

Cage Tourney Nears Championship Stage

The intramural basketball tournament ground into its final rounds Monday and Tuesday as the tedious process of picking a champion from the 53 teams that started the tournament trail last week continued.

Because the Coliseum is being readied for the State Tournament this week end, fraternity class A semifinals were postponed until tonight.

One champion was crowned last night, as Canfield topped MacClean 41-28 for the Selleck Quad class B crown. Earlier, Canfield measured Hitchcock 41-27, and MacClean beat Bessey 30-18 to gain the finals.

In fraternity B semifinals on Monday, Alpha Tau Omega downed Phi Gamma Delta 35-34; and Delta Tau Delta, sparked by Bob Aden and Larry Navieux, clipped Delta Upsilon 61-26.

Selleck Quad class A semifinals, also Monday, saw Avery squelching Andrews 41-28, and Canfield measuring Fairfield 56-41.

Chemists got into Monday night action in an independent game. Chemists got into Monday night action in an independent scrap, swamping Corn Boers 73-28. Elsewhere on the independent scene, Alpha Gamma Rho Grads nipped Navy ROTC 38-37, and Geologists pelted University Aggies 44-16.

Tuesday night, Delta Upsilon swept into the fraternity class C finals by scoring a 23-21 victory over Alpha Tau Omega. Phi Gamma Delta was edged by Delta Upsilon in the other C semifinal 33-30.

In other Tuesday night action, Chemists beat Alpha Gamma Rho Grade 57-22 as big Bob Prokup hit 16 points.

As Intramural basketball is in its final week bowling takes the spotlight. It is now in its third week of play.

The men who maybe haven't bowled in a couple of years are now beginning to sharpen up and the old hands at the game are also steadily improving their game and each week finds both individual and team scores going higher and higher.

In Monday's League, Selleck moved out in front by itself, winning four more games. Sigma Nu is a close second at 7-1 for the season. Sigma Phi Epsilon is the only other team over .500.

They are at 5-3.

In Tuesday's play Beta Theta Pi and Boucher ended up 2-2 as did Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma.

Sigma Chi and Delta Sigma Pi won decisive 4-0 victory over Newman Club and Farm House respectively. These two teams are currently tied for first place.

Thursday's League last week found Beta Sigma Psi move ahead of the pack by winning 3-1 over Andrews. Delta Sigma Phi and Andrews were tied for the top spot with the Beta's a week ago. Delta Sigma Phi also lost 3-1 to Alpha Tau Omega.

Other games had ASCE drawing at two games all with Alpha Gamma Rho while Delta Sigma Pi and Alpha Gamma Sigma had the same fate.

Huskers Close Cage Season At Iowa State

Starting lineups:

IA. STATE (17-5) NEBRASKA (7-15)
J Crawford (6-5) F C Smith (6-11)
C Vogt (6-5) F Smith (6-4)
Don Medsker (6-8) C Rex Ekwall (6-4)
Ayle Gaarde (5-10) G Jim Kubacki (5-10)
G Thompson (5-10) G Duane Buel (5-10)

The Nebraska Cornhuskers will journey to Ames, Iowa for tomorrow night's tilt with Iowa State. This contest will be the season's finale for both clubs.

Nebraska, beaten by Missouri Monday night, will be trying to climax a mediocre season with a victory over the Cyclones.

In their last meeting the Iowa State five won an overtime thriller on a last second goal by ex-Husker Jerry Sandbulte.

Iowa State will be aiming for its highest finish since the formation of the Big Seven in 1948.

Gary Thompson, diminutive Cyclone guard, is the second Iowa State basketball player to pass the 400 mark in scoring. Thompson has scored 410 points this season and needs a 29 point effort to break Chuck Duncan's record of 438 points which was set last season.

Rex Ekwall, who received an honorable mention on the NCAA District 5 All Star Team, should be the main thorn in the Cyclones' side. Ekwall scored 26 points in a losing cause against Missouri Monday night, while playing most of the second half with four personal fouls.

Tonight's contest will be the last collegiate basketball game for seniors Sandbulte, Gaarde and Bill Dale of Iowa State and Smith, Buel, Norm Coufal and Bill Roy of Nebraska.

At The Big 7 Track Meet: Reiners Earns Star Of The Week Award For Fourth Place Effort

Ken Reiners, senior from Red Willow, Nebraska, is this week's Nebraskan Star of the Week.

The 21-year-old track standout was chosen for his fourth place showing in the Big Seven Track Meet in Kansas City last weekend.

Tossing the put against Bill Nieder of Kansas and Bob Van Dee of Oklahoma is a task that the average weight man does not anticipate with cheerfulness.

In placing fourth Reiners accounted for almost half the Husker total points.

Other thin clads to place besides Reiners were Bernie Randolph in the polevault, Leonard Rosen in the shotput and Bob Elwood in the two-mile.

The husky senior has constantly bettered 50 feet all season long and is credited by teammate Rosen as being the prime factor behind Rosen's recent improvement.

Although the Huskers won only two of there six meets this year and finished in last place in the Big Seven Championships, Reiners was always a standout in his event.

Reiners was one of ten lettermen to return this season to the new track coach, Frank Sevigne. Other monogram winners included Bob Anderson, Merle Brestle, Lee Carter, Charles Gibson, Doug Gibson, Ladd Hanscom, Jon McWilliams, Hugh Osmera, Rosen and Larry Smith.

Doug Gibson and Hanscom were gone at the semester.

The Red Willow shot putter earned his first letter last season while competing for a Husker squad that lost all its contests and finished in fifth place in the Big Seven Meet.

Reiners is the second member of Frank Sevigne's cinder squad to be named Star of the Week.

Elwood was a past choice for his toiling in the two mile run.

Other winners have been Bruce Riley, gymnastics; Rex Ekwall, basketball; and Arnold Morton, wrestling.
