The old story of the co-ed who dropped Romance Languages because it didn't help her get a man now has a new twist to it. A pretty freshman showed up at the library last week with a strange taste in literature. The book she wanted - "Scouting For Boys".

Fill Vacancies:

Hurst, De Mars Elected To SC

Connie Hurst, representing the YWCA, and Mary De Mars, representing Pan Hellenic, have been elected to fill vacancies on the Student Council, it was announced Tuesday by the committee on elections.

Miss Hurst will replace Lou Selk, the originally elected member, who is unable to attend because of a class conflict.

Miss DeMars was elected to replace Sally Flanigan who also resigned due to a class conflict.

The resignations of Miss Flanigan and Miss Selk were presented to the Council and accepted at last week's meeting.

Miss Hurst is a junior in Business Administration. Her other activities include YWCA cabinet, debate squad and publicity chairman of Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss DeMars is a junior, majoring in home-economics and journalism. She is a member of the Coed Counselor Board, Home Ec Club, Panhellenic Council, Gamma Alpha Chi, advertising honorary and is rush chairman of Sigma Kappa.

The Council will hold its second regular meeting Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Council room.

The names of new Council members must be published in The Nebraskan 24 hours before their elections can be challenged. After publication, any person wishing could challenge the election of any member to the Council.

The only spot not now filled on the Council is that of the Law College. Only juniors in Law are eligible for this position.

Law College representatives normally assume chairmanship of the Parking Board. In the absence of a Law representative so far this year Mick Neff, Council vice-president, is heading the Board.

Rag: Copy Editor Interviews Meeting Set

Students who have applied for the position of copy editor on the Nebraskan should attend interviews in the Faculty Hall of the Union on Friday at 3 p.m.

The new copy editor is needed to fill the place vacated by the resignation of Nancy Coover, sophomore in Arts and Science.

The duties of the four copy editors appointed every semester consist of reading and writing headlines on all copy which has to come across the desk. Occasionally they are called on to write a story or an editorial.

One night a week, three weeks a month they act as night news editors. They are required to work on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Applications may be obtained from the Public Relations office any time this week. All applications must be in by Thursday afternoon.

The Inside World

Watermelon Feed

The University 4-H club will hold its annual watermelon feast Wednesday evening at 6:45 p.m. This annual event is put on for freshmen and upper classmen who have been members of 4-H clubs. Following the feast, which will be held behind the Activities Building on the Ag Campus, entertainment will be provided inside.

Pogo Headquarters

Persons desiring Pogo materials or information concerning the Pogo campaign may contact Pogo representatives in Union Room 20, The Nebraskan office, Wednesday from 3-5 p.m. Questionnaires may be turned in or checked out at this time.

Booth Plans Due Tuesday For Carnival

Tuesday is the last day for entering and sketches for Penny Carnival booths. All organized women's houses intending to submit plans must do so by then according to Joanne Bender, chairman of Penny Carnival.

The plans must include: 1. a detailed theme for developing a carnival theme, including sketches. 2. A first and second choice. Second choices may be used in case of duplication. 3. Names of persons, both active and pledge, in charge of the booth. 4. Indication of the electrical equipment needed.

No loudspeakers will be allowed this year because of the difficulty of hearing the general announcements in the Ballroom over the noise of the loudspeakers.

The booth will be judged on the basis of their originality, attractiveness and audience appeal. In addition to this, all booths are to be evaluated according to a standard rate. A maximum of ten dollars is set for each entry. Houses whose booths are estimated above this amount are automatically disqualified.

Rendezvous:

YWCA To Hold Membership Drive

Upperclass women may sign up for YW projects, commissions and committees at the annual Fall Rendezvous Thursday from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Rosa Bouton Hall, according to Barb Sharp, membership chairman.

The Rendezvous will feature the general theme of "Vote for Y". The Y program has been considerably re-organized this year according to Bev, Deepe, YW president. Women are urged to sign up at this time if they are interested in participating in the program, Miss Sharp said.

The commission groups, the time of meeting and the leaders are

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, will hold a dinner meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in Union Parlor Z. Cost of the meal will be $1. An election of officers will be the main order of business.

Republicans

All students interested in joining the Young Republicans may attend the organizational meeting of that group on Oct. 3 at 7 p.m. in the Union, Room 316, according to Darrina Turner, junior in Teachers College.

Pogo Backers Rally: Political Bigwigs Kick Off Campaign To Boost Georgia Native For President

By BOB IRELAND Associate Chairman, Pogo Campaign

The local campus political bosses gathered in the Union yesterday for the first Pogo Rally of the current political season.

However, there was no smoke-filled room and the prevailing atmosphere showed no sign of extreme pressure.

On the contrary, everybody was smiling and brimming over with confidence. All were quite sure that their beloved little candidate, Pogo, was the overwhelming choice of the University campus.

Perhaps the only thing which worried these Pogo Chairmen, who had come to represent their respective fraternities and sororities, was which organization would obtain the most Possum points and receive the coveted prizes.

Unofficial returns yesterday, with some 386 questionnaires turned in, shows Phi Beta Phi sorority out in front in the women's division with 102 Possum Points. Alpha Omicron Pi in second place with 69 Possum Points. Beta Theta Pi is leading the men's division with 60 points, while Sigma Chi is close behind with 42.

Many of the organizations had not turned their completed questionnaires into the Lancaster Pogo headquarters when these tallies were made, however. Campaign officials expect the race for Possum Points to be extremely close in both divisions.

According to the latest questionnaire returns the Pogo people were justified in their outright show of complacency. Only a few students who have been polled thus far have indicated another first-choice candidate in place of Pogo.

The first 1000 "I Go Pogo" buttons have already been distributed to many enthusiastic campus organizations. The supply of questionnaires, which once numbered close to 1350, is exhausted.

However, more buttons are on their way from the national Pogo headquarters and more questionnaires will soon be printed so that every house may have an opportunity to vie for Possum Points.

It should be noted that each house participating in the Pogo contest may acquire pledges to support Pogo from persons other than those affiliated with their organization. These houses should make sure, however, that the people have not already signed a Pogo Election Questionnaire.

The date which will sound the end of the Pogo Contest is Friday, Oct. 5. By this time all questionnaires should have been turned in to the Lancaster County Pogo Headquarters at the Nebraskan office in the Union.

Those Pogo chairman representing sororities who attended the Pogo rally yesterday were: Shirley Haerer, Alpha Chi Omega; Joan Allen, Alpha Chi Omega; Karen Peterson, Pi Beta Phi; Nancy George, Alpha Omicron Pi; Deanne Diedricks, Sigma Kappa; Janet Stall, Gamma Phi Beta; Nancy Belschner, Gamma Phi Beta; Janie Simmons, Kappa Delta; and Mary McKnight, Delta Gamma.

Clear Warm Weather Here

Picnic weather is in the offing for University students Wednesday afternoon and evening, with pleasant Indian summer temperatures and skies.

The weatherman forecasts a high temperature of 87 for today with fair skies prevailing.

Tuesday's high was 86 with clear skies in the afternoon and evening.

The official U.S. Weather Bureau report calls for the warm weather to prevail for the next five days. Mild breezes are expected in eastern Nebraska.

Investigation:

Mitchell Case Study Pending

Committee investigation of the case of Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, former chairman of the department of agricultural economics, is pending appointment of two new committee members.

Roscoe Hill, acting chairman of the faculty committee on academic privilege, said that Mitchell has requested that an investigation be conducted even though Mitchell has now accepted a position with the Food and Agriculture Organization in Mexico.

Hill, chairman of the department of entomology, said that it had not yet been decided whether the committee would open the investigation in Mitchell's absence or not.

Hill is due to leave the committee this fall when his term will expire. Julius Cohen, professor of law and chairman of the faculty committee, is out of the country on a year's leave of absence.

The Faculty Senate is expected to appoint replacements for Hill and Cohen at their next meeting in October.

The committee on academic privilege has met once to consider the procedure to be followed in such a case.

Hill said it was doubtful and rather unlikely that any further action would be taken until the new committee members are appointed and the committee chairman is named.

Mitchell became the center of a lengthy controversy over academic freedom when he was "demoted" as chairman of the ag ec department last spring while he was studying in Rome on a fellowship.

In a special statement to The Nebraskan May 20, Mitchell termed his removal from his administrative post "the latest of a long series of penalties imposed on me because of my economic views."

He charged that the Dean of the College of Agriculture, V. W. Lambert and the Chancellor had abridged his freedom in the following ways: "attempts were made to tone down, modify, and even to censor my publications. . . I was advised to curtail my speaking and writing activities. . . I was advised to resign. . . I was notified that if any reasons should be demanded (for the demotion) an official statement would be made that I had performed by professional duties inadequately. . ."

After being advised by Cohen that his charges would warrant investigation by the faculty committee, Mitchell, who was still in Rome, asked that the case be presented to the committee.

Discussion: Rag Lunch Scheduled For Friday

All organization presidents, fraternity and sorority presidents, and members of Innocents and Mortar Board are invited to join the Nebraskan staff for luncheon-discussions on Friday noon, according to Sam Jensen, Nebraskan editor.

The purpose of the luncheons is to give interested campus leaders an opportunity to discuss current issues and problems with the staff, he said.

Faculty advisors to organizations, administration personnel and other faculty members are also invited.

The luncheon will be held in Parlor X of the Union. The price for the meal is $1.

Those who are interested in attending must make a reservation with Lucrage Switzer, news editor, at the Nebraskan office by Thursday at 3 p.m.

The luncheons were originally begun last year as a Rag Press Club for the staff to get together and talk out problems. Gradually it has been expanded to include campus leaders and others who feel they have something to discuss with the campus press.

A luncheon of this type will be held every Friday noon for the rest of the semester.

The Outside World:

Estes Requests Briefings

Sen. Estes Kefauver's request that periodic secret briefings on the world situation be given him as they are now being given to Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson, has been granted by President Eisenhower.

Kefauver stated that since all three candidates for the nation's top offices receive information on the world situation from the Central Intelligence Agency, he was at a disadvantage in the campaign.

Wheat 'Very Poor'

Nebraska's winter wheat outlook is "very poor" according to government crop observers.

High temperatures, lack of moisture and whipping winds last week are to blame. Corn suffered some damage in parts of the state earlier this month because of sharp declines in temperatures and freezing weather.

Hurricane Diminishes

Hurricane Flossy, after taking its toll of nine lives, has finally lost most of its awesome force.

The hurricane, at its peak, packed winds up to 100 miles an hour into the Florida Mainland.

Drought Acres

Twenty-three Nebraska counties have been declared drought disaster areas, according to the state drought committee.

Providing the U.S. Department of Agriculture approves the committee's declaration, all farmers who have been hit hard by crop failures will gain benefits.

Hardin: University Financial Needs To Increase

The financial requirements of a good university today are much more extensive than six, or even three years ago, and Nebraska is not exempt from these pressures, Chancellor Clifford Hardin said Tuesday evening at the annual University's Faculty Homecoming Dinner.

He discussed the need for creating a climate of general understanding among the people of the state concerning the financial needs of the University.

"I believe that Nebraskans want and intend to have a good State University. Surely the people who support this institution have a right to know that their University is not exempt from the crisis which is gathering about higher education in America.

"They have a right to know that standards here, as elsewhere, could deteriorate for want of funds. They have a right to know that in education, as in other endeavors, there is a point of saturation. . . a point at which more students cannot be properly served, more research cannot be properly undertaken, and more services properly added without an upward adjustment in revenue."

Hardin said: "The fact that our needs are increasing at a time when there is general concern within the ranks of agriculture contributes to the difficulty."

He added that he expected the question of University financial support to be "determined in an intelligent and logical manner."

Chancellor Hardin placed "the growing problem of faculty salaries" at the head of the list of problems facing the University "and it is a concern which is not peculiar to our institution."

Earlier, Chancellor Hardin presented certificates of appreciation for 25 years of service to the following faculty members:

M. A. Alexander, professor of animal husbandry; Ida Blore, assistant in animal pathology; Blanche Farrar, assistant librarian; V. H. Petersen, assistant extension agriculturist.

James Reinhardt, professor of criminology; H. S. Saenz, professor of modern languages and literatures; and Ruby Wilder, documents librarian.

Meeting Set By Red Cross

Red Cross will hold a mass meeting Tuesday in Union room 318 from 6:45 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. for all members and all those interested in working in Red Cross this year.

The various functions of the organization will be explained by members of Red Cross, and applications will be available at the end of the program for those interested in signing for the committees and project groups of the organization. Committees include entertainment and services to LARC school, children's orphanages and hospitals, veteran's hospital and the mental hospital. Ginny Hudson, president, urges all upperclassmen interested in Red Cross activities this year to attend the mass meeting.
