Underclassmen Missing Fond Memories Of Earl's

By LOWELL VESTAL

Special Staff Writer The name "Dirty Earl's" doesn't not been able to replace. mean much to most underclass-

Successor

Dr. William Aeschbacher, successor to Dr. James Olson as director of the Nebraska State Historical Society, will assume his duties Aug. 1. He is presently associate professor of history at Kentucky State College. Aeschbacher will teach in the summer session program at the University this summer before he assumes his duties. He will teach history.

Summer:

Twilight Classes

Eighteen classes will be offered this summer by the University Exhour classes and four no credit all before an 8 o'clock.

53c arfd 142c and speech 111c.

twice a week for 75 minutes. Bus Earl's. Org 4c and 17c, which are three credit courses, will meet once a week from 6:45 to 10:00 p..... Students attending regular summer sessions can register for the mer sessions can register for the twilight classes at the same time Miss Mangold they register for summer school. the same process should be followed as when registering for regular courses.

accepted after June 21 which is ber of the faculty who have given the last day for paying fees for o u t s t a ndsummer classes. Fees for twilight ing service to courses are $7.50 per credit hour the University. for accredited courses.

No credit courses being offered given for her are practice labs in shorthand dic- n o m i n ation tation and typing. The fee for is the "unselfeither of the practice labs is $20.00. is h, enthusi-Also offered will be a course in astic and sinreading efficiency and one in pup- cere manner" petry, for teenagers.

Students wishing to take only twilight courses may register at the Extension Division office in room 101 Architectural Hall. Additional information on these courses is also available at the Extension

Evelyn Splichal, in charge of twilight classes said that, "these courses are mainly for people want- ulty and administration as well as ing to improve themselves in fields in which they are employed." she exhibits - these are the qual-The classes are open to any high ities that make Sharon Mangold school graduate or adult, Miss Splichal also stated that braskan." two telecourses would be offered. They are arithmetic for everyday use, taught by Dr. Grunther Paulen 10:30 to 11:00 a.m. over KUON- ized. TV, and a course in public rela-9:30 to 10:00 a.m. Tuesday and Nineteen Named: Thursday.

vision, the only cost will be that of the materials necessary for the

Rag Press Club To Honor Two With Awards

announced in Friday's Nebraskan, Gourlay, head of the student gov- will be Kate Dailey, an assistant is worker in Red Cross, Panbellen-Press Club of the semester Friday lor, a AUF worker and a member a member of Kappa Kappa Gam- ma Delta Tau. noon in the Union.

Winners will be awarded certificates giving their names and the semester they were elected.

Outstanding Nebraskans will be writer on the Salvo. one senior and one faculty member and will be selected by members of the paid Nebraskan staff.

Newly appointed editors of The AUF, Builders and Kappa Alpha lor, a member of Home Econom- Williams is a Coed Counselor and tinent Conference of the ASCE the jukebox. However statistics Nebraskan will also be honored. Theta. The Press Club will be followed by a social function for staff mem- section will be Gary Cadwallader. bers of the Nebraskan and Corn- Cadwallader is a member of Phi be Walter Patterson, a member of Builders and Kappa elected vice president of the connoon cokes which the Union Crib and the Selleck Snack Bar have

The Campus Inn, as Earl's was shop and on the other a drugstore.

Earl's was one long room with makeshift fixtures including booths and barstools. A retired popcorn machine stood just inside the door. It was never used and had a "for sale" sign hanging on it for years.

Two juke boxes added atmosphere to the establishment even though only one of them worked. The decorative theme if it can be said that there was one, was a lot of yellow paint with small red N's painted in the open areas.

Finding a place to sit in Earl's was harder than finding an empty booth in the Crib.

The cuisine ranged from cokes to steaks. You could get a small to The Nebraskan, said that folglass of milk for a dime, or an lowing the 1953 incident in which even smaller glass of fruit juice Mitchell's views were challenged,

The great popularity of Dirty statement purporting to guarantee Earl's sprang from its nearness to the campus. Since its passing Turkey: students have found it necessary to tramp wearily across the sharp or the Snack Bar and such a pilgrimage takes all the fun out of a mid afternoon coke.

When Dirty Earl's was demolished to make way for parking lots, one of the best remembered campus traditions was destroyed for all time.

Two "generations" of young Cornhuskers have come to the University since Earl's has been gone. Somehow they have not had the full exposure to campus life that their predecessors had within the portals of Earl's. They have never had the desperate feeling of trying to go to class and finding the entrance blocked by hoardes of incoming cokers looking for a square inch on which to sit.

Underclassmen residing at Selleck Quadrangle have never had the inspiring experience of getting up an hour early in order to wade tension Division. There will be four. through the snow to Dirty Earl's teen two, three and four credit and wait in line for breakfast-

If you want to see just a little The credit courses are business bit of the old Dirty Earl's atmosorganization 4c, 17c and 190c; Eng- phere, with most of the better lish 11c and 76c; Journalism 75c; features removed, you can find the Home Economics 87c; Music 21c Campus Inn down by the Elgin and 171c; Physiology 10c; Sociology Watch factory on 17th St. It still has the same name, but that is a bout all that is left of Dirty

Letter Names

Sharon Mangold has been nominated for Outstanding Nebraskan General summer registration will an award which is presented each be June 13, no registrations will be year to the student and the mem-

The reason

in which she as contributed her services to the Univer- Miss Mangold

sity. The letter of nomination read Dr. Hardin continued. in part "It is the type of work, she has maintained with the facthe students, the dependability worthy of being Outstanding Ne-ship, of service and of integrity, ulty of one of the Turkish insti-

NEBRASKAN

Vol. 29, No. 91

Wednesday, May 23, 1956

men now on the University campus. But to those old, tired upper-classmen Dirty Earl's means a place for 10 a.m. coffee and after-Due To Economic Views

... Statement Names Chancellor, Lambert

By SAM JENSEN

views."

Mitchell, in a special statement "the Board of Regents adopted a

Courtesy Sunday Journal and Star

By ARLENE HRBEK Copy Editor

Chancellor Clifford Hardin will the University of Ataturk and the University of Ankara. The Chancellor's trip is in connection with the International Cooperation Administration program.

Dr. Hardin is making the trip to see the cooperative project "first hand." The University was contracted to oversee the building at the University of Ataturk and help with the development of the University of Ankara, which emphasizes agriculture. Dr. Hardin will stay in Turkey 12 days. During this time he will visit the site of Ataturk at Erzurum, Turkey and meet with Turkish officials to discuss plans regarding the development and progress of the work.

"I feel the program is extremely worth while. We have grown to admire the Turkish people and what they stand for. We feel that we are performing a service that will be a benefit to Turkey," Dr. Hardin said.

"Also, we feel that we are learning a great deal that will be of use to us. I a very anxious to see first hand the work of our staff,"

The program is financed by Turthe quality of work and the en- key and the United States governthusiasm she gives to every pro- ment contributes the salaries of ject, the gracious relationships United States professors. The University oversees the building and sets the curricula for the Turkish institution.

> Since the ICA program has been put on agriculture.

At the present time there are over 20 Turkish professors with Miss Mangold demonstrates Ph. D. degrees at Nebraska. They qualities of leadership, of scholar- will form the nucleus of the fac-Monday, Wednesday and Friday the letter of nomination summar- tutions sponsored by the United academic freedom . . . Beginning | cellor) have abridged my academic | advised to resign . . .

Managing Editor less than a week after the 1953 freedom in the following manners: Regent's 'blacklist.' . . . if any Dr. Clyde Mitchell has termed statement was adopted . . . one or " . . . attempts were made to the relief of duties) an official his removal from his administrative post "the latest in a long series of penalties imposed upon series of penalties imposed upon pean of Agriculture and the Change of Agriculture and the me because of my economic Dean of Agriculture and the Chan- and writing activities . . . I was

Statement

Unwarranted attacks upon my professional reputation by officials of the University of Nebraska require me to set the record straight. My removal from the administrative post I have held for the past seven years is the latest in a long series of penalties imposed upon me because of my economic views.

My professional field is agricultural policy,—the politics and economics of American agriculture. I favor a strong price-support system, plus expanded federal "welfare" programs, to answer our pressing agricultural problems. I have called attention to the many economic fallacies in the Eisenhower-Benson policy, particularly the ruinous effect of agricultural price-reductions.

My politico-economic views have long been under attack in Nebraska. In 1953, this attack erupted in an intemperate assault on academic freedom, in which a University Regent participated. The open assault failed: the Board of Regents adopted a statement purporting to guarantee academic freedom. Most of my colleagues thought that the future was secure for free enquiry, and that a teacher would not be penalized for expressing his honest convictions.

Beginning less than a week after the 1953 statement was adopted, and continuing without interruption to the present, one or the other of my two administrative superiors in the University (the Dean of Agriculture and the Chancellor) have abridged my academic freedom in the following manners:

1. Repeated attempts were made to "tonedown", modify, and even to censor my publications. 2. I was advised to curtail my speaking and writing activities.

3. I was advised to resign my position and move elsewhere, assured that I would never get a salary increase at the University, and that I was on the Regents' "blacklist".

4. I was notified in February, 1955, that because of continuing controversy over my views, including strong objection from the legislative groups responsible for University funds, I was going to be relieved of my chairmanship, and that, furthermore, if such controversy continued, I would probably be discharged, notwithstanding my academic tenure.

5. I was notified in September, 1955, that the change would be made while I was out of the United States on my Fulbright Fellowship, and that if any "reasons" should be demanded, an official statement would be made that I had performed my professional duties inadequately. (My colleagues will recognize the significance of such a threat, particularly with regard to securing employment in other universities. Ordinarily such a threat is expected to induce a quiet letter of resignation).

6. Finally, my annual contract of appointment to the position of department chairman ends on June 30, 1956. From 5,000 miles away I cannot be certain on the legal point, but it appears that the University has violated a contract in removing me as of May 1, 1956. In view of the fact that abrogations of freedom have occurred constantly, contract violation is perhaps a minor matter.

University professors have no legal right to an administrative post. We do have the right to demand that our reputation not be damaged wantonly. I therefore advised Chancellor Hardin on October 17, 1955, and Dean Lambert on September 23, 1955, that I would consider extremely unfair any attack on my competence as an economist or an administrator when they should make their announcement.

I have been advised by Professor Julius Cohen that until and unless my tenure as professor is violated, I have no recourse to the faculty committee on academic privileges. I am able to answer the University's attack on my reputation only in this manner, through a statement addressed to the students and my colleagues in the University.

C. Clyde Mitchell, Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Nebraska

the relief of duties) an official statement would be made that I had performed my professional duties inadequately . . ." Mitchell said that since his academic tenure as professor had not actually been violated, he was not able to consult the faculty committee on academic privilege. "I am able to answer the University's attack on my reputation only in this manner, through a statement addressed to the students and my colleagues in the University," the former department chairman said.

Mitchell, who is presently in Rome on a Fulbright Fellowship, alleged that the University was possibly guilty of a contract violation in removing him before his contract actually ran out.

Mitchell, chairman of the department of agricultural economics for seven years, was officially relieved of his position May 1. The Nebraskan had reported that Mitchell N-Club Elects had been relieved prior to the official administrative statement.

was said to have originated at a staff meeting at the College of Agriculture before spring vacation at which W. V. Lambert, Dean of the College of Agriculture, presided. Since the announcement of the change, Dr. Howard Ottoson, who had been acting chairman in Mitchell's absence, has been appointed chairman of the department.

Mitchell's statement, which is received late Tuesday evening. | in Arts and Sciences.

First news of Mitchell's removal Don Erway New President

Don Erway is the new president of N Club.

Other officers include vice-president, Bob MacDonald, junior in Teachers College; secretary, Marshall Nelson, junior in Business Administration, treasurer, Wayne Strickland, junior in Business Adprinted in full in today's Nebras- ministration and Bill Hawkins, kan, was sent to The Nebraskan sophomore; New Student Week from Rome after consultation of Arrangements, Jim Arwood, soph-Mitchell and Bruce Brugmann, Ne- omore in Teachers College, Pubbraskan editor. The message was licity Chairman, Don Smidt, junior

Concert Preparations

Looking over the music which I will be used in the joint concert to be held Wednesday are the leaders of the Women's Residence Hall and Residence Association for Men's Glee Clubs. Left to Right are: Dick Oehr-ing, director of the RAM's, Phyllis Maloney, director of the WHR Glee Club, Roger Schroeder, assistant director of the RAM group and Jean Hueftle, accompanist for both organizations.

Outside World:

House Cuts Bill

By WALT SWITZER Staff Writer

In action Tuesday the House Foreign Affairs Committee voted 18-11 to cut more than a billion dollars from President Eisenhower's foreign aid program. Eisenhower had requested $4.9 billion which is $2.2 billion over the appropriation for last year.

According to Secretary of State Dulles, the administration in-tends to make a new bid for its long range foreign aid program when it comes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Queen Sends Message

In London there is speculation that an exchange of letters between Queen Elizabeth II and Soviet President Voroshilov might lead to an invitation for the Queen to visit Moscow. The Queen sent a message to Voroshilov in reply to a note she received when Premier Bulganin and Communist party head Krushchev visited England last month. The Queen expressed her best wishes for his health and that of the Soviet peoples.

Committee Approves Bill

President Eisenhower's civil rights bill which calls for a special committee to investigate reported violations of voting rights and a civil rights division in the Justice Department was approved by the House Judiciary Committee. The bill, which southern committee members have called "absolutely shocking", now must get past the House Rules Committee before it will be sent to the House

Even if the bill is passed by the House it is doubtful that it can be passed in the Senate, where Southern filibusters have stopped all previous civil rights measures.

Presley Outsells Silence At CU

Elvis Presley is more popular at the University of Colorado than silence, according to a recent survey of records played on the jukebox in the Indian Grill.

The Committee for Occasional Silence placed a silent record in Weaver's 28,361 votes.

Johnson Loses Primary Vote

Richard Johnson, College of Agriculture senior, and a candidate from the first district in the recent congressional election ran second to incumbent Phil Weaver, in a field of some five candidates.

Johnson received 7,440 votes to

A former member of the Stud-

show that in a two day period ent Council and a member of Farm students paid 82 nickels to hear House fraternity, Johnson said he Presley while only 12 paid to hear entered the race to bring to light "pressing farm issues of today."

To register for these no credit Section Heads Announced By Buthman For Cornhusker Next year's section heads for | Mary Brooks, who's heading the Rita Clark, head of the religion of Delta Gamma. Bill Gingles, in charge of the military and engineering section is a member of Theta Xi and a ty section.

Outstanding Nebraskans, to be Solid Gamma, Frances Head of the sororities section tor is Sari Shukert, Miss Shukert class.

In charge of the Beauty Queen and Alpha Chi Omega. Delta Theta.

the Cornhusker were announced by activities section, is a member of section is a member of Builders Linda Buthman, editor, Monday. Kappa Kappa Gamma. Heading and Delta Gamma. Heading the administration sec- the section on women's athletics is tion is Natalie Johnson. Miss John- Billie Prest. Miss Prest is a mem- bal. She is a Builders assistant, son is a Builders assistant, Coed ber of WAA Sports Board, Tassels AUF assistant and a member of

will be honored at the last Rag ernment section is a Coed Counse- of Builders sales committee and ic, Builders and a member of Sig-

Robert Smidt, a band member an is a worker on Builders, Tassels, Head of the student sciences sec- a member of Farmhouse, Lois La Red Cross and a member of ton Cramer award for preparing tion is Anne Pickett, she is a mem- Rue will be in charge of houses Alpha Phi. Miss Adams is a the best student paper. Larson also ber of Student Council Tassels, and halls. She is a Coed Counse- member of Delta Gamma. Miss won second place in the Mid-Con-

Block and Bridle and FarmHouse. Alpha Theta,

Panel editor will be Ruth Rou-

In charge of the Ag section is and Suzi Swingle. Miss Chapman tically. ics Club, Alpha Lambda Delta a member of YWCA and Delta student chapters, held at Manhat-and Alpha Chi Omega. Delta Delta Misa Swingle is an Intramurals section head will AUF assistant, an Aquaquette, a stress Concrete." Lonnie Dye was

CE Students Get Awards From Society

Four civil engineering students received awards from the Nebraska chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, it was announced Tuesday.

George Fullerton received the Adna Dobson award for being the outstanding member of the senior the chapter during the past year. In Charge of the college and The Warren Day Memorial award Mike Levy, a member of Sigma classes section are Judy Chapman, was presented to Walter Linder Alpha Mu, will head the fraterni- Ruth Adams, Carolyn Williams for being the top student scholas-

Dean McNulty was honored for his contributions to the work of

Barry Larson received the Ful-