Summer Marriages:

Derby Day Ahead

By JAN FARRELL
Social Editor

The annual Sigma Chi Derby Day is scheduled to be held this Saturday. Every sorority on campus has an entry in each event, so it should be a lot of fun.

The announcements of summer marriages are still a very important part of the social scene. This week there were announcements of eight marriages, eight engagements, seven pinnings, and four social functions.

Engagements

Jo Ann Junge, Kappa Kappa Gamma senior in Teachers from Lincoln, to Sam Van Pelt, Phi Delta Theta senior in Arts and Sciences from Lincoln.

Jane Rowan, Kappa Kappa Gamma junior in Teachers from Gurley, to Ward Hinrichs, Phi Chi junior at Nebraska Medical School from Gurley.

Phyllis Chard, Alpha Xi Delta senior in Teachers from Superior, to Henry Blanke, Delta Kappa Pi alum from Geneva.

Jody Chalupa, Alpha Xi Delta senior in Teachers from Wilber, to Kent Newmyer, Doane College alum from Central City.

Susie Smith, Alpha Omicron Pi senior in Business Administration from Lincoln, to Keith Arndt, Beta Sigma Psi senior in Business Administration from Platte Center.

Emily Hemphill, Chi Omega senior in Teachers from Tekamah, to George Hartman, Farmhouse alum from Paxton.

Bobbie Hicks, Chi Omega senior in Arts and Sciences from Lincoln, to John Coover, Phi Kappa Psi sophomore in Dentistry from Lincoln.

AWS:

Women Student Rules Set

AWS rules concerning women students for this semester have been announced by the Associated Women Students Board.

Closing hours Monday through Thursday for first semester freshmen are 9 p.m., sophomore and juniors, 10:30 p.m., and 11 p.m. for seniors. Week-end closing hours which are the same for everyone are 12:30 p.m. on Friday, 1 p.m. on Saturday and 11 on Sunday.

Every woman student regardless of her year in school is granted two overnights in Lincoln and three out-of-town overnights per semester. In addition to these overnights, two a.m. nights will be designated by the AWS Board.

This semester the AWS Board voted two o'clock nights for Homecoming and the Military Ball. Organized hours will be allowed to have one two a.m. night per semester for a house formal. There will be no overnights taken on two a.m. nights.

Student migration, designated by the Student Council, will be to Colorado this year. This will not be recorded as an out-of-town overnight for those attending.

The AWS Board is assisting the Division of Student Affairs in their scholarship program which is designed to benefit the individual student. When a girl receives a down slip she will be required to fill out a time schedule and have it approved by the scholarship chairman and her committee in her living unit. Any infringement of this schedule will be referred to the AWS Board.

No late minutes will be allowed. The AWS representative in each house will assist in enforcing the AWS rules. AWS court will be held each Friday afternoon to handle infractions of AWS rules.

Regents:

University Receives Grants For Study Of Wheat, Cancer

Grants to the University for the study of wheat and for a compound which will inhibit the growth of inoperable cancer have been accepted by the Board of Regents.

Thirty-seven thousand dollars in research grants, the first given by the year-old Nebraska Wheat Commission, were accepted Saturday morning by the University.

The grants are: $26,000 for a three-year study by the North Platte Experiment Station and the department of animal husbandry on "Wheat for Fattening Cattle as Affected by Methods of Preparation."

$11,000 for a five-year study by the department of agronomy on "The Inheritance and Agronomic Relationships of Protein Content in the Grain of Winter Wheat."

Dr. Elvin Frolik, associate director of agricultural experiment stations, said, "Wheat is known to be suitable as feed for cattle. However, since 1941 little, if any, wheat has been used as feed for cattle."

Dr. Frolik said feeding trials, financed by the $26,000 grant, will provide an opportunity to evaluate different methods of preparing wheat and the use of wheat and different roughages in fattening rations.

For the first year, $6,000 will be used in the study, with $10,000 set aside for each of the next two years.

The second study will be concerned with the feasibility of transmitting high-protein characteristics to adapted high-yielding hard red winter wheat.

Dr. Frolik said high-protein bread wheat commands a higher price than low-protein wheat. "An increase of one per cent grain protein in an average Nebraska wheat crop would result in more than 40 million pounds of additional protein and a correspondingly enormous increase in its value for breadmaking purposes."

Established by Legislative Act 518, the Commission obtains its funds from a quarter-cent tax per bushel which the grower pays at the time he sells the wheat.

The University of Nebraska's search for a chemical compound of inoperable cancer is being supported by the National Cancer Institute of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Dr. Norman Cromwell, professor of chemistry, has received a $16,496 grant for the coming year in support of his studies in the field of chemotherapy.

In addition, he said, future support for the next three years at the rate of $16,157 per year has been recommended by the National Advisory Cancer Council.

The first-year grant was among $217,312 research grants accepted Saturday morning by the Board of Regents.

Dr. Cromwell explained that there is some evidence that chemicals, primarily ethenamines and heterocyclic nitrogen-containing compounds, may have a toxic effect upon abnormal cells.

He said the problem is to find a compound which will affect the malignant cells without poisoning the patient.

Under provisions of the grant, Dr. Cromwell is allowed to follow up any promising leads he might turn up in his search for chemical compounds. The resulting compounds will be tested for biological activity at the Sloan Kettering Institute for Cancer Research.

Assisting Dr. Cromwell will be two graduate research assistants in the chemistry department, John David and Vernon Bell, both of Lincoln.

Among the other grants accepted were:

$29,911 from the U.S. Public Health Service to Prof. T. Muller, College of Medicine (Board of Control co-sponsor): training in psychiatric nursing (continuation).

$25,000 from U.S. Public Health Service to Dr. C. Wittson, College of Medicine (Board of Control co-sponsor): undergraduate psychiatric training (continuation).

$23,825 from the U.S. Public Health Service to Dr. Marshall Jones, department of psychology:

$1,943 from The Glidden Company, Chicago, to Dr. Jackson Smith and Dr. Anthony Barak, College of Medicine: the effect of lecithin on serum lipoproteins.

$650 from the Grassland Research Committee of Holt County, Nebraska, through the University of Nebraska Foundation, to Prof. E. Brouse, department of agronomy: grassland research.

Vogue Contest Deadline Set For Women

Senior women interested in writing, publishing, advertising, merchandizing or decorating have until Oct. 15 to enter the Vogue Magazine Prix de Paris contest.

Prizes in the contest include $1,000 cash or two weeks in Paris, all expenses paid with air transportation both ways for the first prize winner.

The second prize is $500 cash. Ten honorable mention winners will receive $25 cash.

First and second prize winners and the honorable mention winners will all receive top consideration for jobs on Vogue and other Conde Nast publications.

Other top contestants will be recommended to stores, advertising agencies and other magazines.

Writing ability, grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality and demonstration of special talents are given as the points on which contestants will be judged.

Enrollment blanks are available upon request from the Prix de Paris Director, Vogue, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York, 17, N.Y.

"Beyond A Reasonable Doubt"

IT'S FOR REAL! by Chester Field

IF I HAD A MILLION!

"Life," he cried, "is so unfair I should have been a millionaire! I'd drive a car, a white Jaguar with leopard trim and built-in bar. Complete with blondes and red heads too. A movie queen or two would do... I'm lazy, crazy, debonnaire I'd make a perfect millionaire!"

"Instead," he sobbed, "at twenty-five I'll have to work to stay alive!"

MORAL: If you are $999,999.00 short of being a millionaire, but you like your pleasure big. Enjoy the big full flavor, the big satisfaction of a Chesterfield. Packed more smoothly by Accu-Ray, it's the smoothest tasting smoke today!

So, try 'em. Smoke for real... smoke Chesterfield!
