

March 4 to 8:

CCRC Schedules Eight Speakers

Eight prominent speakers of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths are scheduled for Religious Emphasis Week to be held March 4 to 8, according to Bev Deepe, publicity chairman.

They are Dr. L. H. Cragg, W. Clark Ellzey, Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, Dr. Louis Evans, Rev. Gilbert Graham, Rev. Allen Hackett, Dr. Emerson Shuck, and Dr. Herrick Young. The Jewish speaker has not been announced, Miss Deepe said.

Religious Emphasis Week, the purpose of which is the promotion of religious growth and analysis of religious beliefs, is sponsored by the University Council on Religion consisting of the City Campus Religious Council, the Ag Religious Council, the Religious Workers Association and the Council on Religion Advisory Board.

Speakers will participate in convocations, discussion groups in organized houses, dormitories, and classrooms, and faculty and student seminars during the week, according to Miss Deepe.

Dr. Cragg, professor of chemistry at McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, is noted for his chemical research and scientific publications. He will discuss the relationship of science and religion.

sultant on education for marriage and family life, Ellzey is a member of the faculty of Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri. Several of his text books are now being used in the University.

At present, Dr. Espy is the associate executive secretary in the division of Christian life and work of the National Council of the Churches of Christ. He was former executive secretary of the National Student Council of the YMCA.

According to Life magazine, Dr.

Evans is one of the twelve outstanding religious leaders of America. At present he is minister-at-large of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church. For twelve years he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, California.

The Catholic speaker will be Father Graham who is director of Vocations for the Dominican Fathers and Brothers. He has been retreat master and lecturer for schools, colleges and universities throughout the Midwest and South. Rev. Hackett is the pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church of St. Louis, Mo. During the war he was pastor of the Central Union Church, Honolulu, Hawaii. He has written two religious pageants, and his articles have appeared in various religious periodicals.

Dr. Shuck is the dean of the College of Liberal Arts of Bowling Green University, Bowling Green, Ohio. He has written articles on American literature for general encyclopedias and articles on several education, graduate study, and a freshman English.

As executive director of International House Association, Inc., Dr. Young recently completed a trip around the world visiting the principal universities of southern Europe, the Middle East and Asia in connection with the international interchange of students. From 1935 to 1950 Mr. Young was executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

"These are the outstanding speakers of the country who can discuss all phases of religious life," said Rex Knowles, executive secretary of Religious Emphasis Week.

The religious activity week event is returning to the campus after three years absence because of greater religious motivation at the University than in previous years, according to Miss Deepe. The project had been dropped because of lack of student interest.

Two of the highlights of the week's activities, Miss Deepe said, will be the presentation of a religious drama by Jim Tomasek and a convocation in the Union Ballroom which will feature Dr. Evans as speaker. The convocation will be jointly sponsored by the Religious Emphasis Week committee and the Union.

National Committeemen:

Boyle, Reed To Speak At Mock Convention

By ARLENE HRBEK Nebraskan Staff Writer

Bernie Boyle, national Democratic committeeman, and Charles Reed, national Republican committeeman, will speak to the Mock Convention delegates Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Social Science auditorium.

The men will discuss the mechanics of the 1954 Republican and Democratic National Conventions. The methods of planning a platform, setting up rules for the convention and running the convention itself will be the main topics of the meeting.

Reed is a University graduate. While a senior in Law School he served as a member of the Nebraska Legislature, being the youngest member of the Legislature in the history of the state. He has been active in civic and political affairs, being a member of the Republican state central committee for over 20 years and was one of the few Nebraskans who supported Eisenhower at the 1952 convention.

Boyle, prominent Omaha attorney, has been a member of the Nebraska Democratic delegation to the national convention for many years. He is a member of the national Democratic committee.

The purpose of the talks is to give the delegates to the Mock Convention a clearer picture of the operation and procedure connected with a national convention.

Interested parties and official delegates are asked to be at the meeting, with at least one member of each delegation present.

The national presidential nominating convention, in miniature, will be held on the University campus March 14 through 17. It is aimed at being a practical experiment to acquaint students with the operation of national political conventions and current issues of politics.

The convention is sponsored by the Nebraska University Council on World Affairs and the Student Council with special authorization from the University administration.

"Archetypal Patterns":

Literary Critic Frye To Lecture On Poetry

Professor Northrop Frye, literary scholar and critic from Victoria College, University of Toronto, Canada, will be a guest lecturer at the University Thursday and Friday.

He will discuss "The Language of Poetry" at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in Love Memorial Library Auditorium for interested faculty members and students. He will meet informally with graduate students and others in the humanities Thursday afternoon and with undergraduates and other interested parties Friday morning in room 101, Andrews Hall.

Frye was educated in Canada and at Merton College, Oxford, where he received his MA in 1943. His book, "Fearful Symmetry, A Study of William Blake," was received with high praise. In addition Frye has published a number of essays pertaining to social problems and the history of ideas.

Frye has written on subjects dealing with aesthetic theory and poetic technique. A student of modern psychologists, primarily Jung, he is particularly interested in discovering archetypal patterns in literature. He writes: "The search for archetypes is a kind of literary anthropology, concerned with the way that literature is informed by preliterary categories such as ritual, myth, and folk tale ... The myth is the central informing power that gives archetypal significance to the ritual and archetypal narrative to the oracle. Hence the myth is the archetype ... The crucial importance of this myth has been forced on literary critics by Jung and Frazer in particular. ... It is part of the critic's business to show how all literary genres are derived from the quest-myth."

His visit to the University is sponsored by the Convocations Committee in conjunction with the Department of English.

Recital Series To Feature NU Faculty

Another in the series of faculty recitals will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Union Ballroom.

Taking part will be Jack Snider, French horn; Carol Puckett, cello; Dean Killion, trumpet, and John Blyth, piano. Mary Jane Waggoner and Earnest Harrison will be accompanists.

The program will be: "Sonata for Horn and Piano" by Beethoven presented by Snider and Blyth, "Sonata in D Major," by Locatelli, presented by Miss Puckett; "Concerto for Trumpet" by Haydn and "Cantabile et Scherzetto" by Gaubert, presented by Killion and "Concerto in F" by Gershwin presented by Blyth and Harrison.

Theta Xi Honored

Earl Luff of Lincoln, past national president of Theta Xi, is shown presenting the fraternity's general improvement trophy to Don Heiliger, president of the local chapter. The award is presented annually by the national organization to the chapter showing the most improvement in scholarship and activities. The Theta Xi's maintained a house average of 5.9 for both semesters last year and were awarded the Innocents trophy for the top fraternity in scholarship, activities and service last year.

Ag Organizations: Council Proposal

Following is a report of the Student Council judiciary committee concerning the proposed Ag Exec Board-Farmers' Fair Board merger, which was considered at length this fall. The matter was brought up at the last Council meeting and was postponed. It will be decided at the Council meeting Wednesday.

Ag Exec Board constitution, Article 1, section 2: (purpose) "It is the purpose of the Ag Exec Board to support and advance the interests of the Agricultural College and to coordinate the activities of the various student organizations in the Ag College."

Ag Exec Board does, however, perform some activities itself for which there are no organizations to so perform: Barbecue, Farmer's Formal and Ag Christmas Party.

Farmers' Fair Board does perform an activity and seeks to continue this activity.

Therefore, Ag Exec Board has the authority to coordinate the activity of Farmers' Fair Board, but not to engage in performing the activities for which the Farmers' Fair Board has been organized to perform.

The judiciary committee feels that an official University organization has the right to self-determination: that is, it may, of its own volition, decide to disband or to merge with another organization. To otherwise not exist as an organization it must be shown that this organization is financially unable to perform its functions or that it has membership not intent on performing its functions.

The judiciary committee feels that:

1. Farmers' Fair Board has been judicially fulfilling its functions.

2. Its present membership desires to continue putting on the Farmers' Fair.

3. Farmers' Fair Board's financial status is satisfactory.

4. Ag Exec Board does not have the authority to assume the responsibilities of Farmers' Fair Board. This conclusion is based on the stated purpose of Ag Exec Board in its constitution.

Therefore, Farmers' Fair Board is intact and will continue to operate as in past years. A general election and assumption of Farmers' Fair Board's responsibilities by Ag Exec Board is out of order.

Problems as to the Ag Exec Board membership are pending further investigation.

The judiciary committee disapproves the amendments:

1. Adding four junior members to be elected from the Ag student body.

2. Adding one hold-over member.

3. Assuming the responsibility and functions of the Farmers' Fair Board.

The Judiciary committee approves the constitutional amendments:

1. The president and vice-president shall be elected on the second Wednesday in May.

2. The secretary and treasurer shall be elected at the last regular meeting in the spring.

3. The faculty advisors, at least one man and one woman, to serve without vote and to be approved by the Dean of the College of Agriculture.
