It Happened At NU

Two coeds were discussing love problems. One related the story of her old maid aunt who had many boyfriends in her youth. The aunt had told each of her boyfriends that she loved him eternally. However, she had never married. The other coed after hearing the story said to her companion, "I guess it just pays to specialize."

Weather 'R Not

The highways from Lincoln to the west are covered with packed snow and spotted ice, according to reports from the Nebraska Safety Patrol. The highway between Grand Island and North Platte is quite icy. The highways to Omaha and Beatrice are clean. There is spotted ice on the highways to Norfolk and on to the north.

I-House Carolers Sing

Singing Christmas carols around the piano are students living in the International House. The Board of Regent's proposal to convert International House into a Faculty Club has been passed by the administration.

The girls now living there would be moved to Terrace Hall, Terrace Hall residents would in turn move into the dorms. Bev Wirz, president of Terrace Hall, indicated "that the girls definitely intend to oppose the Board of Regent's decision. Some of the

Outstanding Nebraskan:

Letters Nominate Westbrook, Mangold, Berry, Gourlay

Three students and one faculty member have been nominated for the Outstanding Nebraskan award. They are Sharon Mangold, John Gourlay, Glenna Berry and Dr. Arthur Westbrook, music professor.

The letter nominating Miss Mangold stated that by participating in worthy campus activities and maintaining an 8.0 scholastic average, she was not only typified all that a coed should be, but all that an outstanding one should be.

The schedule also provides for three compulsory rush dates every rusher must attend before filing. They are from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. on the first day of Rush Week, and from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. the second day.

Miss Mangold is past president of NUCWA, president of YWCA, Mortar Board secretary and is a member of Student Council, debate team, Alpha Lambda Delta, and Gamma Phi Beta.

The orientation period on the first day was also set to begin at 8 a.m. instead of 9 a.m. The reason for this change was to prompt both rushees and fraternity men to keep from staying out late, as they have to be ready for early parties.

Carols: Madrigals To Perform Over CBS

The University Madrigal Singers will present two coast to coast Christmas broadcasts over the Columbia Broadcasting System during the holidays. Dr. David Foltz, Madrigals director, announced. The first broadcast, consisting of Christmas carols from various countries, will be heard from 9 to 9:15 p.m. CST, Thursday. The second broadcast will be a half-hour presentation of Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" to begin at 11:05 a.m. CST Christmas Day. This presentation is at the special request from CBS officials. This year is the second consecutive year the Madrigal Singers have been asked to sing over CBS. It is one of the few times a non-professional group has been asked to present a program.

community more profitable for all the many with whom he comes in daily contact. Probably his most outstanding quality, the letter said, is the high moral character which is apparent in both his speech and actions. Gourlay is Innocents president, Cornhusker editor, Interfraternity Council vice president, Student Council treasurer, and a member of Corn Cobs and Beta Theta Pi. Miss Berry, said the letter nominating her, expresses a social consciousness of the world about her by her active leadership in such organizations as NUCWA and YWCA. She has the courage of her convictions and the ability to express them well. She is vice president of YWCA, a member of Student Council, NUCWA executive board, CCRC executive board, Mortar Board, Phi Sigma Iota, and Pi Beta Phi. Dr. Westbrook, the faculty member nominated, was recommended this year for a second time on the basis of his influence on the lives of many thousands of students during his 16 years at the University, the letter said. Westbrook, director of University Singers, has been responsible for building the music department from 40 music majors to 250. He was also responsible for the incorporation of a Master's Degree in music at the University. Other nominations for Outstanding Nebraskan should be sent to the Nebraskan office in letter form. The letter must be signed, though the name of the person making the

The Outside World: 'Cold War On Again'

By BARB SHARP Staff Writer
 The East-West cold war is on again, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council of Ministers. Dulles told the ministers that after nearly a year of Soviet zig-zagging, the rulers of the Soviet Union have opened dangerous new cold war fronts in the Middle East and South Asia. Dulles' remarks were made at the opening of the first council meeting since last summer's Big Four summit conference at Geneva and the foreign ministers' subsequent dealock in the Swiss city. The 15-nation Atlantic Alliance has overcome greater dangers in the past by remaining ever vigilant and united, Dulles added.

Search For Killer Continues
 Law enforcement officials investigating the murder of Mrs. Nancy Parker had long conferences with the dead woman's husband and with a former employee of the park department, found sleeping in a haystack a mile west of the Men's Reformatory. Mrs. Parker, whose husband is Darrel Parker, city forester, was found Wednesday, bound, gagged and strangled on a bed in her home on the south edge of Antelope Park. Her husband found her body when he returned home for lunch on Nov. 14. "We are running out every lead," said County Attorney Elmer Scheele. Officers were fanning over the county checking on black 1949 and 1950 Fords, like the one reported near the Parker home the day of the murder.

'It Came To Pass'

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

Interfraternity Council:

Revised Rush Week Schedule Approved

Revision of the Interfraternity Council's Rush Week schedule was passed in the IFC meeting Wednesday on the recommendation of the rushing committee.

The recommendation was made by committee chairman Jan Pickard, Kappa Sigma, in the committee's report to the IFC.

The main revision in the committee's recommendation was the insertion of a compulsory open house from 9 a.m. to noon on the first day. The recommendation provided for a non-compulsory open house from 10 a.m. to noon.

The orientation period on the first day was also set to begin at 8 a.m. instead of 9 a.m. The reason for this change was to prompt both rushees and fraternity men to keep from staying out late, as they have to be ready for early parties.

The schedule also provides for three compulsory rush dates every rusher must attend before filing. They are from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. on the first day of Rush Week, and from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. the second day. At 10:15 a.m. on the second day, all rushees will be required to be present at the Union, and will remain there until 11 a.m., after which he may pledge at the fraternity of his choice, or file any subsequent rush dates.

The schedule is as follows:
 First day — 8 a.m. to 9 a.m., orientation period; 9 a.m. to noon, compulsory open house at least four houses; 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., filing period. Filing may also be done during open house; 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. dinner, compulsory rush date; 8 p.m. to 10 p.m., compulsory rush date.

Second day — 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., breakfast, compulsory rush date; 10:15 a.m. to 11 a.m., rushees report to Union; 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., rush date; 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., dinner, rush date.

Third day — Open rush, no registered dates. Filing of pledge assumption cards will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and from 8 a.m. to noon on the Monday following Rush Week.

A proposal by Ben Belmont to organize a special IFC Rush Week governing committee was tabled until the next meeting.

Pickard said that if nothing further was done about spiking, he would move for the reconsideration of legalized spiking.

E-Week Heads:

Two Selected By Engineers

George Fullerton and Pat Moore were announced as co-chairmen of Engineer's Week by Bill Neff, chairman of the Engineer's Executive Board.

Fullerton, a senior in civil engineering, is vice-president of the student chapter of ASCE and a member of Sigma Tau and Delta Tau Delta.

Moore is a senior in mechanical engineering. He is a member of Sigma Tau, president of Pi Tau Sigma, and a member of ASME.

Among their duties as co-chairmen of E-Week, they choose and oversee the various committees that are the nucleus of E-Week.

Held the last week of April, E-Week offers the opportunity for the public and students of the University to observe the functions and capabilities of engineering and the College of Engineering and Architecture. It consists of open house the first day, window displays, a field day, and closes with a banquet the final evening.

Co-chairmen for the individual departments of the College of Engineering are: Jim Egenberger and John Boning, agricultural engineering; Jim Eagan and Dick Eno, mechanical engineering; Bob Rhode and Dean McNulty, civil engineering; Marvin Vanek and Dick Sabin, architecture; Ken Hornby and Rus Nielsen, chemical engineering; John Toman and Dean Zimmerman, electrical engineering.

In 1894 the forerunner of Engineer's Week took place. On Feb. 15 the Department of Electrical Engineering staged a small exhibition for Charter Day.

1913 marked the official entry of Engineer's Week on the campus scene. Since then the program has been greatly expanded.

Displays and exhibits showing the role of engineering and architecture in modern living will be featured at the 44th annual Engineer's Week.

Two Workers Given Plaques By Builders

Plaques were presented to the two outstanding Builder's workers, and citations were given to 13 committee workers at the Builders dinner, Wednesday.

Marilyn McHargue was given the city campus plaque for her work on the student directory committee, and Will Schutz was given the Ag campus plaque for his work on the Ag public relations committee.

The citations were given to Sherry Moore and Tom Neff, tours and conventions; Claire Carden, student directory; Bobby Holt, calendar; Nancy Coover, publicity; Judy Douthit, First Glance; Darrina Turner, special edition; Marion Elder, Husker Handbook; Larry Voss, Ag tours; Willa Waldo, Ag publicity; Burton Weichenthal, Ag sales and membership; John Buffington and Sara Alexander, assistant treasurer of advertising.

Santa Rewards Staffs

Dorothy Switzer, mother of Lucifera Switzer, and Mrs. W. T. Spels, mother of Soren Samuel Jensen, III, provided cookies for the event. Recordings of Christmas carols and Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite" were played. Nebraskan and Cornhusker staff members, workers, reporters and members of the Faculty-Student Subcommittee on Student Publications attended the party. Robert Knoll and Ruth Levinson, Student Council advisers, also attended the party.
