Phi Psis, Delts Dominate All-Fraternity 'A' Squad

By BOB WIRZ
Staff Sports Writer

Phi Kappa Psi, fraternity football champions, placed three men on the All-Fraternity football team to lead the number one unit. They were followed closely by Delta Tau Delta which placed two men.

At one end position, Brown was an All-University basketball selection last year along with being a football star. He was a fine pass receiver this fall.

At the other end is Jerry Anderson, fine receiver from Phi Kappa Psi.

At guard on this all-star unit is Gene Welch, also a member of the stellar Phi Kappa Psi squad. Gene was an outstanding defensive man along with being a good blocker.

Mladovich is a repeater from last year at center and called plays for his squad along with being a good pass receiver.

The number one backfield is paced by Grant who was an aerial artist.

He is joined by Duane Rankin of the champion Phi Kappa Psi team who was also a sharp passer and a fine runner. Rankin saw varsity action at quarterback when he was a yearling.

Darrel Pinkston rounds out the first squad. Pinkston was a speedy backfield man for runnerup Sigma Phi Epsilon where he mixed running and passing.

The second team has several men who challenged the number one unit.

Jim Baird and Bob Benter both of Phi Gamma Delta were the second team ends. Both were good receivers and teamed very well with each other.

Mel Hansen of Sigma Chi is at guard due to his stout defensive play throughout the season.

At center is Bill Harmon, Delta Upsilon's defensive stalwart.

In the second backfield unit are Don Sorenson of Sigma Phi Epsilon, Don Frei of Phi Kappa Psi, and Jack Talsma of Phi Delta Theta.

Sorenson, a fine passer, gave his teammate Pinkston a close battle for first team honors.

Frei stood out on a reverse pass pattern in which he did the throwing, which helped his team rack up points.

Talsma also did a lot of passing throughout the season.

Many other players rated honorable mention for their fine play. Among them are—Keith Fiene 245 pound Delta Tau Delta defensive guard who would have placed higher except that he played only defense; Bill Rucker, Sigma Chi; Gail Lair, George Thomas, and Jack Leikam, all of Phi Delta Theta; Leonard Lingren, Delta Tau Delta; Rod Schroeder of Alpha Tau Omega; Jack Wier of Beta Theta Pi, and Russ Nielson of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Kitzelman Named

Former Cornhusker bulwark Max Kitzelman, who nailed down a tackle slot for the Huskers for two years before getting drafted after his junior year, still has one year of college eligibility remaining.

Kitzelman was selected on many All-Big Seven grid teams and doubled in his off season as a heavyweight for the Husker grapplers, placing third in the NCAA tourney.

Mizzoo Clips Texas Tech, Sooners Win As Big Seven Quintets See First Action

By MAX KREITMAN
Staff Sports Writer

The cage season got off to a big start in the Big Seven as the seven quintets won eight out of 10 contests.

Last week, the conference kicked off with Missouri downing South Dakota, 71-46, defending champions Colorado defeating Oregon State 68-53, Iowa State blasting North Dakota State 86-60, and Purdue downing the Tigers, last years runner-ups, 62-58, and Iowa over the Nebraska Cornhuskers, 60-51 in a national TV coverage at Iowa City.

Last Saturday, the Big Seven copped all four contests. Missouri brought their seasons record to 2-1, blasting the invading Texas Tech quintet, 92-60.

Norm Stewart, last years all-Big Seven guard and the Tigers' second leading scorer, established a new Missouri scoring mark, pouring through 35 points to pace the Bengals to their second win.

The Tigers took a halftime lead of 51-20. Chuck Denny added 18 tallies and Bill Ross scored 17 to follow Stewart and Denny in the scoring.

Kansas, a pre-season conference favorite, had little trouble in downing the invading Northwestern Wildcats, 91-70. The Jayhawks had a 44-32 halftime margin and pulled away to their 21 point bulge in the second frame.

Fourteen Kansans figured in the scoring with forward Gene Elstun pacing the attack with 19 points. Dallas Dobbs, the lone senior member of the starting squad and Maurice King followed Elstun with 16 and 15 tallies respectively. It was the opener for both fives.

Oklahoma opened their season in winning style, downing the Baylor Bears 65-55. Forward Joe King paced the Sooner quintet with 19 points with LeRoy Bacher and Jimmy Peck each adding 15 points. The Sooners, working deliberately throughout the contest, led by a slim 27-22 margin, pulled away midway through the second stanza.

In the other contest played, the Bufs continued their domination of the Pacific Coast, downing the University of Oregon, 68-49. Peterson, George Hannah and Dave Mowbray paced CU, all tallying 10 points.

From the indications, the Bufs are lacking the big scoring punch supplied by Bob Jeangerard and Burdette Halderson. Last night the Kansas State Wildcats opened their campaign in winning style, downing Texas Tech.

Tonight's action finds the Kansas Jayhawks invading the Wichita University fieldhouse in the only action of the night.

Thursday finds Oklahoma and Rice and Texas Tech meeting in State at Ames.

Friday the Nebraska Cornhuskers open their 1955-56 home season, meeting the Texas Tech five.

Saturday six of the seven teams swing into action, only the Bufs having a day off.

The schedule finds the Huskers at Ann Arbor, Michigan for an afternoon tilt with the Michigan Wolverines, the OU Sooners at Vanderbilt, another Husker foe, Tulsa at Iowa State, K-State at Indiana, KU at Wisconsin in the TV game of the week and Illinois at Missouri.

Gymnasts Journey To Meet

Coach Jake Geier announced his traveling squad for the gymnastic team's first meet Saturday. Bruce Riley, Wayne Strickler, Ervin Krist and Robert MacDonald will lead the Nebraskans for the one day meet held at Chicago.

The meet is an invitational with teams participating from Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Michigan State. Being only a one day meet four events will be run off in the afternoon and five in the evening.

Riley who turned in an outstanding record individually last year will pace the Husker delegation. He will enter all nine events while Strickler will compete in seven and Krist will add six to the Nebraska total. MacDonald will see action in only two events.

Although this is the first time he has competed in this meet, Riley is expected to challenge for individual honors.

All-Sports Tickets

All-Sports tickets for faculty and students are still on sale at the Coliseum, announced A. J. Lewandowski, business manager of athletics.

Faculty tickets cost $4, and student tickets are $3. The tickets will be on sale indefinitely, Lewandowski said.

Crew Team

Coach Sam Norgle announced Tuesday that tryouts will be held this week for the Nebraska crew team. Since the sport is new to the Nebraska scene this year's schedule is limited. Equipment is also under a handicap as the shipment from Siberia has not yet arrived.

The Husker oarsmen will be confined to kayaks for their opening meet against the Nome Sled Dogs December 18. The regatta will be held at Oak Creek lake with Commodore Hiram Mc Nuff of the Nebraska Navy officiating.

Co-Rec Volleyball Takes WAA Spotlight

By SAROL WILTSE

WAA would like to report that so far in the Nebraska ball tournament there have been no casualties. Usually by this time we can report at least a minor sprain, but with the finals going to be played off Thursday night, the injury list is quite blank. The teams which are still participating in the Tournament are the Gamma Phi Betas, Kappa Alpha Thetas, Alpha Phis, Alpha Xi Deltas, and the Kappa Deltas.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas should really be proud of their Nebraska ball second team. Monday night the Kappas with two actives and eight pledges, who had never before played Nebraska ball, were defeated by the Gamma Phi Betas. The score was quite one sided, but nevertheless both teams had a lot of fun as well as laughs because of the sportsmanship displayed by the Kappa team.
