Activities:

Panhell Begins Season

The Panhellenic Council began another activity season Thursday as president Mary Lou Pittack announced some of the plans for events of the coming semester and school year.

Panhell Workshop will be held Oct. 13-17. The Panhell Banquet has been announced for the evening of Oct. 16. The tentative theme will be "Public Relations." The main speaker will be Glen Nygreen, Dean of Men at Kent State College, Kent, Ohio. Nygreen is one of the nation's most outstanding young administrators, Miss Pittack said.

Panhell is planning to organize an active Junior Panhellenic composed of selected pledge class officers from the sororities on campus, she said.

It also plans to run a television series on KUON-TV, the university television station. The show will begin the first of next year. It will be presented once a week.

Panhell has tentatively set in motion plans for a dance for sorority and fraternity pledges, Miss Pittack noted. Nothing definite has been worked out. Panhell and IFC will plan and sponsor the dance if details can be worked out.

Dinner:

Six Faculty Members To Be Cited

Six University staff members will receive Certificates of Appreciation for 25 years of service at the annual Faculty Homecoming Dinner Tuesday night.

The recipients will be: M. A. Alexander, professor of animal husbandry; Ida Blore, assistant in animal pathology; Blanche Farrar, assistant librarian; V. H. Petersen, assistant extension agriculturalist; H. S. Saenz, professor of modern languages and literatures, and Ruby Wilder, documents librarian.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin will speak at the dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

New staff members will be introduced by the deans and directors.

Cornhusker Rally

Dean's Reception:

Traditional Women's Tea Scheduled In Union

The traditional tea for University women students will be held Friday at the Union from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., with freshmen and new students as special guests.

Miss Helen Snyder, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, who is in charge of the arrangements for the tea, has announced the members of the receiving line.

Those greeting the guests will include Dean Snyder, Mrs. Clifford Hardin, wife of the Chancellor; Dean Marjorie Johnston, and Mrs. Phillip Vogel, assistant to the Associate Dean of Student Affairs.

Guests will be greeted by Virginia Hudson, Mortar Board president. They will be introduced to Dean Snyder by Carol Link, Associated Women Students president.

Members of Mortar Board and presidents of women's houses and organizations will serve as assistant hostesses.

Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. J. P. Colbert, Dr. Dudley Ashton, Mrs. Floyd Hoover, Miss Mary Mielenz and Miss Madeline Girard.

Members of Delta Omicron, Mu Iota will furnish music during the tea.

"This traditional tea provides an opportunity for women staff and faculty members on a social basis at the onset of the school year," Mrs. Vogel said.

For many years the tea was traditionally held in Ellen Smith Hall, but last year when Ellen Smith was remodeled for office space it was moved to the Union. It is the only event of the school year in which representatives of all women's organizations work together in one project, according to Dean Snyder.

Show Planned To Honor Pete At Half-Time

A salute to coach "Pete" Elliott and his staff will be the theme of the half-time entertainment presented by the University of Nebraska's 120-member Band Saturday afternoon at the Nebraska-South Dakota football game.

Directed by Prof. Donald Lentz, the band will form the word, "Pete"; a four-leaf clover, the symbol of luck; and a precision drill based on revolving wheels.

The band will play the marches, "Men of Valor" and "Chicago World's Fair," a sequence of Nebraska pep tunes; and "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover."

The University of South Dakota's Band also will appear during the half-time show.

Picnic Weather Here For Week

Picnic goers should have a pleasant weekend according to Weather Bureau predictions.

The four-day forecast calls for a temperature average of three to five degrees above the seasonal normal throughout the weekend. A gradual warming trend will persist during the four-day period.

The normal high for this part of the year is somewhere in the upper 70's and the normal low is in the middle 50's, the Weather Bureau noted.

Little or no rainfall is predicted during the next four days.

When temperatures drop
And fumbles, cheers, crowds
Increase as with the rhyme
Of course, it's Grid Time

The University community will welcome back King Football and Mr. Touchdown Saturday when the Huskers and South Dakota tangle at Memorial Stadium. Game time is 2 p.m.

The contest will mark Coach Pete Elliott's initial effort at the helm of the Scarlet and Cream aggregation and the first engagement between the two teams in several years.

The favored Huskers will be captained by LaVerne Torczon, senior from Platte Center, Jim Murphy, senior from Columbus, and Bob Berguin, senior from Sioux Falls, S.D.

Weather conditions should be ideal for the game according to local forecasts. The Weather Bureau says temperatures will be in the high 70's and for moderate humidity.

Nebraskans were instilled with football spirit at last night's rally in preparation for Saturday's game. Coach Elliott, expressed his appreciation to the crowd for their support.

As is traditional the Innocents will man the gates and assist the ticket men in handling the crowd.

There will be three student entrances into the stadium, two south and one north of the center door, according to Adolph Lewandowski, business director of athletics. Lewandowski requests that all student identification cards and football tickets be signed in ink. The tickets should be handed to the gate officials with the numbers out, Lewandowski said.

The usual card displays from the student section will constitute part of the half-time ceremonies under the direction of the Corn Cobs. Lewandowski requests that all members of the card section co-operate to the fullest so that operations will go off smoothly.

The Cornhusker band, under the direction of Donald Lentz, will provide additional entertainment during the halftime. The South Dakota band will also perform.

Pre-game affairs include the annual N Club Alumni luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Election of officers is the only business on the agenda. Present officers are Harry Meginnis of Lincoln, president; Jim Beltzer of Grand Island, vice president; Thurston Phelps of Lincoln; secretary, and Bob McNutt of Lincoln, treasurer.

Guy Mastin of Escondido, Calif., who lettered in 1913 and 1914, will probably be the alumnus traveling the most miles to attend.

Members of the Board of Regents and their wives and Nebraska coaches and their wives will be guests, along with Chancellor and Mrs. Hardin.

Members of the Yell Squad, headed by Yell King Don Beck will be on hand to lead the crowd in the traditional University chants.

Construction: Company Submits Low Bid

The W. J. Assenmacher Construction Co. of Lincoln has submitted an apparent low bid of $44,587 for a utility tunnel at the University of Nebraska.

Bids from six companies were opened Wednesday afternoon at the University.

The tunnel will extend from University High School at 15th and Vine south to the University Health Center, now under construction at 15th and U. The 485-foot tunnel will carry steam, water and compressed air lines.

Other bids submitted were: Chambers Construction Co., $53,527; Olson Construction Co., $53,845; Walter J. Broer Construction Co., $54,230; H. R. Bookstrom Construction Co., $57,028, and Dobson Brothers Construction Co., $59,890.

The bids will be considered Saturday by the Board of Regents.

The question "How Should The Suez Crisis Be Solved?" will be the subject of a panel discussion by members of NUCWA and the Cosmopolitan Club Tuesday night, at 7 p.m. in the Union.

Robert Morgan, assistant professor of political science will be the moderator.

Sara Jones, NUCWA member, will present the American side of the question.

The French-English point of view will be expressed by George Moyer, member NUCWA.

Cosmopolitan Club will name the Egyptian spokesman.

The panel discussion will be held in Room 313.

Awards:

Marshall Scholarship Lists Open

Lists are now open for U.S. college students to apply for a two-year Marshall Scholarship award, for study at a British University.

The scholarship now in its third year of operation, was set up in 1953 as a token of British appreciation for U.S. Marshall Aid.

The scholarships are for two years' study at any British university, plus a cash award of $1,540 a year for living expenses and transportation to and from the United Kingdom.

Applications are considered by regions, North Eastern, Southern, Middle Western and Pacific. The awards will be made on the basis of character as well as scholastic attainment.

The scholarship is open to any American student under twenty-eight years of age and with three years of college. Any student wishing to apply for this scholarship may pick up an application from Dean Harold Wise in Room 111 in the Social Science Building.

Cosmopolitan, NUCWA Plan Juncture

NUCWA and Cosmopolitan Club, in a joint meeting Wednesday night, discussed the possibility of merging and appointed representative committees to settle the question.

According to Biff Kiese, a NUCWA vice-president, the committee on merging will meet Sunday.

Judy Combs, member NUCWA board, stated that the ultimate combination of the two organizations was almost a certainty. Only the question of elections and a new charter seems to be the existing points of discussion, Miss Combs said.

Members of the Cosmopolitan Club have expressed a desire to keep the name of their organization.

Pictures: Union Sets Art Lending For Monday

The Union Picture Lending Library, a free service which allows students and faculty members to check out pictures for a semester upon presentation of their ID card, will open Monday in the main lounge. Lending hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

Pictures in the Union collection, including about 75 prints, are now on display in the main lounge.

"The Embrace" by Paul McKee was a popular new print added to the collection last year. Other recently acquired pictures are "Outdoor Cafe" by van Gogh; "Three Musicians" by Picasso; "Yachts a Deauville" by Raoul Dufy; "Zapartists" by Aroco; "Still Life with Lemon" by Braque; "Red Horses" by Franz Marc; "String Quartet" by Mopp; and "Summer" by Miro.

Because of the past demand for pictures, a limit of one picture per person has been set unless the pictures are in pairs, Bob Handy, Union Activities Director, said.

The Picture Lending Library is sponsored by the Union committee on arts and exhibits.

The-- Inside World

Watermelon Feed

The Barb Activities Board for Women is sponsoring a Watermelon Welcome for all independent women 3 p.m. Sunday at the College Activities Building on the Ag campus, according to Marian Sokol, president.

Tickets for the event are 25 cents and may be purchased at any independent house or at the Womens Dormitory. The purpose of the watermelon feed is to acquaint the independent women with one another, Miss Sokol said.

Rodso Club

The organizational meeting for Rodso Club will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Rodso Club room.
