Scholarship:

Interfraternity Council Tolgnore Council Ruling

Interfraternity Council president Bill Campbell said Monday, "The interpretation raised by the Student Council will have no definite bearing on our elections to be held Wednesday night."

The controversy raised by the judiciary committee of the Council over the scholarship ruling states all organizations should comply to the requirement of board members having a 5.0 overall average and officers a 5.5 accumulation.

According to Frank Hallgren, Associate Dean for Men and advisor to the IFC, "The Student Council has not given the Division of Student Affairs its decision."

Hallgren continued that the IFC had submitted its constitution as they were asked to do in good faith, and followed all suggestions given to them by the faculty committee.

MRS. DEITEMEYER

"It's a Woman's World" will be presented by the Union convocation committee Thursday. This series, consisting of two parts, is designed to help the college woman decide, "After college, what?" or "Where do I belong?"

The first part of the series will be a panel discussion Thursday at 4 p.m. in Parlors A, B and C of the Union. The areas to be discussed by a panel are home, career and community.

Members of the panel are Mrs. Carl Deitemeyer, Mrs. America of 1956; Mrs. Norma Ver Maus, Lincoln attorney and University graduate, and Mrs. Thomas Pansing, president of the Lincoln Cub Scouts. Panel moderator will be Mrs. Frances Vogel, Assistant in the Dean For Women's office.

An informal coffee hour will follow the discussion during which students may meet the speakers and ask them additional questions. The presidents of the major campus women's organizations will act as hostesses. No men will be allowed at the afternoon session.

The second part of the series will consist of a dramatic group of character sketches entitled "Women of Today and Yesterday" by Mrs. Frances Horner, an actress from Toledo, O.

This program will be presented in the Union Ballroom at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Horner will portray such women as Mrs. Benedict Arnold, Mrs. John Adams, the mother of a bride, the bride herself and a minister's wife trying to control a Sunday School class.

Hallgren said "The question of jurisdiction was no problem." He continued that fraternities and sororities are a little different from other organizations, however, they are not in a different category so as to escape University supervision.

The IFC now acts under the jurisdiction of the Interfraternity Board of Control, created and recognized by the Board of Regents as having complete control over all fraternities or organizations of like nature.

The Board of Control in turn, answers only to the Faculty Committee.

The resolution recognized by the Board of Regents creating and thereby recognizing the Interfraternity Board of Control and outlining the composition and procedure of the said board states:

"The Interfraternity Board of Control so constituted is to have full control and complete jurisdiction over all fraternities and fraternity house building associations or corporations at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, and the Board of Regents in regular sessions hereby delegates to the Interfraternity Board of Control full power and complete jurisdiction over the aforementioned fraternities including the right to make rules and regulations governing the chapters and their members. The Interfraternity Board of Control shall have the power to discipline the chapters and their membership by any means which the Board of Control may deem best, including the right to suspend a chapter from rushing, pledging, initiating, holding social functions, and to close the chapter house for any period of time.

The Interfraternity Board of Control shall have the authority to make investigations and to conduct hearings, and the decision of the Interfraternity Board of Control on any matters pertaining to fraternity life at the University of Nebraska shall be final and binding upon all fraternities and all members thereof unless the Board of Regents should decide to review the decision on appeal."

'57 Meeting:

Dorm Association Names NU As Conference Site

The University will be the scene of the 1957 conference of the Association of College and University Residence Halls.

The decision was reached at the closing session of this year's conference in Boulder, Colo., Saturday, Lowell Vestal, delegate to the convention, said.

Bill Houghton, freshman in Arts and Sciences, was elected vice-president of ACURH and will be in charge of arranging the group's meet at the University next year.

The University will have an advantage over other schools because of the ample space to hold meetings in the residence halls, Houghton said.

ACURH is a national organization of residence halls governing organizations, he said.
