Homecoming:

Dance To Feature 'Hilltoppers' Singers

The Hill Toppers will provide the entertainment for the annual Homecoming Dance along with Charlie Spivak and his band, Nov. 3, in the Coliseum. From the time they hit college, the "Hill Toppers" have been singing together, recording, and entertaining the nation's audiences from coast to coast. All four of the members of the quartette were students at Western Kentucky State College where they formed the "Hill Topper" quartet. One of the boys had written a song and the group decided to record it. Their first song, "Trying," was an immediate hit and sold over 800,000 records in the first ten weeks of its issuance. Since then the Hilltoppers have recorded many times for the nation's record fans. They have also appeared on the Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, the Sammy Kaye, the Kate Smith, the Patti Page and the Orchid Award Shows. They have appeared at America's famous nightclubs in most of the major cities from Hollywood to New York. Working under the Dot label, the "Hilltoppers" have recorded the best sellers "P.S. I Love You," "Love Walked In," "From the Vine Came the Grape," "Till Then," and others. The members of the Quartette are Lou Mastor, tenor, Jimmy Saca, leader of the "Hilltoppers" and baritone, Eddie Crowe, baritone, and Karl Garvin, bass. The style of the Hilltoppers centers around the fact that they have only one tenor and two baritones. This system adds to their style and many new vocal groups are now copying their method. Tickets for the Homecoming Dance may be obtained from Corn Cobs or Tassels worker.

Reports Due: NU Council To Discuss HC Election

The report on the constitutionality of Tassels to elect Homecoming queen and the election of two members to the Publication Board will be the two main objectives at the Student Council meeting Wednesday. Under the present system of selecting a Homecoming queen, five finalists are chosen by the Tassels from the junior class members of the organization. The Queen is elected by all-University election two weeks before Homecoming. A number of girls from organized houses have objected to the present method in that the election is not truly representative of the University. Mick Neff, Council vice-president said. The matter was referred to the judiciary committee for investigation.

Special Feature Added To MB

Orchid, Dinner, Rides Provided

Tickets to this year's Military Ball, which will go on sale Wednesday in the Union Lobby and the Military and Naval Science Building, have been given an added attraction, according to John Dahlmeier, ticket sales chairman. A money-saving combination plan has been developed by the 1956 Military Ball Committee Dahlmeier said. This plan has been designed to make available at a reduced price all the customary details associated with a formal dance including an orchid, Continental Buffet dinner for two, dance tickets, and transportation to and from the Coliseum. The total value of this combination offer, estimated at $17.00, is being priced at $11.50 for this year's Ball. According to Captain T. A. Donovan, Professor of Naval Science, the entire banquet facilities of the Cornhusker Hotel have been reserved to facilitate approximately 450 people for buffet dinner. Orchids are presently being grown to provide ladies' corsages. Arrangements have been made to make available bus transportation from the Cornhusker Hotel to the Coliseum after dinner, and back to the hotel following the dance, Donovan said. As in past years, individual dance tickets will be sold at the price of $3.00 a couple, and spectator tickets at $1.00 per person. Another innovation in this year's Ball is the availability of table reservations. Approximately 80 to 100 tables in groups of either four or possibly five couples may reserve a table for the Ball at no extra charge, Donovan stated. Dahlmeier stressed the fact that the combination plan can be obtained only at the Military and Naval Science Building as can the confirmation of table reservations. Individual dance tickets will be sold in the Union, and the M & N Building on Monday, Wednesday and Friday until Nov. 29. Tickets will also be available in all men's organized houses.

AUF Banquet Begins Annual Solicitations

The All-University Fund kicked off its fall solicitation drive last night with its annual kick-off dinner. This dinner annually initiates AUF's fall drive and serves as a spark to get the drive going. Attending this banquet were AUF members and advisors, team captains and Peyton Short, WUS secretary. Immediately after eating Mr. Short "declared war." "I am declaring a war on hunger, disease and need on one hand, and ignorance, complacency and prejudice on the other," Mr. Short stated. Short cited examples from his recent trip to Asia to show the hunger, disease and need exhibited there. He told of children thumping their bloated stomachs and of the rampage of disease with few on none medical facilities. He also told of students in these foreign countries who don't know from night to night where they will sleep or where their next meal will come from. "Here," he stated, "we must declare war on ignorance. We must find out what is behind the community chest . . . and where our money and help is needed." He went on to state that we must also fight a complacency which leads us to say to heck with everyone else as long as we are comfortable and prejudice which makes us refuse to sacrifice or to help others. "But the first thing which we must do is to practice what we preach. We must be willing to sacrifice ourselves first," Short told the audience. "This is a war in our hearts, of love, not hate. The only way we can force out evil is by good deeds, not by more hate," he said in conclusion. Mr. Short had high praise for AUF and its work and also for the work done by the Rev. Mr. Rex Knowles, AUF advisor for 8 years.

Two Week Solicitations Begin

All University Fund's solicitation of independent students living in Lincoln began Tuesday evening. Working in the drive are left to right, Janice Barnard and Terry Mitchem, team captains, Judy Lundt, AUF board member in charge of independent solicitations, and the Rev. Rex Knowles, AUF advisor. The drive, which will be continued on Wednesday, covers approximately 3000 students, including those on Ag campus. Lincoln has been divided into 14 districts with two in the Ag campus vicinity and 12 located in other sections. Twelve sororities are taking part in the Tuesday and Wednesday drive, and the clean-up committee which will cover the students not contacted in the present drive will be composed of other organizations, Miss Lundt said.

Student Solicitors Begin AUF Drive

Approximately 3000 students were solicited by 200 AUF workers last night during the first day of the 1956 AUF fall drive. The drive got under way last night with the mass solicitation of independent students living throughout Lincoln. Teams of solicitors from the organized houses met at Love Library Auditorium at 7 p.m. for a last-minute orientation session before beginning the soliciting. At the meeting Peyton Short, regional World University Service secretary, and Rex Knowles, AUF advisor, spoke to the workers about the purposes of the charity drive. Knowles told the solicitors that money is not given to AUF but that through AUF one is able to give to five needy charities. "Money should be given because of the need to help others less fortunate rather than be given only because one has to give," he said. Short emphasized that fact that AUF is the leader in the University charity giving and he urged the workers to remember that people all over the world are "listening in" on what is being done during the AUF drive. From Love Library the soliciting teams went out into Lincoln to contact and solicit independent students. The teams reported back to their team captains at the Union before 10 p.m. with the money they had collected. They will go out again tonight to solicit those people who were not contacted. Though the fall drive AUF will support five charities which were chosen on the basis of results of a student poll held last spring. The charities are World University Service, The American Cancer Society, United Cerebral Palsy, the Lincoln Community Chest and Lancaster Association for Retarded Children. Team captains are Barbara Lantz, Alpha Xi Delta; Dorothy

Beechner, Alpha Chi Omega; Judy Wittaker, Alpha Phi; Cynthia Buell, Alpha Omicron Pi; Janiece Barnard, Chi Omega; Kay Lawson, Delta Delta Delta. Terry Mitchem, Gamma Phi Beta; Cindy Zschau, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jane Burbank, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Joyce Webster, Pi Beta Phi, and Leslie Lien, Sigma Delta Tau. The 1956 fall drive will continue until Nov. 7. During that time all University students will be contacted and asked to contribute.
