stealing a Gus II pass, and running it back for a touchdown.

Defending Independent king Dental College took another step toward duplication of last year's championship by dropping Presby House, 21-0. The Dents are undefeated, untied, and unscored-on.

Avery House beat Gustavson I, 18-6. It was the season's only loss for Gus I. The win also puts Avery in the Selleck Quad semis.

Other Quad teams advancing were Canfield, which slipped by Seaton II, 8-7, by gaining more yardage in an overtime period; and Selleck House, which took a 20-6 win over Andrews.

All-University Selections

Intramural managers are reminded to submit All-Opponent teams to the Sports desk of the Nebraskan for selection of the annual All-University teams. As a penalty for those squads not picking these required teams no members of the respective squads will be placed on the All-University selections.

NU Frosh Dump K St. 3-0 As Field Goal Saves Face

BOB WIRZ
Sports Staff Writer

The University of Nebraska freshman football team squeezed by the Kansas State yearlings Friday afternoon 3 to 0 at Manhattan. The margin of victory was a 15 yard field goal by Rich King, 196 pound guard, in the waning moments of the game.

The Nebraska pass defense was excellent throughout the game as they allowed their opponents only one completion in 13 attempts.

Penalties were a big factor in the game as each team was frequently penalized. An offside penalty denied Benny Dillard of a 25 yard touchdown run for the young Huskers, as well as some other nice runs.

Nebraska only penetrated inside the Kansas State 20 yard line one other time and this time an attempted field goal by tackle Ernie English was blocked.

Kansas State threatened several times but the Nebraska defense always tightened up and held. One drive was stopped on the Nebraska 6 and another on the 15 when Howard McVay recovered a fumble.

It looked like the game would end up in a tie until Dick McCashland carried the pigskin 22 yards to the opponents 20 yard line. Then after the drive was halted on the five-yard line King booted his perfect placement on fourth down.

The game Friday was the last for the freshman squad this season as they end up with a one win, one loss record. Some of the freshmen will run Colorado and Oklahoma plays against the varsity for the next week and a half closing out drills for the year.

Lockheed representatives will be on campus Friday, November 11, 1955 to discuss how the company's diversified development program can advance your career.

For interview see your Placement Officer.

Activities at the California Division of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation cover virtually every phase of aeronautical endeavor. A total of 45 major projects is in progress.

The expanding development and production program has already resulted in 13 models of aircraft now on production lines—huge airliners, commercial and military cargo transports, extremely high-speed fighters, jet trainers, radar search planes and patrol bombers.

Development projects are even more diversified, include nuclear applications to aircraft, turbo-prop and jet transports, advanced versions of vertical-rising aircraft and a number of other significant classified projects.

This capacity to develop and produce such a wide range of aircraft is important to career-conscious engineers. It means more scope for your ability, more opportunity for promotion with so many projects constantly in motion, more job security—because your career is not restricted to one type of plane.
