Nuclear Power:

Committee Assigned To Study Energy

A Nuclear Energy Study Committee at the University has been organized "to carry out our interests and objectives in the nuclear energy field," Chancellor Clifford Hardin announced.

Co-chairmen of the committee are Elvin Frolik, associate director of the agricultural experiment station, and Theodore Jorgensen Jr., professor of physics.

Other committee members are secretary, Merck Hobson, Associate professor of Chemical Engineering; Varro Tyler Jr., associate professor of pharmacognosy, and Herbert Jacobi, chairman of department of biochemistry at College of Medicine.

The study committee has set up three objectives. These are:

"To establish liaison with appropriate public agencies, both national and state, and with Consumers Public Power relative to plans and programs toward construction of nuclear power facilities in Nebraska."

"To investigate and recommend to the Chancellor proposals which would encourage and assist in furthering basic research in the nuclear energy field."

"To cooperate with the University Extension Division in establishing seminars, conferences, or institutes in the general area of nuclear energy as a means of extending the educational facilities of the University, of the people, of the state."

Consumers Public Power District, in the fall of 1953, took an interest in the possibility of an atomic power plant in Nebraska. The first proposal, made early in 1954, failed to secure acceptance. A study team was formed in the fall of 1954.

actor with no penalty to electricity users.

The initial meeting with AEC representatives has been held, and the preparation of contracts is underway, R. L. Schacht, general manager of Consumers Public Power, said.

The first step of the plan was to find a location for the reactor plant, Dr. Emerson Jones, special assistant to Schacht, said.

A site just north of the town of Hallam has been chosen on the basis of several considerations. This location simply represents a foundation for further investigations, Jones said.

The Nuclear Energy Institute, held several weeks ago at the University, was intended to acquaint interested people of Nebraska with the possibilities of atomic power as the basis of industries of value to the state, Jorgensen said.

It is almost a certainty that enough applications will be found to produce the profound effect on our economy described during the institute, he added.

The Nuclear Energy Study Committee will attempt to combat this problem. The Consumers Public Power installation will benefit both teaching and research, Hobson said.

The committee feels that the reactor will be of benefit to the University and we want the people of the University to take advantage of it, he added; we will try to encourage anything to promote research at the University.

HEY, SLOW DOWN! WATCH THESE LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS?
For solution, see paragraph below.

QUICK WAY TO BETTER TASTE: It's illustrated in the Droodle above, titled: Lucky smoker opening fresh pack. (He's merely doing away with a little red tape.) Better taste is what he's after, and better taste is what he'll get. Luckies taste better, you see, because they're made of fine tobacco . . . light, mild tobacco that's TOASTED to taste better. Break out a pack of Luckies yourself. You'll say Lucky Strike is the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
