As a climax to the various league selections for all-intramural teams, the Nebraskan announces its 1956 All-University basketball selections for the past year.

Five teams were represented on the starting quintet. At forwards are Bob Cook of Delta Tau Delta and Joe Houfek of Canfield.

At the center spot is big Bob Prokop of the all-university champions, Chemists.

At one guard is Eric Olson of the runner-up Phi Delta Theta quintet and Larry Naviaux of the Delta Tau Delta B squad.

Cook was the top gun on the Delt-A team that took top honors in the League I-A competition and went all the way to the finals of the All-Fraternity play-offs before bowing to the Phi Delt's. The 6-4 forward is a junior and a former all-state performer at Lincoln Northeast.

Joe Houfek was the pacemaker of the Canfield five. He teamed up with LaVerne Torczon, a member of the second team to lead the Canfielders in league play.

Bob Prokop, the top scorer of the Chemists is a former Nebraska basketball performer.

Eric Olson paced the Phi Delt's during the regular season. The Phi Delt's went all the way to the final round of the all-university play-offs before falling by three points to the Chemists.

Larry Naviaux was the big gun of the Delta Tau Delta-B five. Torczon gains top spot on the second crew. The Canfield performer is a member of the Nebraska football squad.

Doug Chappell, an ex-Scottsbluff juco player was a big gun in the Bessy attack.

At the center spot is all-stater Clarence Cook. Cook paced the Cornhusker Co-op team that finished with an 11-0 mark in league play.

Chemists to the championship of the all-university play-offs.

Terry Healy rounds out the second five. The Phi Delt forward paced the Phi Delt's scoring barrage with nine points in the championship tilt against the Chemists.

Ken Niemeyer, Rod Schroeder, Bill Krommenhock, Lyle Martin, and Bob Aden round out the first three teams.

Niemeyer performed for the Fairfield quintet. Schroeder was the top man on the Alpha Tau Omega five.

Krommenhock was a little guard that paced the DU quintet. Martin was a member of the Beta Theta Pi team and Aden was a top scorer along with Naviaux on the Delt B squad.

The various all-intramural teams and the final all-university selections were picked on a strictly impartial basis. The selections came by way of team balloting.

April 28: Football Heads All-Sports Day

Nebraska will hold its annual all-sports day Saturday, April 28.

The day will mark the return of the varsity vs. alumni football game after a one year absence.

The game was discontinued last year because spring football practice and All Sports Day were held too early to collect an alumni team.

This year a fine aggregation of all-time NU greets has volunteered to form opposition for Coach Pete Elliott's boys.

Heading off the list will be All-American Bobby Reynolds, Moon Mullins, Tom Novak, two time All-Big-Seven selection, Ted Doyle.

Carl Samuelson, Gerry Ferguson, Rex Fischer, All Big Seven selection this year, Ron Clark, Ted Conner, Jack Pesek, Sam Vacanti, John Bordogna, Frank Simon, Art Bauer, Bob Wagner, Bill Taylor, All-Big Seven selection in 1949.

The only sport not scheduled to be in action is basketball.

Baseball leads off the program, playing Offutt Air Force Base at 10 a.m. At 11 a.m., Nebraska will meet Iowa State in tennis, followed by a varsity vs. frosh track meet at 12.

At 2 football takes over with the clash between the varsity and alumni.

Coach Jake Gier's gymnasts will hold an exhibition at 4:30 followed by a swimming exhibition at 5 which concludes the days festivities.

Brown Paces NU Sluggers

Don Brown, slugging Husker third sacker, is currently pacing the diamond crew.

Through the Cornhuskers first four contests, the veteran Brown is belting the ball at a .448 average. Among his 13 hits is one home run. He is also leading the team in runs-batted-in with five.

Two other players are hitting above the .300 mark. They are shortstop Norm Coufal and catcher Jim Flynn. Coufal is carrying a .333 standard and Flynn an identical .333 mark.

On the pitching side, lefty Roger Bottorff is the top mound performer in the earned-run average department. He is carrying a 1.13 mark.

Charles Ziegenbein is the most impressive performer at the time. The sophomore southpaw has a 2.00 ERA, has fanned 17 and won one game.

The Huskers won three and lost four on their Southern swing. They next go into action April 20-21 against Kansas State in Lincoln.
