Big Seven Activity: Buffs Tangle With OU, K-State Rivals To Meet

While the Nebraska Cornhuskers play host to the Missouri Tigers, there are two conference games and one non-conference game scheduled.

Kansas State entertains rival Kansas at Manhattan in what is considered to be one of the most colorful series in the Big Seven. In the series, which dates back to 1902 and includes 53 games, the Jayhawks have reaped 33 wins to the Wildcats' 13. Three games have ended in ties. If Kansas State can manage victory this week, it will be their fourth consecutive win, and his winning streak will match the four straight wins he Wildcat enjoyed in the mid-20's.

Last year Kansas State pounded the Jayhawks 46-0 which is the widest margin the Wildcats have ever enjoyed. However, K.U. holds claim of a 55-0 win in the 1947 game.

Both teams are in top physical condition. Although Wildcat Captain Ellis Rainsberger and teammate Kenny Nesmith were badly bruised in last Saturday's game, they will be ready to go this week.

Kansas State gave their best appearance of the 1956 season last week against Wyoming as the Wildcats rolled up 279 yards in losing to the Cowboys.

By winning Saturday, Kansas can square its record at .500 for the first time, during the season, since the fourth game of 1953, and the Jayhawks can equal last year's record of three wins and a tie, with three remaining games in which to improve.

Kansas is the only club which has managed to tie with unbeaten College of Pacific and the only regular-season opponent to score against Oklahoma in the latter's last nine games.

The old rivals are close statistically. Kansas is averaging 200.5 yards per game rushing to Kansas State's 186.3. Kansas is passing at a 50.1 yards per game rate while the Wildcats average 31.0. Kansas State trails, 214.8 to 293.3

Englert Selected As Husker Star Of Week

By BOB WIRZ
Staff Sports Writer

Gordon Englert, senior from Sioux Falls, S.D., has been chosen as this week's "Star of the Week" by the Nebraskan Sports Staff.

The 6'2" 172 pounder is in his third year with the Nebraska varsity but for the first time is getting in a lot of action.

Englert was chosen for his fine play against the Colorado Buffaloes last Saturday. His play was rection of Englert the Husker offense penetrated the deepest into Colorado territory that it went all afternoon.

The drive carried from the Nebraska 23 to the Bluffs 17 yard line. Gordie carried the ball himself four times on the drive and passed once to Clarence Cook for a 27 yard gain. In addition to this he did a fine job of faking to frown his teammates loose.

Englert was also in charge of the second half when the Huskers made their best offensive threat. This time the Huskers went from their own 24 to the Colorado 35 yard marker.

Englert also did a fine job on defense. Several times in his defensive play he stopped the rugged backs who had blockers ahead of them.

With his fine Saturday performance under his belt he should play quite a bit in the final four Husker games.

In earlier contests this season Englert has seen limited action.

In the South Dakota opener he directed the Huskers to their final touchdown in their 34-6 romp. He saw brief action against Ohio State, Iowa State, Kansas State, and Indiana.

Englert is praised by his teammates for his fine hustle and spirit.

In his three years here you never have heard him complain because he is settling on the bench or because something on the field goes wrong.

The native South Dakotan is a Business Administration major here at Nebraska. He entered school here in 1953 and will graduate in the spring.

Englert attended Cathedral high school in Sioux Falls. While there

Bonfire Rally

The traditional homecoming bonfire rally will be held tonight beginning at 6:45 p.m. at the Mueller Caroline Tower.

Trophies will be awarded for the house bringing the best sign to the rally. All houses wishing to enter signs must be present to be eligible for the award.

After trophies are awarded, the Missouri Tiger will be burned in effigy, and a yell session will begin.

he lettered two years in football and three years in basketball.

In 1953 his Cathedral teammates named him the most valuable player on the team.

Bob Berguin, Husker center, also hails from Sioux Falls. However, they were not teammates as Berguin attended Washington High.

Englert will make his next appearance this Saturday in the Homecoming battle against the Missouri Tigers at Memorial Stadium.
