Kitzelman Doubtful

Max Kitzelman, senior center, has been listed as a doubtful performer in the Cornhuskers' opening conference game with Iowa State. Kitzelman suffered a shoulder injury in the Ohio State game.

The University of Nebraska football team will go for their second win of the season Saturday at 2:00 when they entertain the Iowa State Cyclones in Memorial Stadium.

Coach Pete Elliott of the Huskers will start the same squad against the Cyclones that has started the past two week ends in games against South Dakota and Ohio State.

Yesterday the Huskers finished their rough work but there was no scrimmage. They worked at polishing their offenses and defenses which will be used against the visitors from Ames.

This marks the first conference game of the season for both teams and it is an important milestone for the Huskers in their bid for a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Max Kitzelman, second team center, Leo George, second team halfback-fullback, and Jerry Peterson, second unit tackle are injured. Kitzelman injured his shoulder in the Ohio State contest and the rugged Omaha undoubtedly will not see action Saturday.

George, also was injured in the Buckeye contest. He suffered a pulled muscle in his leg and it has responded to treatment this week, so the hard running back who had been shifted to fullback will also probably be on the sidelines.

Sophomore Dick McCashland, who was moved to center earlier in the week was returned to his second string fullback post for the contest. However, Elliott said that he could see action at either position.

Also Willie Greenlaw and Bennie Dillard are back at full strength and both are slated to go with the number two unit on Saturday. This will help the backfield situation considerably as both men were originally slated for starting berths before being injured early in the fall practices.

Elliott named a tentative 39 man squad which will go to Beatrice Friday night.

Probable Husker Starting Line-up:

Marlin Hilding of Red Oak, Iowa, continues to be at the number one left end position for the Huskers. A junior, Hilding currently ranks fourth in the Big Seven in pass receiving. He has grabbed three losses for 56 yards.

Don Kampe, also of Red Oak, Iowa, will once again be at left tackle. Kampe is going after his second varsity letter. In the first two contests Kampe has looked very good on both offense and defense and has drawn some fine praise from the Husker coaching staff.

Co-captain LaVerne Torczon will be one of the big cogs in the Husker forward wall. Torczon was voted star of the week after the South Dakota opener and once again ing conference game with Iowa State. Kitzelman suffered a shoulder injury in the Ohio State last Saturday he showed up very well. "Tarzan" was slightly injured last week but the left guard is again running at full speed.

Bob Berguin, also a Husker Co-captain, has done an excellent job the first two weeks of the season at center and will be called on again Saturday to carry a heavy load with Kitzelman out of action.

The third Co-captain Jim Murphy of Columbus, will start at right guard. Murphy won star of the week honors last week as he looked like the outstanding Husker in the Ohio State game. Murphy is doing real well considering that he set out most of the 1955 season with a broken leg.

Big Jim Wheeler, 240 pounder from Milan, Illinois, again gets the nod at right tackle. Wheeler won this job shortly before the season started and has been doing a very creditable job. Despite his weight the junior letterman has very good speed and always makes it rough on the opponents.

Mike Lee, sophomore right end from Grand Island, has pleased the coaches quite a bit this fall and continues to dominate this position. He played especially well last Saturday.

The starting Husker backfield finds Roy Stinnett once again at Quarterback. The Ripley, Tennessee sophomore, has looked very good throughout the first two games and he is leading the Big Seven in passing. Stinnett has completed six of ten throws in the two contests for a .600 percentage and 84 total yards.

Bill Hawkins will start at left halfback. The speedy Beatrice man has been very successful in shifting from tackle the position at which he lettered last fall. In two games he has carried the ball 15 times and has gained 143 yards good for second in the conference. Hawkins also is tied for second in the scoring department with 12 points to his credit.

contest, and it has not healed sufficiently to enable him to return to action.

Larry Naviaux another fine sophomore will start at right halfback. He ranks third in the conference in rushing behind Hawkins and Floyd of Kansas. Naviaux has gained 112 yards in two games.

The hard running Jerry Brown again gets the starting nod at fullback. Brown has a lot of desire and a lot of drive which helps him in gaining yardage. He also is a fine defensive man and works very well as a blocker to help spring his teammates loose on long runs.

The Second Husker unit. Clarence Cook, a Mx-Cook junior college transfer, has looked very well at left end in the first two games. Cook stands 6'4" and has a lot of desire. With a little more experience he should develop into a fine college end.

Mal Dohrman, of Kearney, has been running at Peterson's left tackle position this week and may work there Saturday. Peterson is listed as doubtful because of a case of tonsillitis. Dohrman was an all-state fullback at Kearney and was shifted to guard while playing on the freshman team last year. Later on he was shifted from guard to tackle.

Done Rhoda another big guy is at left guard on the second unit. Rhoda does a fine job of receiving Torczon and is a good replacement for the all Big Seven tackle next season. Rhoda lettered as a tackle last season.

Bob Lyall and Dick Prusia will alternate at the number two center position which as been vacated by Kitzelman's injuries. Both men were squadmen last season but didn't play enough to letter. However, they have a lot of hustle and could develop fast.

Art Klein, junior letterman, remains at right guard behind Murphy. Klein is a steady competitor, and always gives a good performance. Jack Fleming, is another stalwart with the second unit. The Kimball senior, a big man in the forward wall and ranks almost with big Wheeler. "Flapjack", won his first varsity letter last season.

Howard McVay, of Ogallala, continues to draw the praise of the coaches for his fine right end play. He looked very good with the second unit in both games thus far. Just a sophomore McVay can be counted on for a lot of service in the next two seasons.

George Harshman, junior letterman, is back running with the second team at quarterback this week. Harshman has been alternating with Gordon Englert on the second team and lettered last year behind Don Erway.

Dillard started running at full speed again this week for the first time since early in fall drills. The speedy sophomore was counted on for a lot of duty early in the season and if he has no more injuries should help the backfield situation considerably.

Greenlaw, a Big Seven choice last year made his seasons debut last week but feels much better this week after getting in more practice and should begin to give the opponents a few headaches.

McCashland returned to his fullback post after a couple of days at center. The hard running Geneva sophomore shows a lot of hustle and promise at this position and will be heard of a lot in the future. McCashland also may see action at center on Saturday.

Also making the trip to Beatrice are: Ends: Stu Howerter, Guy Sapp, and Charles Tsoukalas. Tackles: Jerry Peterson, Ernie English, and Joe Hart. Guards: Larry Jones, Dick Kleiber, and Jack Pugsley. Centers: Gene Wollenberg and Kitzelman. Quarterbacks: Englert and Dean Flock.

Halfbacks: Frank Nappi, Gene Sandage, and possibly George. Fullbacks: Doug Thomas and Gene Haman. The Nebraska coaching staff hopes that the Huskers do not make the mistakes that they made in the first half last Saturday when the Buckeyes rolled up a total of 27 points.

Don Scarbrough, who scouted the Cyclones, was impressed with their second half play and especially the fourth period when they gained 181 yards.

He also pointed out that Iowa State fumbled 12 times during the contest and if this number can be reduced they will be a very hard crew to stop on Saturday.

Elliott Prepares Grid Team For Iowa-State Cyclones

Nebraska's Cornhuskers, with a 1-1 record, meet their first Big Seven Conference foe Saturday in Iowa State's rejuvenated Cyclones.

Max Kitzelman, the Husker's 232-pound senior center, may not be able to play due to a strained shoulder suffered in the Ohio State game.

Dick McCashland has been shifted from fullback to the pivot post. McCashland, a Geneva sophomore, was not only plunging hard against the Buckeyes but was doing a workmanlike job backing up the line on defense.

Leo George, junior halfback, has been shifted to the fullback spot. These surroundings are not strange to Leo as he played both fullback and halfback since being shifted from a guard position in the spring drills.

Willie Greenlaw, shelved for three weeks with a sprained ankle and Bennie Dillard, sophomore jet from Mt. Pleasant, Tex., should be ready for action this week. Both were running full speed in the early drills this week. Greenlaw saw limited action in the Ohio State game.

Coach Pete Elliott and his staff are hoping that the Huskers do not make as many mistakes as they did in a jittery first half against the powerful Buckeyes.

Iowa State against Northwestern was impressed with the second half surge of the Cyclones which indicates another well-conditioned team.

He pointed out that the Cyclones fumbled 12 times, losing five of them. Reduce those to a minimum and Scarborough is convinced the outcome would have been different than the one point margin which Northwestern gathered against the Iowans at 14-13.

Roy Stinnett, sophomore quarterback for the Huskers, is leading the Big Seven Conference in passing with 6 completions in 10 attempts for 84 yards.

Larry Naviaux with 112 yards in 11 carries and Bill Hawkins with 143 yards in 15 carries are the leading ball carriers for the Huskers.

The Cornhuskers are leading the conference in total offense with 654 yards, 496 on the ground and 156 by air. Iowa State is next with 568 yards.

What impressed Coach Elliott about the Cyclones was that they made 181 of their yards against Northwestern in the last quarter. He called it an "amazing job."

Lineups as they stood early in the week:

Iowa State	Nebraska
Jerry Donohu	Marlin Hilding
Oliver Sparks	Don Kampe
Howie Heinrich	LaVerne Torczon
Jack Falter	Robert Berguin
Chuck Muehlbauer	Jim Murphy
Andris Poncius	Jerry Wheeler
John Scheldrup	Michael Lee
Terry Ingram	Roy Stinnett
Jim Lars	Bill Hawkins
Bob Harden	Larry Naviaux
Mary Walter	Jerry Brown

Plenty of Ducats
There are still stadium reserved seats remaining for the Iowa-Nebraska game here Saturday. Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski said.

Lewandowski estimated early in the week that a crowd of 30,000 would see the first Big Seven test for the Cornhuskers.

Win Streak

Nebraska's Cornhuskers will be working on a 10-game victory streak over Iowa State when they clash here Saturday in the first Big Seven Conference game for both schools.

Several of these contests have swung to the Huskers on breaks that have a habit of evening up in football.

Certainly, the Cyclones are overdue in this department.

Lew Grips

Biggest gripe fielded by A. J. Lewandowski, business manager of athletics at the University of Nebraska?

It is the late arrival and early departure that causes the most grievances.

Lewandowski pleaded in print and orally for patrons to be in their seats at the kickoff and not to leave them before the game ends. But these pleas apparently fall on deaf ears.

Phi Psis And Sig Alphas Advance In IM Football

By GARY PETERSON
Intramural Editor

Phi Psis 25, Farmhouse 0
Phi Kappa Psi scored its second shut-out of the season with a 25-0 victory over the Farmhouse Thursday. In its first outing, Phi Psi shut-out Kappa Sigs 12-0.

Farmhouse with its traditional running game failed to dent the Phi Psi defense.

Phi Psi on the other hand, scored all its touchdowns on passes. Quink Moore passed for two, both to John Haessler. Jack Irwin also threw two, one to Jon Appleget and the other to Haessler.

A new team unveiled by the Phi Psi featured Moore, Irwin and

SAE 13, Fijis 6

In one of the best played games Wednesday, the Sig Alphas edged the Phi Gams 13-6.

The first quarter was a scoreless tie with both teams battling hard. During the second period the SAE's put on a drive that carried them to the Phi Gam 10 yard line. On the last play of the half, Wally Bryans passed to Bob Falk for a touchdown. The half ended 6-0 Sig Alpha.

Walt Murphy intercepted a pass in the third quarter and ran 25 yards for a touchdown to put the Phi Gams back in the ball game, 6-6.

The SAE's iced the game in the fourth quarter as Bryans again passed for a touchdown. This time to Mike Shtzo.

The Phi Gams showed three fine blockers, Bob Benter, Walt Blore, and Jerry Dirks. Murphy played a good game in the backfield.

Wally Bryans threw two touchdown passes and did some fine running for the Sig Alphas. Mike Shatto and Roy Mierhenry threw some timely blocks.

Farmhouse 27, B. Palace 0

Farmhouse scored its second win of the season with a 27-0 whitewashing of the Brown Palace Wednesday. The Farmhouse attack centered around the running of Jerry Svoboda and the passing of Ron Geiszer.

The first half was a fairly even game. Geister threw a touchdown pass on the last play of the quarter to give Farmhouse a 6-0 lead. The second half was all Farmhouse; they got 7 points in the third period and added 14 more in the fourth.

For the Farmhouse Svoboda and Geister looked good in the backfield; Easton had some fine catches at end.

McCormick and Bishop carried the load for the Brown Palace.

"Dissonance in the coda is great at Birdland," says Clare Nett, campus dance band virtuoso, "but harmony's what I want in the underwear section. I always wear Jockey briefs on the stand, so there'll be no fidgeting to upset the best."

You don't have to dig the latest cerebral jazz to know that Clare has a good counter point about underwear. Better step up to your dealer's counter soon...buy a supply of Jockey briefs and T-shirts...and feel as good as you look!
